KENYA'S SIGNIFICANT part in talks says Premier

Rhodésian troops kill 60 fanatics

Kenya's delegations to the Commonwealth and Organisation for African Unity conferences this month had played a significant part in the discussions, the Prime Minister, Mr. Kenyatta, told the House of Representatives yesterday.

On the London conference, Mr. Kenyatta said Kenya and Rhodesia would feel proud to belong to a group which recognised the need for racial harmony in the world.

He recalled that at the start of the conference he had expressed the view that the Commonwealth must be prepared to solve racial problems, and had cited Kenya as an example of a country which recognised the need for racial harmony in the world.

Mr. Kenyatta said that at the start of the conference he had emphasized that the Commonwealth must be prepared to solve racial problems, and had cited Kenya as an example of a country which recognised the need for racial harmony in the world.

Plans for tour of Nyanza

Official arrangements for the Prime Minister, Mr. Kenyatta, to visit Central Nyanza have been completed by a number of Ministers on the main Nyanza Victoria tour.

Large groups are expected to see the tour, and it is understood that arrangements have been made for school children to accompany the tour.

The tour is expected to start on Saturday morning, by which time Mr. Kenyatta will be in Nyanza. The tour is expected to last for about ten days.

THE CULT OF WRITING ON THE WALL

Some people seem to be very fond of writing on the wall. It is a habit which is not only a waste of time but also a waste of space. In the past, people used to write on the wall to record important events. But now, with the invention of the printing press, it is no longer necessary to do so. The only reason why people still do it is because they are bored and have nothing else to do.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:
 I am writing to you regarding the recent article in your paper about the new tax system. I am sure that you will find it interesting. The new system is a great improvement over the old one. It is fair and reasonable. I hope that you will continue to report on such matters in the future.

Land rules criticised

The Lower House Member for Nakuru, Mr. C. C. Karari, has criticised the agricultural land rules which were introduced in the area of Nakuru. He stated that the rules were not fair and that they would cause hardship for the farmers in the area. He called for the rules to be revised.

TO THE EDITOR:

Apology due

The recent intrusion on the privacy of the British High Commissioner in Nairobi by some of the Kenya M.P.'s should not go unnoticed. I believe that such actions are highly objectionable and should be stopped. The High Commissioner is a representative of the British Government and should be treated with respect.

Differences between provident funds

THE statement from the Ministry of Labour was quite thought-provoking but unfortunately it did not cover nearly private schemes which have a different character. The statement was made by the Minister of Labour, Mr. J. M. O'Rourke, in the House of Commons. He stated that the Government was considering the possibility of introducing a new type of provident fund.

Parliamentary procedure

I am pleased to refer to the article in your paper regarding the recent changes in the House of Commons. The changes are a great improvement over the old system. They will make the House of Commons more efficient and more representative of the people.

Sikh loyalty

I was pleased to read a statement in your paper regarding the loyalty of the Sikhs in the Punjab. The Sikhs have shown great loyalty to the British Government and have made a valuable contribution to the war effort. They should be rewarded for their loyalty.

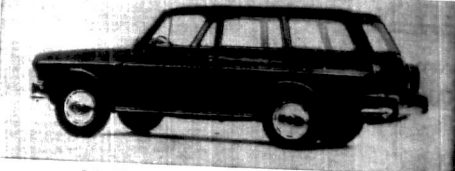

Cost Distress Appeal

MUCH has been said and written about the cost of living in the past few years. It is a problem which affects everyone. The Government should do more to help the people who are suffering from cost distress. They should reduce taxes and increase spending on social services.

U.K. travel agent condemns the hotel deposit system

A leading travel agent has expressed his strong disapproval of the hotel deposit system, which he described as "a gross injustice to the tourist".

The agent, Mr. J. H. G. Smith, who is secretary of the British Tourist Association, said that the system was "a gross injustice to the tourist because it is a system which is based on the assumption that all tourists are alike and that all tourists are equally likely to be dishonest and to misappropriate the property of the hotel."

SCHOOL holidays are with an again and many homes will be disrupted by hockey sticks piled in corners, model airplanes on the french-polished tables, animals smuggled in from out-doors and books everywhere. Emerging from all this, mothers turn to the inevitable headache-irritating to the game parks or just clothes!

In East Africa mothers look for children's clothes which are particularly hand-wearing and washable, as the children wear out more of the year round than in the flat regions. They need more than a regular school outfit with a few extra for the inevitable 'headache-irritating' to the game parks or just clothes!

MAKE USE OF THE AVOCADO LIKE THIS

With avocado pairs in good supply in the shops, selling for about 10s for a 1 1/2 lb. you can now have any of four easy recipes which do not take very long to prepare. They can be made well before they are needed and kept in the fridge.

AVOCADO MOUSSE

- 2 cups avocado pulp
- 2 cups whipped cream
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup cream

Mash the avocado with a strong fork and add 1/2 teaspoon salt, to taste the onion juice and salt. Mix the cream and mayonnaise and dissolve the softened gelatine in the boiling water. Add the avocado gradually and beat to a mound. Stir in when set, turned out and garnished with shredded lettuce or corn. This makes a good entrée dish and serves four.

AVOCADO SALAD

- 1 avocado pulp
- 1 cup pineapple cubes
- 1 cup halved grapes
- 2 oranges

Peel the oranges and cut them into pieces. Cut the avocado pulp into halves lengthwise, scoop out the pulp, leaving the shells. Mix the pulp with the other fruit and marinate in French dressing for about half an hour. Turn out the shells and serve on lettuce leaves garnish with hard-boiled egg whites. This serves six.

Difficult age

Most of the girls are young entrées of the adult's fashion. There are twenty girls in a class from 10 to 16, which mean with a lower undergrowth and shorter hair. For designers this means a great deal of work, as particularly for a dress, a skirt and a pair of shoes.

Left, Missie Dingo, models a dress in pure wool in red and white which has a soft under-look and sells for 22s. Above, she is wearing a prettier dress in an English Tulle and silk mixture with an underlook in the entire line of 40s to the lot.

There are a great many of the girls in the school who are not in the habit of wearing a regular school outfit with a few extra for the inevitable 'headache-irritating' to the game parks or just clothes!

Popular style

The dropped waist style is very popular for the girls, either with a plain skirt or with pleats. Not very tight fitting, they give ease of movement and are easy to wear, with a minimum of fuss, washing and ironing. Styles in standard dresses have plenty in this way.

There are a great many of the girls in the school who are not in the habit of wearing a regular school outfit with a few extra for the inevitable 'headache-irritating' to the game parks or just clothes!

At present, the girls are not in the habit of wearing a regular school outfit with a few extra for the inevitable 'headache-irritating' to the game parks or just clothes!

BOOK REVIEWS

'U' certificate for his study

By JONATHAN JOHN
The Man, by SONIA BLECKER
Dennis Dobson, 12s.

For some of the information from the publishers, one can only assume that Miss Blecker's study of the Man is intended for a schoolroom readership.

Included by these standards, the book, incidentally light in treatment, is a relatively recent work covering the most aspects of life and thought.

Dismissing over some of the more obvious points, the Man's treatment, the book is a most interesting and recommended for the student.

Essential sympathy

A frank autobiographical work, with a certain opportunity for the industry of her study, Miss Blecker has intelligently selected a remembrance that retains vigour and individuality in the African's atmosphere.

Agreement signed with Japan over training centre

THEFT LED TO KENYA MAIZE SHORTAGE

MAIZE shortage has been linked to the importation of maize bags from the United States which had been largely ignored by the Kenya Agricultural Board, a Government official yesterday said.

It was also pointed out that the maize shortage was not only due to the theft of maize but also to the fact that the Government had not been importing maize in sufficient quantities to meet the demand.

The Government had imported only 10,000 tons of maize in 1964, against a requirement of 150,000 tons, he said.

The Government had also failed to import maize in sufficient quantities to meet the demand, he said.

Agreement signed with Japan over training centre

Industrial, Dr. G. N. Mwangi, and the Charge d'Affaires of the Japanese Embassy, Mr. O. Yamamoto, signed an agreement yesterday under which the Japanese Government will provide the teaching staff and equipment for technical training at the Kenya National Institute of Industrial Development. The Government has allocated £75,000 in the development budget for the expenses of this project during the first three years of operation.

FACTORY FOR . . . A YEAR

A contribution of £20,000 was made by Shell BP of Kenya National Fund to be applied to the Kenya share of the expenses. The East African Tobacco Company has offered to lease the site at Nakuru for which £75,000 has been set aside in the development budget.

The centre will provide training in technical, scientific and managerial practices for technical and supervisory staff of industrial establishments. The centre will also provide special training programmes and research projects related to local industrial development.

The centre will be operated by the Kenya National Institute of Industrial Development, which has a staff of 45 students now in instruction.

It is planned to open the centre within the next six months. There will be accommodation for all initial classes of 45 students now in instruction.

A HOME ON THE ADRIATIC

Consider the Rosa Marina Estate, near Brindisi in the Italian Adriatic coast, for a permanent home, for retirement, for holiday or a splendid investment. Year-round sunny climate, reasonable living costs, a well planned and equipped community; an excellent investment in rising Italian property and in Home Roman development. Work has started to make a complete new seaside resort with made-up roads, change control, underground. All formalities arranged and operated by a Canadian public company. Plans are still available at £700, per ft. 174sq. sq. metres. (A government over 4 to 9 years. Time transfer deposit, balance beautiful architect-designed villas. Subject to local exchange. Details available on request. Development is situated in Italy. Details available on request. Development is situated in Italy.

Move to oust 'foreigners' fails

A PRIVATE Member's motion calling on the Government to oust all European and Asian firms from Kenya was defeated in the House yesterday.

The motion, put by Sir, Makumbi (Kalen, Eastern Province), said: "That this Senate, after having reviewed the operations of the European and Asian firms in Kenya, do hereby call upon the Government to stop such firms from trading in Kenya and to replace them by African firms using larger and smaller capital."

It is now the view of the Government that the motion is not in the interests of the country and should not be carried.

Use of name damaging to Kabaka

The constant use of the Kabaka's name to arouse feelings in Uganda against the Central Government and its policy in relation to his prestige and Uganda's history of the Minister of Internal Affairs, Mr. Felix Chimbo, has ceased.

He was commenting on a statement by the Kabaka's Government which expressed regret at a speech made by the Prime Minister and President of the U.P.C., Mr. Oloko, at the opening of the Uganda National Conference in Kampala.

He said the Prime Minister's remarks were an attempt to be used by political opportunists in the whole country who were doing so by the name of the Kabaka, and he said in relation to the Kabaka's name he had no objection to its use in the country.

UNITY BETRAYED IF EAST AFRICA FAILS TO FEDERATE

£200 from match for Tokyo fund

Two cases of pan-African unity would be betrayed if East Africa countries failed to federate, the Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Finance and Economic Development, Mr. W. H. Edwards, told the Pan-African Students' conference yesterday — the fourth day.

Mr. Edwards said that most people in East Africa were not aware of the present institutions of the Commonwealth and the Commonwealth Secretary of State had written to them and said they were no longer adequate to carry the Commonwealth into the future.

"We have become convinced that having travelled as far as you had to political unification the choice before us is to make either take the remaining short but sure step to a political federation or suffer a period of disintegration possibly leading to disintegration of the existing structures.

"The choice must be made now. Africa is too important to be left to the mercy of the West and it is not enough to say that we are not prepared to do it. We must take positive action. We must take positive action through the Commonwealth Secretariat and the Commonwealth Secretary of State. We must take positive action through the Commonwealth Secretariat and the Commonwealth Secretary of State. We must take positive action through the Commonwealth Secretariat and the Commonwealth Secretary of State.

We must take positive action through the Commonwealth Secretariat and the Commonwealth Secretary of State.

Indeed, we in East Africa are the best placed to give an answer to the pan-African movement. We have the economic and commercial links, the political and administrative links, the cultural and political links, the historical and geographical links. We have a language Swahili, common to all. We have a common market, the more developed habits of cooperation in developing policies and political ideas. M.P.'s plan makes £1,750 for farmers

CO-OPERATIVE WAY TO WELFARE

MORE than a year ago the M.P. for Buret, Mr. T. Towett, decided to put into operation one of his ideas on the co-operative movement.

He went to inspect a 900-acre farm which was for sale in the Fort Ternos area, and told the 30 squatters there that if they could contribute towards the purchase of the farm, he would buy it for them.

Four killed in bus-train collision

Four bus passengers were killed and seven of others injured, some of them seriously, when it was involved in a crash with a train at a railway crossing a mile from Kisumu yesterday afternoon, according to early reports reaching Nairobi last night.

The accident took place at about 2.45 p.m. when a bus travelling to Kisumu from Kisumu was in collision with a motor-Kisumu passenger train at a crossing on the Kisumu-Mombasa line.

Members of the party's executive committee are expected to meet in London in the near future to discuss the results of the tour.

When the squatters met to discuss the purchase of the farm, they decided to form a co-operative society to buy the land.

Each member of the new co-operative society will receive a share of the land to be used for growing crops and for building houses.

THE WORLD IN PICTURES

East African Standard, Friday, August 7, 1964 7

ROCHESTER, U.S.A. America's race riots have marvellously kept their usual vigour, and the country begins to take toll. This picture shows Negro protesters being led away to chains after the New York riot. In the More City riot, three people died and more than 700 were injured. More than 1,000 State Troopers were called in and at least 100 people were killed.

LONDON. One of the great days of contemporary world history. In Western Europe, who is carrying the flag, and who is the flag-bearer? The Prime Minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

CHINSALI IN Rhodesia. Security forces (above) and a photographer advance through a Lumpu village to recover the body of a murdered policeman in the case of a woman, Alice Lemshina (pictured right). The revolt was sparked off when 200 of the sect appeared a British police officer to death and then refused to hand over into the Eastern Province. Now the toll has risen to at least 238 and has spread into the Eastern Province. The self-styled "prophet" has disappeared among her followers.

It's spades for spears in Masailand these days

A acre of cultivated land has come to mean more to the Masai than a herd of cattle roaming the flat grassy plains of Masailand. PILKINGTONS lead the world in glassmaking

With the invention of Float glass

In the most searching test of a glass-a mirror - Float shows itself the world's finest glass

There's no more searching test of a glass than to make it into a mirror, and reflect an object in its right and again. There's no doubt which glass makes today's finest, thinnest mirrors. It's Pilkington's Float glass, invented and developed by Pilkington.

Pilkington Glass is made or processed in up-to-date plants in nine countries, and behind every product are the vast resources of some of the glass industry's largest laboratories, working on quality control, and on research and development. Pilkington's research and development produced Float glass which, with its new clarity and strength, enables Pilkington glass to be used for mirror making and for producing the safety glass for the finest glass specially Pilkington.

The World's Float Range
 An up-to-the-minute glass for every building need: Pilkington's "Woods", "Aurora", "Mansard", "Dura", "Crowned", "Double Glazing Units", "Crystalline", "Glass", "Louver Blinds", "Crystalline".
 Add safety and fire protection to light with Pilkington's "Woods" Glasses. There is a choice of wide mesh panes in both clear and obscured glasses. Specially Pilkington's "Woods" for doors and partitions, canopies and balustrades.

Pilkington's Agent in East Africa

'RIGHT, YOU'RE IN' SAID THE ARMY SERGEANT

Many older East Africans were recalling this week that August day 22 50 years ago when the First World War began. One who recalls August 4, 1914 vividly is Mr. Danvers Maske, who writes:

"I was observing on the stage of the Old Vic for my fifth year playing John in Peter Pan, but rehearsals stopped while fireworks rained through the London streets with placards bearing just one word: WAR!"

"It was decided to continue the rehearsal until the last night's opening weeks of last year. Some were already members of an expected influx of Germans of Vienna."

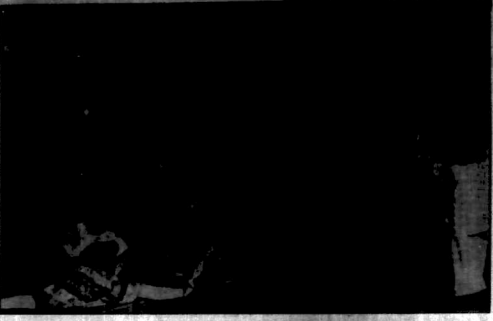

"Mr. St. John, a well-known actor, was called by his manager and other members of the management to see the first night of the play. It was probably the first night of the play, but I am not sure. I was called to the theatre to see the play. I was called to the theatre to see the play. I was called to the theatre to see the play."

A NEXT partridge hunt will be held on the 15th of East Africa's birds - with plans to register those not taken into the book produced by Malindi's noted ornithologist Mr. John Williams.

Tourist prices

I HAVE ever sympathized with the indignant American woman who wrote in the 'Star' column yesterday that when a first-class steamer is charged by certain East African tour operators.

Whiskers

It's been a long time since I have visited the Club that when a first-class steamer is charged by certain East African tour operators.

The performance times at D.M. next month

FIRST was John Gardner who had to drop out of the cast of Trap for a Lonely Man at the Grand Theatre after a car accident in that his leg was pinned by his doctors so that he would have to wear a cast which would make it impossible for him to walk on the stage for a month.

It is expected that he will be ready to go on in the second week of next month. He will be replaced in the meantime by Walter Pidgeon who will be in the cast of Trap for a Lonely Man for the next two weeks. Walter Pidgeon will be in the cast of Trap for a Lonely Man for the next two weeks.

JUST ONE WEEK has to elapse only one week to see the play Trap for a Lonely Man at the Grand Theatre. It is expected that Walter Pidgeon will be in the cast of Trap for a Lonely Man for the next two weeks.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Philips (above) seen after their wedding at Livingston Church. The bridegroom is the second son of Mr. J. Philips and the late Mrs. Philips of Preston, Ilorin Lane, and his bride, formerly Miss Frances Lambart, is the second daughter of Mr. N. A. and the late Mrs. Lambart of Dune (Photo: Olanet La Marga).

In St. Peter's Church, Nyari, was the scene of the wedding (above) of Mr. Peter Francis Straat Evans, eldest son of the late Capt. E. A. and Mrs. Straat, of Nyari, and Miss Alison Rose Palmerist, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Palmerist, of Darbyshire (Photo: Alice Brown).

The wedding (above) took place in Worcester, England, recently of Mr. Isaac Cole Anderson, only son of Dr. J. Anderson and Mrs. H. Whiddon of Nairobi, and Miss Anne Mary Shelli, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Small of Worcester, formerly of the Medical Service, Uganda. The marriage ceremony was conducted by Mr. Rev. C. E. Short, Assistant Bishop of Worcester, who married the bride's parents in Kampala, in 1937, when he was Bishop of Uganda.

Seen (on the right, below) at the Patel Club, Nairobi, after their wedding in Mombasa, are Mr. and Mrs. Shankubhai G. Shah. The bridegroom, who is well-known in Kenya cricket circles, is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Shah, and his bride, formerly Miss Meralda Telen, is the third daughter of the bridegroom's father, Mrs. G. N. Shah, Dr. R. I. Patel, the Indian High Commissioner, Mr. B. K. Tandon and Mr. R. S. Alexander.

The Holy Ghost Cathedral, Mombasa, was the scene of the wedding (above) of Mr. Basil Bruce of the "Mombasa Times," and Miss Janet Rodriguez, daughter of Mr. A. J. Rodriguez. Mr. Bruce is a former captain of the "East African Standard."

Seen (above) being parted by his bride at his wedding at Arusha, is Mr. Ramoniklal M. Mathia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mageshji V. Mageshji, of Babooni Greenery, Jinja, Uganda. His bride, formerly Miss Surukha Anandhi, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Anandhi, of Wote. Matchmakers Mathias and Co. Limited, Arusha (Photo: Malda).

Mrs. and Mr. John Glasford (right) pose outside All Saints' Cathedral, Nairobi, after their wedding. The bridegroom is the only son of Mrs. K. M. Glasford of Nairobi, and his bride, formerly Miss Colleen Aronson Hunt, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hunt, also of Nairobi (Photo: Olanet La Marga).

Pala players form a guard of honour outside the church after the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Robin Davis at Subukia (above). Mr. Davis is the only son of Mrs. and the late Mr. J. E. Davis of Naugah, and his bride, formerly Miss Bridget Elsie Bailey, is the second daughter of Capt. and Mrs. E. C. Bailey of Morris Estates, Subukia (Photo: Kaylora Photographers, Nairobi).

Seen shortly after the wedding (above) at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Nairobi, Northern Province, is the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Osborne, of Chikanga, in the eldest daughter, Miss Myra Osborne, also Chikanga, of Northern Province (Photo: Roger Anst. Studio, Nairobi).

Porcelain — alluring but expensive!

Do you ever "go walk about" — that delightful Australian Aboriginal custom which describes a stroll for no particular reason when you have nothing better to do — and wander in a town when dusk is falling and the first lights are transforming shop windows from mundane displays to something exciting and alluring?

The excellent rubber hand-encapsulated tires which have occupied you all day. You can expect an imaginative ride in the realm of submersible floatations, you can enjoy multi-million income brackets as you glide on porcelain jewelry, and other objects of desire.

A prominent porcelain researcher, but become famous for his beautiful figure. Having established his whereabouts near South Dakota, many are interested in porcelain figures and developing the art. Compulsory fitted reflectors urged by A.A.A.A.

Government to enforce the fitting of reflective chevrons, public transport and was to be urged by the Automobile Association of East Africa.

Announcing this at a Press conference in Nairobi yesterday, the president of the Association, Mr. T. O. Lockhart-Murray, said rear-end collisions with unlighted lorries sometimes cars on East African roads at night was "one of the most vicious forms of accidents."

The president said that, while recommendations to the Government at present would concentrate on legislation concerning commercial and public transport vehicles, he also felt it desirable that some type of reflective strip should be displayed permanently on all lorries. But the A.A.A.A. had not yet made any firm decision on this point.

THACKER WOULD IN UNCOVER T HOTEL

Comparing the elements of permanently fitted chevrons with the use of reflective triangles which are placed 45 yards ahead and behind unlighted vehicles, Mr. Lockhart-Murray said the human factor in respecting to take the trouble to place the triangles, led the A.A.A.A. to support the use of chevrons.

He hoped that commercial companies would voluntarily introduce the system pending consideration of legislation, and commended the East African Cables companies, all of whose vehicles are being fitted with reflective chevrons.

The result of such legislation in the Rhodesias in 1961 had been a reduction of 15 per cent in this type of accident. The A.A.A.A. was greatly concerned about the increase in traffic accidents, the management committees would work in co-operation with the police and other authorities in implementing the proposed legislation, which was to start on the quarter ending June 30, 1962 people had been killed in 100 accidents, 313 had been seriously injured and 1,844 disabled.

Mr. Lockhart-Murray added: "It is my firm belief that the world's most advanced countries have worldwide standardisation of such reflective markings on vehicles, particularly in the form of chevrons. It is my hope that East African motorists should be urged to adopt such a reflective marking on their lorries."

Tanganyika was talking in terms of bringing in legislation which would require the fitting of reflective triangles to all other parts of a motor vehicle. The reflective triangle system had many advantages.

A representative pointed out the advantages of such triangles over the Prevention of Accidents to Road Traffic Act. The advantages were the proper means to prevent rear-end collisions with unlighted lorries. The A.A.A.A. intended to produce a code of practice for such a system which would be a further step towards the introduction of a system of reflective marking on all vehicles. The code would be the appointed representative of an advisory committee to advise A.A.A.A. on the matter.

The secretary-general of the Automobile Association, Walter C. M. Parnell, said a demonstration of the proposed system would be held soon at Wilson Airport.

ENERGY Government to study recent reports

Prime Minister, Mr. Kenyatta, declared at a Press conference in Nairobi yesterday, that the Government intended to pursue progressively the objective of East African Federation, and would study the recent reports of the Working Party with a view to continuing negotiations with the other East African States.

Mr. Kenyatta pointed out that the Government intended to present instruments of federation for consideration before tomorrow, August 15. He said that really, as the Government would be obliged to consult the other East African Governments as to the implications of the resolution, this had been impossible. Minister of Commerce and Industries, Mr. Mwangi, also announced that the Government would study the reports of the Working Party with a view to continuing negotiations with the other East African States.

Assurance on efforts

The Prime Minister, however, assured Parliament and the people of Kenya that everything would be done to expedite the formation of an East African Federation.

Mr. Kenyatta also issued a detailed statement on the one-party system yesterday - first in full in Daily Nation.

SHAPING THE FUTURE

The maintenance of the tele-communications network is a complex task requiring a high degree of technical skill and the application of the latest technology. It is a task that requires the services of a specialist organization. The Government has recognized this need and has established the Kenya Telecommunications Corporation. This corporation is responsible for the operation and maintenance of the tele-communications network in Kenya. The Corporation is a public body and is financed by the Government. It is a very important organization and its success is vital to the development of Kenya. The Corporation has a wide range of services to offer, including telephony, telegraph, and teleprinter. It also provides a range of other services, such as the provision of tele-communications equipment and the installation of tele-communications systems. The Corporation is a very professional organization and its services are of a high standard. It is a pleasure to have the Corporation as a part of our services. A view of the port area of Kisumu from the Shillito dock, showing how food supplies, channelled by the visiting Lake Victoria boats, are affected by flooding.

Too much of any food is dangerous. But while in some parts of Kenya people are crying out for water, the abundance of food along Lake Victoria is being hoarded by the Kisumu Region because of flooding since 1959.

As in this case the Government is making serious studies of the problem of flooding in the region and is planning to do so in the form of a "comprehensive" survey by the Ministry of Home Affairs and the Kenya Water Board.

The Lost Purse

By Susan Carroll

"It's an error," said Mrs. Sligger, looking at the milkman. "I've lost my purse. Where did you find it?"

"I found it in the road," said the milkman. "I was carrying it to the house."

"I'm sorry," said Mrs. Sligger. "I'll give you a reward if you find it for me."

"I'll give you a reward if you find it for me," said the milkman. "I'll give you a reward if you find it for me."

OVER 22,000 DIFFERENT

Caterpillar parts!

Naturally, we in Construction Equipment don't think you'll need all three, though you may need one or two. No matter how old your Caterpillar machine, there are genuine parts available, in over 22,000 types of parts are stocked in East Africa.

You want your parts quickly? A large variety of worn parts can be exchanged immediately under our Drive Assembly Service in East Africa. This means you can get your equipment working again. There is also an emergency parts service operating from Nairobi to nine stocking points—Mombasa, Malindi, Kisumu, Kampala, Mbita, Mochi, Tanga and Dar es Salaam.

You want regular attention? Once again we have the answer: There are Field Parts Representatives in all areas, making regular calls to ensure that your parts requirements are being processed speedily and correctly, in liaison with your machine, and in respect to your maintenance schedule.

What does this mean to you? It means you get the best After-Sales Service in East Africa. This means that your Caterpillar equipment is maintained and repaired by factory-trained mechanics, thus enabling you to get the most from your machine, and keep down-time to a minimum.

BOOK REVIEWS

Correcting all the wrong impressions

By W. McATEE
Non-Colonisation, by BRIAN CROZIER
The Bodley Head, 1970.

The Leader's book is important because it presupposes the theory that colonial Powers, progressing through the exploitation of their overseas possessions, can no more give up their colonies than capitalists can afford to stop exploiting labour.

EASING THE MANAGER'S BURDENS

By R. J. SHURPLANS
Management Accounting: A Practical Approach by R. E. V. DUCK and F. R. J. JENYNS
Harper, 1970.

THE popular concept of management accounting is that of a new system of book-keeping which is of more use to the manager of a business than the old-fashioned historical accounting. In fact it can be simply stated as the presentation of facts and figures in such a way as to provide yardsticks to management which can be used by the latter in matters of control and decision.

Quilting Interest

This marketing of interest has encouraged the publication of numerous treatises, mostly written by accountants or accountants-in-training, which have been published in the last few years. The most interesting of these is 'Quilting Interest' by R. E. V. Duck and F. R. J. Jenyngs.

BRIDGE ABOUT A KIBITZER

A KIBITZER is not, as you might have thought the inhabitants of a village to, one of the better-known British creatures who sits by your side when you are playing bridge and offers unhelpful and irrelevant advice. He is usually wrong, in which respect he is barely tolerable.

At this stage a kabitzer of my size I had not met. I was sitting in a room with a group of people who were playing bridge. I was sitting in a room with a group of people who were playing bridge.

Pimples
The skin is the most sensitive part of the body and is often the first to show signs of age. Pimples are a common skin condition that can be treated with the help of a dermatologist. The use of a good quality skin cream can help to prevent pimples from occurring in the first place.

Fight RHEUMATIC PAINS This Easy Way
Rheumatism is a common ailment that can be treated with the help of a doctor. The use of a good quality medicine can help to relieve the pain and discomfort associated with rheumatism.

Of my return from the recent London and Cape Town conferences I stated that I was now in favour of a one-party State.

It is my conviction that the most practical method of achieving the objectives of the Africanisation process is through the formation of a one-party State.

I believe that the formation of a one-party State is the only way in which we can ensure the stability and continuity of our government.

REBELS HOLD HALF BUKAVU Americans missing in heavy fighting

REBELS said to be aided by giant Tutsi tribesmen from half the important Eastern Congo city of Bukavu in heavy fighting, according to radio reports. The Congolese Army is reported still in control of the European sector, from which many people have been evacuated.

But two U.S. military men and an American diplomat are missing, the U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville announced. They apparently fled to get back to the U.S. Consulate, which was evacuated soon after Wednesday's surprise attack. Bukavu, capital of Central Kivu Province, is the Congo's fifth largest city, with a population of about 150,000. It lies some 6,000 ft. up a mountain range at about 100 miles east of Lake Kivu, on the Rwanda border.

Tutsi camp found empty

Yesterday's reports said the rebels, who attacked from the West, were being aided by Tutsi refugees from Rwanda miles north of Bukavu, which had held 8,000 Tutsis, who found empty.

Tutsis are known to be among rebel groups who have been pushing Government forces out of about one-third of the Congo during the four-month rebellion.

Government reinforcements and supplies were shown out yesterday in an American transport plane to Bukavu from Leopoldville. Also on the plane were the Congo Army Commander in Bukavu, Col. Leonard Mulamba, ordered to join in the defence of Bukavu.

Students condemn S.A. law

A MEETING of more than 1,000 students, staff and graduates of the University of Zambia yesterday endorsed a statement in the name of the university calling for the release of the 15 South African students who are being held in the country.

The meeting, held in the evening for several days, was held in the main hall of the university.

The statement said that the 15 students, who were arrested in the name of the University of Zambia, were being held in the country.

Envoy at party

The British Ambassador, Mr. P. Fraser, was among the guests at a reception given by the Nairobi House of Mr. Harlowe, which had been the headquarters of the Bukavu rebels, in Leopoldville.

BRITAIN AGAINST WEAPONS BAN

BRITAIN yesterday opposed a Soviet-backed Ethiopian arms disarmament convention to an international convention banning the use of arms.

S African girl not to be extradited

A South African girl, who was arrested in the Congo, is not to be extradited to South Africa, according to a statement by the British Embassy in Leopoldville.

KADU PLEDGES 'FIGHT TO BITTER END'

KADU's president, Mr. Ngala, yesterday called upon the Tutsi and embank instead on the constructive development of the country.

He said Kadu was resolutely determined to fight to the bitter end. He said that the Government should be allowed in the Kenya National Youth Service, Lt. Leader, Mr. J. M. Karungi, said in Nairobi yesterday.

U.N. force may leave Cyprus

THE United Nations Secretary-General, U. Thant, said yesterday that the U.N. force might have to be withdrawn from Cyprus if some forces were not forthcoming for its operation.

OFF TO AUSTRALIA

It was the intention of the Government to train them in the use of arms, and to send them to Australia.

Form of autonomy

Mr. Ngala went on to say that the Government was not prepared to consider the form of autonomy.

Two killed in Malaysia fighting

An Indonesian guerrilla fighter and a member of the Indonesian army were killed in fighting in the swampy region of Kalimantan.

Wage boosts for civil servants

REVERSED conditions of service for Kenya's civil servants will mean pay increases all round, including a minimum for staff in Nairobi of £19 a month.

The increases, involving all grades of civil servants, will cost the Government about £2,500,000 a year. The increases come as a result of the Government's decision to accept a 22.5% increase in the cost of living index.

The end of... SOUTHERN RHODESIA'S Minister of Health, Mr. Lawrence, yesterday announced a 22.5% increase in the cost of living index.

He said that the Government was committed to the principle of a minimum for staff in Nairobi of £19 a month.

U.N. force may leave Cyprus

THE United Nations Secretary-General, U. Thant, said yesterday that the U.N. force might have to be withdrawn from Cyprus if some forces were not forthcoming for its operation.

Africa blames its expulsion

THREE ERRORS CLAIMED

South Africa's Postmaster-General, Mr. Antonio Mingo, said in a statement that ineffective action by the chairman of the United Nations Commission on South Africa was the main cause of South Africa's expulsion from the organization. He also pointed to the admission of a new member to the organization as a mistake.

Without mentioning the name of the new member, Mingo said that the chairman of the commission had made three errors which he said the chairman had made.

M.P.'s meet to solve world problems

Irrigation bring to people of Tana River

By A. J. HUGHES

LYING to Galole on the Tana River from Nairobi can be a dull journey. Once the more fertile parts of the plateau have been used, one travels over mile upon mile of dry and almost waterless scrub. The parched soil, with its sparse covering of bush, reflects the harsh glare of the sun.

Suddenly, to the east, like a mirage, there appears a vast area of lush and fertile green broken into neat rectangles. But this is no illusion. This is the Galole irrigation scheme.

For many years projects were considered for using some of the waters which flow through Kenya for useful agricultural purposes instead of letting them run away to the sea.

The idea of diverting the Tana River to this end has always held particular attractions because it flows through some of the driest areas of the country, in the north and east in the coastal hinterland.

Although cultivators have lived along its banks for hundreds of years they are generally found only along the lower reaches behind the coast. Further north and inland their "plac" has been taken by pastoralists who use the river only for watering their cattle.

The riverine peoples have cultivated the banks of the river in the traditional style, their main crops being rice and bananas. The rice has been grown for many years on the natural flood plains during the months when the waters are swollen by rains falling far away to central Kenya.

The first experiments with irrigation in the area were based upon traditional ones. That is to say the crop grows where the water flows and it was cultivated on the flat plain lying to the east of the Tana River.

started on this land which formerly had been unused except for rough grazing.

The crop tried out included maize, beans and cotton. About 500 irrigated acres were sown and it quickly became apparent that the scheme could be made a success. But because of the high initial cost, it was not until the following year, all 800 irrigated acres were planted with cotton, and a successful crop was harvested.

In 1968 the acreage was raised to 1,200 acres. At a similar cost, the Government decided to expand the production of rice on the irrigated section. Since 1968 the area devoted to cotton has remained stable at about 1,200 acres.

To reach the scheme, the water is pumped from the Tana some miles inland on the coast. It is then gravity fed through a series of canals and laid into the fields by a number of branches.

The irrigated land remains in official ownership and is let annually to private individuals in plots of from one to six acres. The water is pumped from the Tana some miles inland on the coast. It is then gravity fed through a series of canals and laid into the fields by a number of branches.

rate of 200-250 acres. This covers not only water but also the preparation of the land, fertilization and administration. There is no rental and the land itself is a cost-free asset. Each plot-holder receives a lease which is renewable when he is ready to plant. The Government leases land on the basis of the work done. The cost of this is paid to the farmer and used for planting. It is the responsibility of the farmer to provide the money in payment.

The scheme had to be set up on the basis of the 1967-68 year. It was a complete success. The cost of the scheme was about 100 million shillings. The Government has provided the land and the water. The farmer provides the labor and the money. The result has been a great increase in the area under irrigation. The area under irrigation is now about 2,000 acres. This is a great success. The Government has provided the land and the water. The farmer provides the labor and the money. The result has been a great increase in the area under irrigation.

The result has been a great increase in the area under irrigation.

The field staff of agricultural instruction, under an Indian Agricultural Officer, Mr. J. Sasali, are all local and most of the 7000 people who are employed in the scheme are local. The scheme is a success. The Government has provided the land and the water. The farmer provides the labor and the money. The result has been a great increase in the area under irrigation. The area under irrigation is now about 2,000 acres. This is a great success. The Government has provided the land and the water. The farmer provides the labor and the money. The result has been a great increase in the area under irrigation.

The officers of the Ministry of Agriculture, including Mr. D. Stebb, who are all local, are all in the field. They have better access to the local people and their special knowledge of the local conditions. The scheme is a success. The Government has provided the land and the water. The farmer provides the labor and the money. The result has been a great increase in the area under irrigation. The area under irrigation is now about 2,000 acres. This is a great success. SALLY FINDS OUT HOW A GARDEN GROWS

By SUEAN CARROLL
"DADDY," said Sally one day. "Do you think I could have a garden of my own please?"

"Do you really want one," and Daddy "for a bit just now just then?"

"The Daddy," really meant it, intensely I do. "I'll help you to make a garden. But you must know to look after it. I'll help you to make a garden. But you must know to look after it."

"I'll plant it," said Daddy. "I really will take very good care of it." Daddy was very proud of his garden. He had been thinking of it for some time. He had been thinking of it for some time. He had been thinking of it for some time.

Chamber of Commerce to simplify tax legislation

MEMORANDUMS for the simplification of income tax legislation in the East African are contained in a memorandum presented to the Chamber of Commerce standing committee on finance. The memorandum will be studied by a governing council at its meeting on Monday.

HIGH-LEVEL TRAINING FOR TOP E.A. STAFF

The committee states that existing legislation was not suited to a developing country and the need for simplification was urgent. The legislation was not sufficiently Africanized to meet political pressures and unavoidable economic requirements.

Most causes of complications must be removed. These were a too strictly graduated scale of income tax applied to individuals, together with the fact that at intermediate and higher income levels the individual was subjected to a rate of tax that was materially higher than that applied to corporate bodies. Any attempt to simplify which did not recognize this must fail to achieve its object, the memorandum states.

PERSONAL ALLOWANCE SCRAPPED

Existing systems of personal allowances should be abandoned altogether, so that the measure of an individual's liability to income tax was arrived at simply by deducting the amount of his income, without regard to married status or the number of dependants. This indicated the need for an integration of graduated personal tax and income tax.

The committee considers that taxes on income should be composed of three separate elements. The first was charged on the incomes of all individuals derived in East Africa from a place of residence outside the country and should be administered as far as possible on a local or territorial basis.

The second should be a corporation tax charged on the net income of a company or other body, or on the net income of an individual, with a substantial income tax and super-tax on incomes earned by an individual. This tax should be administered at the maximum combined income tax and super-tax rate which would be payable on the company or standard rate. This tax should be administered by the corporation tax.

Government encouragement

The Kenya Government is to spend £20,000 in the coming year on the development of sports. This was announced by the Minister for Labour and Social Services, Mr. E. S. Mwangi, when he visited the British Council in London on Wednesday.

"There lies the opportunity to do a district of sports," the Minister told Mwangi. He added: "To build a nation needs so many things and one of them is sports. The school leavers without sports are not complete."
