Your knowledge of local conditions!

Buying a commercial vehicle is a matter of local conditions. Knowledge of local roads, traffic, and conditions will lead you to the vehicle through its construction and simplicity of control, as well as maximum reliability and minimum running cost - precisely those qualities for which the Albion is pre-eminent.

Leave experiment for those who do not mind losing money and buy the make that has proved its ability - approved its economy in every British colony throughout tropical Africa.

Write to-day for full particulars of Albion models specially recommended for East Africa.

NAIROBI AND TANGA RAIL RATES.
Special Rates Quoted in Tanganyika.
To be Discussed with General Manager.

The East African Standard has been informed that the Tanganyika Railway Company is in the process of discussing special rates for the transport of goods from Nairobi to Tanganyika. It is understood that the rates will be fixed on a basis of 100 per cent of the cost of the goods, plus a charge of 10 per cent for the transport of the goods from Nairobi to the coast. This is a very liberal offer, and it is expected that it will result in a large increase in the volume of trade between Nairobi and Tanganyika.

CONTROL AND CONSERVATION OF COLONY'S WATER SUPPLY.
Regulations and Definitions in Proposed Ordinances.
DUTIES OF A BOARD.
Rights of Public Bodies and Private Owners Set Out.

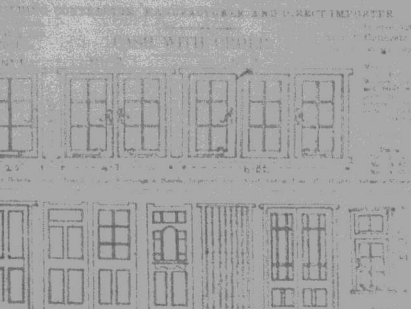

The Water Ordinance, 1929, which was passed by the Legislative Council in 1929, has been amended by the proposed Water (Amendment) Ordinance, 1930. The new ordinance is designed to give the Government more control over the water supply of the Colony, and to provide for the conservation of water. It also sets out the duties of a board of water supply, and the rights of public bodies and private owners.

ON SAFARI

It is a well-known fact that the lion is the most dangerous animal in the bush. It is also the most beautiful. The lion is a symbol of strength and courage. It is a creature that has captured the imagination of man since the beginning of time.

LADIE'S FASHIONS

A letter from Paris

PARIS, JULY 29, 1933

DEAR MRS. BROWN

I have just received your letter of the 25th and am glad to hear that you are all well. The weather here is very hot at present, and the fashion is all in white and light colors. I have just seen a very beautiful dress in a shop window, and I thought I would mention it to you. It is a simple, elegant dress, and I think you would like it. I will send you a sketch of it when I have time.

I am sure you will like the dress. I will send you a sketch of it when I have time. I am sure you will like the dress. I will send you a sketch of it when I have time. I am sure you will like the dress. I will send you a sketch of it when I have time.

POULTRY NOTES

Treatment of "Gapes" in Young Chicks

"Gapes" is a common disease of young chicks. It is caused by a parasite that enters the respiratory tract. The symptoms are coughing, sneezing, and difficulty in breathing. The treatment is to give the chicks a course of antibiotics.

There is a new method of treating "gapes" in young chicks. It involves the use of a special disinfectant that kills the parasite. This method is very effective and easy to use.

Additional Factors of Rain.

The following are the factors which are considered to be the most important in the production of rain: (1) The presence of water vapour in the atmosphere; (2) The presence of dust particles or other nuclei upon which the water vapour can condense; (3) The presence of air currents which will bring the water vapour and dust particles together; (4) The presence of a cooling mechanism which will cause the water vapour to condense.

Weather and the State of the Roads.

The weather and the state of the roads are closely connected. A heavy rain will make the roads very slippery and dangerous to travel on. On the other hand, a dry spell will make the roads very dusty and uncomfortable to travel on.

PASSPORT TESTS

...Tests

The following are the tests which are made on passports: (1) The test for the presence of water; (2) The test for the presence of oil; (3) The test for the presence of ink; (4) The test for the presence of other substances which might be used to tamper with the passport.

THE FUTURE OF WEST AFRICA
MINISTERIAL PARLIAMENT
IN NIGERIA

The Ministerial Parliament in Nigeria is a significant development in the country's political life. It is a body of ministers responsible to the House of Representatives. The members of the parliament are drawn from various political parties and are elected by the people. The parliament is responsible for the formulation and implementation of government policies. It also has the power to pass laws and to oversee the activities of the executive branch of government. The Ministerial Parliament is a key institution in the development of a democratic system in Nigeria.

ECHO OF ATLANTIC FLIGHT TRAGEDY

The tragic crash of a transatlantic flight has cast a shadow over the aviation industry. The incident, which occurred over the Atlantic Ocean, resulted in the loss of several lives. The cause of the crash is still under investigation, but it is believed to have been due to a combination of factors, including human error and technical difficulties. The tragedy has led to a re-evaluation of safety protocols and procedures for long-haul flights. It is a stark reminder of the risks involved in air travel and the need for constant vigilance in the industry.

Lost Days

The concept of 'lost days' is a poignant one, especially in the context of war and conflict. It refers to the time and lives that are sacrificed in the pursuit of a goal or a cause. In the current global situation, the loss of innocent lives and the destruction of communities are a stark reality. The 'lost days' are not just the days of the fallen, but also the days of the living who are left behind, struggling to rebuild their lives and find meaning in a world that has been forever changed. It is a call to action for the world to come together and find ways to prevent such tragedies from recurring.

FUTURE OF OUTLAWRY OF WAR PACT

The future of the outlawry of war pact is a topic of great importance in international relations. The pact, which was signed after World War I, was intended to prevent future wars by outlawing aggressive war. However, the pact has been largely ineffective, as evidenced by the outbreak of World War II. The current international community is faced with the challenge of how to enforce the pact and prevent future wars. Some argue that the pact should be strengthened and made more enforceable, while others believe that it is outdated and should be replaced by a new system of international law. The future of the pact will depend on the actions of the international community.

BRITISH AMBASSY BY WIRELESS

The British Embassy in Washington has been established by wireless communication. This is a significant development in the field of international communication. It allows for direct communication between the British Embassy and the British government in London. This is particularly important in times of crisis, when it is essential to have a direct line of communication. The establishment of the embassy by wireless is a testament to the power of modern technology in international relations.

WALK WELSHES IN THE CAPITAL

A group of Welsh nationalists has taken to the streets of the capital in a protest against the government's policies. The protesters, who are known as the 'Welsh Walkers', are demanding that the government take steps to protect the interests of the Welsh people. They are particularly concerned about the loss of Welsh language and culture. The government has responded by saying that it is committed to the protection of the Welsh language and culture, but that it must also take into account the needs of the rest of the country. The situation remains tense, and it is unclear when the protests will end.

FRANCO'S BARRING FROM ITALY

General Franco has been barred from Italy, a move that has caused a significant diplomatic rift between the two countries. The Italian government has announced that General Franco is no longer welcome in Italy. This is a serious statement, as Franco is one of the most powerful figures in the world. The Italian government has said that Franco's actions in Spain have caused a great deal of suffering and that Italy cannot support his policies. Franco has responded by saying that he is a private citizen and that he is not responsible for the actions of the Spanish government. The situation is highly volatile, and it is unclear what will happen next.

WELSHES BY WIRELESS

The Welsh people are now able to communicate with their government in London by wireless. This is a significant development for the Welsh people, as it allows them to have a direct voice in the government. The Welsh government has announced that it will be using wireless communication to reach the Welsh people. This is particularly important in times of crisis, when it is essential to have a direct line of communication. The Welsh people are very proud of their language and culture, and they want to see their government take steps to protect them. The Welsh government is committed to this, and it is pleased to have a direct line of communication with the Welsh people.

REPRESENTATIONS BY SEYMOUR FRANK AND CLEMENS

Representations have been made by Seymour Frank and Clemens regarding the current situation in the world. Seymour Frank has said that the world is in a state of crisis, and that it is essential for the world to come together and find ways to prevent further conflict. Clemens has said that the world is in a state of chaos, and that it is essential for the world to find a way to restore order. Both men are calling for a new system of international law that will be based on justice and fairness. They believe that this is the only way to prevent further conflict and to ensure a peaceful future for the world.

ITALY'S CROWN RETURN TO ITALY

The Italian crown has returned to Italy, a move that has caused a significant diplomatic rift between Italy and the United Kingdom. The Italian government has announced that the crown is no longer welcome in Italy. This is a serious statement, as the crown is one of the most powerful symbols of the British monarchy. The Italian government has said that the crown's actions in Italy have caused a great deal of suffering and that Italy cannot support its policies. The crown has responded by saying that it is a private citizen and that it is not responsible for the actions of the British government. The situation is highly volatile, and it is unclear what will happen next.

24 per cent reduction in wages

A 24 per cent reduction in wages has been announced for workers in the coal industry. This is a significant move, as it will have a major impact on the lives of the workers and their families. The coal industry is a major employer in the United Kingdom, and the reduction in wages will lead to a loss of income for many workers. The industry has said that the reduction is necessary due to the current economic situation. However, the workers and their unions are opposed to the move, as they believe that the industry is not doing enough to protect the interests of the workers. The situation is highly volatile, and it is unclear what will happen next.

Poland and Lithuania

The situation in Poland and Lithuania is a cause for concern. Both countries are facing significant challenges, including economic difficulties and political instability. In Poland, the government has announced a series of reforms that have led to a loss of confidence among the people. In Lithuania, the government has announced a series of reforms that have led to a loss of confidence among the people. Both countries are in need of a new government that will be able to address the challenges they are facing. The international community is watching closely, and it is unclear what will happen next.

THE FINANCE BILL

The Finance Bill has been introduced in the House of Commons. The bill is a significant piece of legislation, as it will have a major impact on the economy. The bill includes a number of provisions that are designed to increase revenue and to reduce the deficit. The government has said that the bill is necessary to ensure the long-term stability of the economy. However, there are concerns that the bill will lead to a loss of jobs and a decrease in living standards. The situation is highly volatile, and it is unclear what will happen next.

DISCUSS DEBATE ON KENYA LANDS TRUST BILL

Local authorities that impede Machinery
SIR JOHN HESTER'S VIEWS

African Representation on the Central Board

THE DEBATE on the Kenya Lands Trust Bill, which is now being discussed in the Legislative Council, has attracted much attention. The bill is a measure of great importance, and its passage will have a profound effect on the future of the Colony. It is a measure which will give the African population a voice in the management of the land, and will also give them a share in the proceeds of the land. This is a step which has long been desired by the African people, and it is a step which will do much to advance their interests. UNIONATED CHAMBERS DISCUSS THE LONDON OFFER

The London offer for the purchase of the Suez Canal has been discussed by the Unionated Chambers of Commerce in a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening last.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. J. H. ... and was attended by a large number of members of the Chamber.

The subject of the meeting was the offer made by the British Government for the purchase of the Suez Canal from the Egyptian Government.

The offer was discussed in detail and it was found that the offer was not acceptable to the Unionated Chambers.

The reasons for this were given as follows:—

1. The offer was not a cash offer.

2. The offer was not a permanent offer.

3. The offer was not a fair offer.

4. The offer was not a just offer.

5. The offer was not a reasonable offer.

6. The offer was not a desirable offer.

7. The offer was not a beneficial offer.

8. The offer was not a profitable offer.

9. The offer was not a safe offer.

10. The offer was not a sound offer.

11. The offer was not a wise offer.

12. The offer was not a prudent offer.

13. The offer was not a judicious offer.

14. The offer was not a sagacious offer.

15. The offer was not a discerning offer.

16. The offer was not a penetrating offer.

17. The offer was not a profound offer.

18. The offer was not a subtle offer.

19. The offer was not a refined offer.

20. The offer was not a polished offer.

21. The offer was not a finished offer.

22. The offer was not a perfected offer.

23. The offer was not a consummated offer.

24. The offer was not a consummated offer.

25. The offer was not a consummated offer.

AFRICAN PRESS TELEGRAPH

Amputation Demanded
London, September 24.

A patient of the Victoria Hospital, London, who had been suffering from a severe case of rheumatism, has been advised to have his right leg amputated.

The patient, who is a well-known sportsman, has been in the hospital for several weeks, but his condition has not improved.

His leg is so swollen and painful that it is impossible for him to walk, and his doctors have decided that the only chance of his recovery is to have the leg removed.

The amputation is to be performed by Mr. J. H. Bland, F.R.C.S., who is the surgeon in charge of the hospital.

The patient is expected to make a full recovery after the operation.

CONGO BASIN TREATIES
IMPERIAL PREFERENCE
Request for Government Colony

The British Government has received a request from the Congo Basin States for the application of Imperial Preference to their products.

The request is based on the fact that the Congo Basin States are under British protection, and their products are therefore entitled to the same treatment as those of the United Kingdom.

The British Government has agreed to the request, and has issued orders for the application of Imperial Preference to the products of the Congo Basin States.

The products which are to be entitled to Imperial Preference are: coffee, cotton, diamonds, ivory, minerals, rubber, sisal, and other products.

The Imperial Preference will be applied to these products from the 1st of January, 1925.

Imperial Preference
Mr. J. D. Sanghvi, Member of the Legislative Council, has presented a Bill for the extension of Imperial Preference to the products of the British Colonies.

The Bill is based on the fact that the British Colonies are under British protection, and their products are therefore entitled to the same treatment as those of the United Kingdom.

The Bill provides that the Imperial Preference will be applied to the products of the British Colonies from the 1st of January, 1925.

The products which are to be entitled to Imperial Preference are: coffee, cotton, diamonds, ivory, minerals, rubber, sisal, and other products.

Where the safety of human life depends upon unflinching light Kohler automatic electric lighting plants are used.

The U.S. Government have chosen Kohlers to light air mail beacon towers at night that guide the night fliers safely over their routes.

Kohlers are used in lighthouses, lighthouses, in mines, war and navy depots, in industrial operating rooms. If there are tasks where men but the most dependable lighting is required, Kohlers without light fliers would be in peril.

In Kenya too, where absolute dependability is essential and efficiency and economy necessary, Kohlers are being selected, replacing the old storage battery type of lighting outfit.

The highest electrical and engineering authorities in Kenya are now recommending Kohlers where independent or auxiliary electric lighting plants are required.

LONDON DEBATE ON KENYA NATIVE LANDS TRUST BILL

THE DEBATE ON THE KENYA NATIVE LANDS TRUST BILL, introduced in the House of Commons on March 27, has been a landmark event in the history of the African continent. It has raised the issue of the future of the native lands of Kenya, which have been the subject of a long and complex process of negotiation and compromise.

The bill, which was introduced by the Government, provides for the establishment of a trust to hold the native lands of Kenya on behalf of the native population. The trust is to be managed by a board of trustees, which will be responsible for the development and management of the lands. The bill also provides for the transfer of the native lands to the trust, and for the payment of compensation to the native population for the loss of their lands.

The bill has been widely criticized by the native population, who see it as a betrayal of their interests. They argue that the bill will result in the loss of their lands to the white population, and that it will be a step towards the complete dispossession of the native population. They also argue that the bill is a violation of the principles of justice and fairness, and that it is a gross injustice to the native population.

The Government, on the other hand, has defended the bill as a necessary step towards the achievement of independence for Kenya. It has argued that the bill is a fair and reasonable compromise, and that it is the only way to ensure the stability and peace of the country.

The debate on the bill has been a long and heated one, and it has raised many important issues. It has also shown the deep divisions within the native population, and the need for a more inclusive and participatory process in the development of the country. The bill is a complex and controversial one, and it will be a long time before it is finally resolved.

RECOVERY BY LOSS LONDON, KENYA

It is a common experience that a person who has lost a limb or a part of his body, after a period of time, recovers the use of the remaining part. This is especially true in the case of the hand. The hand is a very important part of the body, and its loss is a great misfortune. However, it is not always true that the hand is lost forever. In many cases, the hand can be recovered, and the person can resume his normal life.

The recovery of the hand is a process that takes time and patience. It is not always easy to see the progress, but with the right treatment and care, the hand can be recovered. The recovery is often a gradual process, and it is important to be patient and to follow the instructions of the doctor.

There are many reasons why a person might lose a hand. It could be the result of an accident, a disease, or a surgical procedure. In some cases, the hand is lost as a result of a long-term condition, such as rheumatoid arthritis. In other cases, the hand is lost as a result of a traumatic injury, such as a fall or a car accident.

Regardless of the cause, the loss of a hand is a devastating event. It can affect a person's ability to work, to care for himself, and to live a normal life. However, there is hope. There are many people who have recovered their hands, and they have gone on to live full and productive lives.

The recovery of the hand is a process that is often overlooked. It is not always the first thing that people think of when they lose a hand. However, it is a process that is worth pursuing. It is a process that can make a difference in a person's life.

Wife and Parents

The wife and parents of a man who has lost a hand, should be aware of the fact that the man is not alone. He has a family, and they are all affected by his loss. It is important for the wife and parents to understand the man's needs and to provide him with the support and care that he needs.

The wife should be especially understanding and patient. She should be aware of the fact that the man's loss is a great burden for her. She should be willing to do whatever it takes to help him, and she should be patient with him as he recovers. The parents should also be understanding and patient. They should be aware of the fact that the man's loss is a great burden for them, and they should be willing to do whatever it takes to help him.

The wife and parents should also be aware of the fact that the man's loss is a great burden for him. He is not alone, and he is not helpless. He is a man, and he is capable of doing things. He is a man who is trying to recover, and he is trying to live a normal life. He is a man who is trying to be a good father and a good husband.

The wife and parents should be aware of the fact that the man's loss is a great burden for him. He is not alone, and he is not helpless. He is a man, and he is capable of doing things. He is a man who is trying to recover, and he is trying to live a normal life. He is a man who is trying to be a good father and a good husband.

The Turkish Debt

At the time of my arrival in Kenya the reports of the liquidation of the Turkish Debt were viewed with considerable apprehension, and the question at hand was whether this was really a permanent financial handicap. The three reasons I put forward to show that the Turkish Debt was not a permanent financial handicap were: first, the fact that the Turkish Debt was not a permanent financial handicap; second, the fact that the Turkish Debt was not a permanent financial handicap; and third, the fact that the Turkish Debt was not a permanent financial handicap.

Kenya's Local Campaign

I have no hesitation in saying that the Government through the Department of Agriculture has expended a considerable amount of assistance to the community in general, and in the persons and companies who are engaged in the production of goods for the local market. This assistance has been carried out in a most efficient manner, and it is to be hoped that it will continue to be carried out in the future.

Legislation

The Government has introduced a Bill to amend the law relating to the registration of companies. The Bill provides for the registration of companies in Kenya, and it also provides for the regulation of the affairs of companies. The Bill is a very important one, and it is hoped that it will be passed by the Government.

The Bill also provides for the regulation of the affairs of companies. It provides for the appointment of auditors, and it also provides for the regulation of the affairs of companies. The Bill is a very important one, and it is hoped that it will be passed by the Government.
