No - they're not new tyres - they're the retrreads with the NEW-TYRE LOOK!

If you take an interest in tyres you will have noticed how, in the last few years, tyre manufacturers have made great strides in perfecting the characteristics which give greater safety, increased adhesion and longer wearing qualities to their tyres.

Retreads have gradually decreased in their pressure requirements — making for greater comfort. Their tread patterns have become more complex, involving intricate combinations of grooves, ribs and adhesion silt, achieving a higher standard of safety and degree of grip than ever before.

All these features are now available to you when the time comes to re-tread. For about half the price of a new tyre you can get a C.G. retread with the NEW-TYRE look — a look patterned in designs made to conform to the standards you have come to expect from a new tyre.

TUBELESS TYRE RETREADS
The same standards of safety and saving in cost are achieved when you require retrreads for tubeless tyres. By constant research Car and General have overcome the difficulties of retreading this special type of tyre. Normally, there is no need for an inner tube to be inserted. Car and General retrace the majority of tubeless tyres for service after retreading as TUBELESS TYRES.

CG UP-COUNTRY
This new retread tread does up to its name. It has a wide open patch for extra highway mileage and a wide tread for sure grip under the most severe road and off-road conditions. Rugged and durable, it's the best becoming a fit for East African conditions.

 D. 22-1

Allegations of muddle and misunderstanding

Admission of conflict in evidence

THE LABOR PARTY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS LAST NIGHT LUNCHEON ATTACK ON THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT OVER THE DEATHS OF 11 HINDU DETAINEES AT HOA.

Sir Frank Soskice, the former Labour Attorney-General, opening the debate, said he believed the Government of India had "shocked the circumstances" and the detainees met their deaths "as a result of the use of 'brutal violence' and 'ceasing the Government'."

The motion "condemned the failure of Her Majesty's Government to take immediate steps to set up a public inquiry to ascertain where the responsibility should be placed."

The Government put forward an amendment deep regretting the deaths and asking the House fully to support the Government and the Government of India, both remedial and disciplinary, being taken to prevent a recurrence of "such a tragedy." A vote was expected at the end of the debate, but with a majority of only 30, the Government was in no danger of defeat.

Sir Frank Soskice said that over motions raised the issue whether there was still need for an inquiry "to ascertain where responsibility for this dreadful happening lies."

By responsibility, Sir Frank said he did not mean that of the camp commandant, his assistant, nor did he mean to criticize the decision of the Attorney-General of Kenya not to institute criminal proceedings. He regarded that decision as very difficult one as "brutally done."

"What we are concerned with is the responsibility of the Kenya Administration and the attitude of the Colonial Secretary. In that connection," he told the crowded Chamber.

He said that only four of the 11 had been brought to trial on any charge. Many had no doubt committed the most horrible crimes, "I say nothing in their defence except their evil as they may have been, that was my reason at all for clubbing them to death," he went on.

The measure to be made it go as irrigation trench and made to work by force if necessary. There was conflicting evidence.

Some witnesses depicted as seeing wounds "raining down blows on the detainees while they sat on the ground and apparently offering no resistance. Others, including the camp commandant himself, had asserted that the detainees tried to break away."

The detainees were said to have set up organized resistance, raised the "well-known Mau Mau bow" formed a human pyramid and in a kind of frenzy themselves upon this pyramid and it could be separated.

Whatever the true version, it did not affect the issue of the debate. What was completely beyond doubt was that the place was "turned into a charnel house."

Nothing in their defence

What we are concerned with is the responsibility of the Kenya Administration and the attitude of the Colonial Secretary. In that connection," he told the crowded Chamber.

A woman's refusal to make them was made to force these men to work. The plan to make them work was called "hantle in reception."

What on earth did they say after the events," he said.

Departed from plan

The man who said that he had been told to "hantle in reception" the detainees was said to have been told that they were to be taken to the Mau Mau camps. He said that he had been told that they were to be taken to the Mau Mau camps. He said that he had been told that they were to be taken to the Mau Mau camps.

No provision for force

What was almost certain to happen did happen. The detainees were said to have been told that they were to be taken to the Mau Mau camps. He said that he had been told that they were to be taken to the Mau Mau camps.

SUN SHINES FOR A ROYAL OCCASION

The Queen's official birthday was marked in London by the traditional Trooping the Colour ceremony on White as the Colour of the 3rd Battalion the Coldstream Guards is trooped.

Below, the Queen, wearing a scarlet jacket and blue sash and a tricorn hat with scarlet and blue Buckingham Palace for the ceremony on the chancelled central horse line.

After the Trooping the Royal Family stood on a balcony balcony to watch a fly-past by 16 Hunter VI fighters of the Royal Air Force.

ROOPING THE COLOUR ON HORSE GUARDS PARADE

At ten o'clock as the Queen rode Imperial and through Whitehall. Looking cool and calm in the hot July sunshine, she turned to look at the Duke of Edinburgh mounted on a grey, as the ceremony began. In the Queen's insignia are the red plume and regimental badge of the Coldstream Guards.

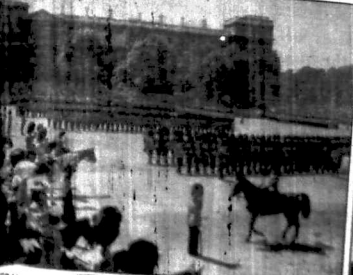

Warm weather for a Guardsman...

It is still "eyes front" for his comrades, but these policemen rush to the aid of his Guardsman whose legs crumple as he falls in Buckingham Palace courtyard. The incident occurred after the Queen had returned to the Palace from the Horse Guards Parade.

...and for a Princess

The warmth of the day, and perhaps the excitement of the match, made Princess Anne wipe her brow as she watches the Duke of Edinburgh captaining the Windsor Park polo team to victory over Caerleon, at Smith's Lawn, Windsor Great Park.

COMMITTEE URGES BUS LAW CHANGE
 Illegal competition alleged

CONCERN has been expressed by the General Purposes Committee of Nainob City Council at the apparently unlimited number of country buses which appear to be operating in the city. The police have been asked to strengthen measures to prevent country buses picking up passengers in the city area but they replied that the force had not sufficient manpower to effect a fully effective check on these services.
 The committee is recommended that representations in this matter should be made to the Transport Licensing Commission.
 It was felt that the present arrangement should be reviewed and that the council should have a greater say in the extent to which country buses are permitted to operate.

Publisher bound over

Billie Bullock, a member of the Nainob National Party was bound over for two years at Nainob magistrates court in his own custody of £100 and two other members of £100 each after being found guilty of printing and publishing seditious articles.
 Mr. Justice Hensford ordered that the machine used for printing the seditious articles should be forfeited for 12 months. Mr. Justice Hensford also ordered that the machine used for printing the seditious articles should be forfeited for 12 months.

Lack of facilities

It is necessary, the council was urged to look for the means of providing a better service for the citizens in the city.
 The Town Clerk, Mr. H. J. Hensford, said that the council should have a greater say in the extent to which country buses are permitted to operate.

OIL PAINTINGS FOR COUNCIL

Two oil paintings have been presented to the Nainob City Council for hanging in the Mayor's Parlour. One is by Mr. J. Hensford, and the other is by Mr. J. Hensford.
 The other painting is by Mr. J. Hensford, and the other is by Mr. J. Hensford.

As the council is a body of citizens, the Council is a body of citizens. The Council is a body of citizens. The Council is a body of citizens.

FOR THE RECORD

WITH the exception of the Prime Minister and the Foreign Secretary, now engaged in trying to cover the disastrous blow up of the Singapore ship, the Ministers, there can be few men called to high office in the Government of Britain who during the past few years have had to face such sustained press and criticism as the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Leonard Bageot.

The Opposition's recent motion in the House of Commons last night was only the latest salvo in a campaign which Mr. Bageot is just now giving in the British press. The motion called for the resignation of the Colonial Secretary because of the failure of many millions of people to receive a single penny of the wish money which was to have been distributed in the form of stamps to the colonies in the month of January last.

What are the "dark deeds" of the Colonial Secretary which have caused this? The motion says that the Colonial Secretary is "grossly negligent" in his duties. It says that he has failed to ensure that the stamps were distributed to the colonies in the month of January last. It says that he has failed to ensure that the stamps were distributed to the colonies in the month of January last.

There is the Cyprus situation by which the British Government is unable to control the situation in the island. There is the situation in the Sudan, where the British Government is unable to control the situation in the country. There is the situation in the Congo, where the British Government is unable to control the situation in the country.

Britain's financial contributions

In the Far East Singapore has allowed full internal self-government and the State of Brunei has been granted a written constitution. In the West Indies, a Federal Republic is being inaugurated by Prime Minister in 1958. A new constitution giving full internal self-government to the West Indies will be introduced in 1958. Later this year and next year, resolutions will be laid before the House of Commons to decide whether to first wish to remain part of the British Empire or to become a free nation.

CONTRASTS OF LIFE IN THE DIVIDED CITY

The stark contrast between the life of the East and West Germans in the divided city of Berlin is a stark one. The East German side is a city of poverty and despair, while the West German side is a city of prosperity and hope. The East German side is a city of poverty and despair, while the West German side is a city of prosperity and hope.

HARD TO BELIEVE

I have just returned from a visit to the East German side of Berlin. It is hard to believe that this is the same city that was once a city of prosperity and hope. The East German side is a city of poverty and despair, while the West German side is a city of prosperity and hope.

ALL RUBBLE USED

The vast rubbish problem of Berlin is being solved. All the rubbish that was once piled up in the city is now being used to build new houses and schools. The East German side is a city of poverty and despair, while the West German side is a city of prosperity and hope.

The workers paraded in the Communist Manifesto and in the West German side. The workers paraded in the Communist Manifesto and in the West German side. The workers paraded in the Communist Manifesto and in the West German side.

Every year the people of West and East Germany remember those who lost their lives in the spring of 1945 in the East German city of Berlin. The photograph shows a group of people gathered in a public square, likely during a commemorative event.

RIOTS THAT CHALLENGED THE FREE WORLD

The riots in Berlin that challenged the free world were a stark reminder of the dangers of communism. The riots were a stark reminder of the dangers of communism. The riots were a stark reminder of the dangers of communism.

STANGE NEWS

One of the strangest news items from the East German side of Berlin is the story of a woman who was found dead in a public square. The woman was found dead in a public square. The woman was found dead in a public square.

THE IRON CURTAIN

The Iron Curtain is still in place, and the East German side of Berlin remains a city of poverty and despair. The Iron Curtain is still in place, and the East German side of Berlin remains a city of poverty and despair.

American safari

The Minister for Home Affairs, Mr. Hughes, returned to Nairobi this week after a visit to America. His impressions are that the sentiment of good will for Kenya in the New World is "astonishing" and that Americans are anxious to help and to know about the Colony. He was particularly impressed by the more realistic than the people in Britain.

There is little doubt that the American people are more interested in Kenya than any other people in the world. This is not only true of the general public but also of the Government. The American Government has been sending a steady stream of aid to Kenya since the independence of the Colony. This aid has been in the form of grants, loans, and technical assistance. The American Government has also been sending a steady stream of tourists to Kenya. These tourists have been coming to Kenya to see the sights, to enjoy the climate, and to experience the hospitality of the Kenyan people.

Although the American people are more interested in Kenya than any other people in the world, they are also more interested in the progress of the Colony. They want to know how the Colony is getting on, what the people are doing, and what the Government is doing. They want to know about the progress of the Colony in all respects, including the economy, the education system, and the social services.

If you have a pain— what do you take?

BECAUSE Disprin dissolves it, and is rapidly absorbed into the bloodstream. In this way Disprin acts without delay. Also, because Disprin dissolves there are no hard acid particles to irritate or upset the stomach and cause unpleasant after-effects.

It is best to take Disprin tablets in water. They dissolve instantly, but you may, if necessary, swallow the tablets whole. They will dissolve just the same in your stomach.

Missing the vote

THE Nairobi City Council, in common with almost all local authorities who have to concern themselves with "the health of the people" a wide subject which ranges from dustbins and dog licenses to sewers and streets lighting—tries to do a fair amount of "electioneering" for or against the Government. In Nairobi, the "Mother of Pearls", Parklands or "Frustrated" Killimani, long for rain and cooperation from the Government, there are politicians in their parsonages or cracks in their curbstones.

And to be elected to this should be a. A healthy interest in public affairs is to be commended, and nobody is supposed to be indifferent to conditions if he lives in a town which has a council. Indeed, a little more interest—on the part of the Government—would be welcomed by officials. It would certainly help to reduce the number of "no-shows" at council meetings. The Government should be more interested in the Council Chamber and its committee work. It should be more interested in the work of the Council in the various departments. It should be more interested in the work of the Council in the various departments. It should be more interested in the work of the Council in the various departments.

Old registers scrapped

But what happens in Kenya with a large extent, is determined by the actions of the Government. In Nairobi, the Government has decided to scrap the old registers. The Government has decided to scrap the old registers. The Government has decided to scrap the old registers.

Disunity of opponents led to Communist rule

FACTORS BEHIND THE CLASHES IN KERALA

KERALA—the South India State with the only democratically elected Communist Government in the world—was created almost three years ago by the integration on a language basis of the erstwhile States of Cochin and Madras.

The Communist Party was first elected to power in the April elections of 1957 when they won 51 per cent of the vote in the State Assembly. They have since then Government work since their election.

Attack on faiths

The British Colonial Administration of Travancore and Cochin, which was merged with the Communist State in 1956, had a long history of religious intolerance.

Through an alliance with the Government, the Communist Party has been able to govern with a small but effective majority in the State Assembly.

The last word in the State's religious freedom is the decision of the Supreme Court.

Religious freedom is a basic principle of the Constitution.

A SHOT THAT LOST A TITLE

Dealing with the earlier portion of the 1951 Kenya amateur golf championship in yesterday's issue, the E.A. Standard's special correspondent referred to the final round, the defeat of the holder, E. G. Finlayson. After two grand slams Finlayson required only to hole the 18th hole to win the title.

Slow lead whittled

Another remarkable endurance match was that in which the holder, E. G. Finlayson, was defeated by B. B. Finlayson. The match was a recovery by England at Lord's.

Most difficult to play

The player who consistently came from behind when all seemed lost and got down to a pitch and putt, probably the most difficult to play, was the holder, E. G. Finlayson.

Tibetan dilemma

FROM the place of refuge in the Himalayas, the young Dalai Lama has given the world new flashpoints about the grim fate of the Tibetan people. Communist China has begun its campaign of pillage and plunder nearly two years ago. Ruthlessly and systematically, it has been blotting out the face of the world in being blotted out in a terrifying region of terror.

In a missionary zeal, the Dalai Lama has travelled the world in the past year and a half. He has visited the United States, Canada, Europe and Africa. He has met with the heads of state and government in each of these countries. He has been a constant presence in the news, and his words have been a constant reminder of the plight of his people. He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people.

He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people. He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people. He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people. He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people.

Headquarters headache for Hammarskjold

HALF a dozen potential new members have stood on the United Nations Security Council, when it was asked to consider their case. It may be a long time before they are admitted.

It has been seven years since his consecration as Secretary-General. He has been a constant presence in the news, and his words have been a constant reminder of the plight of his people.

He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people. He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people. He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people. He has been a constant reminder of the plight of his people.

ROCK FOR ANYONS STILL USE CARE

STOCKING manufacturers do not have a little better in their hearts every time a pair of nylon stockings springs a ladder. Knowing that the average customer will switch brands if she is dissatisfied, they do all they can to make stockings run-proof.

RIGHT APPROACH

become familiar with the different gauges or thicknesses of the stockings available. For instance, 40 gauge 15-gauge will be stronger and give better wear than 20-gauge 15-gauge 15-gauge.

DON'T wear your stockings inside out. This will irritate the skin and cause chafing.

KEEP your stockings in the dryer. This will dry them faster and keep them from getting wrinkled.

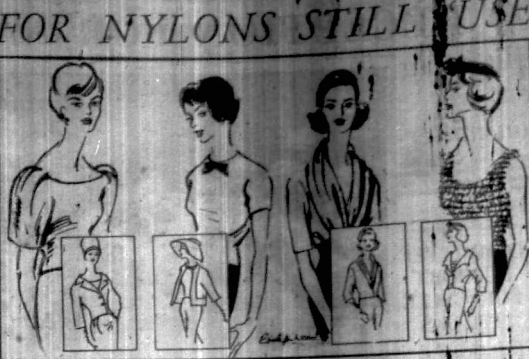

DO NOT wear two pairs of the same style and colour at the same time.

Lending an ear to domestic problems

WIVES who elect to go out to work daily in the house all day may be wise women who are protecting themselves from nervous strain, it seems from the observations of social workers in England.

Legalism among wives and their inability to cope with a new set of circumstances, are responsible for the increasing number of domestic disturbances, and possibly for the loss of innocent lives.

TO HUSBANDS

If the husband's job takes him to a new district he should encourage his wife to make new contacts. If she is too shy, he can talk her through the process.

By JEAN FOUCHER

It is not enough for many women, says the social worker, to have a job. It is not enough for many women to have a job and to have the social worker's sympathy.

Wives have sought with clear minds, and the result is that many of them have a job.

£1,000,000 promised for and-Narumah coup
Foreign aid to maintain security
Steps proposed

An unspecified foreign Power has promised the Government of Ghana, according to information reaching the Government from a reliable source.

Stating this in a White Paper published in the proposed security measures, directed against an attempt to overthrow the Government or to prevent the National Assembly from free election.

Among the measures which are expected to be laid down for the raising of the maximum sentence for treason from two to ten years, heavy penalties for statements to discipline its members.

Help from U.K. police

Any attempts at a coup d'état are to be treated with "the utmost severity" and any individuals "whoever they are" in the national interest, "whenever they add."

The White Paper, a 25,000-word document, deals with the report alleged plot against the Prime Minister, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, and the surrounding circumstances.

The Government had reason to believe that revolutionary activities in Ghana were being assisted from outside the country.

Police from Britain had been sent to Ghana to investigate the alleged plot and the Government is now setting up a special committee to investigate the circumstances.

The White Paper also states that the Government is taking steps to ensure that the country is not divided into two parts by a civil war.

It is also stated that the Government is taking steps to ensure that the country is not divided into two parts by a civil war.

U.S. views criticised

Remarks by the United States Secretary of State for Africa, Mr. Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., that the Ghana-Chinese situation was facing a "crisis" and that the Government was "facing a choice" between a "Chinese takeover" and a "civil war" have been criticised by some Ghanaian leaders.

Mr. K. P. Fosu, President of the Ghana Teachers' Association, said that the Secretary of State's remarks were "unjustified and unwarranted" and that they were "a direct challenge to the sovereignty of Ghana."

Mr. Fosu also said that the Secretary of State's remarks were "a direct challenge to the sovereignty of Ghana" and that they were "a direct challenge to the sovereignty of Ghana."

EXISTENCE A CHALLENGE

The White Paper said the Government was "facing a choice" between a "Chinese takeover" and a "civil war" and that it was "facing a choice" between a "Chinese takeover" and a "civil war."

The White Paper also stated that the Government is taking steps to ensure that the country is not divided into two parts by a civil war.

PRINCIPLE OF VOTING

If, on the other hand, the Government of Ghana should adopt a method of voting which is not based on the principle of universal suffrage, it would be a direct challenge to the sovereignty of Ghana.

The White Paper also stated that the Government is taking steps to ensure that the country is not divided into two parts by a civil war.

ke of an American of months ago I returned to my home... a five-month trip to Africa, leaving in Nairobi, as the point of departure for my country for me. My friends were surprised to hear of my return.

In Ghana I was told that the Government was not the great industrializing nation and because of lack of capital resources it was not possible to see the entire country would have to be developed by other means. I was told that if any Government in Africa was to be successful it would have to be a Government that would be able to attract foreign investment and to provide the necessary capital resources for the development of the country.

Personally, I have every good feeling for the Government of Ghana. I have just been back to the most famous citizens in the world, Mr. Churchill. I was the writer of your book, "The Road to Freedom". I am glad to see that you have mentioned his name in your book.

"LOOK, MUMMY—THE WASHING'S DRY ALREADY"

Think of it—with an electric spin-dryer, you can dry your washing, ready for ironing, in the time it takes to boil an egg! No more 'wasted washdays' during the rainy season—whatever the weather, you can take clothes wet from the wash, pop them into the spin-dryer, and have them onto the ironing board in just four minutes!

A spin-dryer is safe for your most delicate fabrics. There's no breaking of zips, buttons and fastenings, no matting, felting, stretching or pulling out of shape of woollen. And you can use a spin-dryer for your blankets, too.

Ask about this washday wonder at your automatic, completely roofproof, wonderfully easy to clean and snow away in any cold corner when not in use.

If you have a pain—what do you take?

Do you take a tablet or a powder or do you take Disprin? Disprin is different from other pain relieving preparations because it is gentler, and causes no drowsiness.

BECAUSE Disprin dissolves it enters the stomach as a solution, and is rapidly absorbed into the blood stream. In this way Disprin acts without delay. Also, because it is a solution, there are no hard acid particles to irritate or upset the stomach and cause unpleasant after effects.

Disprin is best to take Disprin tablets in water. They dissolve instantly, but you may, if necessary, allow the tablets whole. They will dissolve just the same in your stomach.

Because it dissolves—

DISPRIN

I like BOTTLES

Remember the fantastic outline bottle that used to stand in chemists' windows when I was a kid. Remember the adjectives used to describe those flask-shaped bottles. When I was a kid I used to get my fingers in empty bottles and lovelies in sea. Give me a girl friend a cut-glass perfume bottle. Forget her name now. Expect she's a girl-friend. Not a youth-worshiper! But she'll like bottles. Drop them in water cases. Carry them home under the arm and the green glass looks fabulous. Drop them. But of all things in a tall bottle on a silver tray... the tall triangular bottle filled with the finest Scotch.
