Little Paris in East Africa

Nairobi's 'Woolly' Motorists, Crazy Pedestrians and Well Behaved

"Could you move over a little bit to the left, please?" said the crier. That's right, Sir, that was really nice. Thank you very much."

"I'm in a hurry," said the driver, "I must be allowed to pass."

"I'm sorry, but you can't pass," said the crier. "The car has been blocked in."

"I'm sorry, but you can't pass," said the crier. "The car has been blocked in."

There is a much obliged if you could move if it is your earliest convenience. Thanking you, etc."

One of the reasons why Nairobi is called "Little Paris" is because of the "woolly" motorists, the crazy pedestrians and the well behaved drivers. The motorists are "woolly" because they do not seem to be able to start or stop at a sign. The pedestrians are "crazy" because they do not seem to be able to start or stop at a sign. Make Baby HAPPY

...Let MENTHOLATUM end Chafing and Soreness

When baby cries it is often because tender young skin is chafed and fretting. Baby feels pain and is unhappy. To make baby "all smiles" use "Mentholum". After washing or changing baby's clothes rub a little of the soothing healing balm gently into baby's skin around the neck and where the skin is red and sore. You will soon see baby happy again, cooing contentedly instead of crying and fretting. "Mentholum" is just as good for you too. Mother, for all skin troubles. It soothes and heals sore nipples in young and old alike. No home should be without a jar or tin of "Mentholum" but make sure you get genuine "Mentholum".

Mainly About Geese

"It is all well," they say, "what I really want to see is a good goose." This has naturally caused the geese to be the most common of all waterfowl. It is in the opinion of the most experienced and successful geese raisers that the best geese to raise are those that are easy to handle, that are hardy, that are good eaters, and that are good mothers. The geese that are best for the purpose of raising a variety of rare and interesting breeds are those that are easy to handle, that are hardy, that are good eaters, and that are good mothers.

Budget Expresses Confidence TAX RELIEFS PROVIDE SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY

Chancellor still concerned with perils of inflation E.P.T. TO END THIS YEAR; NEW PROFITS TAX MAY BE IMPOSED

WHEN introducing the Budget in the House of Commons the Chancellor of the Exchequer said Britain would not be far from balanced budget this year and this, he said, was his most remarkable achievement.

One of the most serious problems was the deficit in the overseas account of payments estimated this year at £700,000,000. Canadian credits would be a help in bridging the gap and the Budget expressed the expectation that the U.S. Congress would approve the American loan to Britain.

Cheaper For The Ordinary Man

Although Mr. Dalton's Budget did not contain any new tax measures, it was still a relief to the ordinary man. The Chancellor announced that the cost of living would be reduced by 3 per cent in the year ending in 1948.

Mr. Dalton announced that the cost of living would be reduced by 3 per cent in the year ending in 1948. He also announced that the cost of living would be reduced by 3 per cent in the year ending in 1948.

When the long rains failed to come this year, it was a surprise to many people in East Africa. The rains were late in coming, and when they came, they were not so heavy as in previous years. The result was a drought in many parts of the country. The Government has been asked to investigate the cause of this drought. An expert has been appointed to examine the past experience and to report on the conditions which have led to the failure of the rains. It is believed that the drought was caused by a combination of factors, including a lack of rain in the preceding year and a change in the wind direction. The expert will examine the rainfall records and the conditions of the soil and the crops. It is hoped that his report will help to prevent such a drought in the future.

Rowdiness in a bus was reported yesterday. A group of Askaris were seen to be causing trouble on a bus. The bus was carrying a number of passengers, and the Askaris were seen to be pushing and shoving. The driver of the bus was forced to stop, and the Askaris were taken to the police station. The police are now investigating the matter. It is believed that the Askaris were drunk at the time of the incident. The police are warning that such behavior is illegal and will be punished. It is hoped that the Askaris will learn their lesson and will not repeat the incident.

Lammers was "grilled" by the British prosecutor during his trial. The prosecutor asked Lammers a number of questions, and Lammers gave answers which were not always satisfactory. The prosecutor was particularly interested in Lammers' defense of his actions. Lammers claimed that he was acting in self-defense, but the prosecutor did not believe him. The prosecutor pointed out that Lammers had fired first, and that he had killed several people. Lammers was unable to deny this, and the prosecutor concluded that Lammers was guilty. Lammers was sentenced to a long term of imprisonment. He is now in the prison, and is being kept in solitary confinement. It is believed that Lammers will appeal his conviction.

The expert has reported that the drought was caused by a combination of factors. He found that there was a significant deficit in rainfall during the period of the drought. He also found that the soil was dry and that the crops were withered. The expert concluded that the drought was caused by a combination of factors, including a lack of rain in the preceding year and a change in the wind direction. He recommended that the Government should take steps to prevent such a drought in the future. These steps should include the construction of dams and the planting of trees. The expert also recommended that the Government should provide relief to the people who are suffering from the drought. This relief should include the distribution of food and the provision of medical aid. It is hoped that the Government will take these steps and that the people will be able to overcome the drought.

The Askaris were taken to the police station and were kept in custody. The police are now investigating the matter. It is believed that the Askaris were drunk at the time of the incident. The police are warning that such behavior is illegal and will be punished. It is hoped that the Askaris will learn their lesson and will not repeat the incident.

The expert also recommended that the Government should provide relief to the people who are suffering from the drought. This relief should include the distribution of food and the provision of medical aid. It is hoped that the Government will take these steps and that the people will be able to overcome the drought.

The Askaris were taken to the police station and were kept in custody. The police are now investigating the matter. It is believed that the Askaris were drunk at the time of the incident. The police are warning that such behavior is illegal and will be punished. It is hoped that the Askaris will learn their lesson and will not repeat the incident.

Lammers was sentenced to a long term of imprisonment. He is now in the prison, and is being kept in solitary confinement. It is believed that Lammers will appeal his conviction.

The expert has reported that the drought was caused by a combination of factors. He found that there was a significant deficit in rainfall during the period of the drought. He also found that the soil was dry and that the crops were withered. The expert concluded that the drought was caused by a combination of factors, including a lack of rain in the preceding year and a change in the wind direction. He recommended that the Government should take steps to prevent such a drought in the future. These steps should include the construction of dams and the planting of trees. The expert also recommended that the Government should provide relief to the people who are suffering from the drought. This relief should include the distribution of food and the provision of medical aid. It is hoped that the Government will take these steps and that the people will be able to overcome the drought.
