"—Something Blue"

THE ancient doggerel instructing the bride on what she should wear, if she would enjoy a long and happy marriage is too well known to be quoted. But the superstitious bride who has chosen the traditionally "unlucky" month of May for the big event in her life, should be specially careful to add "something blue" to her wedding outfit. This particular marriage superstition arises from the ancient "kemetite" belief that blue was the colour of fidelity.

Ready for anything!
Except perhaps a headache! But that sparkling eye, those rosy, chubby cheeks speak of abounding health and vitality, and a resistance to chills and changes not dependent on his clothing. Yes, he is a COW & GATE baby—he looks it, doesn't he? Strong, sturdy limbs, sound bones, and a sunny disposition—these are some of the gifts bestowed by this famous food. Something a little better, something a little different, have made COW & GATE preparations. That's why Mothers say: "There is nothing quite like it—nothing to good when natural feeding fails."

"No HEADACHES NOW" says Mrs. Dunn

Mrs. Dunn isn't one of those lucky people who "never had a headache". She had them for years. The point is that she found a way to get rid of them. She writes—

"I would like everyone who suffers from headaches to know that I have been taking a regular dose of Headache Tablets for several years now. I have had a headache for which I was very difficult to get rid of. I was taking a small dose of Headache Tablets before my headache came on, and I found that it was gone before it had a chance to start. I have been taking a regular dose of Headache Tablets ever since, and I have never had a headache since."

How do you deal with headaches? Do you just take something to deaden the pain, without getting rid of the trouble which causes it? Thousands die, despite the recent profession's warning of, "Don't!"

Each Headache Tablet quickly dissolves straight into the bloodstream, and so relieves the symptoms of head-

Lighting of Passenger Trains.

Numerous complaints are now reaching the Railway Administration of the inadequate lighting provided in passenger coaches and the Administration wishes to explain that this is solely due to its inability to procure supplies of new bulbs from the United Kingdom. It may not be generally known that the ordinary electric light bulb is not suitable for use in railway coaches; both the voltage and fittings are different. The Railway Administration requires some 7,000 bulbs annually to maintain the lighting system of its coaches and no supplies have been received since October, 1944. Large orders were placed in England more than a year ago which have not yet been fulfilled, doubtless because (amongst other reasons) of the heavy demands from the British Railway factories of the heavy demands from the British Railway factories which are replacing bulbs removed during the "black-out" years. Serious efforts are being made to obtain a limited supply of bulbs by air, but it is regretted that the supply position improves the lighting position on passenger trains must continue to deteriorate. Wastage occurs not only through normal wear and tear but also to a great extent from theft and wanton damage and passengers are asked to co-operate with the Railway Administration in preventing unnecessary losses.
