IMPORTANT CAPTURE OF KALSARI

Italians Bomb Their Own Wounded

It was officially announced in Athens that afternoon that the Greek forces captured Albanian town of Kalsari (which the Greeks call Kalsari) in the valley of the river Drinos, in the first of a series of operations by the Greeks extending over the last three or four weeks.

The town is in mountainous country 28 1/2 miles from the coast, and is one of the most important towns in the area. It has been carried out with the aid of airdrops of supplies from the peaks around it. It has a population of 1,000 and is one of the most important towns in the area which has marked all the plans of the Greek High Command.

Way to Valona

With the fall of Kalsari a new way to Valona, which lies some 40 miles north-west along the valley of the Drino.

The Greek front line now runs from the coast near Kalsari to the north of Kalsari, and then on to the north of the town of Kalsari.

For some time now the weather has been so good that the winter has been regarded as the best time for the winter.

In the latest operations the capture of Kalsari has been regarded as one of the most important.

Chief Scout's Last Three Messages

SPEAK TO THE WORLD—AND SCOUTS AND GUIDES— OF HAPPINESS

THE FIRST AFRICAN SCOUTS LEADER HAS BEEN SPOKEN AT A BANQUET IN HONOUR OF LORD HILTON.

Speaking at a banquet in honour of Lord Hilton, Mr. Churchill said that the future of the whole world depended upon relations between the British Empire and the United States. The identity of our purpose and our principles of resolve prevailing throughout the English-speaking world would more than any other single factor determine the destiny of life for generations, perhaps centuries.

Lord Hilton said that with the legend of Asa inevitably brightens the future with sober confidence and could not doubt that the achievement of our purpose was within the power of the English-speaking world.

The Prime Minister declared that Lord Hilton will continue to attend to the duties of his office as Chief Scout of the British Empire and will continue to be active in the work of the Scout Association.

"Be prepared" is the happy motto of the Scout Association. It is the motto of the Scout Association. It is the motto of the Scout Association.

Blockout Offence
In Nairobi Resident Magistrate's Court on Thursday, Mr. C. E. Morgan gave judgment in a case in which the Nairobi City Council was charged with permitting the City of Nairobi to show from fifteen of the Club windows so that the light was visible from many directions.
The Club was found guilty and a fine of £500 was inflicted.
In the course of his judgment the Resident Magistrate pointed out that evidence showed that light from fifteen of the Club windows was visible from many directions. He noted also that that the Club had not stated that it was under a permit from the Council in this connection. The Resident Magistrate said a window which is expected to show the beach remained open on the fact that the type of curtain used in the window was made to be blown away from the window by a strong breeze.
It was estimated that apart from the suitability or otherwise of the type of curtain used—having regard to the wind which might be expected at the time of year, and also the layout of the Club buildings—that adequate blackout provisions were taken. Even if the light visible was solely due to the unavailability of the curtains in use, in windy weather, the offence was still there.
The Bench did not consider that a particularly bad case and hearing in mind the circumstances, the Resident Magistrate gave the Club one month to rectify that state of affairs, but he made it clear that should the Club fail to do so, the Bench would be bound to increase the fine. He imposed the "recoining" small fine of the £500.

"A Real Bad Lot"
Remembering that the accused appears to be a real bad lot" the Resident Magistrate, Nairobi, sentenced a native, Cheng wa Kimbia, to three months hard labour for leaving the house and returning to Nairobi after being repatriated, without the licence of a Protector or a District Commissioner.
This previous conviction was proved against accused. He had received 12 strokes with a light cane for entering a dwelling with one intent to commit a felony, one month in a reformatory for stealing a cow, one month in a reformatory for four years in an approved school for theft of iron bars. This offence was committed under an alias. Then the accused had been charged with violence and repatriated in July last year. When arrested on the charge for which he was before the Court around had no fixed abode.

BELGIAN CONGO'S COLLABORATION Government House Dinner Speeches

His Excellency the Governor of the Belgian Congo, M. de Witte, gave a dinner at Government House, Leopoldia, on Monday in honour of the Belgian Minister of the Colonies, head of the Belgian Congo, and members of his party.

In proposing the toast of Belgium, the Governor of the Belgian Congo, and the speedy restoration of the King of the Belgians to his Government and country. His Excellency said: "We are fortunate in having with us tonight not only the highest civil and military authorities in the Belgian Congo in the persons of the Governor-General and the Vice-Governor-General, but also the Belgian Minister for the Colonies, Monsieur de Visschers. It is, I believe, your first visit to the Belgian Congo, and I should like to extend to you my very warmest welcome to the people of the Belgian Congo. In this case I have it may add without fear of contradiction, on behalf of the people of the Belgian Congo generally—most sincere and cordial welcome. Despite the distance which separates us, but with the objective to so rapidly annihilating, we are fully alive to the great development which has taken place in the Belgian Congo in the last twenty years and for my part have the happiest recollections of the visit of the Secretary General, Monsieur Charles, when we met here some ten years ago.

Problems Being Solved "It was, therefore, with profound emotion that we learnt that Belgium had been free again overture to the ruthless Nazi horde, and we approached with sympathetic understanding the very special and difficult problems which the Belgian Congo would be confronted as a result. We are, therefore, particularly glad to know that, Sir, in your initiative and boldness, you have effected the return of the Belgian Congo to its normal state of independence and satisfaction.

This Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom for its part has given practical proof of its desire to collaborate in the work of the Congo, which is a projection of the economic and military relations under Lord Hailey and Colonel Mackenzie. We have practical proof of the spirit which actuates the Belgian Congo in its prosecution of our common aims and I feel it today when I proposed the toast which I have just proposed and which I am now proposing to the Belgian Congo as its first anniversary to the Belgian Congo at Leopoldia.

"I know, because the address which the armed forces of the Belgian Congo are holding forward in taking their appointed part in the operations in Africa. Tonight the full of Belgium with 20,000 personnel in the operations in Africa—Belgian, British, French, Dutch, and South African—will be able to get to grips with the Italian, who there are still doing their best to fight, who feel

FINE MOBILE MEDICAL UNIT Belgian Congo's Contribution To E.A. War Effort

Soldiers wounded in future battles in Kenya may find themselves treated by Belgian medical officers. This was a Belgian Mobile Medical Unit, which is being sent to the East Africa Force by the Government of the Belgian Congo—arrived in Nairobi on Monday.

The unit was sent on arrival by H.E. the Governor, Sir Henry Moseley, General Officer Commanding, East Africa Force, and the Director of Medical Services, Brigadier A. J. O'Connell, and other senior staff officers. The unit was also welcomed by the members of the Belgian Congo and the G.O.C. Troop in the Belgian Congo, which includes the Belgian Minister of the Colonies, the Governor-General of the Belgian Congo and the G.O.C. Troop in the Belgian Congo.

Among the vehicles are two farm "land ractors" which were specially made for the Belgian Congo for the expedition to the Congo by the Belgian Congo and the Belgian Congo. They are the last of their kind at the time of their arrival.

One of them will serve as a mobile hospital and the other as a mobile dispensary. The unit will be sent to the East Africa Force by the Government of the Belgian Congo.

Wendell Wilkie Backs Aid of Britain Bill ISOLATIONISTS TO PRESS FOR AMENDMENTS

January 13.—Wendell Wilkie, Republican member of the House of Representatives, today announced that he would support the bill which would provide for the aid of Britain. He said that he was not in favor of isolationism, but that he was in favor of a policy which would give the United States the right to keep war out of America, democracy in its hands, and the peace of the world.

Mr. Wilkie's statement is believed to be a key to the question of the aid of Britain. He is expected to play a leading role in the passage of the bill.

The Administration is believed to be ready to accept considerable modifications of the bill, but it is expected that the Administration will not accept any amendments which would remove the main provisions.

Reader reports that two of the main points on which amendments will be made are:

(1) It is suggested that Britain should be allowed to purchase the material supplied to her by the United States without the payment of cash for the material.

(2) It is proposed that Congress should limit the President's powers to a certain fixed period.

Another point of criticism on which amendments are being proposed is the provision that British warships should be allowed to use the American naval yards.

Mr. Wendell Wilkie's support of the bill is a significant move. He is a member of the House of Representatives and is a member of the Republican Party. He is a well-known figure in the United States and is a member of the National Association of Manufacturers.

His support of the bill is a significant move because it is a move in the direction of a policy which would give the United States the right to keep war out of America, democracy in its hands, and the peace of the world.

Building the Empire Further Greek Successes To Build a British Land

PIERCE ACTION NEAR TEPELINI CONTINUES

THE Greek successes in the Balkans stand for orderly progress and represent a tyrannical exercise of power. It is only in such an atmosphere of orderly progress that the Balkan nations can develop their efforts unobstructedly in the spheres of political, constitutional, economic and social progress.

TEACH HER THE VALUE OF PRESERVING DAINTINESS... with regular LUX washing

Healthy young girls love to romp and play—but even the youngest girl will appreciate the clean fresh daintiness of articles washed regularly in Lux. Wise mothers will see that their daughters never wear undies a second day unless every trace of day-old perspiration has been washed away in Lux. A quick rinse through in the rich froth of Lux makes sure that undies are really sweet and fresh! And Lux is so gentle that garments wear better, look better and last longer when they get this regular Lux care!

Start now to make her wash her undies in Lux after every day's wear! Tell her that only in this way can she be sure of a girl's greatest charm—the attraction of dainty freshness!

UNCERTAINTY AMONG THIKA PLANTERS

A Plea For Less Rigid Blackout

[STANDARD CORRESPONDENT]

The position of rubber planters and others in the Thika district is becoming increasingly uncertain. It is not clear what the Government will do in the event of a crop failure or if it should be selling. But these matters have been approved on the same order.

The liberation of the rubber-black parasite, however, is the foundation of the post-war crop which has been and in parts of the district, has been in the process of being established or is in the process of being established.

The financial uncertainty is particularly in the case of rubber planters, who are the best graders living unimpeded on the ground or on the ground, or the disposal of crops in favourable conditions.

With troops, especially South African troops, in the Thika district, it is a tragedy for Kenya coffee growers that their produce is not taken to the market. The coffee is being stored in the Thika district and is being sold at a price which is not in the interest of the country and we have South African troops throughout the Colony.

Black-out Difficulties

The black-out regulations are being rigidly observed by civilians. But such a plea has been entered the alternative of a more liberal system of lighting by night and day, which is being considered by the Government.

The main trouble from the lighting of the night is the fact that the lights are being used in a way which is not in the interest of the country and we have South African troops throughout the Colony.

RECRUITING

Recruiting from the neighbouring reserve garrisons has been effective. A large number of men have been recruited from the garrisons and are being sent to the front. The Government is doing its best to meet the needs of the army and the navy.

Revival of Racing in Kenya

ENTRIES AND WEIGHTS FOR NAKURU

The Nakuru Race Club is making a great effort to revive racing in Kenya and in addition to the meeting under rules arranged to take place on Saturday, January 13, the following special double dates for racing during the rest of this year have been fixed:

Monday, 13, May 21, June 7, July 16 and 20, October 1 and 11, November 29 and December 7.

The principal event at the meeting to be run on January 13 is the Nakuru War Remembrance Cup and this has produced a most representative field. The only absence at race are Angere By Hand, who broke down badly during the Clarendon Stakes, and Lallax. A great race should result.

The Nakuru Race Club's experiment of racing two days a week during the winter months will be watched with considerable interest by all concerned in racing in Kenya. The experiment of running races on consecutive Saturdays is being tried before racing in Nakuru on Friday is quite out of the question at the moment, it is the only way in which the Nakuru Race Club executive can reimburse two days' racing for owners who have to bring their horses from a distance and have high Railway rates to contend with. It also eases the Railway transport problem, and there seems to be no reason why the scheme should not function satisfactorily.

At the meeting to be held on January 13, there should be good races for the 8 furlong Open Handicap (Stewards Plate) and the 3 mile Handicap Handicap. Genuine entries and probable starters for these events number eight and eleven respectively. In addition some of the best horses at present in training may transport home-ward, will regard this season's year-ling, which have not yet had an opportunity of appearing before the public as the greatest attraction. The Nakuru Race Club decided to resume racing in the short space of a month and with a very small community indeed. It has been £155 has already been handed over to war charities from this fund.

LORD HENSBY'S VIEW
It will probably be of interest to Kenya owners, breeders and transporters to read what Lord Hensby said regarding the future of racing in East Africa. Received from the Standard's London correspondent:

From London station, the article Lord Hensby, speaking at the Hensby's Association at Newport, said that he did not think that it was necessary for racing was generally restricted outside the circle of owners and breeders.

The country had the finest breed of thoroughbred stock in the world. Even show war began, sales, public and private, amounting to hundreds of thousands of pounds, had been made to purchasers in North and South America, South Africa, India, and elsewhere. This export trade had always been of great value to breeders, and we were told the policy of the Government was to encourage the export trade as much as possible.

Arguing for the continuance of horse racing, Lord Hensby said: "If there is no racing there is no sport by which it can be appreciated and which are the best horses or mares and which are the best breeding producing lines. It is all very well for a seller to say that he has a good animal, but no one will buy it unless it is proved to be a good animal, and racing is the only test by which that can be proved."

"Anybody who has raced as long as I have will have known the numerous disappointments they have known the horses owned and that they with the utmost care, and yet in public on a racetrack they have never sold. It is for that reason that I find that so long as we have a good racing to make that we are in hours in France."

Accurately adapted lenses and perfectly fitted frames make you see well and look well. A selection of modern frames at your disposal and you are invited to inspect them.

SUNDAY CHAMPION AS "PUBLIC ENEMY"

[STANDARD CORRESPONDENT] London.
While a battle is being waged, his permission to open betting has been given uniformly on Saturday during the war-time for the benefit of the public who have no other means of relaxation, the Lord's Day Observance Society, their Secretary, Mr. H. H. Martin (known as Public Enemy No. 1) is fighting for what they call a British as against a Continental day.

Film exhibitors are seeking an Order in Council to prohibit the opening of cinemas throughout the country legal within the scope of the Motion Picture and Mr. Martin's organization is fighting this. The permission of the L.D.O.S. incidentally is opposed to the National Sunday League in Red Land, Sussex, which seeks to promote cinema and entertainments on Sunday. Mr. Martin said he chose the title deliberately to challenge the League's work.

One of the most useful members of the community in a Dorset village, says Mr. Martin, is a man who works on the land all day and in his spare time is the sole laborer. He has been doing men's hair for a number of years, but owing to the war he is a laborer himself. He has been doing men's hair for a number of years, but owing to the war he is a laborer himself. THIRD DEGREE IN TOKYO
Correspondent's Mystery Death

After a lapse of several months all that can be ascertained about the tragic death on July 29 of Mr. W. J. Cox, Heriot's correspondent in Tokyo, who in the hands of the Japanese police, has now been collected. The exact truth will never be known outside the grim general news headlines. But there is more than enough to leave one to wonder as to what, in general, must have happened to Cox.
As far back as last May friends of "Jimmy" Cox had noticed that he was becoming nervous and irritable in marked contrast to his normal cheerful friendliness. He said that he felt he was being watched more than usual—by all foreign journalists in Tokyo.
On July 27 Cox was taken by the police for questioning. Several other British residents were arrested at the same time, but in all probability Cox did not know this and thought he was the only prisoner. No charge was made when he was arrested. Later, a vague accusation of espionage was raised, but it was not clear what this was official.
Known Too Much About the News
Cox undoubtedly knew too much about the Nazi activities in Japan, and when the new Government, strongly favoured with practical feelings, came into power, they made haste to get an end to all anti-Nazi propaganda.
Well-known advice of the Japanese police in such cases is to make an arrest, subject the victim to the torments of third degree examination till he confesses blindly to something, and then announce a charge.
Mr. Cox was allowed to take two suitcases to the grandmother for her husband, containing clothes, soap, tobacco, sweets, etc., and also to take money with him. On July 29 Mrs. Cox took her husband's meals and at each meal she had the answer to a note she had sent in with her breakfast. Had she known that the answer to the note was brought out, it was written in a very plain hand.
Back at her hotel, Mrs. Cox received a message calling her to the grandmother because her husband had been arrested. She hurried to the grandmother, hurriedly to the grandmother, hurriedly to the grandmother.
She found her husband lying on a hard bench, his stretched arms, and his whole body swollen, broken legs, broken feet, broken arms, and also his spine broken; his face and hands purple. It was a most unforgettable spectacle. I told them my disgust. Some of them were milking.
"Let Me Go"
Mr. Cox was not yet dead, but Mrs. Cox is sure he never knew her. He kept on shouting "Let me go, take me away, what do you want of me?"
Mrs. Cox hurried to the British Embassy and brought back Mr.

Another foreign correspondent, who was questioned by the Japanese police for five hours for sending a news telegram they did not like, has testified that "at the end of the five hours it was so mentally battered and broken that he could not think of anything but how to get away. When the opportunity was offered me of staying in hospital, I did so, although normally I would not leave home, such a thing can quite imagine anyone who had to endure 10 hours of it. Like Cox, jumping out of the window just to get away to the constant mental torture."
This leaves one with the possible conclusion that Cox had never taken his life when he was not responsible for his actions.
One of the saddest features of the story is that Mr. Cox was killed by one of the best friends that Japan had. The Japanese-American Anglo-American-Japanese group formed the suggestion of the Japanese, to discuss frankly problems affecting the trade relations of our two countries.

Not by any means for the first time in the history of Kenya we are witnessing what may be called delayed reaction on the part of the public to legislation the full importance of which is not realized before the proposals embodied in it become law. Resting wood... or gaudy? Shouldn't Timber?

The answer lies in your hands—a dime of Seligman.

Because of the cost of the woodwork it protects—but it insures Seligman. Interior industries are worse than useless.

BRITISH-ISRAEL NOTE

By J. Bernard Nicolson. Last month I said how Austria (Germany) was to attack Israel (Britain) on Monday. Mr. Nicolson says:—But what does Ariel represent?

"Ariel" is described as the City where David dwelt, as Ferrar (Germany) said. It is a name of national worship. And as Mr. Nicolson says:—The Israel of the future is to be a Jewish State with its capital in the British Isles.

K. F. A. MARKET REPORT

No Change In Position

The label London and local market prices today remain unchanged. The market appears likely to remain flat for some time on account of the exchange position.

MAIZE: Argentine sellers are active here, but there is little likelihood of a rise in value of Argentine maize.

WHEAT: The market remains quiet. Several foreign exporters in this market have been disappointed.

PEAS AND BEANS: There is still a fair demand for peas and beans, but the main crop experience is disappointing.

MILK: The market is still extremely dull with no enquiries in the United States for prompt shipment.

EGGS AND CHICKENS: There is a fair demand for eggs and chickens, but the main crop experience is disappointing.

Local Market. MAIZE IN NATIVE RESERVES: The price of maize in native reserves has dropped somewhat and is now 1/4 per lb.

Local Market. PURPLE VETCH 25 cts. per lb. Trenchard Seed Co. (Green mixture) 20 cts. per lb.

Creamery Theft Cases

[STANDARD CORRESPONDENT] The District Commissioner, Laikipia, dealt with a number of theft and receiving charges at a Court held at Thomson Falls on January 6 to 10.

One of the more important cases concerned Oropoko, 1/6 Adoro, a John, who was charged with the theft of three cases of butter, 168 lbs. from the Thomson's Pails factory of the K.C.C.

It was stated that the cases were packed in the Creamery to await repacking into tins. Before eight full cases were removed and empty cases, presumably obtained from an adjoining store, substituted.

The substitution was noticed immediately and on resumption of work reported to the Police at 7 a.m. By 11:30 a.m. the butter which still remained a case (7 a case having been converted into tins) and the other remaining tins of the conversion, had all been recovered.

The accused pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 12 months' hard labour. The sentence is subject to confirmation.

On a charge of receiving 56 lbs. of butter, knowing it to be stolen property, Thomas, 4/6 Kamunga, was sentenced to six months' hard labour.

In all five convictions were recorded, all accused being of the same number of the native staff of the Creamery.

SOUTH AFRICAN SCENE

Review Of A Year

[BY OUR OWN SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS]

Johnannesburg

In the political year, 1940 will probably be regarded by future historians as an undeniably important year... Chiefly, it was the development of the final destiny for South Africa's politics to reshape into the old party ritual division which Fusion was slowly but surely making out of.

On the debit side must be set as a summation of the mood of the nationalists under General Hartog and Mr. Havenga. Naturally some of the English speaking section and all the Dutch followers of General Smuts have been too busy getting on with the job of fitting South Africa to take her part in the war to pay much attention to politics. The result is that all the lightning has shone on the political activities of the National Party, and looking back on the year, it seems that the only party in that party has been the National Party. It is still in the spotlight of public opinion, the only party of which personalities are mentioned in the newspapers and the situation has not yet become sufficiently obscured to permit us to forecast the future of the National Party. It is, however, clear that the general attitude towards it has been favourable and that it has been able to maintain its position as the dominant party in the country.

A symptom of this advance of the National Party is the fact that the Overseas Branches from an almost negligible number in the academic society this movement has grown into a powerful political force or, some people say, the most powerful force in the Nationalist movement. The total membership of the Oversea Branches of the National Party is estimated to be 200,000 members and that it is supported by thousands of sympathizers. Something over a hundred papers is probably a fair estimate and not all of them must be regarded as being impartially objective, since there is no doubt that in many parts of the British Empire membership of the Oversea Branches is more a convenient social contact than an indication of genuine political conviction.

Moreover, the organization is extremely active and whether by direct or indirect means it has had considerable success in its efforts to prevent the future of the National Party from being obscured. It is, however, clear that the general attitude towards it has been favourable and that it has been able to maintain its position as the dominant party in the country.

Independent observers find it impossible to overlook such plain facts as Franco's tolerance of anti-British propaganda and his readiness to come to the aid of Berlin at all critical moments. It is, however, clear that the National Party is the only party in the country which is not only willing to support Portugal in its struggle with Germany but is also willing to support Portugal in its struggle with Germany.

session-seeking loyalists that the Oversea Branches is a secret society capable of any device.

Economic Survey

In the sphere of finance and economic South Africa is in an awkward position as over it was in the boom days of peace. Indeed, the visitor to the Union would see practically nothing to show him that the country was at war, except for the unusual amount of black in the streets. Apart from a fairly sharp rise in the price of certain imported luxuries, which in any event only went into very few hands, the standard of living has scarcely altered throughout the year. In fact, living standards have risen slightly, but not enough to warrant any demand for a rise in wages.

Labour Convention

It seems to be a well established tradition that Labour parties hold their annual convention during a holiday season. The South African Labour party is no exception. It held its annual convention in Durban in December.

WHERE WERE SPAIN'S STRIKE

FOR many months last year, all the signs seemed to show that Franco's Spain was on the brink of a revolution. It was generally expected that the Nationalists would have been made against Franco's judgment, but their only practical purpose, one would imagine, could be to complete Spain for a Spanish move coinciding with a German attempt to invade Britain, or times to begin directly the British advance along signs of weakening. Possibly the latter was the right theory and since Britain's support was consistently increased, Spain has not been called upon to take action. Now, however, with Italy hand-picked in Libya, it is possible that Germany may try to come to her aid by taking a passage through Spain or forcing Franco's hand by making a strike.

The debate of the first Spanish revolution was very much to the north, where the growing feeling of discontent and the general feeling of uneasiness were expressed in open revolt. It is, however, clear that the National Party is the only party in the country which is not only willing to support Portugal in its struggle with Germany but is also willing to support Portugal in its struggle with Germany.

People And Parties

THIS week round and about town has been as gay as ever, yet with a less strained, more naturally cheerful atmosphere than has previously been the case. Incidentally, I notice that more and more women are wearing dinner dresses with covered necks and long sleeves than are wearing low-cut, evening gowns and, personally, I think it looks both smarter and more suitable on most occasions, particularly when nearly all their guests are in black.

Another new fashion that has been particularly popular and attractive this season is the "Hollywood" blouse of the new, brightly shaded laces at which were so plentiful in the late '20's. This blouse is a beautiful white lace with a simple, low-cut collar, and it is a thing you would not want to miss in your wardrobe.

It also seems to be making its mark in the "Hollywood" blouse, I want to say that this blouse is a thing you would not want to miss in your wardrobe.

If You Are

Elegant Simplicity

SHORT

Your Golden Rules

- Certain fashions are boots to the small figure. They are:
 - In Dresses The dress with bolero or short jacket . . . peasant skirt . . . simple tailored dress of light-weight wool or linen . . . button-down-front dress . . . gored skirt, elastic collar, pullover sweater . . . princess-line and bouffant evening dress . . . up-to-the-knee one colour dinner dress . . . round necklines, little girl collars.
 - In Hats The pillbox . . . off-the-face hat . . . tuban . . . small-brimmed hat . . . peasant bonnet.
 - In Shoes Strapped sport shoes . . . two-eyelid tie . . . prettiest sandals . . . high-heeled very simple court shoes.

 Your "Ifs" and "Buts"
 Many other styles are right for you if you remember your rule of proportions. These are:
 The tailored suit—If it is well made, in precise proportion to your figure . . . in soft, monochrome patterns or small-pattern light-weight tweeds . . . Coats—If they are short below-length BUT cover the shoulders . . . Skirts—The full-length cape wrap is right if it hangs straight from the shoulder, without fullness . . . Turtins—If they are straight and slim . . . Plats—If they are small and flat, and widely dangle.

Your Danger Signals

Beware of these temptations: They'll lower your jacket! Over-trimming, fuzzy little bits stuck on here and there, too many pockets, too many frills . . . Extremely high heels (they're out of proportion to your height) . . . Wide, stiff belts or a wide band of contrasting colour at your waist (they cut your height in two) . . . Hats with too wide brims or lowering peaks . . . Over-powering ties and plaids . . . Skirt-lengths out of proportion to length of leg and size of feet . . . Woolly, hairy herringbone . . . Exaggerated shoulders . . . Big, heavy, downy Long-haired furs . . . Big, clumsy, macramé shoes . . . All types of severely macramé clothes . . . Mammoth hairpins, giant jewellery.

A Word About Sizes

You can wear small minor sizes if you're sure the styles are right for your type. The small figure has the advantage of "eternal youth" BUT it need not be unappreciated, if you are a woman-of-the-world type, dress like one—don't though you are only a pocket edition. And please remember that the eye of the observer should travel up and down from top to crown without conspicuous breaks!

If You Are Fat Too

If you are fat into the bargain, particularly for those suffering from Emboipnoea (commonly known as tummies), try these hints:
 Wear skirts with rounded corners to cut up the undesired line diagonally and so distract the eye from it. This is equally good for wide hips.
 Wear straight jackets to avoid top thickness over the bust.
 Wear straight skirts to make the fullness seem part of the dress, not of you.
 Wear straight jackets that distract the eye with diagonal lines.
 Wear trunks in one colour only with drapery twisted and caught at the waist to fall in a pool down the front.
 And above all, stick to unbroken vertical lines . . . natter anything too tight or clinging . . . thin fabrics, preferably with matt surfaces . . . never wear a complete set . . . AND

THE FATHER OF THE MAN

THE picture of next week is undoubtedly "Young Tom Edison" though it might be more correctly called "Edison the Youngster." The former is still the "big" picture, not only in itself but also in the promise of an even greater film to come, and this is "Edison the Man" in which Spencer Tracy gives such a superb performance. But, the child is father to the man; and this you really ought to see!

SPORTS PARADE

CHRISTMAS and New Year activities in other directions have checked the ardour for strenuous games since the middle of December, but now that the Forces are turning again to their particular loves in sport we shall again be seeing some interesting games in the various branches.

Probably the last function of this kind to be held in the year is the annual meeting of the Association of Sportsmen, which will be held at the Victoria Hotel on January 12th. It is expected that some 100 members will be present, and that the meeting will be a most successful one. The Association was founded in 1907, and has since that time been the leading body in the country for the promotion of sportsmen's interests.

RASHEL is another game which could be brought before the limelight. It may not be generally known that there is a Raschel game in the world. It is a game which is played in the month of January, yet they rarely get a match card or a football programme until the month of February.

ROGGER too could be played on the foot side just as well as on the hand side. It is a game which is played in the month of January, yet they rarely get a match card or a football programme until the month of February.

There has been little to report upon during the past week, everything seems to be recovering from the New Year excitement. The football season is well advanced, and the cricket season is also well advanced. The tennis season is also well advanced, and the golf season is also well advanced.

Charm depends on Freshness Appeal

Wherever the go, she's the centre of attraction—and let us admit it, most distinctly distinguished. But she's not by any means a Botticelli (or any other) beauty, and her features are never likely to be perpetuated on canvas by a Drougouze or a Bouchardon. What then lies the secret of her unmatchable charm? Let's be frank! It's her constant Freshness Appeal! It's her constant Freshness Appeal! It's her constant Freshness Appeal!
