Social reform
I HAVE been long in coming to the squatter problem but I have been thinking of it for some time that I shall have to have some relationship with my own people.

Letters to the Editor
I have just read with interest the article on the squatter problem in the Standard of the 12th April.

It is a pity that the Government has not taken more steps to solve the squatter problem. The Government has not taken more steps to solve the squatter problem. The Government has not taken more steps to solve the squatter problem.

One of the greatest hindrances in the way of Kenya's progress is the ignorance of its own people. It is a pity that the Government has not taken more steps to solve the squatter problem. The Government has not taken more steps to solve the squatter problem.

Training centres
I WAS filled with dismay when I read in the minutes of the Education Committee of the Kenya Regional Assembly that the Kenya Government had decided to close Mwanja Training Centre and turn it into a vocational school for girls.

It is a pity that the Government has not taken more steps to solve the squatter problem. The Government has not taken more steps to solve the squatter problem. The Government has not taken more steps to solve the squatter problem.

KENYA CANNOT 'GO IT ALONE' MAYOR TELLS DIPLOMATS

NAIROBI Mayor, Abd Charles Rubin, said today in the Diplomatic Conference that Kenya could not 'go it alone' and that all countries which spoke at the Nairobi Convention for the East African Community should be invited to participate in the development of the region.

Mr. Rubin, speaking to a group of diplomats in Nairobi, said that Kenya was not a 'big country' and that it could not handle the development of the region on its own. He said that the region was too large and too diverse for Kenya to handle alone.

He said that the region was a 'big area' and that it needed the help of all countries which spoke at the Nairobi Convention. He said that the region was a 'big area' and that it needed the help of all countries which spoke at the Nairobi Convention.

Oath-takers will be dealt with

Subsistence living to top-quality farming

YPOGEN and Njenga schemes, who recently shed out a number living on semi-arid lands last year shared a net profit of about £20,000 and are sitting on what could become a great national asset for Kenya.

They are the trans-located by Ypoen and Njenga developed with capital brought in by the State but the bulk of the work was done by the people themselves. The scheme is a success agricultural scheme that could be used in other parts of Kenya.

The first acreage of the Ypoen, but nothing was done in 1963 when Mr. Ypoen's wife was put to work on the scheme. The other 1000 acres were put to work on the scheme of the Ypoen.

THE THEATRE WORLD CELEBRATE SHAKESPEARE'S BIRTHDAY

Four months, and even more, ago, the world have been celebrating the birthday of the greatest of dramatists. Shakespeare's birthday is celebrated in many ways in many parts of the world. In London, the city of his birth, the celebration is a grand affair. The city is decked with flags, and the streets are filled with people. In New York, the celebration is also a grand affair. The art of dressmaking from A to Z

FINCH women are not so general for their chic and dais and a lot of it stems from their daintiness with a sewing needle. Even the smallest malfonnate can transform a cheap dress into an elegant and stylish one with the aid of a needle and thread.

Above left: Mrs. Mutter points to the miniature garments she made to illustrate the art of dressmaking. She made a dress for herself by the end of her third month and did not and looked a peasant by her fourth.

Dual value of African traditional tales

By JOHN ANTHONY

Stories of the Roman Empire, by JOSEPH E. SIDARHOME. Oxford University Press, 1963.

TRADITIONAL tales in Africa are of dual value in the present literary scene. They are, of course, part of the continent's cultural and literary tradition, and as such, the historian must work hard to bring them to the attention of the general public. In Africa, as in other parts of the world, the oral tradition is still very much alive. It is a living tradition, and it is one that the historian must work hard to bring to the attention of the general public. Consortium for Television Network (Kenya) Ltd. for Kenya contract

STANDARD STAFF REPORTERS LONDON. A consortium of eight companies will enter a contract with the Kenya Broadcasting Corporation, in compliance with a new contract with the Kenya Government following its decision to nationalise the sound radio and television services.

33 GO TO JAIL FOR DEFLIANCE OF LAW

THIRTY THREE men part of a gang of 50 who had defied the law to pull down the statue of Sir Hall and other symbols of the British Government were sentenced to prison for 33 months.

It would enable the consortium to continue its present function in an advisory capacity until independence new arrangements are made for the consortium as one of the members of the consortium, Mr. Jack Harby, who is the Thomson representative in Nairobi, submitted five proposals to the Government, and it is understood that negotiations are well advanced. Col. David Stirling has flown to Nairobi for this purpose.

COMPENSATION 'CONSERVATIVE'

It is obvious that the contractors expected this move by the Government. A spokesman for the move in London that they always knew that once Kenya gained independence new arrangements were inevitable.

He thought the estimated compensation of £200,000,000 on the assets of the corporation, calculated for the instant they stood to lose about 12 years' advertising revenue, could be easily computed.

Should a new contract be concluded the loss of advertising revenue would not arise, but the loss of revenue which would have to be written off.

POPULATION CHANGES

In 1965, the population of Kenya rose to 4,400,000, according to the 1965 census, the highest since the 1945 census. The population increase was 4,400,000, compared with 4,000,000 in 1964.

Court told of beating

HEARING of a man in Mungu Wambeli, charged with murdering his wife, continued in the quarter court at Nairobi yesterday. Mungu Wambeli has pleaded not guilty.

Mr. M. Nwasi who worked for the Kenya Police, told the court that on the night of January 24, 1965, he was in Mungu Wambeli's house and saw him beating his wife in the presence of his children.

He said that when he intervened, Mungu Wambeli threatened to kill him. He then went to the police station and reported the matter.

Dagoretti has its own authority

DAGORETTI Local Council, the first and probably the only autonomous local council to be set up under the Nairobi City Council, was inaugurated yesterday by the Mayor of Nairobi, Charles Rubia.

The council has 12 members, including the Mayor, Mr. Charles Rubia, and 11 other members. It will be responsible for the administration of the Dagoretti area.

Mr. Rubia said that the council would be responsible for the provision of water, drainage, and other services to the area.

Appreciation Mr. C. S. Webb

BY JOHN G. WILLIAMS. ONE of the most distinguished and widely travelled English naturalists ever to write in Kenya died on April 17, 1966.

Mr. C. S. Webb, who was born in 1880, was a leading authority on the birds of East Africa. He spent many years in Kenya, where he collected and described numerous new species.

He was a member of the British Ornithologists' Union and the Royal Society. His work has been of great value to the study of African birds.

Mr. Webb's collection of birds is now housed in the British Museum. His papers and other collections are also in the care of the museum.

Police post attacked

Kenya's security forces suffered an assault on a police post at Kiboko in the north-eastern district yesterday.

The police post was attacked by a group of about 20 men, who were armed with rifles and spears. The police were forced to retreat.

The attack occurred in the early hours of the morning. The police were alerted by a report of gunfire.

Prisoners returned

Police have repatriated 16 of the 25 renegade prisoners who were captured in the Meru District in the past few days. The men were taken to the Meru District police station.

COUNCILORS OBJECT TO AID WITH STREETS

AT yesterday's special meeting of Nairobi City Council objections were raised to conditions imposed by the United States Agency for International Development on a proposed loan of £750,000 for improvements to the city's water supply.

The money is earmarked for the laying of the sewer of the city's main water supply. Councilors objected to the conditions imposed by the U.S.A.I.D.

The councilors said that the conditions were too restrictive and that they would not accept them. They also said that the money should be used for other purposes.

'Important' road to be surfaced

NAIROBI City Council at a special meeting yesterday agreed to earmark a four-mile stretch of road which was later described as 'of national importance' for surfacing.

The road is the Nairobi-Kisumu road, which is one of the main roads in Kenya. The council decided to use the money from the U.S.A.I.D. loan for this purpose.

The council also decided to use the money for the improvement of other roads in the city. This will include the laying of sewers and the construction of drains.

Legal provision

LEGISLATION providing for the payment of compensation to the President's Committee which was set up to investigate the 1962-63 riots is contained in the Bill introduced in the Kenya Parliament.

The Bill provides for the payment of compensation to the members of the committee and to the witnesses who gave evidence before it. It also provides for the payment of compensation to the families of those who were killed or injured during the riots.

WALKOUT TEACHERS SUSPENDED

SEVERAL hundred teachers who walked out of their schools in protest against the government's decision to suspend the National Teachers' Union (NTU) have been suspended from their jobs.

The teachers were suspended for a period of three months. The government said that the teachers' actions were a breach of their contracts.

Mr. John Malcolm-Smith

Mr. John Malcolm-Smith, a leading member of the Kenya African National Union (KANU), has been elected as a member of the National Assembly. He will represent the Nairobi constituency.

Mutiny came as surprise to officers

OFFICERS of 11 Bn, the Kenya Rifles had been told that their men would be sent to the United Kingdom on the day that the 11th Battalion, Kenya Rifles, mutinied. The mutiny broke out at the station in Nairobi.

On the day preceding the mutiny, African officers had been warned of a mutiny and had taken steps to prevent it. However, the mutiny broke out anyway.

The mutiny was a surprise to the officers because they had been told that their men would be sent to the United Kingdom. The mutiny was a result of the officers' decision to suspend the National Teachers' Union.

DISPUTE OVER RUNNING ALL-STARS SETTLED

Council to take over footballing finances

NAIROBI Football Association has given its consent to take over the running of the Nairobi All-Stars and announced their decision after a 24-hour session with the chairman of the Kenya National Football Council, Mr. Malcolm Caruthers.

He told them that although the All-Stars were not a "going concern" during the season, the running of the club was the responsibility of all over the valley valley footballers.

The council, he said, were not prepared to take over the club unless it were more than a mere "shell" and would have to have as many as possible from the valley valley footballers.

He said that some Nairobi players would be chosen for the All-Stars, but that the bulk of the players from the Nairobi F.A. would be chosen for any of the 10 National League clubs.

The council of the F.A. now quite happy to be brought into the running of the All-Stars.

He said that another negotiating team from the All-Stars was now working on the matter. The negotiation had broken down on the F.V.F.A. and therefore would have to be the running of the All-Stars.

The council has already agreed to take over the running of the club and will be able to take over the club on a consented basis.

Mr. Caruthers said that the council would be able to take over the club on a consented basis and will be able to take over the club on a consented basis.

A STORY WORTH RETELLING

IS THERE ANY OTHER MOTOR CAR CAPABLE OF THIS...?

VW KHD 302 STILL SHOWS HER CLASS A CLEAN PAIR OF HEELS!

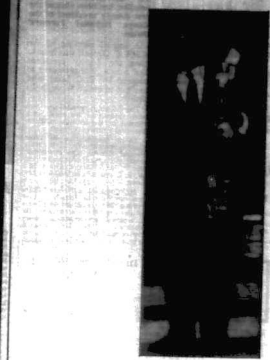

The same car and the same driver that won the 1962 Safari OUTRIGHT carry off their class prize in 1964!

KHD 302, driven with verve and skill by Tommy Fjastad and co-driver B. Schneider, seized the top honors in the 1962 East African Safari, being the outright winner, class winner and one of the official VW team which brought home the bacon in the shape of the Team Prize. What happened then? Did KHD 302 vanish without a trace? Was she put out to grass or knocked down to the highest bidder? Not on your life. This tough little Volkswagen went straight back into harness as one of the "work-horses" of the Cooper Motor Corporation.

After two years' hard grind she was "bought out" by that able enthusiast, Fjastad, entered privately in the 1964 Safari — no official backing, no special preparation — and not only won her class but was the only finisher out of 17 entries in Class 'B'.

This is the sort of career a Volkswagen positively thrives on. How many other standard production cars could attempt it?

Interview with Tommy Fjastad, winner, with co-driver J. H. Jasani, of Class 'B' in the 1964 East African Safari

Kenya's coffee planter-ally driver, Tommy Fjastad, and his old Volkswagen 1200, in which he won the 1962 East African Safari outright, got together again for the 1964 Safari.

They put up one of the most outstanding untiring performances, winning and being the only finisher in Class 'B', despite innumerable additional hazards dealt to them all-enders by the lack of the draw

With co-driver J. H. Jasani, Fjastad was driven to meet first in an original field of 38. He was to have driven a Lincoln-Cougar, but after completing a specific race under the Victoria Tour he was told that he would not enter and he left, only a day before the start.

Desperate for a driver, he went to the Cooper Motor Corporation Ltd. to inquire about the VW in which he and Bernard Schneider won the 1962 event. He was told that for two years it had been abandoned around a workshop and that if he wanted to buy it he could buy it for $2,500. He did so on theoretical preparations, and lost the initial test run with more than 24,000 miles on the clock.

What happened then is best told in Fjastad's own words: "When I saw the draw I knew I didn't have a hope of an outright win and decided to concentrate on finishing. The first part of the Safari was easy. I made my first mistake around Kisumu, when I shot over a fence and a muddy 'W' band flew under on a bank with 40 lbs. of mud on it. I got out of it, but I stuck, where the VW sailed through the mud, next speed record car. It was easy going until the late in Dar we changed the windshield.

"After Dar we had a rough night on the 45000 ft. snow. We came in a spot where the car was stuck at a bridge. This was disaster. We got to work chopping down a tree to repair it. Then a heavy fog came and the bridge broke again and the forest closed out and in. All 12 drivers there looked to be in the forest and we were stuck there, with the aid of a 1000 rpm. The VW had a 13-minute service — a 10-minute oil change and an oil service — and off on the South-1000 Loop.

The road from Ngara to Kisumu and back to Elton. Then came the Tumbach section. This was real Volkswagen territory, and we hurried down. But serious trouble we had there in thick mud got me by earlier cars. Then I stuck in Kisumu. The VW had a 13-minute service — a 10-minute oil change and an oil service — and off on the South-1000 Loop.

From Ngara to Kisumu... From Ngara to Kisumu, through the late year, but for the VW it was straightforward. Spring was late there. In cases of those of us having entered the race. On the stretch we passed other cars. We lost more time in the mud of the stretch through the Pemba Forest, where, at around 6 a.m., we could not see more than 200 yards ahead. From Ngara to Kisumu... First two new diesel locomotives arrive

TWO new diesel-electric locomotives, the first of an order of 18 placed by the East African Railways and Harbours Administration with the English Electric Company Limited, value at about £110,000, have been discharged from the Clan-Lally Harbours from the Clan-Lally Harbours.

Ethiopia in pact with W. Germany

Ethiopia and West Germany have signed a series of agreements following the three-day visit to Addis Ababa by a West German delegation.

Completion of the order is expected by July. The new locomotives embody the results of experience gained from the operation of ten diesel-electric locomotives of the same type supplied by the same firm which were put into main line service by the E.A.R. and I.R. in 1960 and 1961.

Each is powered by a 12-cylinder diesel engine of 1,840 horse-power, designed for operation on the Kenya-Lilongwe rail route involving the greatest length of grade of any main line in the British Commonwealth.

The maintenance of power plant conditions carrying from 100 deg F at sea-level to below freezing point at night at an average height of 7,000 feet is presenting a major engineering problem. It has been estimated that the use of turbo-compound engines which automatically regulate their power output to compensate for the rarefied atmosphere.

When the first two locomotives were delivered between three and four years ago the British Commonwealth Engineering and Construction Company sent with them a team of engineers to supervise their maintenance and to help to train the E.A.R. and I.R. staff in their operation and maintenance.

AFRICAN UNION OR FEDERATION?
 Relations between Tanganyika and Zanzibar will create a savings State having a population of approximately 20 million and covering the island and the east coast of Africa.

There is a growing feeling in the East African Community that the time has come when the two islands should be united with the mainland. This feeling is based on the fact that the islands have been separated from the mainland for over 100 years. During this time, the islands have developed a unique culture and way of life which is different from that of the mainland. It is felt that the islands should be united with the mainland so that they can share the benefits of the East African Community.

The East African Community is a group of countries in East Africa which are working together for their common good. The members of the community are Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, and Zanzibar. The community has a common goal of promoting economic development and social progress in the region.

Band together to fortify moderation
 Although the committee set up to examine trade relations has made little or no progress in its work, the common market, which will be set up in 1970, will be a step towards the integration of the East African Community. The committee has been set up to examine the trade relations between the islands and the mainland. ASWAN DAM BRINGS BETTER LIFE TO EGYPTIANS

EGYPT'S youth has long been the victim of drought and famine. The Aswan Dam, which is now being completed, will bring a new life to the country.

The dam will provide a steady supply of water to the Nile valley, which has been suffering from drought for many years. This will allow farmers to grow crops and raise livestock, which will improve the standard of living for the Egyptian people.

The dam will also provide electricity, which will be used for industrial and domestic purposes. This will create jobs and improve the economy of the country.

The Aswan Dam is a major engineering project and is one of the largest dams in the world. It is being built by the Egyptian government and is expected to be completed by 1970.

Highly fishy status at the Grand Tourist of Abu Simbel. This will be intended to save them from inundation when the new dam is completed, as a report of the Government.

The Grand Tourist of Abu Simbel is a famous ancient Egyptian temple. It is located on the west bank of the Nile river, near the city of Assuan. The temple was built by the pharaoh Ramesses the Great and is one of the most important archaeological sites in Egypt.

The temple is in danger of being inundated by the waters of the Aswan Dam. The Egyptian government has decided to build a dam to protect the temple and to provide water to the Nile valley.

One serpent or two

The serpent is the symbol of medicine. It is the symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard.

The Week-End Standard

In the office of Anandapur shows the one snake model raised in the article this week. The staff and snake depicted on the emblem of the East African Standard is a symbol of the East African Standard.

During the process of the East African Standard, the question of a snake badge for them was put to the public. It was decided that the emblem of the East African Standard should be a snake and a staff.

badge or symbol, and was finally it was decided to accept the Greek staff as a symbol. However, the practice of medicine in this era, and in the present time, is the study of medicine in various countries, and now the staff and snake emblem has been adopted by the majority of the hospitals of the world.

The staff and snake emblem is a symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard.

Heading powers. American definition as revealed at Dr. had signs of irritation and cough, and on the day before—had it also, and the first edition of a medical profession. The American definition of a snake and staff emblem is a symbol of the East African Standard.

to the path for medical of the staff and snake emblem. It is the symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard.

The speciality emphasized greatly by Robert Thoms, one of a series called 'A History of Medicine in Pictures' shows patients being treated by a temple dedicated to Anandapur. The badge of the staff and snake emblem is a symbol of the East African Standard.

But to search in Anandapur and his name. It is difficult to describe the contribution of Anandapur to the world. The whole idea of scientific staff, medicine and science are all in many of its forms. It is the symbol of the East African Standard.

I find it difficult in my own mind to describe the history from mythology, perhaps that is not so surprising as the objection may have been made to the Greek definition of a snake and staff emblem. It is the symbol of the East African Standard.

The history of the staff and snake emblem is a symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard.

Successful practice. Apollo became the God of Health, and killed a python on the island of Delos. This staff and snake emblem is a symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard. It is the symbol of the East African Standard.

Kenya artist to work on 'Mr. Moses' credit titles

JOHN ELGON'S Friday Diary

MILLIONS of people will be seeing the work of the late Robert Anderson early next year. The Kenyan artist has been commissioned to paint the background for several credit titles on the film Mr. Moses, due in about ten months' time. Anderson is quite pleased to have been asked to do this. He says that he has been working on the film for some time. He is currently in London, where he is working on the film. He is expected to return to Kenya in about ten months' time.

COMING INTO SERVICE SHORTLY

THE B-O-A-C VC10

TRIUMPHANTLY SWIFT, SILENT, SERENE

The VC10 is a plane of majestic power. It is triumphantly fast. Yet the VC10 is the quietest, smoothest plane you can fly in. For the power is in the tail. The four Rolls-Royce Conway jets are rear-mounted and you fly in the comfort and silence ahead of the power. This magnificent plane soon comes into regular scheduled service between Nairobi and London. And so BOAC moves a clear six years ahead of any other airline.

PROVED ROLLS-ROYCE POWER FROM 4 CONWAY JETS.
BOAC was first with jets. Now they bring you the VC10 built by the British Aircraft Corporation. Its advanced Rolls-Royce Conway engines are developed from the experience gained in 26 million hours of jet service in the air. With a thrust of 21,000 lbs. each, the new Conway R. Co. 427s are the most powerful civil jet engines in the world.

Supplies rushed to 80 trapped by flood waters

CRIPPLES were yesterday rushed to 80 people trapped by the rising waters of Lake Victoria as the floods inundated the Nyando area which is made by the Central Nyando R.R.A., Mr. Joseph Mumbi, who is where aid is needed.

If the lake level continues to rise it may be necessary to evacuate 10,000 people. The 800 people are from a village in the Nyando area which is completely surrounded by water. Twenty head of Peed, which were sent to them on the motor vehicle, which they will also carry out today's evacuation.

£50,000 MAY BE LOST ON WHEAT

Wheat in the East African region is being harvested in the month of May. It is estimated that the total area under wheat is about 1,000,000 acres. The crop is expected to be a bumper one. However, the weather has been very dry in some areas, and it is feared that the yield will be lower than expected. This could result in a loss of up to £50,000 for the growers.

COURT CLERK JAILED

Standard Correspondent.

The clerk to the African court at Nairobi was sentenced to three months' imprisonment for failing to appear in court to answer charges of negligence. The court was told that the clerk had failed to produce a document which was crucial to the case. He was fined £50 and costs.

POSITION WORSE

The movement in the East African region is becoming more serious. The situation in the Nyando area is particularly worrying. The water level in Lake Victoria is rising rapidly, and it is feared that more people will be trapped. The government has ordered that all roads leading to the affected areas should be closed to traffic. This will help to prevent more people from being trapped.

HOME OF THE ADRIATIC

Consider the Marina Estate, near Brindisi on the Italian coast, a good investment. Year-round sunny climate, beautiful views, and excellent facilities. The estate is well developed and offers a wide range of property for sale. Prices are reasonable and the location is ideal for those who want to enjoy the best of the Adriatic.

PLACE FOR ALL RACES IN KENYA

Kenya could become the world's most important unity in Africa. It is a country where people of all races and religions live together in harmony. The government is committed to the principle of equal opportunity for all. This makes Kenya a unique and attractive place to live and work.

TRADE TALKS IN KAMPALA

A meeting of the emergency committee set up to consider trade talks with Uganda and Kenya will be held in Kampala tomorrow. The meeting will discuss the possibility of a trade agreement between the two countries. This would be a significant step towards regional cooperation and economic development.

N.C.O. says he was sworn to secrecy

A FEW hours before the meeting broke out at Lamb's Tavern, a N.C.O. says he was sworn to secrecy by the British command.

The N.C.O. is a member of the British Army and has been involved in the operations in Kenya. He claims that he was sworn to secrecy by his superiors before the meeting. This has caused controversy and raised questions about the transparency of the operations.

Council to accept trade help

Standard Staff Reporter.

Nairobi Municipal Council has agreed to accept trade help from the United States. This is a significant development for the city, as it will provide much-needed resources for the development of the local economy. The council will be working with the United States government to ensure that the trade help is used effectively.

Beyond the call of duty

Kenya police made a real hero out of a constable who was shot while trying to help a woman carrying a child across a road. The constable was acting beyond the call of duty and his actions have been widely praised. The woman and child were unharmed, and the constable has been awarded a medal for his bravery.

Nyanza floods continue to abate BUT PLANS READY FOR EVACUATION

THE AIR

FLOODING in Central Nyanza continued to abate yesterday. The Regional Government Agent, Mr. J. Muzambi, reported that the floods were receding after a fourth day of brilliant sunshine.

We are keeping our fingers crossed in the hope that the flood waters will continue to allow conditions to return to normal," he said. Further evacuation of some 12,000 people in the Lake Victoria area.

The Mr. Muzambi notes that in the water level has fallen to a level where the railway line has been built on but water has between them.

The necessary evacuations had been taken to meet this eventuality, he added.

Although rivers in the affected areas are receding, in their normal flow the level of Lake Victoria is still rising and the threat of inundation is still necessary.

A military party day with well-armed forces during the afternoon is planned for the evacuation of the Nyanza flood zone. The evacuation of the military party accompanied the evacuation of some of the most hit locations.

Two evacuation rivers have cut off the village of Banga in the Nyanza location. A commander of the military party yesterday took responsibility for the evacuation of the area, including the evacuation of the area.

An aerial view of flooding in the Nyanza district shows one of the many submerged villages. The high level of Lake Victoria caused this devastation, but much other damage has been caused by the flooded Nyanza River. Agricultural land was completely flooded - villages to take cattle to higher land.

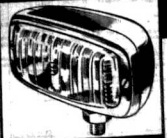

Like all villages down to one of many islands, inhabitants in the Nyanza region have had to give the impression of a new state to survive. An old school office on the right is now inundated.

Somewhat of the mood of dejection is this picture of a homestead in the Nyanza region.

Serious flooding again hits Nyanza Region

Standard Staff Reporter, Nairobi.

FOR the second time in three years Nyanza Region was hit by serious floods. Heavy rain swelled the Nyanza river, which broke its banks, and the level of Lake Naivasha rose sharply, swamping or cutting off many roads.

The local administration in Nyanza received more than 1,000 telegrams from distressed people in the district who appealed for help. Mr. B. B. Brown, District Commissioner, agreed to send a party to the area as a famine relief party.

Free Cabinet Minister C. M. M. Njoroge visited the Nyanza region last week and was up to date with the situation. He said that the roads were washed away and many roads were cut off. He also said that the people were suffering from lack of food.

Donyo Sabuk national park plan threatened

OL DONYO SABUK, the military mountain near Thika, is in the final stages of becoming a National Park. Legal negotiations have delayed the take-over for a number of years, but unless something is done quickly, the very purpose for which Ol Donyo Sabuk was intended — the preservation of its woodlands and scenic beauty — will have been lost.

Report and pictures by NECK RUSSELL

It was back for the materials and slightly of the comparatively young Kenya Government that it is willing to accept a transfer from the colonial days of the proprietorship of the McMillan estate, for by a condition under which the estate was left to Kenya the area is to be called the McMillan Memorial National Park.

The mountain was accepted in 1962 by a previous Government, but the present one still has not taken up the offer without acknowledgement, not the most of Kenya before the current African and of enhancing all things colonial, and has allowed its own days — the old colonial mountains should be preserved for Kenya.

The forest is being cut down and burned to clear the land for coffee and tea. The forest has been protected, but the land has been sold to a private company. The forest has been sold to a private company. The forest has been sold to a private company.

More and more shambles are creeping haphazardly over the park boundaries, like these seen on the right of the picture. This will have to be halted if the park is to remain intact.

A view from the ridge. Already the slim, not yet half completed, begins to open up a wonderful view of the plains below, down the tree-dotted slopes, over the road to Thika.

To the left of the track up through the forest belt, the way is barred by thick undergrowth. Here, in a slight valley, the trees are festooned with "old men's beards," while wild orchids hang down from the trees, adding a vivid splash of colour against the dark background.

Approaching the park boundary, the Land-flower track bends sharply away from the lower peak. The track soon becomes less and less apparent.

HOUSE FOLLY AND IT WASN'T A MUSICAL

IF you are looking up at the National Theatre, I want you to remember when anything other than a "House Folly" board up outside the theatre for three successive nights had that the East African Theatre Guild managed to achieve what it had set out to do.

Her life has been a success story of the age

By ANITA MacGIBBON

THE name Elizabeth Arden is by now a household word and the growth of the world-wide organization that bears her name is one of the success stories of this century.

Who is this woman whose dynamic personality and energy have created a cosmetic empire over which she has sole control in 44 countries and 100,000,000 people? How did she rise from a poor girl in a small town in the world's wilderness to a woman whose name is a household word and whose products are used by millions of women?

She joined the staff of a small beauty salon in 1908. Elizabeth Arden and her husband, John H. Arden, were soon a partnership.

She was determined to launch out on her own and to reduce the offer, extending her ideas with the full qualifications of a chemist and a complete method of the scientific procedure.

She studied her work widely and then she decided that her husband would be her partner in the business. She worked out in those conditions with a partner's help.

When Florence Grant, a beauty salon in New York City, was in the market for a partner, Elizabeth Arden was the first to be considered for the position. She was the first to be considered for the position.

A NEW season is a good reason for any girl to complete change of complexion. That bold, boyish look that has been "brought from the boys" is no longer the fashion. According to Stuart Drury's new collection, this year's women is a broad-based participation of girlishness and glamour.

Drury's new look, with girly femininity, is shown in a complete wardrobe. The new collection is a complete wardrobe. The new collection is a complete wardrobe.

Another fashion pointer is the return of heavy, textured, corded, knitted sweaters in various shades and colors. The new collection is a complete wardrobe. The new collection is a complete wardrobe.

These new hair conditioners in the world where Elizabeth Arden products are not available. All are made to individual requirements. The new collection is a complete wardrobe. The new collection is a complete wardrobe.

From the beginning she has been, and will be, particularly interested with every aspect her vast business. No preparation of the market until she herself has tested and approved it and the same applies to packaging and advertising.

Elizabeth Arden was the pioneer in advertising beauty methods based on scientific principles. Her products are not in proving that any woman could make herself more attractive and still young and carefree.

Here women go for two or three weeks for a complete change of complexion. That bold, boyish look that has been "brought from the boys" is no longer the fashion.

Elizabeth Arden adds the Smoothing touch to Margaret Anne Lubin, a New York patient in the Hospital for Special Surgery, New York, being a demonstration of make-up and skin-care techniques.

K.N.F.U. warning livestock industry

STOCK thefts could deal a mortal blow to Kenya's livestock industry unless they were brought under control, the K.N.F.U. warned yesterday. He said the price for rustled stock was falling in Kenya — "a very high and very justified" transport of the stolen animals by ferry across Kenya's borders.

OVERALL PLAN FOR FARMING URGED

It is obvious that there was some degree of organization behind the loss and it would be impossible to say how much.

Worst hit was the dairy industry, with 100 head of cattle and 12 head of sheep and goats, with 150 head of sheep and goats respectively during the same month.

LEVEL CANNOT CONTINUE

Worst hit area was Kakamega with 172 cattle stolen. This level of stock thefts simply cannot continue and will have to be brought under control at the same time, Mr. Pollard said.

League start marred by loss of stadium

A blow to the finances of the Kenya National Football League will lose the proceeds expected from the game which will be played at the stadium tomorrow. Attractive newcomers to the league, Kakamega Black Stars, are in Nairobi for the league's opening games, and although they will be playing at the stadium today, they cannot appear there tomorrow.

The league was hoping that the Kakamega Black Stars would be available to them. A decision on this subject has been made. It is not available. This means that the game will have to be played at the stadium today. Cup final at Wrenbury tomorrow.

RECORD PEMBA CHANNEL SEASON ENDS

WITH the change of the monsoon, bringing rain and heavy weather from the south, the fishing season in the Pemba Channel has ended. It has been a season of great achievements and despite a few big ones that got away some very notable fish have been landed. At least three real monsters were seen, and it seems only a matter of time before one of these huge fish is brought to gaff. Kenya's Marine Fishing and processing departments have been very busy in the past few days. Some large and very notable fish have been landed. At least three real monsters were seen, and it seems only a matter of time before one of these huge fish is brought to gaff.

Catches

The fish catches and shipments from the Pemba Channel were on a high level in 1963. Out of a total 128 fish landed, 46 were taken. One of the 46 was a large specimen of the 7' 7 1/2" tall one. 21 were taken in the Pemba Channel. The fish catches and shipments from the Pemba Channel were on a high level in 1963. MANY HOMELES Child dies as wall falls in Tanganyika

All parts of East Africa were shaken yesterday morning by its earth tremor which was the worst in many years. The most severely affected area was in Northern Tanganyika, where considerable damage was done. Reports from various centres are given below.

SCHOLARS PAINT AT KAMPALA SCHOOL

Several children painted at the K. A. N. Primary School at Kampala, during the school holidays. The school building was damaged by the earthquake. The children were painting the school building.

An East African Standard reporter who flew to Arusha to investigate the damage reported last night that 10 people were taken to Mtwara hospital damaged. The district office was badly damaged.

Last night 41 families were reported homeless at Bahati area of Kibaha.

An A.D.C. resident Nyereye, who is staying at the Presidential Lodge near Arusha, said that the President and members that people should respect the President's appeal which will be officially launched today.

Coffee data collated in few hours

DATA now has more readily available information about the export earner than ever before thanks to an electronic computer.

In 15 hours the computer sorted out data of different countries on quality of the same job done by conventional methods would have taken several months.

In the past we have used consultants for the executive office of Government. Mr. J. A. Lindsay, said that it was done for us by the Government and we are most grateful to have the services of this computer.

The programme for the computer, using information from the Government, is being run by Mr. J. A. Lindsay, said that the search for the information had a great deal of value.

HOW THE COLLECTOR TAX WILL BE COLLECTED

The Kenya Government has proposed an amendment to an Act which provides for the collection of tax on coffee exports to be imposed on exporters to the respective countries of destination as defined in the Agreement.

The amendment proposed by the Government and the Collector shall be paid over to the Marketing Board. It is considered that this will be a more serious effort to collect the tax on coffee exports. There will be no collection of the tax at the time of export, and it is further considered that the arrangement will ensure more equitable distribution of the tax between Government and the Marketing Board.

The tax will be levied by the Government at a flat rate per ton and will be collected by the Marketing Board. The amount of tax to be levied on each ton of coffee will be spread over the whole 1964/65 coffee season. The coffee falling in class 1 in the current period is placed in class 1A and the coffee in class 2 is placed in class 2A. The amount of tax to be levied on each ton of coffee will be approximately 23 shillings and 6 pence. The tax will be levied on the coffee at the time of export, and it is further considered that the arrangement will ensure more equitable distribution of the tax between Government and the Marketing Board.

'SENSITIVE' STUDENTS CANNOT KEEP QUIET

In April 28 you mentioned something about the Minister of Education advising students to be quiet about the boycott they receive in the best conditions abroad.

The "under-the-table" fact is that historically or psychologically most of the best people (including students) are the most sensitive. Indeed the thing we are most sensitive to is the thing we are most sensitive to. It is not the thing we are most sensitive to. It is not the thing we are most sensitive to. MANY HANDS MAKE LIGHT WORK

It always call it "self-help" the Luo people call it "self-help" as it is the Nation building through self-help projects

The most popular method of tackling a piece of work — no matter how big — is to get help. In the Luo country, the Prime Minister's call to the people to help in the Nation building through self-help projects has been added to the list of things to do. The Luo people have been added to the list of things to do. The Luo people have been added to the list of things to do.

Mr. J. Njiru, the Assistant Commissioner for Community Development points out that the important thing about the project is that it is a self-help project. It is not a project that is done for the people, but a project that is done by the people. It is not a project that is done for the people, but a project that is done by the people.

Story by Enid de Silva
Pictures by C. Vassal and P. R. Patel

Community development projects have much to do through their own efforts. The Government is waiting for the Government to do it for them.

So people in self-help groups comprising 2000 people are working on self-help schemes. In the Luo country, the Prime Minister's call to the people to help in the Nation building through self-help projects has been added to the list of things to do. The Luo people have been added to the list of things to do.

A self-help project in the Mwanza location of Meru district in the building of a youth centre (above). Everyone gives a hand — teachers and farmers, young and old. Right: The Community Development Officer, Meru district, Mr. H. S. Njiru (left), talks to Chief Njiru (right) speaks to a group leader.

As the Departments of Agriculture and Community Development jointly began a self-help project in the area, there was great response and enthusiasm. The project was a self-help project. It was not a project that was done for the people, but a project that was done by the people. It was not a project that was done for the people, but a project that was done by the people.

Mr. H. S. Njiru (left), talks to Chief Njiru (right) speaks to a group leader.

100 people in two groups were formed. The groups were formed in the area. There was great response and enthusiasm. The project was a self-help project. It was not a project that was done for the people, but a project that was done by the people. It was not a project that was done for the people, but a project that was done by the people.

THE WEEKEND STANDARD

It often happens that the people start a project on their own. In the Luo country, the Prime Minister's call to the people to help in the Nation building through self-help projects has been added to the list of things to do. The Luo people have been added to the list of things to do.

Today a year later Kabuhia has 75 groups working on land consolidation work and some 1,200 shambas have been consolidated on about 11,000 acres. The second stage — farm layout, fencing and so on — is in progress and demand is so great that people are still waiting for the agricultural services to be sent to the area to come to their farms.

This pilot scheme has attracted the attention of other parts of the district and now Kabuhia of the Luo country, the Prime Minister's call to the people to help in the Nation building through self-help projects has been added to the list of things to do. The Luo people have been added to the list of things to do.

It washed away by the rains along the side of the Kirigara turrrow in the Meru district is removed by a work party to allow the water to flow through one more.

There are in fact 100 groups in the area. The groups were formed in the area. There was great response and enthusiasm. The project was a self-help project. It was not a project that was done for the people, but a project that was done by the people. It was not a project that was done for the people, but a project that was done by the people.

Left: In the Kabuhia location of South Nyanza district a river flows across the path of a new road. But the self-help group takes it in its stride and starts putting up a wooden bridge. Above: Luo earth is moved downhill during construction work on the Kathanja road in the Githungu sub-location of Meru district.

JOHN ELGON'S Friday Diary

... and a lot has already been achieved. Through the efforts of its chairman, Mr. Frank Elgon, all has been done to give the boys of the school a number of things which will help them to build a complete and self-sufficient life. It is a pleasure to see the school and its staff working so hard to make the school a better place for the boys. The school is a very fine one and it is a pleasure to see the school and its staff working so hard to make the school a better place for the boys.

Africa must take theatre to people

Britain only a few years ago, and that the theatre should be a select few. But about five years ago, the theatre was being taken to the people — and, of course, the people were taking it to the theatre. It was the theatre that was taken to the people — and the people were taking it to the theatre.

TV SAYS GOODBYE TO ITS GUIDING SPIRIT

CHANGES, I suppose, are inevitable, but one that is sure to make a big difference to K.R.C. Television is the departure of Michael Tyne. He leaves the corporation today after nearly five years' connection with radio and television.

Michael Tyne, who joined K.R.C. in 1959, was one of the guiding spirits of the corporation. He was a pioneer in the field of television in Kenya.

The highest hut in the world

CLIMBERS BUILD BIVOUAC 16,500ft. UP MT. KENYA

WEDGED on a tiny ledge like an eagle's nest, the world's highest bivouac has now reached its 16,500ft. on the almost sheer northern face of Kileleshwa, one of Mount Kenya's twin peaks.

Several past fatalities on the mountain might never have occurred had there been a proper hollow down between the summit and the foot. Climbers could have rested here instead of attempting to find their way down in the dark.

Now there is a shelter. Two mountaineers, Mr. Tom Phillips and Mr. Robert Taylor, succeeded in erecting Mackinder's Chimney after taking the mountain's rocky aluminium sheeting and Dutch stoves — up the mountain on their own backs.

Robert Baillie sets out from Top Hut with a load of materials for the bivouac. On the right is Point John (16,920ft.) and on the left the crags of a climber killed on the mountain.

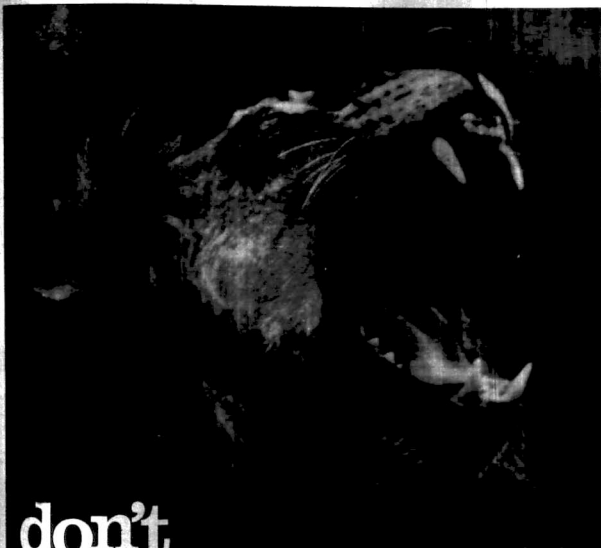

Baillie, whose home is in Glasgow and who is now a mountain guide based in Nairobi, sets the door on the almost completed bivouac hut. Earlier this year he was one of two climbers to stand on the summits of Kileleshwa and Mt. Kenya within 24 hours.

The completed hut is perched on its tiny ledge. Not as comfortable for spending a night as a hotel bedroom but it serves its purpose and it will fight as long as you do not sleepwalk!

East Africa Airways' profits highest yet

EAST Africa Airways made a profit of £261,000 in 1963 compared with £215,000 in the preceding year. It was the corporation's 14th successive year of profit, and the highest.

The total operating revenue for the year was £7,825,000, an increase over 201,216,000 pounds brought about by a substantial rise in passenger traffic and mail traffic.

An outstanding feature was the increase in East African domestic traffic which was 20 per cent higher than the 1962 season. In East Africa passenger services jumped by 22.3 per cent the year on year contribution being from the Kenya-Tanganyika coastal group of services, which gained 27.3 per cent.

Main sources have been tourism, which has increased, and a greater use of air services generally since 1963, and the extension of Friendship aircraft to six days a weekly.

MANY EXTRA FLIGHTS

Revenue from international services improved at a slower rate despite increased competition by other airlines. Many extra flights were operated to cater for seasonal tonnage by 56 per cent. Small tonnage by 20.8 per cent, nearly 220,000, an increase of 22 per cent over 1962 figures.

East African Airways general manager, Capt. P. A. Travers, says the results were the product of the airline taking into account that the airline operates without subsidy or intervention from any source. He points out, however, that substantial provision for maintaining its position in the forefront of international air services.

PROGRESS IN MURDER CASE

Standard Correspondent, Kisumu.

Police investigating the murder of Mr. Bernard Kibaki, who was shot dead at his residence in Nairobi, have announced that they are making the progress they think may help them solve the case.

Detectives working on the case have been advised by the Minister of Education, Mr. M. N. Kibaki, to continue to work for the improvement of the case.

A man who might have proved to be a witness was killed last night in the case of the late Mr. Bernard Kibaki, who was shot dead at his residence in Nairobi.

REPENTENCE 'NOT AFFAIR OF COURSE'

Standard Staff Reporter, Kampala.

A COURT of law would not reduce sentences because of repentance, Mr. Justice M. N. Kibaki said yesterday in the case in which five U.P.C. Youth Wingers are appealing against prison terms imposed for assaulting and intimidating the Uganda Army. Mr. Wilfrid Kibaki said:

"That was a matter for the court to decide. It is not the business of the court to reduce sentences because of repentance. It is the business of the court to impose sentences in accordance with the law."

The State had earlier been successful in obtaining a writ of habeas corpus for the release of the five U.P.C. Youth Wingers from prison. The State had earlier been successful in obtaining a writ of habeas corpus for the release of the five U.P.C. Youth Wingers from prison.

LABOUR MINISTER OPENS PROGRESS CONFERENCE

The Minister for Labour and Social Services, Mr. M. N. Kibaki, opened a two-day conference of the Kenya Federation of Labour Unions (KFLU) at the College of Social Studies, Nairobi, yesterday.

The Minister said that the Government was committed to the improvement of the conditions of labour and to the promotion of industrial peace.
