SAFARI SHOW ON W.O.K./T. TONIGHT AT 8.10

ALL FOR EMERGENCY MAIZE RESERVE

Commissioner's findings announced

KENYA should have an emergency reserve of 500,000 bags of maize. The Maize Commission of Inquiry recomends in its report published today. Persuasive steps should be taken to encourage farmers to grow other grain crops; consumers should be persuaded to eat other grains and to use yellow maize as well as the white varieties.

Possibilities of establishing an industry or industry to utilize any surplus should be kept continuously under review.

In fixing producer prices, it was necessary to ensure that the price was adequate to grow the farmer with a reasonable profit and that the price was announced in such a form so would inspire the necessary confidence in the producer. Every effort should be made to minimize short-term annual price fluctuations.

Costs survey recommended

The commission considers that the trader's commission of 17 1/2 per cent is high in the cost of supplies purchased in small quantities. Where a full bag was sold to a trader, the commission should be in the region of 1 1/2 per cent.

It recommends that a new survey of the cost of production should be carried out without delay. The cost of guards should be taken into consideration in the survey. The guaranteed minimum return on the basis introduced for 1960 should be continued. A continuing fertilizer subsidy should be maintained.

The commission was set up by the Government. It was headed by Mr. J. M. Njiru, then Minister for Agriculture. It held public hearings and received many suggestions from farmers, traders and other interested parties. It also conducted a survey of maize production and marketing costs.

It is expected that the Government will take prompt action on the recommendations of the commission. This will help to stabilize the maize market and ensure a steady supply of food for the population.

Sudan Prime Minister arrives

The Prime Minister of the Sudan, Ibrahim Abboud, is seen here with the Sudanese Ambassador to the United Kingdom, Sir M. El-Mahdi, and a representative from the Ministry of Health.

Kabaka 'for ever' - Mr. Obote

Sir Edward Mutesa is no longer Kabaka of Buganda and the Uganda Government has no intention of restoring him to his former position, the President, Mr. Obote, told the National Assembly in Kampala yesterday.

Mr. Obote dismissed as 'completely unacceptable' the suggestion that a new Kabaka be named for the purpose of negotiations about Sir Edward's return. He said the House 'will there will be no discussions and no negotiations. Let no one think this Government is thinking of restoring Sir Edward Mutesa as Kabaka. Sir Edward is no longer Kabaka.'

The end column

A COUP against the Iraq Government of President Abdul Rahman Arif was staged in Baghdad yesterday. A National Council of Revolution imposed a 24-hour curfew, closed all frontiers and airports and appointed President Arif to give himself up.

Direct elections

Believing that the current Government had been elected by the new Constituencies and that the vote were distorted by the mass because they elected some changes which included among other things, direct elections to the House of Representatives.

U.S. OPEN SOCIETY FACES GREATER TEST IN VIETNAM

THE Vietnam war is tearing world opinion apart. It has burst deep divisions between the Communist world, not just within the big powers, Greece, Italy and London. South Americans in Washington voted against the American policy and Britain's support for it. They are taking an earnest and spontaneous part in the American debate.

MICHAEL GARNER discusses the effect of the world's open society on Vietnam and the American people.

Have been presented with a full and complete account of the war for the open reporting in words and pictures. This is a book which should be read by all Americans.

There is a second edition of this book which is a translation of the first. It is a book which should be read by all Americans. It is a book which should be read by all Americans.

A householder dials for help... the call goes straight to a special anti-theft team... information is passed to the Controller nearby... the Assistant Controller, Sub-Inspector G. Aduya, who directs the patrol cars... the 999 Squad in action... Car Central One clearing up a disturbance.

While the city sleeps, its watchdogs work... Car Central One prowls slowly past the Stone Stadium Hotel... the driver, Const. Peter Mudi and Col. Josiah Kiniake in the back... they may appear a powerful eight-man staff... from a stop and a sudden lunge to violence, from drinks to bloody murder.

ONLY the monotonous click of the windshield wipers and the hiss of tyres on wet tarmac make the silence as one of Nairobi's crime control police cars prowls... Car Central One... the 999 Squad... the Assistant Controller, Sub-Inspector G. Aduya, who directs the patrol cars... the 999 Squad in action... Car Central One clearing up a disturbance.

HOW could a geologist who is only found in South America suddenly appear in a Nairobi Well. There may be more explanations for this fiddle than you think.

The key and pointed arrow, which is not of any metal, was first discovered in the East African Desert and was caught after heavy rain.

It was handed over to Mr. James A. Smith, the manager of the Nairobi Bank. Park, who immediately sent it to the geologist, but it was not until it was put in a museum in the U.S.A. that it was identified as a fossil. It was found in the same place where other fossils have been found, and it is believed that it was brought there by the wind.

Mr. Smith is returning to the U.S.A. to see the geologist who found it. It is thought that it may have been carried on a windstorm. This is the first time that a fossil has been found in the East African Desert. It is thought that it may have been carried there by the wind.

Coming of the blue-gum poles brings new life to Coast village

Some of the children at Barukwa play in the open field. One of the most famous is Mungara, and Miss Fremel keeps a watchful eye on the proceedings.

It is rare to find, even in the prolific coastlands, coconut palms and blue gum trees standing side by side in the streets of a village — but Takuanga on the north coast has this phenomenon. The villagers point out their blue gums in visitors with blue-gum poles straddle the village bearing the new electric mains; that they are used to take shade from houses and along the "roads" are looking bright and clean even though the old all lamps have gone and the electric poles in lanes at the arrival of important events are the use of them most important on the Kenya Coast.

by EDWARD BODWELL

Takuanga is a village of 1,000 people. Farmers, fishermen, merchants, hoteliers, all in a small way a mixture of what one day will again be a town of some importance.

Fifty years ago the Public Works Department inaugurated the approach road and built a roadway over the Takuanga creek that would carry all traffic to the Kiwi River. With the trunk road running through the main street of Takuanga, a new life was brought to the village. The villagers pulled their hands at ending the old ways. There was a light and beautiful opening at night and beautiful day. It was never rebuilt. The street is still very much as another route.

have insisted that lights be installed in their houses and shops. A new pump, grinding mill, a saw battery, an oil mill, people are looking up at the handsome that stands at the intersection of the main streets and wondering how far they can go to make Takuanga a village of a bright town.

At night the scenes are locked in the light of halos

Family in company — but extremely welcome — of electricity pole stands along the paths in one of Takuanga's picturesque streets, designed by Mr. Ernest Mwangi of the P. U. and L. commercial department.

Dr. BARNARDO'S SAVES ORPHANS FROM NEED

CHARITY DODDHAL writes about the Nairobi Dr. Barnardo's Home, whose Flag Day is tomorrow.

WHEN one sees hunger and deprivation on the face of a child one cannot help but be moved to pity — but pity is not enough. What is required is action and action is what organisations like Dr. Barnardo's have done. In the past few years their voluntary services, through the British Government, have been granted in Nairobi, Kenya, £100,000 to set up a home in Africa and other countries. What came from the home is an institution which will care for the children up to the age of 16 years in Britain. The aim of the home is to bring the children up to a standard of education to become well-adjusted citizens. The home is now in the process of building a new building which will accommodate 100 children. The home is now in the process of building a new building which will accommodate 100 children. The home is now in the process of building a new building which will accommodate 100 children.

New dreams

For Takuanga the village has been almost forgotten. There was no one to look after it. It was left to the mercy of the weather. It was left to the mercy of the weather. It was left to the mercy of the weather.

There was a periodic light-maturity of the trees. The trees were cut down. They were cut down. They were cut down.

LITTLE MILLIE MONKEY'S MOONLIGHT ADVENTURE

By SUSAN CARROLL

Little Millie was a monkey who lived in a tree. She couldn't get talking, she was only able to make noises when she spoke in a hoarse voice. Millie talked an awful lot. She would talk like the white hermit on those very cool mornings. She would make noises and speak from time to time. But she couldn't get any more of a word. She would just sit there and make noises and speak from time to time. But she couldn't get any more of a word. She would just sit there and make noises and speak from time to time.

"This is a story about a monkey named Millie who lives in a tree. She can't talk, only make noises. One night, she sees a white hermit who can talk. Millie is very curious and she wants to know how he talks. She goes down from her tree and she meets the hermit. He is very kind and he teaches her to talk. Millie is very happy and she thanks her teacher very much.

"I'll help you," said a tree. Millie talked to him from a long way off. She couldn't get any closer. She was afraid. She was so afraid that she would not be able to see the white hermit. She was so afraid that she would not be able to see the white hermit. She was so afraid that she would not be able to see the white hermit.

WHILE the report trend has left its mark in particular areas of the fashion world, the designer has not been left in the lurch. There is just one small section of a woman's wardrobe which remains virtually untouched by the bold, party-gone-to-it-that's-changed-on-everything that is night-time.

In the night-time, you want something that is a bit more of a cocoon, something that is warm, something that is soft, something that is comfortable, something that is a bit more of a cocoon, something that is warm, something that is soft, something that is comfortable, something that is a bit more of a cocoon, something that is warm, something that is soft, something that is comfortable...

IN roles ranging from Romaine Beigier in Wages for the Provocative to Madame Ransovsky in The Cherry Orchard, Miss Georgina Androskov has become well-known during the last year for her character portrayals on the stage of the Kenyan Music Theatre.

When she leaves Nairobi on July 4 for a holiday in New York she will leave behind in the theatre the most "great asset" with no false note of theatrical melodrama, who steps with freshness, facility and ease the role of Madame Ransovsky in The Cherry Orchard.

Miss Androskov has taken the lead in ten plays for the Kenyan Music Theatre, and has played the part of Madame Ransovsky in The Cherry Orchard more than any other actress in the theatre.

Illeged remarks by Mr. Babu refuted in Dar

Standard Daily Reporter Dar es Salaam.

Vice-President, Mr. Kawawa, told the National Press that the Tanzania Government had dealt with the allegations made by the Minister for Communications, Mr. Babu, in London. He said that the Government had formulated by those newspapers which were enemies of Tanzania.

Mr. Kawawa added that there was no truth at all in the "Mombasa allegations" that two Tanzanian Ministers had attended a meeting there.

The Second Vice-President was wounding up a debate on the activities of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and was referring to allegations that newspapers were trying to sway the East African political opinion.

He said that the problem of Malawi was not brought about by the Minister for Communications, but that it was the industrialists who ruled Tanganyika and it was difficult for people who had the interests of the Government in mind to do anything to help the Tanganyika side of the shoe of Lake Nyasa. He said that the boundary passed to the other side of the border with Mozambique.

NO QUARREL WITH ANYONE

Mr. Kawawa also said during his speech that Tanzania was in a friendly relationship with all countries and it was hoped that the same would be true of Malawi.

He said that the problem of Malawi was not brought about by the Minister for Communications, but that it was the industrialists who ruled Tanganyika and it was difficult for people who had the interests of the Government in mind to do anything to help the Tanganyika side of the shoe of Lake Nyasa. # MAY'S ALTITUDE SOLUTION

Delayed trip for Kenya athletics

WHILE Bill Cochrane (Canada), Bill Butler and Ian Stodd (New Zealand) were pondering wondering what effect Nairobi's near-6,000 foot altitude would have on their performances this weekend at the biennial national East African trials, Jürgen athletes championships the May team has been delayed by his arrival until the last week of the month.

ENGLAND BATTING CRASHES

ENGLAND after dismissing the West Indies for 255 had scored 30 for three wickets by the close when the third Test began at Nottingham yesterday.

England's batting collapse was a result of a combination of factors. The West Indies bowlers, including the fast bowler, Alvin Kallichman, were particularly effective. England's batsmen were out of sync, and the captain, Ian Botham, was unable to lead from the front. The result was a heavy defeat for England.

AROUND THE COUNTIES

Worcestershire were the only county to score a century in the first round of the County Championship. Gloucestershire also performed well, while other counties were in various stages of the tournament.

SOVIET VOLUNTEERS READY FOR HANOI

Gandhi seeks U.S. bombing

Communist Warsaw Pact allies yesterday said they were willing to send volunteers to fight "American aggression" in North Vietnam. This was announced at the end of the Pact summit meeting in Bucharest.

In New Delhi, the Indian Prime Minister, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, made a dramatic appeal for Russia and Britain to reconvene immediately the 1964 Geneva Conference on Indo-China to end the war in Vietnam, and appealed in a broadcast for an end to bombing in North Vietnam.

The declaration was read at the end of the Warsaw Pact summit announced the allies' willingness to give their support to North Vietnam, including arms if possible, to help put an end to "American aggression."

The declaration had the Warsaw Pact countries — Russia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany — would give North Vietnam political, moral and political support and material aid to help the Government to stop the "aggression."

Call for troop withdrawal

The Pact countries demanded that an end be put to the bombing of North Vietnam, that U.S. troops be withdrawn from South Vietnam, that U.S. bases in South Vietnam be closed, and that the National Liberation Front be recognized, and that the flight of the Vietnamese people to self-determination be recognized.

The Pact members "most firmly" urged the U.S. Government to accept the responsibility to take the first step, as an indispensable condition for the Pact to take any of the foreseeable consequences that may follow from this.

This is the first time the Pact has called for the United States to withdraw its troops from South Vietnam.

Mr. WILSON FOR TALKS IN MOSCOW

A NEW attempt to get Anglo-American relations back on a normal footing was announced today when it was reported that the British Prime Minister, Harold Wilson, would be in Moscow on Monday to meet Soviet Premier Alexei Kossygin.

The meeting is expected to be the first since the two leaders met in London in 1955. It is seen as a step towards normalizing relations between the two superpowers.

Wilson is expected to discuss the current state of relations between the two countries, and to discuss the possibility of a new summit meeting between the two leaders.

Wilson's visit to Moscow will be the first since the two leaders met in London in 1955. It is seen as a step towards normalizing relations between the two superpowers.

The meeting is expected to discuss the current state of relations between the two countries, and to discuss the possibility of a new summit meeting between the two leaders.

FINAL DAY

The final day of the summit meeting in Bucharest was marked by a series of press conferences and a final declaration. The Pact members reaffirmed their commitment to the principles of peaceful coexistence and their support for the Vietnamese people's struggle for independence.

The meeting ended with a final press conference by the Soviet Premier, Kossygin, who expressed his confidence in the future of the Pact and his hope for a new summit meeting between the two superpowers.

Trade cup winners fly home

The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry, Mr. Smith, announced the cup which the Kenya team won at the recent trade cup competition. The cup was presented to the team by the Assistant Minister.

The team, which was led by Mr. Smith, had a successful performance in the competition, winning the cup for the first time.

BRITAIN UNDER KANU FIRE ON RHODESIA

KANU yesterday congratulated Malawi on becoming a Republic and Tanzania on its 10th Anniversary. It also criticized Britain for its failure to end the war in Rhodesia.

The party's spokesman, Mr. M. N. Mwaanga, said that the party was disappointed that Britain had not taken any steps to bring about a settlement in Rhodesia.

He said that the party was in favour of a settlement in Rhodesia that would give the Rhodesians the right to self-determination.

Dr. Banda decries use of force

PRESIDENT BANDA of the new Republic of Malawi said yesterday that he decried the use of force in Rhodesia.

He said that the use of force was a violation of the principles of peaceful coexistence and that it was a step towards the escalation of the conflict in Rhodesia.

He called for a peaceful settlement of the Rhodesian issue and for the withdrawal of South African troops from Rhodesia.

Extradition action still under review

Standard Staff Reporter

Extradition proceedings for the arrest of a man named Mr. Mwaanga, who is wanted by the British authorities, are still under review.

The man was arrested in Kenya and is being held in custody. The British authorities are reviewing the case to determine whether extradition is in the interests of justice.

The man is alleged to have been involved in a series of activities that are considered to be a threat to the security of the United Kingdom.

Army kills 47 shifta after ambush

A KENYA Army convoy killed 47 shifta and wounded several others after it was ambushed by a large gang near Khamu, Mandera District, in the North-Eastern Province, the Minister for Defence, Dr. Mungai, said yesterday.

Dr. Mungai said that in the engagement, which lasted for nearly five hours, two soldiers were killed and 47 shifta were taken to hospital.

The Minister also said that the security forces found 25 rifles, 100 rounds of ammunition, 100 rounds of mortar shells, 100 rounds of machine gun ammunition, and 100 rounds of anti-aircraft ammunition.

The Minister said that the shifta were taken to hospital and that the security forces were continuing to search for more shifta in the area.

He said that the shifta were a threat to the security of the North-Eastern Province and that the security forces were determined to bring them to justice.

The shifta were a group of nomadic people who had been active in the area for many years. They were known for their raids on the settlements of the area.

The end column

THE UNITED STATES yesterday charged that the Soviet Union was conducting a series of underground activities in the state of North Carolina without acknowledging its role in the work. The United States said that the activities were conducted by the Soviet Union through the efforts of its agents in the state.

The United States said that the activities were a violation of the Espionage Laws and that they were a threat to the security of the United States.

The United States said that it was determined to take action against the Soviet Union and its agents in the state.

SEARCH-GOES ON FOR PLANE WRECKAGE

Police were last night hunting for wreckage from a plane that crashed in the North-Eastern Province of Kenya. The plane was carrying a group of shifta and was believed to have crashed in the area.

The police were continuing to search for the wreckage and for any survivors of the crash. They were also looking for any evidence that might help them identify the plane and its passengers.

The crash was a major setback for the shifta and was seen as a victory for the security forces.

RHODESIA PLANS LAW TO SUPPRESS COMMUNISTS

RHODESIA'S Government plans to bring in a Suppression of Communism Act. The Minister for Justice, Legal Aid and Order, Mr. Landros-Burke, said in Salisbury today in a speech to the House of Assembly that the Government is planning to pass a law to suppress communists in Rhodesia. He said that the law would be similar to the one passed in South Africa in 1950 and would give the Government powers to detain communists without trial.

WIDESPREAD SURPRISE has been expressed in London and elsewhere in the British Commonwealth when Mr. James Callaghan's speech to the House of Commons on July 1 was received. It was not only the substance of the speech but also the manner in which it was delivered that surprised political observers. Though he is a cabinet minister, Callaghan's speech was given in the style of a schoolboy, one of those nervous, unselfish and somewhat stilted performances which are the hallmark of the young politician. It was the manner of his speech, rather than the content, that attracted the attention of the British press. Mr. Callaghan's speech was a masterpiece of self-control and restraint. He did not mention Rhodesia, nor did he mention the Rhodesian crisis. He did not mention the Rhodesian crisis, nor did he mention the Rhodesian crisis. He did not mention the Rhodesian crisis, nor did he mention the Rhodesian crisis. He did not mention the Rhodesian crisis, nor did he mention the Rhodesian crisis.

THE days when our fathers used to travel long distances on foot are gone. The horse-cart, the ox-wagon and the meandering dirt tracks have been superseded by a fast mode of travelling, making travelling a luxury. Moreover, the progress that has taken place in towns is dramatic. Shanty dwellings have been replaced by a fast mode of multi-storey residential flats and modern skyscrapers.

These changes are more rapid in construction than those elsewhere and roads and air services are being given a multi-storey residential flats and modern skyscrapers.

Moreover, the progress that has taken place in towns is dramatic. Shanty dwellings and slums have given or are giving way to multi-storey residential flats and soaring skyscrapers.

These changes are more reflected in construction through structures and roads, and to some extent roads than anywhere else. Yet, such a small number of Kenyans realize who are responsible for directing the construction of these buildings, roads, and dams made possible by the discipline of the Ministry of Works, Materials and Transport. The Ministry of Works, Materials and Transport is an agency which has been established as a result of the merger of the former departments of Works, Materials and Transport, and the former Ministry of Works and Transport.

VICTORY AT THE CARD TABLE FOR KENYANS IN ZAMBIA

KENYANS seem to be going from strength to strength in the sporting field as events in games where the green on which they play is haime and not grass. The latest triumph was won on the Bridge table.

A Kenya Bridge Association Team consisting of Homan, Berggaard, Amund and Tegner made a successful visit to Kitale, Zambia, last weekend. They emerged convincing winners of the Central African Teams of Four Contest which was run on a League basis with six teams. The Kenya team is said to have been made at the start of the contest.

What goes into the New NO-BUG Aerosol Spray to make it the most professional insect-killer on the market today?

EXPERIENCE

The New NO-BUG Aerosol Spray has been specially formulated to do a particular job—to destroy flies, mosquitoes, moths, bed bugs, ants and other household insects at the touch of a button. Quite apart from the instantaneous action, NO-BUG also has a "residual" effect by regular spraying in cracks, crevices, cupboards and corners. It actually prevents these insects breeding. The New NO-BUG Aerosol Spray is simple and economical to use in either of the three handy aerosol cans. It costs far less than any other insecticide you could buy. NO-BUG is clean and pleasant-smelling—perfumed with Apple Blossom. It leaves a gentle and lingering fragrance around your home.

Rise and fall of an African imperialism

BY PETER MACDONALD
OF THE SPECTATOR, by Donald R. Morris
(London, Cape, S.A.)

THE present political temper of the British Empire is to secure Africans of imperialism. The British Empire is to be dismantled in a series of attempts for British imperialism.

Mr. Morrison's book, "The Making of the Empire," covers the rise and fall of the British Empire. It is a history of the British Empire, from its beginnings to its present state. It is a book that should be read by all who are interested in the history of the British Empire.

The book is divided into three parts. The first part deals with the rise of the British Empire. The second part deals with the fall of the British Empire. The third part deals with the present state of the British Empire.

The book is written in a clear and concise style. It is a book that is easy to read and that is interesting to read. It is a book that should be read by all who are interested in the history of the British Empire.

NAVAL WAR OF L. TANGANYIKA

BY MICHAEL ROE
UTMOST FISH, by Hugh Wray McCain
(Hemel Hempstead, 25/-)

THE title of this novel is inspired by a phrase used by torpedo boat commanders in the First World War and meaning "Launch all torpedoes simultaneously at the target". The then First Lord of the Admiralty adopted the expression to indicate that something should be put into effect urgently.

The First Lord was of course, Lord Jellicoe and "Utmost Fish" is a suggestion that two Royal Navy motor boats be transported overland through the Congo to Lake Tanganyika to neutralise the German vessels controlling the lake and underlying the British operations in German East Africa.

Mr. Morrison makes a number of mistakes. A number of mistakes in the process of colonisation and imperial expansion, and a number of mistakes in the process of the war.

The book is written in a clear and concise style. It is a book that is easy to read and that is interesting to read. It is a book that should be read by all who are interested in the history of the British Empire.

When the English lost the day

THE NORMAN CONQUEST by Dorothy Whitelock, David C. Douglas, and Charles H. Johnson and Frank Barlow (London, Faber and Faber, 1954, 21/-)

It could be called the Norman Conquest. The Normans have each described a different moment of the battle and the events that led to it and the profound effect it had on subsequent British history.

The account of the battle by the author is a masterpiece of military history. It gives a complete picture of the battle, from the beginning to the end. It is a book that is easy to read and that is interesting to read.

The book is written in a clear and concise style. It is a book that is easy to read and that is interesting to read. It is a book that should be read by all who are interested in the history of the British Empire.

ONE-DAY WONDER - FASHION CHOICE OF A LIFETIME

by EIRTH TEAGUE

A WEDDING gown is the most important fashion choice a girl ever has to make. The dress may be worn for only a few hours, but its sets the scene for the romantic, sentimental occasions. It is worn by the bride and her bridesmaids - of relatives and friends who go to the church and reception, and in years to come brings back treasured memories in pictures in the family album.

Traditional views of something stylish? For some fashions have to wait the weeks before the fashion shows and the Indian bride has the dress of her dream made from Britain and brought to her by the bride's family or by the bride's protective arms of lace for the journey to wherever wedding is planned.

We talk about a traditional British gown, but even the classic flowing dress does take a change of design and a fresh look at every two years.

British textile manufacturers are again favoring the traditional gown, but the materials that will be chosen are lighter, softer and more comfortable. The traditional type of heavier lace is being replaced with new materials. With these new materials, many new styles are being introduced.

One specialist in wedding gowns also tells that one of the new 1948 designs with wide waisted neck. Applied crystal and sequin outlines the Empire line and is placed around the graceful neckline. The same decorative detail is placed around the waistline and down the length of the dress.

Another of London's leading gown designers has said that she will be working with a gown in a blouse and skirt style. The blouse will have a wide collar and a full skirt. The skirt will be made of a light fabric and will have a full skirt.

White Empire brides for the new season have a new style of dress. The dress is made of a light fabric and has a wide collar and a full skirt. The skirt will be made of a light fabric and will have a full skirt.

Some brides, planning an unusual wedding, are turning to London for inspiration. A bride who is planning a wedding in London will have a gown that is made of a light fabric and has a wide collar and a full skirt.

Where attention is centered on a wide full skirt and gown with delicate lace, the bride's gown will have a wide collar and a full skirt.

A bride-to-be expert says that for 1948 brides, the gown will have a wide collar and a full skirt. The skirt will be made of a light fabric and will have a full skirt.

Sports spoiled by rigidity

WHY does the Voice of Kenya have to be so rigid over its programme schedule? A little bit of imagination and flexibility would save the listener a lot of frustration, and V.O.K. a lot of criticism.

By ROGER HOWE

There was a classic case of mental inflexibility in a radio station last Friday when the V.O.K. sports programme was cancelled because of a technical difficulty. The station's management was so rigid that it refused to make any adjustments for the technical problem.

CHANCE OF WINNING VALUABLE PRIZES IN OCEAN TRAVEL WEEK

NEXT week is Ocean Travel Week and a wide variety of events have been arranged to mark the occasion, some of them carrying valuable prizes, such as sea cruises.

This supplement is designed to draw attention to what ocean travel has to offer in days when the pleasures of leisurely voyaging are too often forgotten. The position was recently summed up in a leader, on the call of the sea, in The Times. It said:—

"A sea voyage used to be a means of getting somewhere else also happened (for most people) to be pleasant, now it is something pleasant because it has become a means of getting somewhere else."

Cruises have much that is absent in other forms of travel. There is the fascination of visiting new and exciting places, the romance of dancing an deck beneath the stars, the fun of games without the tedium of board life, the time to enjoy great food, film shows and the sort of beautiful life that is a tonic in itself.

An added attraction is that the basic cost is all inclusive. Once you have bought your ticket there is no worry about if one's holiday money will be sufficient.

Here are the main events of Ocean Travel Week—

Ocean Travel Fashion Show at Nairobi City Hall gardens. Entry is supported by the British Cable and is in aid of the Babina Road Children's Clinic. One of the attractive prizes will be a free weekend.

Ocean Travel Competitions at Jamhuri Park run by the East African House Sports Club. Entrance organized by the Lions Club in aid of Dagoretti Children's Home. Best private entry wins two first-class return tickets to Britain and other prizes include a weekend at the Ansett Hotel, Mombasa.

Photographic Competition in cooperation with British-Ceylon Post to mark the 10th anniversary of the 1953-54 tour to Mauritius by the Queen Elizabeth. The first prize will be a weekend at the Ansett Hotel, Mombasa. The second prize will be a weekend at the Ansett Hotel, Mombasa. The third prize will be a weekend at the Ansett Hotel, Mombasa.

Travel Agency Competition in which the winners will give a weekend at the Ansett Hotel, Mombasa. The second prize will be a weekend at the Ansett Hotel, Mombasa. The third prize will be a weekend at the Ansett Hotel, Mombasa.

... the beginning of a perfect day, with nothing ahead but the rest of a new world. Walk, perhaps, another cup of coffee...

Memo to company directors

WHEN cartoonists sketch the business traveller, they depict him for him as a bedridden creature spending all his energy getting from A to B in the minimum amount of time. The cartoonists have an air of truth about it. In many cases, the business traveller in Britain, for example, is forced into a perfunctory trip to the continent, not to see his clients, but to see his clients' clients. It is understandable, therefore, that when the tourist is asked to travel, he is asked to travel in a way that is as comfortable as possible. The most important factor in this is the speed of travel. The most important factor in this is the speed of travel. The most important factor in this is the speed of travel.

With all the exceptional benefits of speed, speed and speed, the most important factor in this is the speed of travel. The most important factor in this is the speed of travel. The most important factor in this is the speed of travel.

DELIGHTS THAT ARE MISSED IN THE SUPERSONIC AGE

IN the days before modern travellers had the time to stand and stare and the parts of call where they enjoyed doing so.

Edward Rowland Hill, the author of The Days of the Super-sonic Age, recalls the days when modern travellers had the time to stand and stare and the parts of call where they enjoyed doing so.

It is a pity that in today's super-sonic age, the days when modern travellers had the time to stand and stare and the parts of call where they enjoyed doing so.

SHAW SAVILL Around the world—in 75 days

THE Northern Star and Southern Cross of the Shaw Savill Line are unique ships having been designed and built for the trade they serve, and for passengers only.

As no one is content to travel on their "Breadline World" itineraries without the luxury of a first class cabin, the design of these ships was to provide a service of the highest class in addition to providing a comfortable and relaxing holiday.

Northern Star only requires 10 days to sail from London to the Cape Islands, then to South Africa and Australian ports in New Zealand, a return voyage to the Pacific then back to the Atlantic. Southern Cross only requires 10 days to sail from London to the Cape Islands, then to South Africa and Australian ports in New Zealand, a return voyage to the Pacific then back to the Atlantic.

By the mid-thirteenth century the Union Steamship Co. B'ly already operated a mail service between Britain and South Africa, and in 1811 the British Government was granted a monopoly for the service via the West Coast of Africa.

When Sir Charles G. Darwin visited the East African coast in 1845, he was the first to suggest that a service be established between the Cape and the East African coast. This was done in 1847 when the Union Steamship Co. was formed to operate a service between the Cape and the East African coast.

UNION CASTLE The Union Castle service was established in 1847. The first ship to sail from the Cape to the East African coast was the Union Castle.

The Union Steamship Co. built in 1914 was the first ship to be specially designed for East African service. The ship, the Union Castle, was built in 1914 and was the first ship to be built for the East African coast.

Italian vessels put emphasis on speed

UP to 1897, the Lloyd Trieste was flying at the East Mediterranean. Indian and Far Eastern ports. Then, the Lloyd Trieste Shipping Company, having the reputation of a communications between Europe and Africa, decided to start a regular service between the Atlantic and South Africa.

LLOYD TRIESTINO In April, 1897, the ship Pollara was commissioned to sail from Genoa to Cape Town, via the East African coast. The ship was the first to sail from Genoa to Cape Town via the East African coast.

YEARS OF SERVICE TO EAST AFRICAN PORTS

days recalled by names in old sailing lists

IN almost 100 years British India Steam Navigation Co. ships have carried travellers to and from East Africa. It was in 1872 that the company was first to open the trade by opening a sea route between Aden and Zanzibar. Since a monthly scheduled service has been operating and the company has been able to view the East African coast from the air.

The B.I. ships will give the route between East Africa and Britain. The passenger lists will have changed from steamships to motorships. There are now 100 passenger-carrying ships registered in the East African trade. The B.I. ships are now 100 years old and designed to provide an efficient service to East Africa and Europe and which contains the services of a greater line and the primary use of passenger-carrying ships.

Action promised on exploitation of tenants

MEASURES were under way to end the "exploitation of tenants by unscrupulous landlords", the Minister for Housing, Ngezi, disclosed at a Nairobi Press conference. He was replying to a question that rent restrictions in any form was no solution to the housing problem.

The Minister went on: "My Ministry appreciates that unwise rent policy can have a disruptive effect on the development of housing in a country, but at the same time it must be realised that there has been considerable public outcry against unscrupulous exploitation of tenants by unscrupulous landlords."

There must be provision to protect the people, especially families from unnecessary evictions. It is recognised that the primary responsibility of the Government is to provide the housing programme to invest part of their earnings in home-ownership schemes, and by fostering the formation of housing societies, savings and loan associations aimed at increasing the total capital available for housing."

WILLING TO COLLABORATE

Mr Ngezi said that during this financial year the Government was providing K1,500,000 towards new housing schemes. The Government had also established in collaboration with the Commonwealth Development Corporation the new Housing Finance Company of Kenya which was now giving loans to citizens of this country to purchase their own houses.

AIR PACTS TO BE DRAWN UP

The East African Civil Servants Organisation has agreed to make a study of the housing problem and to submit a report to the Government.

FIVE MINISTERS TO BE FREED

Appeal Court says detention illegal

The Uganda former Ministers, held under the Deportation Ordinance a month ago, should be released, it was decided by the Appeal Court for Eastern Africa. The court reversed the High Court Ruling that their detention was valid, and ordered their release on their behalf for 'habes corpus' should be issued.

The Uganda High Court previously decided that the detention of the five Ministers, arrested last month, was valid under the Ordinance. The Appeal Court yesterday said the Ordinance was inconsistent with the human rights provisions in the 1962 Uganda Constitution.

The arrested Ministers are Mr. Grace Ibingira, Mr. George Mugeru, Dr. F. B. S. Lumu, Mr. Balaki Kinya and Mr. M. N. Njagi. They have all been awarded costs of the appeal. Orders were made for their deportation, and each was ordered to be restricted to a different location in the Northern and Eastern Regions.

The appeal was heard by the President of the Court of Appeal, Mr. Charles de Lintfort, with Mr. Justice J. S. Jay and Mr. Justice E. J. Law. They said the appeal was concerned with a question regarded as void, because it was inconsistent with the provisions of the 1962 Constitution which related to fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual.

They stated that at the time of the original hearing, no objection had been made by the Minister responsible for the law, and the former Ministers should be released.

Restriction not authorised

"It is so clear that whatever the Minister's intention might eventually be, the appellants could properly be held in custody if a valid, clear restriction was capable of being made. If the Ordinance was void as inconsistent with the Constitution, then clearly their detention, whether the executive order, restriction paper was being issued, would be illegal."

The Appeal Court held that the introduction of the 1962 Constitution, with the provision for fundamental freedoms, had the effect of abrogating the Ordinance. It also held that the relevant sections of the 1962 Constitution were not in force at the time of the appeal.

Maize inquiry findings accepted

AFTER considering the report of the Maize Commission of Inquiry, the Kenya Government yesterday said it accepted the findings on various allegations and measures were being taken to prevent a recurrence.

The Government had already implemented some of the recommendations, others would be put into effect soon, while a number would require long-term study. The suggestions on prices had been accepted in principle. The Government statement said:

"The Government has already implemented some of the recommendations of the Commission. These include: the investigation of those of the marketing boards dealing with surplus grain under the marketing board with a view to setting up a maize farm to farm as has been suggested."

"Various other recommendations have also been accepted. These include: the setting up of an inquiry into the maize marketing board, and the investigation of the maize marketing board with a view to setting up a maize farm to farm as has been suggested."

"The Commission's recommendations on the present maize marketing board structure, the marketing board and the maize industry are being accepted in principle."

"The Commission's findings on the maize marketing board structure, the marketing board and the maize industry are being accepted in principle. The Government would like to see the results of the inquiry into the maize marketing board structure, the marketing board and the maize industry as being accepted in principle."

ZAMBIA ORDERS TEAM TO PULL OUT OF GAMES

ZAMBIA announced yesterday it would not take part in the Commonwealth Games in Jamaica next month.

An official statement said the decision had been taken in pursuance of Government policy. The Zambia President Kenneth Kaunda said the team would not be sent to Jamaica.

The statement said the decision was taken because of the political situation in Jamaica. The Zambia team had been selected to compete at the Commonwealth Games in Jamaica next month.

LONDON PRICES DRIFT

INDUSTRIALS drifted a few pence in the London Stock Market after the one per cent rise in the Bank Rate and a fall for higher bank deposits from the banks, British funds, which changed overall all-day, but remained and shorts were active on lines of bank selling.

Bank Rate announcement still quoted on strong reaction, the market having been well prepared for a change after the half week of steady advance. The call for higher bank deposits from the banks was short and medium giro were active, but the increased demand on bank selling.

Some market quarters were very hot looking for further Government action to reduce the rates, and the market was very active. Temporary decline might act in the near future.

MESSANGER FOILS SPY PLOT IN U.S.

A U.S. double agent who helped plans to plant a spy device in a State Department office in Washington, has been presented with a salary rise of around £200 a year and has been recommended for a State Department honor award.

Mr. Frank John McKinnon, a Kenyan-born double agent, who worked in the department as a messenger, gave an outline of his five years as double agent in a spy device which he planted in Washington. He had been working as a spy device which he planted in the office of Mr. Raymond L. Davis, Director of Eastern European Affairs.

The messenger pointed out that he was not a spy, but a double agent who was working for the U.S. Government. He said that he had been working for the U.S. Government for five years and had been recommended for a State Department honor award.

Kenya's own law school trains legal minds for country's needs

For less than 18 months, Kenya should have 100 first legally trained graduates. It is Mr. John M. Gadhafi, one of the students at the Government Law School of Law in Nairobi.

Law in 1962 is now called Kenyan law. It is based on British law, and from 1962 to 1965 more or less to be modified by the Kenyan courts. Among the law books used by Kenya's law students are the works of Mr. Justice Gadhafi, Mr. Justice M. Gadhafi, and Mr. Justice M. Gadhafi.

EMBO de SILVA decries one of the ways in which Kenya is working towards a 'home-grown' professional cadre.

standard to new recruits' (that the curriculum, including the common law, is to be taught in English, and that the students should be trained to work with the courts of law).

The Part I examination, after which he is awarded a certificate, is a preliminary test of the student's ability to do a legal job. It is a preliminary test of the student's ability to do a legal job. It is a preliminary test of the student's ability to do a legal job.

It is on the other hand, he has already served as an advocate's clerk for at least a year, but may not have the required educational standards to do the course in only three years.

New system

There have been many changes since then. The school has grown much larger — from 10 to 25 — and the curriculum has been revised. It is now a three-year course, and the students are now trained to work with the courts of law.

Three of the three women law students, Mrs. Joyce Khamugwa, right, and Mrs. Amungu, left, who may become Kenya's first African women lawyers.

Informal discussion can be as valuable as formal tuition. New students talk over a knotty problem after class.

STUDY IN 'ATMOSPHERE OF THE LAW'

There are 87 students at Kenya Government law school, which is itself an outgrowth of the Government's Attorney-General's office. It is a preliminary test of the student's ability to do a legal job. It is a preliminary test of the student's ability to do a legal job.

Learning to be an advocate requires more than the ability of an appointed legal adviser who makes his mark through a brilliant series of military or political campaigns in speech at after-dinner dinners and many awards. In this way they get a good start in the art of expressing themselves forcefully and convincingly — something which is every lawyer's weapon in the court of law. In addition, all first-year students take Advanced English as a subject.

Evening talks

Distinguished speakers representing different fields of the law are frequently invited to give evening lectures to students. These evening lectures give students an opportunity to learn about the various branches of the law. The Principal pointed out.

There are also other lecturers, such as the Hon. Justice M. Gadhafi, who is the Chief Justice of Kenya, and the Hon. Justice M. Gadhafi, who is the Chief Justice of Kenya.

Although the residential quarters are comfortable and well equipped — with rain water supply and electric lighting — the school is still a very simple one.

Better buy BELFORD

BEDFORD leads in Diesel design

Bedford's new Diesel engines are the most powerful and economical in their class. They are designed to give you the most out of every gallon of fuel.

SEE YOUR BEDFORD AT

In Engineering leadership the pacemaker is BEDFORD

Bedford vehicles invite your expert and exacting comparison of every detail with any rival make. Petrol or Diesel, there's a vehicle or chassis to suit every purpose.

NORMAL OR FORWARD CONTROL. You can have whichever you prefer. The Bedford forward control is way ahead of rival designs. It offers ease of access to the engine and the ability to carry out adjustments under cover and with the engine running. The Bedford forward control design actually improves servicing accessibility.

ENGINES FOR THE JOB give the Bedford range the best on-all counts.

There is a wide range of petrol and diesel power units available for Bedfords. Each and every engine is the outcome of many years of practical experience on an international scale.

Our design engineers have listened and learnt. They set out to give the fleet operator exactly what he wants: dependability, economy of operation and maximum availability of service and spares.

Beauty in the Twenties

The hair is the most important thing in a woman's appearance. It is the crown of her head and the frame of her face. It should be kept in good health and made to grow as fast as possible. It should be washed daily with a mild soap and rinsed with clean water. It should be dried in the shade and combed with a wide-toothed comb. It should be styled with a hair brush and a hair cream or hair oil.

BRITAIN MAKES STUDENTS FROM ABROAD 'AT HOME'

by BETTY VERNON

STUDENT life in a strange country can be both lonely and baffling — for women especially, though it can be made more enjoyable by having at least a third of them from Africa and the Caribbean in Britain on full-time courses. It can be seen that such welfare alone cannot solve the problem. Most students lack pre-university or undergraduate courses, but post-graduate work continues to increase, the students remain for periods varying from six months to four years.

Courses open to both men and women with the necessary qualifications, are given at technical colleges, polytechnics and universities. The latter usually have a Department of Education, offering courses for a wide range of students who do not have the necessary qualifications for university or college courses.

Language problem

"Linguistic difficulties" as one student observes, "was given a mighty handicap to the way I do my studies".

Various language classes, including free conversation classes (in which you are able to discuss the language with a native speaker), are available by universities and polytechnics.

Living accommodation can be a great worry. Wherever you are, it is essential to have a roof over your head and a bed to sleep on. In many cases, the student has to find their own accommodation, but some universities and polytechnics offer student accommodation.

recommended by their national authorities, the British Council Overseas Students' Officers are now in the process of establishing a system of night classes and evening courses in the use of the English language.

But a permanent solution may be less easy, since governments have their own limited financial resources. Other-wise, apart from embassies, consulates, students clubs or religious bodies, there were few major sources of administrative help for the various categories of students.

The official International Council House on Regent's Park, London (formed in 1927) has had an important role to play in providing study facilities in most principal universities both of the United Kingdom and of the Commonwealth. It also provides financial assistance for many of the students.

Beyond studies

A student's health and personal life are also important. Many students have difficulty in adjusting to the new environment. Some students are lonely, and some are homesick. It is important to have a good support system.

Confidence is also built up as the student becomes familiar with the selection of material. One college had a set of colour transparencies which analyse the contents and use of a library, and explain the function of a card index.

Health can be a matter of concern. All students are therefore urged to register with a doctor under the National Health Service (which has a card as proof that they have a claim on the service).

Telepathy—possibly next candidate for 'respectability'

By JOHN ROBERTS

THE INFINITE WAVE, by Ronald Haywood (Penguin Paper). POWERS THAT BE, by Beverly Sills (Corgi 24s).

THESE two books have been a significant advance in man's knowledge of his universe which has been fought tooth and nail by reason and common sense. In the latter days of the 19th century, the scientific method was applied to the study of the mind, and the results were astounding. It is now the duty of the scientist to apply the scientific method to the study of the mind, and the results will be equally astounding. The scientific method is the only way to find out the truth, and the scientific method is the only way to find out the truth.

One can only assume that the scientific method is the only way to find out the truth, and the scientific method is the only way to find out the truth. The scientific method is the only way to find out the truth, and the scientific method is the only way to find out the truth.

These two books are interesting in that they show the scientific method being applied to the study of the mind. The scientific method is the only way to find out the truth, and the scientific method is the only way to find out the truth.

One-House pan delays voters' register

COMPLETION of a new voters' roll in Kenya would be delayed a year or more to await the amalgamation of the two Houses of Parliament. Provisional Councils said the report of the commission on the structure of local government, the Attorney-General, Mr. Njoro, said yesterday.

Mr. Njoro said that a conference in Nairobi that discussions would be held between the Government and Kenya Senators on the position of a new register of voters. Minutes were not due to be discussed in April this year. He said that the Government was making for the amendments were being made for the compilation of a new register of voters. I mentioned at the same time that work on this register was to start in May.

NECESSARY TO POSTPONE JOB

Executive Members of the National Assembly voted their assent on April 20 to a fresh mandate from the voters.

Three both the Government and the Members concerned were keen to have by-elections in 1960 as possible. It was found necessary to postpone work on the new register until this year because the time could not be done simultaneously.

During the discussion, the Executive Committee was asked by the Senate to postpone work on the register until this year because the time could not be done simultaneously.

NO KIBUKO WAS ONLY EVIDENCE OF DEATH

A SUEK alleged to have been strangled by a fellow inmate might in fact have been killed by his own hands, the Court of Appeal has held today.

The Eastern Africa was told yesterday when Leo Latal, appeared in Nairobi to fight a death sentence.

Leo Latal, the 32-year-old Kenyan, had transferred the State to the court. He was charged with the murder of a fellow inmate, who was said to be 'seen to have been killed'.

The court heard that Latal had been found with the body of the victim in a cell. The State's case was that Latal had strangled the victim with a piece of cloth.

Mr. Njoro retained his place of Opposition but an article of the Constitution was amended. Some provisions, they also be amended.

Up to now we have not had any amendments. The P.M. did not know how they would be amended.

New hospital scheme for all Kenyans

Details of Kenya's new National Hospital Insurance Scheme were announced today in Nairobi, when the scheme's outline was explained by the Minister of Health, Dr. Joseph N. Mbatia.

The scheme is designed to provide a comprehensive system of health care for all Kenyans, covering both inpatient and outpatient services.

Dr. Mbatia stated that the scheme would be financed through a combination of government funds and contributions from employers and employees.

The scheme would cover a wide range of medical services, including hospitalization, surgery, and the purchase of medicines.

It would also provide for the training of health personnel and the development of health facilities in rural areas.

The scheme is expected to be implemented in stages, starting with the urban population and extending to rural areas in the future.

COURT MARTIAL AFTER ARREST ATTEMPT

Standard Star Reporter

AFTER President Obote's disclosure of an alleged move by Sir Edward Mutesa, the Kabaka of Buganda, to send a military report to Great Britain, the President in a statement on events in Uganda, published in reply to two articles attributed to Sir Edward Mutesa in a British Sunday newspaper.

President Obote's statement, published in the Standard Star, was a direct response to the articles in the Sunday newspaper, which had accused the President of a coup d'état in Uganda.

The President stated that the articles were "a gross distortion of the facts" and that he had taken the necessary steps to ensure the stability of the government.

He also mentioned that he had received a report from Sir Edward Mutesa, the Kabaka of Buganda, regarding the possibility of a military intervention in Uganda.

The President emphasized that the Ugandan government was committed to democracy and the rule of law, and that it would not tolerate any form of military dictatorship.

Progress with setbacks in Tanzania

NEWS progress has been made in Tanzania, but setbacks have been encountered in the process of nationalisation.

The National Assembly has approved a bill to nationalise the banks in Tanzania, which is a significant step towards the country's economic independence.

However, the process of nationalisation has not been without setbacks. There have been delays in the implementation of the nationalisation program, and some of the banks have been reluctant to transfer their assets to the government.

The government has taken steps to address these setbacks, including the appointment of a special committee to investigate the delays and the implementation of measures to encourage the banks to cooperate with the nationalisation process.

Despite these setbacks, the government remains committed to the nationalisation program, and it is expected that the process will be completed in the near future.

WHEN RHINOS WERE COMMON AS BUCK

Story of Starebe

The weekly series of nature notes, ANTHONY KERRY discusses how the black rhino is facing extinction and sees a glimmer of hope through the gloom.

The wilder side of life

It has not been long since the black rhino was a common sight in the bush. It was hunted for its horns and its hide. The rhino was once a common sight in the bush. It was hunted for its horns and its hide. The rhino was once a common sight in the bush. It was hunted for its horns and its hide. The rhino was once a common sight in the bush. It was hunted for its horns and its hide.

For many years, the black rhino was a common sight in the bush. It was hunted for its horns and its hide. The rhino was once a common sight in the bush. It was hunted for its horns and its hide.

Although the Centre has been successful in its efforts to conserve the rhino, the future is still uncertain. The Centre has been successful in its efforts to conserve the rhino, the future is still uncertain.

Keep outside knowledge. Technical schools should be encouraged to offer courses in rhino conservation.

U.A.R. TO PLAY TWO 'TESTS' IN KENYA

Hockey tourists arrive next Monday

K ENYA will play two "test" matches against the United Arab Emirates touring hockey team, it was revealed yesterday. Originally it had been planned to have one test match. The first matches will be played on Tuesday, July 19, and Saturday, July 21. On Thursday, July 17, the tourists arrived with play a Kenya Hockey Union President's XI.

The tourists arrive in Nairobi on Monday from Dar es Salaam for a seven-day stay and then fly to Kisumu on Tuesday July 14. There are 16 players and three officials in the party. The national players are Gashoggi, Ebrahim Alshabi (captain), Isah, Mahomed, Hamed, and El Fakhri. Back-up players are Samson and Rashed, and El Fakhri. Head Coach Ahmad Hamada (Iraq), G. Fawzi El Gharbi and Harish Mohamed (Iraq), Y. V. Nandi, manager, M. Kiani, Rashed, coach, M. Kiani, Rashed, coach.

The East African Standard hockey correspondent writes: "Even though the visitors remain as token lightening bolts, their experience gives them excellent prospects against India and Pakistan recently. They have a good opportunity for Kenya to sport victories which will be considered for their Olympic Games in Mexico and elsewhere. The U.A.R. players are Ebrahim Alshabi, in possession of the world and Olympic medals, and Hamed, El Fakhri, El Maryy are also players of high calibre. The visitors comprise a heavy international side."

No division despite K.P.U. opposition

Kenya's innovation of powers conferred by the new Constitution of Public Security Act has arisen from the activities of people who are acting in a subversive manner...

These people had to be controlled and the best way to do so was to use the powers available through the Act, Mr. Moi said.

Approval of the Order was also sought from the Senate, which will debate the question today.

Mr. Moi pointed out that Parliamentary approval was given within 24 days of the Order being made.

He added that approval had been made obligatory because the sections of the Act concerned could affect citizens.

The O.P. Order and the special provisions of the Act, must be made effective immediately.

Mr. G. O. Odaga (K.P.U.) asked the Government whether it had any intention of amending the Order.

Mr. Odinga said that the Government had no intention of amending the Order.

UNSETTLED OUTLOOK MARS CITY RECOVERY

THE London stock market was a little unsettled throughout the week, with the industrial list on small gains, but the public buying from the market was not so strong as in the previous week. The market was generally steady, with a rebound rally in the afternoon.

However, most professional investors were taking a rather more cautious view and some doubt was expressed as to whether there was a fundamental support was in evidence.

Uganda Army court set up illegally

Standard Staff Reporter
Kampala.
The general court martial which opened in Kampala on Wednesday was yesterday found to have been illegally constituted and the convening order to have been illegal.

This was announced by the Judge Advocate-General, Mr. Roy Barber, when the court sat more than an hour later. Mr. Barber told the court: "Since the court was convened by a convening order, I have been considering the precedents and the authority of that order. The authority of that order is that the court martial is being held in the presence of the commanding officer of the unit concerned, the convening officer, and a number of other officers of the unit concerned. ### Transport problems come all shapes and sizes so do Volkswagens.

You might not see a vehicle like this one in your area, but you can get it. Volkswagen has a wide range of transport vehicles to suit your needs. Whether you need a small van for city driving or a large bus for long-distance travel, Volkswagen has the solution. Contact your local Volkswagen dealer for more information.

Something else comes along with all the Volkswagens, and it's a proven dependability.

Prohibitioners improving

When the tourists visit Nairobi National Park, just who watches who? The one-horned island (above) at Lake Curlew takes more than a passing interest in the visitor, while the expression on the face of the Thomson's Gazelle is hard to decipher. It might be termed "head-wag" glances.

Help keep death off Kenya's roads

Everyone who drives has a responsibility to keep the roads safe. This is especially true in Kenya, where the roads are often in poor condition. By using Tumpeco, you can help to keep the roads safe and reduce the risk of accidents. Tumpeco is a high-quality road marking material that is easy to apply and lasts for a long time. Contact your local Tumpeco dealer for more information.

One of the best ways to improve road safety is to use reflective materials. Reflective materials are used to mark roads and to make them more visible at night. This helps to reduce the number of accidents and to keep the roads safe. Reflective materials are used to mark roads and to make them more visible at night. It takes a thousand miles to serve dinner in a Qantas Jet. This is how far you will fly between the hours of departure and the coffee, enjoying the finest food and the best Australian wines while cruising at 40,000 feet. The meals will be served on the white kitchen benches which are cleaned and polished with a gold-brass metal. The air stewardesses are given special training to present a service. "Is your dinner ready?" You, as the drink is poured, put the plate and the glass on the table and hand the water. The air stewardess will be a beauty, and you will be a beauty, when the flight is over. The full routine of the regular flight. The Passenger Service building at Sydney is the largest in the world, and the first computerized building. It is equipped to cater for the most demanding passengers and providing each of them with three meals and refreshments every day. The daily flights leave Sydney at 10.30 a.m. and arrive in London at 10.30 p.m. The flight is a non-stop service, and the flight is a non-stop service.

THE best thing about this book—the title—was the time for the rest of it is an irrelevant trawling through a peculiarly English language, as if of a Great Slave event.

Another group of slave children safe in Kenya

Another group of 1500 youths yesterday returned from "slave labour" and told the Kenya Minister for Labour, Dr. K. N. Kiwo, they were still in the Arusha, Moshi and Tanga areas.

The children, three of whom were under 14, were handed over by the Tanzania Police to the District Commissioner, K. Babo, and were yesterday welcomed in Nairobi by Dr. Kiwo, whose Ministry is making arrangements through the National Youth Service for their return home to Kenya.

Dr. Kiwo said their release had been effected as a result of further efforts and cooperation between the Kenya and Tanzania Governments.

The Kenya Government is deeply appreciative of the efforts of the Tanzania Government in helping to repatriate Kenyan youths working there. He added: "While the Ministry of Labour will keep a vigilant eye on the illegal employment of Kenyan youths in other countries, it calls upon Kenyan parents to continue helping to identify and rescue their children and supporting repatriation efforts."

'THIS EVIL PRACTICE'

He also said he would not allow Kenyan youths to attempt to halt this practice.

The Kenya met the youths at the National Youth Centre in Nairobi to arrange for their transportation. They gave names and addresses of persons who recruited them into forced labour, and said they would have escaped when police came to the camp where they were held in Arusha District.

The boys said they never received wages for their work there. They carried gunny bags and wooden nutcrackers to the camp where they were held, and used them as bedding and furniture.

Dr. Kiwo said he was extremely shocked that Kenyan youths should have taken these children into forced labour in their own country.

He advised the Government to take steps to ensure that Kenyan youths should have taken these children into forced labour in their own country.

HOW TO LOSE WEIGHT FAST and still eat 3 full meals a day

Now that summer is here, you've probably thought about going on a diet. You know, you've tried diets before, but they don't seem to work. You've tried fasting, but you get so hungry you eat more than you should. You've tried taking medicine, but it doesn't seem to help. Well, now there's a new way to lose weight. It's called PROXINOL. It's a new, safe, effective medicine that helps you burn off extra calories. You can eat three full meals a day, and you'll still lose weight. It's a miracle! It's a breakthrough! It's the answer to your weight problem!

PROXINOL

How Proxinol works: Proxinol acts on the metabolic rate of the body, increasing the rate at which calories are burned. This means that you can eat three full meals a day, and your body will burn off the extra calories. You'll feel better, and you'll lose weight. It's a safe, effective way to lose weight. It's a miracle! It's a breakthrough! It's the answer to your weight problem!

SENATE CALL TO ABOLISH ALL GOAN BODIES

A MOTION calling for the abolition of a number of Goan organizations and for Government action to be taken against officers of the organizations who were promoting Portuguese influence in Kerala had been introduced by the Minister for the Goan Territories, Mr. J. M. Jeyarajasingham, yesterday. He asked the members to withdraw the motion.

The motion, moved by Mr. J. M. Jeyarajasingham, called for the abolition of the Goan Chamber of Commerce, the Goan Chamber of Industry, the Goan Chamber of Agriculture, the Goan Chamber of Education, the Goan Chamber of Science, the Goan Chamber of Arts and Crafts, the Goan Chamber of Music and Drama, the Goan Chamber of Sports and Recreation, and the Goan Chamber of Social Welfare.

Mr. Jeyarajasingham said that the Goan Chamber of Commerce was a body which was established in 1946 and which had since that time been engaged in promoting Portuguese influence in Kerala. He said that the Chamber had been a constant reminder to the people of the Goan Territories of the Portuguese presence in their country.

He said that the Chamber had been a constant reminder to the people of the Goan Territories of the Portuguese presence in their country. He said that the Chamber had been a constant reminder to the people of the Goan Territories of the Portuguese presence in their country.

Help keep death off Kenya's roads

Everyone who drives has a particular interest in making sure that his car is safe. He wants to be sure that his car is safe and that he can rely on it. Tampeco is the only car in Kenya that is built to last. It is built to last and it is built to last.

One of the best signs of ensuring that your vehicle are always ready for any task, whether driven on gravel, wet or without tarmac, is the use of 'Hotchkiss Brakes' - the only brakes in Kenya that are built to last. They are built to last and they are built to last.

TAMPECO produced these reliable vehicles in Kenya where they are not required to last for the rest of their useful lives.

THE DAY THE DOG LOST HIS BARK

By SUSAN CARROLL

A TERRIBLE thing had happened. Flash, the farm dog, had lost his bark, and it had to be replaced. He was so good to keep the farm safe and sound, and he was so friendly, and he was so smart. Flash could hear with his ears and see with his eyes, but he could not bark. He was very unhappy.

WHERE ARCHITECTS DESIGN FURNITURE

More chairs every-where! The new chairs designed by Hans J. Wegner are a masterpiece of modern design. They are simple, elegant, and comfortable. The new chairs are made of teak wood and are available in several different styles. They are perfect for the modern home or office.

by JOHN ROBERTS

revolutionary chair design shown in a Danish periodical. It is a chair that is both simple and elegant. It is a chair that is both functional and beautiful. It is a chair that is both modern and timeless.

designing good, functional and pleasing furniture is the aim of Hans J. Wegner. He is a Danish designer who has spent his life in the furniture business. He has designed many of the most famous pieces of furniture in the world. His designs are simple, elegant, and functional.

● Above left: A desk and chairs by Ole Wegner. This design appears to start from the premise that the employer will more than a few bits of paper to file them in a something designed for the purpose.

The array of small drawers which conventional desks proliferate usually end up as super-unnecessary clutter for things which would be better off in the adequate top—the best desk for many purposes, in fact, is really a glorified table.

Prof. Wegner was himself a pupil of Knarr Kilberg. Much of his work shows traces of the classic English design of the past, but it shows a free and personal touch which leads to a combination of simplicity and elegance.

Always: The chair designed by Hans J. Wegner has made him world famous. Wegner is probably the most productive of Danish furniture designers. He is always modern, thoroughly aware of the possibilities of his materials. His partnership with the cabinet-maker Torvald Hansen has built up a considerable export

QUEEN OF MAORIS HERALDS NEW ERA

AFTER five kings, the Maori people of New Zealand have a queen for the first time.

The Queen Te Aho-ti-ahua (Charming Bird) is 40 years old. She is married to a successful Maori businessman. She is the mother of five children. She is a woman of many talents. She is a woman of many virtues.

Such leadership is confidence-inspiring. Her presence in the Maori community is a source of pride and inspiration. She is a woman who has made a name for herself in her own right.

AFRICAN OUTLINE by Paul Robinson (Penguin African Library, 4/30)

MUCH has been written on African books, periodicals and journals with general and occasional books dealing mainly with current political issues or with the life of great leaders.

One of the major reasons for this is the fact that Africa is the most remote of the continents. It is the only one of the continents which is almost entirely landlocked. It is the only one of the continents which is almost entirely surrounded by water. It is the only one of the continents which is almost entirely surrounded by other continents.

THE FIFTIES - AS FAR OFF AS FALL OF ROME

THE FIFTIES, by John Montgomery (Allen and Unwin, 4/30)

WE are still only half-way through the Sixties of this mad century, but it is astonishing to read Mr. Montgomery's book and realize that the events and fashions of a more distant age seem like ancient history.

He has written this history of the fifties in a way that is both entertaining and enlightening. He has done so with a minimum of detail and a maximum of interest.

AFRICAN ART IN BRIEF

INTRODUCTION TO AFRICAN ART, by Sigmund Freud (Allen and Unwin, 4/30)

African art needs to be a bit of ground-clearing before any progress in understanding can be made. It is after all a system that is very different from the art of the West.

Bright pupils must be attracted to technical jobs

Kenya's Minister for Education, Mr. Nyagah, emphasised yesterday that there was no justification whatever for reserving the best pupils for purely academic courses of study.

The Minister, who was speaking at the speech day of the Technical High School, Nairobi, said the country needed more than ever some of the most able young men to apply their abilities to technology and to supply the skill and leadership that Kenya required for its development. There could be no more honourable, more respectable and rewarding vocation than this.

Which trend in view he said the Technical High school as a place where academic and scientific work provided all by side enjoying equal respect and furnishing the needs of all pupils.

Pupils who passed through the school would fall into two main groups — those who proceeded to the Kenya technical and those who went on to advanced level institutions of the University College, Nairobi. Both groups were of equal importance to the economy.

Mr. Nyagah pointed out that some of the most able and brightest talents in the world were unemployed in various parts of the world. They were men who were not afraid to roll up their sleeves and work with their hands at the bench or in the shop.

The increasing emphasis on light and scientific Kenya will be the back-room boys, they are sometimes imagined as being not only in the laboratory but in the workshop, capable of doing thoroughly practical work, writing and applying their manual skills to the practical tasks which the needs of the moment demand.

They were the men that had to be recruited on the spot when the Government was short of men who could do the job. They were the men who were not afraid to get their hands dirty and who were not afraid to get their hands dirty.

Mr. Nyagah said that the Government was not afraid to get their hands dirty and who were not afraid to get their hands dirty.

He said that the Government was not afraid to get their hands dirty and who were not afraid to get their hands dirty.

Standard Staff Reporter, London.

ENGINE-ROOM Artillery Charles Ndlovu of Nyeri, and a yeomanry after the commissioning ceremony in Portsmouth of the Kenya Navy's Patrol Craft Squadron.

"This is a great day for us. In fact, I have never had a day like this before," said Mr. Ndlovu, who was one of the 100 men who were commissioned into the Kenya Navy's Patrol Craft Squadron in Portsmouth, England, yesterday.

Mr. Ndlovu, who is a yeomanry, said that he was very proud to be commissioned into the Kenya Navy. He said that he had been in the Navy for several years and that he had enjoyed his time very much.

Act invoked to buy land for housing

A T request of Nairobi City Council, Kenya's Minister for Lands and Settlements has invoked powers under the Indian Land Acquisition Act of 1954, for the compulsory purchase of 153 acres in Nairobi.

The Minister has appointed Sir Charles Mortimer to carry out the functions of Collector in relation to the land. On August 17, Sir Charles will hold a hearing at City Hall, which should be attended by the land owners, to determine the amount of compensation to be paid.

The invocation of the special powers contained in the Act is a somewhat unusual step to increase the land granted. In the absence of agreement on land value a law has been passed to enable the Minister to purchase through the Ministry of Lands and Settlements.

The Minister has appointed Sir Charles Mortimer to carry out the functions of Collector in relation to the land. On August 17, Sir Charles will hold a hearing at City Hall, which should be attended by the land owners, to determine the amount of compensation to be paid.
