Bon On Whistling

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT] London.
The Minister of Health is recommending the restriction of whistling in the different districts of the country into "vacation," "neutral" and "reception" zones.
Recent bombing has upset all officials and the Middle-Eastern authorities, for example, want the entire country to be regarded as "vacation" zones. It is, however, a decision will be enforced, much as we should like it.
Perhaps many whistles are being made to attract attention. In fact, few are denounced for coldness and dampness while there are assertions that a "new type of mouthpiece" has made its appearance.
Objectionable conduct in air-raid shelters will shortly be dealt with for which the offender can be ejected and fined up to 50 shillings. Whistling between summer and sunset is being dealt with in that that whistling by warblers and police has been adopted in London as a danger warning, any private whistling may obviously be getting a little more strict.
Some people think the war might never stop altogether. It is a fact that a bomb never in the air streets in London. Whistles are sufficient if they are not used in a way that is not in the public interest.
Electric lights mysteriously going out in London during the night, have puzzled police and warblers. Experts have discovered that the lights were probably switched on by bombs. Old faulty switches especially sensitive to this shock.

Sanitary Protection is now more hygienic—it's worn internally!

Every woman who values her health, comfort and personal dignity should use TamPax, the new form of invulnerable sanitary protection invented by a doctor. Worth trying, it is much more hygienic, dainty and comfortable than old-fashioned sanitary protection. It enables you to live as normal and active a life as on any day of the month. Apart from its many more obvious advantages, TamPax is definitely to be preferred for reasons of health.

RAILWAY MEALS IN BRITAIN

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT] London.
Owing to the fact that all employees are now allowed to leave work at least 30 to 45 minutes before lunch—even the big stores close at 4—this is facilitating transport home-wards. The railways are applying working facilities smoothly though there are for instance, on the Inver Clyde and 1938, having done this the Minister is prepared to say that the 1941 contracts, including the provision of 4d. per pound towards additional cost of production as approved for 1940 supplies.
In the case of those estates where the price under contracts was provisional, subject to what the market price in the United Kingdom, the price which the Minister is prepared to pay for 1941 supplies will be the average price finally ascertained for 1940 supplies.
Price Adjustment.
When the price has not been agreed before the date is ready for shipment the Minister of Food or the Minister of Agriculture or the Minister on his behalf is prepared to accept shipments of less than a provisional price and upon agreement so to price, if the provisions of the contract are not met, the amount involved in such circumstances are in each case an interest rate of 4 1/2 per annum from the date of the week delivery of shipping documents to the Transport Section. The contractor is obliged to carry charges, whichever shall be in relation to that of the contract. Failure of agreement on price, or if the offer is not accepted, the Minister of Food on behalf of the Minister of Food will give notice to refuse to carry delivery and use accepted by the Minister will be valued in terms of values approved by the Minister in the United Kingdom on the day.

SOLDIERS "APPROVED" GIRL FRIENDS

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT] London.
Under the heading "Does your Officer Approve your Girl?" the Daily Express publishes the following: "Sheffield, city of half a million people, which has never yet had a Sunday cinema show, may open one on Sunday for soldiers if the City Council approves. But soldiers will be allowed to take in girl friends unless their officers object. For the details of each case, and—well about each girl, give special permission. Women in the Forces will be admitted, but not show unless accompanied by a member of the Forces. Stewards and underlings will be drawn from the Services, and members of the City Treasurer's Department will work in the pay boxes.

Charm depends on Freshness Appeal

Wherever she goes, she's the centre of attraction—and, let us admit it, most distinctly distinguished. But she's not by any means a Botticelli (or any other beauty), and her Gamses are never likely to be appreciated by cups by a Democritee or a Brockhurst. Where then lies the secret of her unmistakable charm? Let's be frank. Isn't it her constant Freshness Appeal—her continual air of composure and elegant detachment no matter how hot and oppressive the weather? Isn't it her ability to remain daintily cool and calmly collected at all times and in all places? Cory Eau de Cologne (Cordons Rouge) is her secret. Wisdom tells her that even the most haughty bath won't guarantee Freshness Appeal. It's not a day but a day long. But wisdom adds that Cory Eau de Cologne will. She never neglects it. She's made it a duty—after the bath, throughout the day, everywhere. And that's how she's the so rare of Freshness Appeal... and charm.

GRASS BURNING

To the Editor "E.A. Standard"

Sir—We are usually told by the "Press" that the Government has no legislation to deal with the burning of grass. It is difficult to understand why not for a variety of reasons. The soil of the Colony is fast becoming dry due to a large degree to the dry weather than owing to the rain. Also I understand the various "cattle" are now experiencing a foreboding of desert conditions. However, it is not likely to happen in the lives of the present "Press" that we do not do it?

CLUB FOR BOYS?

To the Editor "E.A. Standard"

I read in Thursday's paper the letter in Thursday's paper regarding a boys' club should be started in Nairobi. I do not understand the need for such an institution, having a young son who has had to "just muck around" during the holidays, getting thoroughly bored, whilst I being compelled to be in an office all day feel most concerned, wondering what he is doing to fill in a long day. As your correspondent says, might it be the result of the child being left to his own resources, especially in such a dull office as mine?

I sincerely hope our parents will interest themselves in the scheme suggested and I am sure many would gladly pay any reasonable monthly subscription for such a boon.

Yours etc.

THE EAST AFRICAN STANDARD
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1942.
The Black-out
The East African Standard is glad to learn that the question of whether or not the black-out restrictions in this country can be relaxed and that for some time past receiving active consideration by the authorities
concerned.
In urging reconsideration of the position we have always made it clear that the decision
must be governed by considerations of military necessity and public safety and all that we have asked is that from time to time as the war situation develops the matter should be reviewed in the light of such development. We understand that the view of the competent authorities is that there is no good reason to assume that the situation has changed and is liable to an air raid now that the time has elapsed war.
This being so we will of course
be necessary to continue air raid precautions though whether or not the black-out will require modification in the future is at present is still being discussed
by those who have the final responsibility for the matter.
When the decision is announced we believe the public will accept it loyally, even if it entails a sacrifice of some of the existing regulations. Indeed we are certain the people of Kenya
will be willing to bear much of the burden of the war that is represented by the black-out—which is little indeed compared with what they know and in Africa are being called upon to endure—provided they are told frankly that it is necessary in the interests of the whole community and that the safety of the country depends upon it.

THE EAST AFRICAN SCENE

THE OUTLOOK

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT)

JOHANNESBURG.

AS details come through in soldiers' letters from Kenya about the engagement at El Wak, South Africans begin to realise that they are taking some part in the real front line work of this war.

The El Wak success, South Africa's own contribution, has cheered the public immensely and put them in good mood to appreciate inspiring news of recent times from both Libya and America.

As far as the home front is concerned, President Roosevelt's first address to Congress, with its first allusion to America's Great Britain, has probably had more effect in African sentiment than any other single event in the war so far. The President's speech had maximum publicity in Africa. The evening programme of the South African Broadcasting Corporation was dramatically suspended so that his speech would be relayed for five seconds later in the evening. His voice was booming out in a number of homes throughout the Union.

South Africa is watching the advance in Libya with the closest interest since it felt that the British in Abyssinia had a great chance of fighting that will be necessary in Africa. It is expected that the British will meet a stiff fight at Tobruk and beyond.

Two events have occurred this week to help people's eyes and ears towards the possibility of South African troops being sent to some theatre if war outside the African continent. The first was the news that the Nationality Party was circulating a rumour that the Government intended to introduce a "blue oath" which would oblige soldiers to take before serving outside Africa. The second was the news that the Government proposed to introduce a "blue oath" which would oblige soldiers to take before serving outside Africa. The second was the news that the Government proposed to introduce a "blue oath" which would oblige soldiers to take before serving outside Africa.

AT THE TIME of writing the result of the Warburg election was not so far from being a foregone conclusion. The result was reported as having been a narrow one, with the result being rendered very doubtful by the fact that the result was reported as having been a narrow one, with the result being rendered very doubtful by the fact that the result was reported as having been a narrow one.

Back Veld Schools

An instance of the power which the Oeswa Branding can wield in the Back Veld is provided by the case of the school Board of the district of Hertzogburg in the Free State. For some years now every school in the Free State has had to go to other theatres of war. I have always disliked the idea of an imaginary chalk line established by politicians. Our front line is where the enemy is. Although our troops have not had their chance yet, it is coming. I hope that they will not be forced to serve in other theatres of war.

CONSERVATION As a Foundation of Permanent Peace

THIRTY-TWO years ago there was held in Washington a Conference which was the first of its kind. It was the first conference in this country of the Governors of all the States and Territories with the President of the United States. Since it included also the Congress, the Cabinet, the Supreme Court, scientific experts, representatives of national association, and outstanding citizens, it was one of the most distinguished gatherings ever brought together in the United States.

BY DEFINING, describing, and recommending the new world-making policy. The reason why the President Theodore Roosevelt in his White House in May, 1892, was regarded by two hundred scientists as a turning point in history, was that he was the first to propose a vital industrial revolution in the United States, on the nations of the whole world. It was called to introduce and to introduce to mankind the first formulated policy of the conservation of natural resources.

It is worth mentioning that this brilliant example of national foresight occurred not in a time of emergency, nor in a depression, but in a time of general abundance and well-being. The unanimous declaration of the Governors, read with this discerning admittance: "Let us conserve the foundations of our prosperity."

It may be difficult today, when conservation is accepted as a principle, to realize that only a generation ago there was no such thing as a conservation policy. The first conservation policy was formulated in the United States by the growing youngster, Forest Service in the early winter of 1897. Conservation grew out of still, by that same name today, conservation, out in Washington, D.C.

to give a name before it could be introduced to the world. After discussion and agreement, a name was tentatively decided on: "Therapeutic" it was called. This name was suggested by Theodore Roosevelt, and it was recommended and accepted by the appointment of commissions by a majority of the States and of the National Conservation Commission, which in January of 1900 submitted to the President the first national inventory of natural resources ever made in February of the same year.

Tobruk Another Enemy Stronghold Falls Within 16 Days

ACTION IN EAST AFRICA

The British operation against Tobruk are intensifying. Our forces are engaging the Italians in the outer defences and heavy British guns are shelling the port.

The Italians are feverishly strengthening the defences. They are not going to be as strong as those of Bardia. The enemy is apparently preparing to hold on as long as possible in order to allow Marshal Graziani's forces to engage in the Benghazi area.

In that event our pressure on our patrols is increased. Asah has been heavily raided by our bombers.

They raided Benghazi twice at night by our bombers. The damaged shipping and the harbour and Government buildings had a bad shaking.

R.A.F. fighters patrolling North Africa continue to search for and destroy enemy machines, but invariably return disappointed.

Tribute from Rome

A tribute from a captured Italian officer to the Australian troops who look part in the Bardia action has been mentioned in a cable by General Wavell to London.

The message says: "The Australian and British soldiers who were trained in the desert have had their trial in Bardia where they have shown themselves to be of the highest quality and tactical skill. An Officer prisoner of war said that the Australians attacked the German General Wavell's message contained: 'Many other successes will follow these troops.'

Members of the Australian Prime Minister who is shortly going to London will also visit the Italian front.

The place of honour given to the Australian soldiers in the Bardia action has been filled by the Australian people with pride. Just before the attack on Bardia our men would strike hard for they know we do it, home that right is on our side and we shall win.
