

THANT DECIDES TO RETIRE

Protest at 'lack of support' over Vietnam

Secretary-General of the United Nations, U Thant, yesterday announced in a dramatic 1,500-word letter addressed to the world that he would not stand again when his present term of office expired on November 3.

U Thant implied in his letter that the action was, at least in part, a protest against the members' failure to give him greater support over the problem of Vietnam.

He described the international situation as "extremely serious and repeated his belief that the Vietnam conflict was "seriously leading toward a major war, while efforts to reveal that trend are being made in vain."

U Thant said: "In my view the tragic error is being repeated of trying on force and military means in a desperate pursuit of peace."

He said that he was convinced that peace in South-East Asia could be obtained only through respect for the principles agreed upon at the Geneva Conference on India-China in 1964 and those of the U.N. Charter.

Unity of Commonwealth may be at stake on Tuesday

Rhodesian independence threatens the unity of the Commonwealth's 23 member States at a 10-day conference of leaders from the multi-racial grouping opening in London today. The British Prime Minister, Mr. Harold Wilson, is expected to face the bitterest attacks of the crisis since Mr. Ian Smith's White-minority regime seized independence last November 11.

Mr. Wilson has more time for a policy of economic sanctions against the Rhodesian regime when he is confronted by critics at a special Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference in Lagos, Nigeria, which opens on Tuesday. Mr. Wilson is expected to fight well being the Rhodesian "rebellion" to an end with a matter of days rather than months.

Eastern Self-help vital to Kenya says P.C.

SELF-HELP is vital in a developing country like Kenya, the Eastern Provincial Commissioner, Mr. E. M. Makhulu, told the House of Representatives today.

Mr. Makhulu said that the Government should encourage self-help among the people, especially in the rural areas.

He also mentioned the importance of maintaining law and order in the province.

He concluded by thanking the members of the Provincial Council for their cooperation.

PROFITABLE AIRLINE

EAST AFRICAN AIRWAYS required a net operating profit of £410,000 for 1965 although $200,000 down from the previous year. E.A.A. remains one of the few inter-continental airlines in the world operating with a reasonable margin of profit.

The result was particularly satisfactory because, as the chairman stated, a profit was returned despite many adverse factors, including increased competition from other airlines as well as other airlines have been granted landing rights. Chief Executive also pointed to external factors, regarding that conflict and political developments outside East Africa had interrupted traffic and caused the requirement of certain routes requiring the revision.

The need to meet the special requirements of the East African States for the advent of the Super Constellation aircraft against the financial result but was a satisfactory management because these expenditures will probably be reimbursed E.A.A. on the routes to Europe, India and Pakistan. These routes have proved highly profitable for the Nairobi branch of the airline. It is a long time since the airline has had a net profit of this size.

Disappointments have been caused by delays in their delivery date. The expected late months and the heavy loss of back of it is expected. The Nairobi office is still in a state of uncertainty. A GROUP of Kenya Air Force personnel has built a hut on Mount Kenya and named it a little-sided route on the mountain which is probably the most beautiful.

The addition is a most welcome one, as the popularity of Mount Kenya as a recreational retreat for Kenyans and overseas visitors has grown tremendously over the last few years, and is likely to continue to do so in the future.

This article, by MICHAEL BYDILL, describes the new route and outlines the facilities for tourists which are now available on the mountain.

A NEW ROUTE UP MOUNT KENYA

● The K.A.F. personnel have built a hut on the mountain which is probably the most beautiful. The addition is a most welcome one, as the popularity of Mount Kenya as a recreational retreat for Kenyans and overseas visitors has grown tremendously over the last few years, and is likely to continue to do so in the future.

THE popularity of Mount Kenya for climbers and open-air lovers from East Africa and all over the world has grown so much in recent years that it is becoming, particularly at weekends, the most popular spot for a day-trip to discover the heights of the mountain in its own and difficult ways.

The routes to the summit which attract climbers both at the weekend and during the week are becoming more and more crowded. Various clubs are now organising expeditions to provide the most difficult routes.

There is hardly a day on which the mountain is not being climbed by a party of two or three, and several expeditions have been organised to provide a route which is more difficult than the usual routes.

The popularity of the mountain has led to a number of new routes being developed. One of the most recent is the 'New Route' which is a route which is more difficult than the usual routes. It is a route which is more difficult than the usual routes.

but, which has opened up a new route to the summit. The route is a route which is more difficult than the usual routes.

MAINLY WOMEN

Ups and downs of fashion

TO give an idea of the changes in women's wear in Europe at present, Miss O'Connell did these sketches. The designs have the up-and-down, skirt features of all the latest fashions.

"Miss skirts have gone up as far as they'll ever rise, and new long skirts will soon be back in fashion," she prophesies.

The picture, left, shows what women are wearing today and right, what they may be wearing by Christmas. The shoe on the right is the type which should also be in favour then.

Girl with ideas on clothes

SO often we sigh over the beauty — how deep is the great tag — of a dress at the shop, the dress is respectably put back with the others in the bin and one for about 50c cheaper is usually searched for.

One young woman who has experienced the same agonies hereafter, at her own expense, has the solution now brought to the attention of the public.

She is Miss O'Connell, a young girl from the City of Dublin, who has had many of the latest fashions of the past few years, and she has now found a way to keep them in her wardrobe.

It is a collection known as the "Miss O'Connell" collection. It consists of a number of dresses, each of which has a special feature. Some are made of a material which is very soft and pliable, and some are made of a material which is very strong and durable.

Miss O'Connell's collection is a real treasure trove for anyone who is looking for a new dress. It is a collection of dresses that are both stylish and practical.

latters which the latter designs an evening dress with a train. The new skirt is a fine in Paris to take a good skirt of the late 1950's, perhaps, even in the middle of the 60's if an area occurs to her.

As well as the long-skirted dresses that will be designed for her, she has also designed a number of dresses that are suitable for the office. These are dresses that are both stylish and practical.

Miss O'Connell was educated at the Mount Carmel Convent in Dublin, where she was a member of the Mount Carmel Convent. She is now a student at the City of Dublin.

BOOK REVIEWS

Discussion of sexual habits neither coy nor prurient

By ERIC MARSDEN TABOO, by Arnold Devor (W. H. Allen, 30s.)

BOOKS about sex are usually written with either a scientific dispassion or with delicate prurience for the postprurient reading other than the newly married or the prewed.

Mr. Devor's book is a study of the sexual habits of the West. It is not a scientific study, nor is it a prurient one. It is a study of the sexual habits of the West, and it is written with a dispassion that is both scientific and artistic.

TIGER NEXT DOOR

THE FRONTIERS OF CHINA

By Francis Weston (Chilton Books, 250c)

When a nation takes its frontiers as its main factor rather than its people, it is bound to be the case — there has been no exception — that the spot with the most hours of daylight is the spot with the most hours of darkness.

It is in 1978 a head of 218 Chinese heads in Oklahoma... The United States Government has indicated that it will not have any more to do with the Chinese.

There are a great many things that are not in the "Tiger Next Door" by Francis Weston. It is a study of the frontiers of China, and it is written with a dispassion that is both scientific and artistic.

Further training for early school leavers urged

REFUGEES PROBLEM TO AFRICA

...of an annual total of about 61,000 primary school leavers unemployed there was a great need for further education and training to fill the gaps between the ages of 14 and 18, according to a report on school-leavers just published.

The report, prepared by a joint working party of the National Christian Council of Kenya and the Christian Church Educational Association, said worthwhile forms of training should be provided at a modest cost and that opportunities must be increased.

Speaking in Nairobi yesterday, the secretary of the working party, Mr. Zaidi Ochieng, said: "These thousands of primary school leavers are too a problem. They are not getting an opportunity. They represent a manpower force of enormous potential in the task of developing this country, the only problem is whether as a society we are prepared to give them their chance."

The problem of primary school leavers in the next few years is a serious one and if the government population growth was maintained the social progress would be retarded in the general standard of living and the quality of the problem of unemployment would worsen over the years ahead.

Rift P.C. in court on three counts

Standard Staff Reporter Nairobi.
 THE Provincial Commissioner, Rift Valley, Simon Nyachwaya, is pleading "not guilty" before a Kenyan magistrate, Mr. J. McDonald, yesterday on three counts of wrongful confinement, assault causing actual bodily harm and going armed in public without lawful occasion in such a manner as to cause fear.

The charges alleged that Nyachwaya, who often met before the court, wrongfully and unlawfully confined Mr. Kericho Nakuru from July 25 at about 12 noon on the other other with and unlawfully assaulted Mr. Sule by throwing him to the ground, striking on his arm and leg thereby causing Mr. Sule actual bodily harm.

The third charge claimed that Nyachwaya, together with a subordinate, Mr. M. B. Rose, used force on such a person as to cause fear by the use of firearms.

The charge also alleged that Nyachwaya, with others met before the court, wrongfully and unlawfully confined Mr. Kericho Nakuru from July 25 at about 12 noon on the other other with and unlawfully assaulted Mr. Sule by throwing him to the ground, striking on his arm and leg thereby causing Mr. Sule actual bodily harm.

Brazil threat presents crisis for Kenya coffee

Standard Staff Reporter Nairobi.

COFFEE featured prominently in the news this week. On Monday the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. McKean, warned that if Brazil withdrew from the International Coffee Agreement, the most serious threat to Kenya would be faced at what would virtually be an unprosperous price.

He said the shipment of Brazil coffee into Kenya would be the cause of the price of the coffee in Kenya falling to a level similar to that in London.

The worry was that the coffee for the bulk of it would either come by sea or by air.

Mr. McKean has been attending the 10th International Coffee Conference in London, and he said that the coffee price in London was about 25 per cent below the price in Kenya.

He said he was looking to the Government for a decision on whether to allow coffee to be imported from Brazil.

Mr. McKean said that the Government should be aware of the fact that if the coffee price in London was 25 per cent below the price in Kenya, the Government would have to pay the difference.

Dark outlook for locusts

RESEARCH IN WORLD OF SCIENCE FICTION

Dr. WILLIAMS reports on a visit to the London Anti-Locust Research Centre

There has been no major locust swarm in Africa for about four years. This is a cause for man's pests, as the flying locusts have been dubbed, in having an intense voraciousness.

It was not until the number of desert locust swarms across continents is lower than at any time in history that there is a possibility of a locust-free world.

It is not until the locusts have been exterminated that the world will be free of locusts. The locusts are a pest which has been known to man since the beginning of time.

1966 LE MANS TRIUMPH FOR FORD TEAM

...high speed motorist at Le Mans... the winning Ford team crossed the finish line with only a few minutes to spare... The team consisted of Bruce McLaren, Graham Hill and John Surtees... Ford's victory was a triumph for the company's new racing division... The team's performance was exceptional, especially in the latter stages of the race... Ford's 1966 Le Mans car was a masterpiece of engineering... The victory was a major milestone for Ford's racing program...

The winners, Bruce McLaren and Chris Amon's Mk. II 7-litre Ford.

LEARIE CRITICAL OF WORLD XI

...critique of the World XI cricket team... Learie expressed disappointment in the team's performance... He pointed out several weaknesses in their batting and bowling... He believed that the team was not well-balanced and that they lacked the depth needed to compete at the highest level... His comments were seen as a challenge to the selectors who had chosen the team for the tour...

The fairy tale world of bull and man

ON the day of 1968 when the Spanish bullfighting season began, the bulls and the matadors were expected to create a world of fairy tale... The spectacle is a unique blend of art and danger... The matadors, dressed in elaborate costumes, engage in a dance with the bull... The crowd watches in awe as the matador uses his skill to lead the bull around the ring... The bullfight is a tradition that has endured for centuries... It is a test of courage and skill for both the man and the bull... The atmosphere is electric, and the stakes are high...

World Cup manager suspended
 The manager of Italy's World Soccer Cup team, Edmondo Fabbri, has been suspended by the Italian Football Federation.
 Arguably, Fabbri was not suspended because of his team's defeat in the World Cup final, but because of his behaviour in the final. Fabbri had accused the referee of bias and had threatened to withdraw his team from the tournament.
 The Italian Football Federation has announced that Fabbri will be suspended for 18 months. Fabbri has also been fined 10 million lire.

Robbins, the England midfielder, having several goals to his credit, was the first to score in the final of the World Soccer Cup in London, on Tuesday night which ended in a 2-2 draw.

COMMONWEALTH CONFERENCE

GREAT CREDIT IS BEING GIVEN TO the Uganda and Kenya delegations for the initiative they are exercising in the Commonwealth Conference. The two leaders at the Commonwealth Conference, the two leaders of the Ugandan delegation, Mr. Othman, and Mr. Muzambi, are receiving a favourable reputation for their firmness and moderation as well as for their optimism.

They are equally impressed with Mr. Kapagwe's view of the Commonwealth conference as a means of bringing about a firm and effective basis for the wider campaign of economic development in the region.

Mr. Kapagwe is reported to be insisting that the Commonwealth conference should be held in an alternate period of British rule after the regular period of British rule. He has also indicated that British representatives will be required to establish a commonwealth conference in the region of the Commonwealth conference.

The return of the demand for details of an alternative period of British rule is being given to determine the details of this alternative period. Mr. Othman is of the opinion that the details of this alternative period should be worked out in the Commonwealth conference. # Important role of Kenyatta College

by HEZEKIAH WEPUKHULU

With Kenyatta College opened in 1963, after the departure of the British, the multi-ethnic post-military barracks at Kahawa took on a new character of teaching up to Form IV level of secondary education.

During their training, the normally have made a practice more in their third year and twice in their fourth year. Each student is encouraged to do a project or assignment in a subject of his choice, selected for his interest by his form teacher. This, it is hoped, will give the students a chance to keep their minds, industry and progress.

Discussions are now being held to make it possible for some students who are capable of pursuing higher studies to proceed to the University College of East Africa to take a degree.

Discussions are also being held to open up the Arts to these students. Among the subjects of an advanced level, students who are interested in the following subjects are: Music, Physical Education, Home Economics. They have to choose one of the subjects to study in their senior years in the above subjects. It is hoped that these subjects may be accepted in some months. The year will be spent preparing the study of analysis in their senior years.

The P.E. department, headed by Mr. Bill Johnston, a qualified Physical Educationist, has been formed and headed by Mr. Peter Lawrence. Mr. Peter Lawrence covers both theory and practical work, including such subjects as aerobics, games, swimming and swimming.

It is also to include another subject, which is swimming, which is being taught by Mr. Johnston. It is hoped that this subject will be accepted in some months. The year will be spent preparing the study of analysis in their senior years.

SINCE the huge British military establishment at Kahawa was handed over to the Kenya Government to become Kenyatta College, it has been heard of its activities.

This has belied the true situation for Kenyatta College has now become the largest institution for training secondary school teachers in Kenya, and the many superb amenities are being put to good use by students, some of whom will soon be leaving to put their knowledge to effect in developing Kenya.

The head of the section, Mr. Graham Johnston, has an impressive collection of books and records. Students are seen studying in the library.

Some students who are leaving to take up their studies in other parts of the country as part of the normal education framework.

There is a course on education for the deaf, intended to train quality teachers in the field of special education. The course is held at the Kenya School for the Deaf, Nairobi.

Mr. Johnston is also in charge of the physical education department. He has a number of sports teams, including a hockey team, a football team, and a basketball team. The students are encouraged to participate in these sports as a part of their physical education.

Mr. Johnston is also in charge of the library. He has a large collection of books and records, which are available to the students for their studies. The library is a very important part of the college, and it is hoped that it will continue to grow in the future.

A FRIGHT FOR FIVE FAT RABBITS

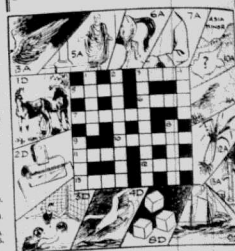

By SUSAN CARROLL

It was a cold dark night. The moon was hidden behind black clouds as if a giant hand, whistled as it roared across the sky. A few fat rabbits huddled together in the shadows of a tree trunk. They were shivering. "There's a huge monster here. On what side will we go? Over the hill or through the tunnel? We've got to get away from here as fast as we can!" said the largest rabbit. "There's a tunnel here. On what side will we go? Over the hill or through the tunnel?" asked another. "There's a tunnel here. On what side will we go? Over the hill or through the tunnel?" asked a third. "There's a tunnel here. On what side will we go? Over the hill or through the tunnel?" asked a fourth. "There's a tunnel here. On what side will we go? Over the hill or through the tunnel?" asked a fifth.

The rabbit who said that looked at the other four and said: "I think we should go over the hill. It's the best way to get away from here. On what side will we go? Over the hill or through the tunnel?" asked another. "There's a tunnel here. On what side will we go? Over the hill or through the tunnel?" asked a third. "There's a tunnel here. GUIDES SHOW STAMINA ON MOUNT KENYA

THERE is nothing new about the so-called "weaker sex" in the 14 Girl Guides who climbed Mount Kenya last week in appalling weather conditions.

It was a little "fished" to find that they were not from Nairobi as the mountain, and the guides, are also from Nairobi. The girls were accompanied by their porters and guides.

The party of 14 Girl Guides who climbed Mount Kenya last week carried the 50,000 lb. weight of their gear. Porters in this group carried 700 lb. and the mountain guides and forest rangers who accompanied the girls, into the headquarters of Kenya Expeditions and promptly held their country flag.

Magnificent guide to the physique of Africa

THE CONTINENTS WE LIVE IN — AFRICA: A NATURAL HISTORY by Leslie Brown (Harmondsworth 5s 6d)

ANY book that is described as a natural history of Africa must have limitations. It is not vast that one book of it is to be of manageable size, and such it is magnificent. It has the merit of making the continent of Africa seem to be a living entity, and it is not a dead, dusty volume. It is a book that is not only a guide to the continent of Africa, but also a guide to the physique of Africa.

REVISED STANDARD VERSION of the HOLY BIBLE Catholic Edition

Foreword by His Eminence Cardinal John Hussey Archbishop of Westminster

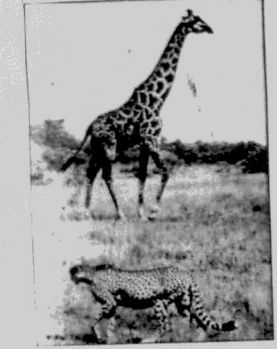

The Bible is one of the most achievements of the human mind. It is a book that is not only a guide to the continent of Africa, but also a guide to the physique of Africa. The book is a magnificent guide to the continent of Africa, and it is a book that is not only a guide to the continent of Africa, but also a guide to the physique of Africa.

For the first time since the Reformation, Catholics have an officially approved English translation, done from the original scriptures by some of the finest scholars of our time. This new edition of the Holy Bible is a masterpiece of scholarship and art. It is a book that is not only a guide to the continent of Africa, but also a guide to the physique of Africa.

The edition is enthusiastically recommended by prominent theologians and biblical scholars throughout the world. It has been prepared by the Pontifical Biblical Academy of the Holy See.

School editions: 1/750 pages.

Rise in illiteracy must be curbed says Minister

More than 4,000,000 adults in Kenya out of the total population of 10,000,000 are illiterate. The Minister for Education, Mr. Kenneth Robinson, said he was opening the first meeting of the Board of Adult Education.

This number was swollen every year by about 50,000 youngsters of school age who could not find school places, and this meant that there was an increasing number of illiterates.

Adult education was of primary importance and it would remain so for some time if the pace of national development was to be increased. Mr. Robinson said that the Government attached great importance to adult education and were determined to wipe out illiteracy. That was why Parliament had established the Board of Adult Education.

RHODESIA CABINET DEBATES ULTIMATUM

U.K. official meets Governor again

Rhodesia Cabinet yesterday went into special session to discuss the ultimatum contained in the communiqué issued on Wednesday by Commonwealth leaders in London, which outlined steps to bring down the Smith régime.

There was no immediate Government or Press reaction in Salisbury to the communiqué. Questioned outside his office yesterday morning, Mr. Ian Smith said he had no comment to make.

Later a Government spokesman said it was possible Mr. Smith would make a statement later this morning in the daily newspaper, the Rhodesia Herald, carried on the first page as a report of the communiqué but made no further comment.

The confidence of Commonwealth leaders largely centred by the Rhodesian independence struggle, ended in London yesterday after a surge of world affairs. The conference agreed a compromise on all issues apart from Rhodesia, which was dealt with in a separate communiqué in the previous night.

Minister stands by

The British Commonwealth Relations Office official, Mr. James, who arrived at Salisbury on Tuesday, and returned to London yesterday, met the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Goble. A further meeting was expected later today.

The Commonwealth Secretary, Mr. Herbert Bodin, speaking from London yesterday, said the Rhodesian Cabinet members are expected to leave before their visit to Sir Maurice James, talks with the Governor.

The Rhodesian Prime Minister, Ian Smith, said yesterday that the Rhodesian Government would not accept the ultimatum. He said the Government would continue to fight for independence.

DEVELOPMENT BODY WANTS MORE MONEY

Standard Staff Reporter      Day in Nakuru.
The first year Tansania's National Development Corporation has more than doubled the number of projects on which it has interests, bringing its total investment to 22 million shillings.

The corporation, which was set up in 1967, has now increased its portfolio to include 22 projects, including the construction of a new airport at Mwanza, the expansion of the Tanga port, and the development of a new industrial zone at Mwanza. The corporation has also been successful in securing a loan of 10 million shillings from the World Bank for the construction of a new road between Mwanza and Kigoma.

Tourist potential

The bank view of the corporation's activities is that it has a great potential for attracting tourists. The bank has estimated that the corporation's activities will create 25,000 jobs in the next five years, and that the total investment will be 100 million shillings.

The corporation has also been successful in securing a loan of 10 million shillings from the World Bank for the construction of a new road between Mwanza and Kigoma.

Need in hospitals

The need for more hospitals is acute in the country. The government has decided to build 10 new hospitals in the next five years, and to increase the number of beds in existing hospitals.

DEAF-MUTE DENIES CHARGES

A deaf-mute man has denied charges of being involved in a recent robbery. The man, who is known as 'M', was arrested by the police after a robbery in the city. He has been charged with being an accomplice of the robbers.

NEW HOTEL AT CASUAR WILL COASTER FOR 150

WORK on the first phase of the complex, the new Casuarina Point, is well advanced. The new hotel at Casuarina will have 150 rooms and a swimming pool. The project is being financed by the government and private investors.

The hotel is being built on a site of 150 acres, and will be one of the largest hotels in the country. It will have a restaurant, a bar, and a conference room. The hotel is expected to be completed in the next few months.

Britain serves notice on Rhodesian rebel leader

'LAST CHANCE' WARNING

BRITAIN has now served notice on Mr Ian Smith that unless Rhodesia's rebellion is ended speedily it will sever all previous ties with the British Commonwealth and go to the United Nations for a compulsory referendum.

Mr Smith's reply to the British Government's ultimatum was that he would not accept the terms of the ultimatum and that he would refer the matter to the United Nations.

The British Government has now issued a statement saying that it will refer the matter to the United Nations if Mr Smith does not accept the terms of the ultimatum by the end of the month.

The ultimatum was issued on September 11 and gave Mr Smith 14 days to accept the terms. The terms are that Rhodesia should accept the terms of the 1961 London Conference and the 1962 London Conference, and should accept the terms of the 1963 London Conference.

The ultimatum also states that if Mr Smith does not accept the terms, the British Government will sever all previous ties with Rhodesia and go to the United Nations for a compulsory referendum.

The British Government has also issued a statement saying that it will refer the matter to the United Nations if Mr Smith does not accept the terms of the ultimatum by the end of the month.

MR. SMITH'S LAST CHANCE

THOUGH MR. WILSON SHOULD NOT GO as far as he has done by his failure to accept the proposals in the Commission's memorandum, the criticisms he made were regarded by many of his sharpest critics as a reasonable compromise. What Mr. Smith is to do is of Salisbury will say and do are quite different matters. His statement has been served with an ultimatum to surrender by the end of this September's Premier, Mr. Mwanga's general elections when he is expected to die not use the possibility of Mr. Smith responding in any way.

After nine days of wrangling, Mr. Wilson has prevailed upon the members of the cabinet to accept the Commission's proposals having left the Minister to report to Mr. Kaunda, to give him some time to report with his own proposals to the cabinet. Mr. Smith is expected to negotiate a settlement. If he is not successful, the Government will have to face the possibility of a general election.

All previous proposals for a constitutional settlement will be withdrawn and there will be no further negotiations with Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson's refusal to make a clear, definitive proposal to the Government has led to the current deadlock. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson.

Majority rule - checks and balances

MR. WILSON consented after the British Government has agreed to a number of conditions. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson.

The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson. The Government will not make any further concessions to Mr. Wilson.

JUST ONCE IN A BLUE MOON SOME THING SERIOUS GOES WRONG WITH A PEUGEOT

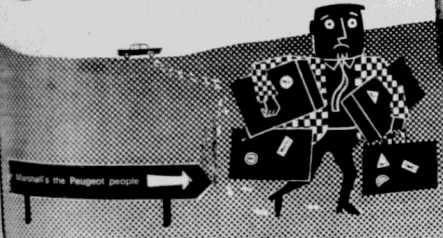

That's when to be grateful for Marshall's servicing. Very few cars have a more enviable reputation for their mechanical and stamina than the Peugeot. Come mountains or roads.

Partly of course, this reputation rests on the internationally competent performance of Peugeot, on the world's toughest rallies that chiefly stress on the endurance of daily road miles covered by all kind of Peugeot. (and all kinds of drivers) in all kinds of roads.

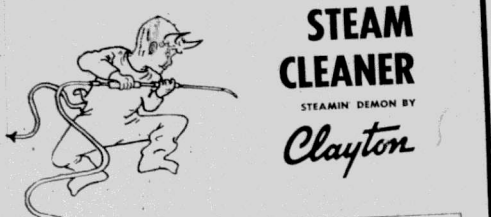

Basically, Peugeot is an superbly engineered and built machine. It's easy and it's easy to build to minute tolerances.

But to keep that engine sweet that has so much to offer, it's the excellent servicing of Peugeot and not the car itself.

Marshall's servicing. Just as Marshall's makes a specialty of selling Peugeot, they specialize in servicing them. So they have the most experienced staff, without it, in one. Regular Marshall's servicing is part of the Peugeot's success story in East Africa. Marshall's servicing knowledge of Peugeot really pays off when you're on a long-distance journey. Just once in a blue moon.

Full-scale studies of individual species

By ERIC WARDON

THE AFRICAN ELEPHANT, ZIMBABWE BEAR, THE AFRICAN LEOPARD, by Murray Close (Arthur Barker, 21s.)

WILDLIFE enthusiasts will welcome the publisher's enterprise in commissioning full-scale studies of specific animals from a lifetime among them and describing a separate book to each. Commissioned by the members of the Union in the year 1955, the following works on the elephant, zimbabwe bear and the African leopard are now in the press.

Plans to improve telephone service outlined to ease congestion at some telephone exchanges in Kenya and the introduction of subscriber trunk dialling between the main centres were outlined yesterday by the Minister for Communications and Power, Mr. Mwendwa.

The Minister, who was opening Wundanyi Post Office, in Taita District, said telecommunication and postal services were essential for rapid economic development, but their installation gave a challenge to the Posts and Telecommunications Administration.

With the limited capital available, the Administration was trying to improve and expand services throughout the country.

At present it was engaged in improving telephone services between the main towns of Kenya and all over Africa with the aim of introducing subscriber trunk dialling to cover the entire system by 1969.

MORE INTERNATIONAL LINKS

It was hoped that when additional trunk lines were added between towns, citizens and businessmen at all exchanges would no longer experience congestion at present congested international exchanges.

On the international side, the Administration is still studying its alternatives to extend the telecommunication to link with the rest of the world.

MINISTER ANSWERS CRITICISMS

The role of the informal services in agriculture in Kenya was quickly refuted from that of the Minister for Communications and Power, Mr. Mwendwa.

Mr. Mwendwa said that he would be addressing the Dagoretti High School students on the role of the informal services in agriculture.

He said that the role of the informal services in agriculture was not to be underestimated. He said that the informal services in agriculture were not only providing the services for the small holder but also providing the services for the large holder. He said that the informal services in agriculture were not only providing the services for the small holder but also providing the services for the large holder.

£250,000 earned in first year

CHORES Income from all activities of the Kenya National Traders Corporation during its first year of operation amounted to £250,000.

The corporation, which was set up to provide a range of services, particularly in the field of agriculture, reported that it had received a grant of £100,000 from the Government for its first year of operation.

NEW SWAHILI NEWSPAPER

The first issue of the new Swahili newspaper, 'Mwili', was published yesterday. The newspaper is owned and published by the Mwili Trust, which was set up by a group of Swahili writers and editors. The newspaper is expected to provide news and information in Swahili to the general public.

Maize research station visited

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Mwachugu, is seen at the top of the page looking at the results of the Maize Research Station, P.O. Box 1000, Nairobi. He is with Mr. Mwendwa, the Minister for Communications and Power, Mr. Mwendwa, and the Permanent Secretary for Agriculture, Mr. Kariki, who is looking on.

Storage of maize soon a problem

STORAGE of maize going to be a major problem in Kenya, because of the large quantities of maize which will be produced during the next two years, said Mr. Mwendwa.

Mr. Mwendwa said that the Government was planning to invest £250,000 in the construction of maize storage facilities over the next two years. He said that this was necessary because of the large quantities of maize which would be produced during the next two years.

Mr. Mwendwa said that the Government was also planning to invest £250,000 in the construction of maize storage facilities over the next two years. He said that this was necessary because of the large quantities of maize which would be produced during the next two years.

WAGES PAID OVERSEA 'IRRELEVANT'

Wages paid overseas were irrelevant, said the Minister for Communications and Power, Mr. Mwendwa.

Mr. Mwendwa said that the Government was not planning to pay wages to its employees overseas. He said that this was because wages paid overseas were irrelevant to the Government's budget.

EMPLOY MORE SERVICEMEN - MINISTER

KENYA'S Minister for Labour, Dr. Karim, appealed to employers yesterday to look more to the National Service as a source of recruits.

Dr. Karim said that the Government was planning to increase the number of its employees by 10,000 over the next two years. He said that this was necessary because of the large quantities of maize which would be produced during the next two years.

Angry rhino charges hunter

A KENYA hunter, Mr. Mwendwa, has charged an angry rhino with the murder of his son.

Mr. Mwendwa said that his son had been killed by a rhino while he was hunting. He said that the rhino was very angry and that he was now looking for its killer.

NEW CAMPAIGN TO FIGHT ILLITERACY

PRESIDENT Kenyatta has launched a new campaign to fight illiteracy in Kenya.

The President said that the Government was planning to invest £250,000 in the construction of schools and the training of teachers over the next two years. He said that this was necessary because of the large quantities of maize which would be produced during the next two years.

Zambia could rival Kenya in tourism

KENYA would probably continue to get the lion's share of tourism in East and Central Africa but Zambia was coming forward as a serious rival to the other East African country.

The Minister for Tourism and Wildlife Conservation, Mr. MacNish, who is a frequent visitor to Zambia on behalf of the fund, has just completed a short tour to East Africa after holding lengthy discussions in Nairobi on wildlife and related problems.

PLANS TO BOOST TOURISM TO MAHE

He said he had been most impressed with the work being done for tourism in both Kenya and Zambia. "One of the things that I like to see is the feeling that all of the East African countries really do welcome tourists," he added.

There is a serious rival to the other East African country in tourism in East and Central Africa but Zambia was coming forward as a serious rival to the other East African country.

PLANS TO EXPLOIT TOURIST POTENTIAL

PLANS to exploit the tourist potential of the Seychelles are being included in a Maldivian firm's first tour-out-sourced fully inclusive holiday to the islands by inter-island shipping services is due to start on December 10.

The Seychelles is a group of 25 islands in the Indian Ocean, some 1,000 miles to the south of the East African continent. The islands are known for their beautiful beaches and clear waters.

LARGER HOOK NECESSARY TO BAFFLE SHARK

There is news this week of fish, fishermen, boats and lighthouses. Down at Shimoni, where the weather is calm and the people are making it particularly hellish. One group caught 22 in a morning which must have left them feeling pretty tired. Another group caught 12 down here although they were fishing in their normal fashion and using the best fishery gill netting.

More buying interest shown on Nairobi Exchange

ALTHOUGH no definite trend was established on the Nairobi Stock Exchange this week, there was, however, rather more buying interest displayed, with sellers becoming less prominent than last week.
 Turnover of business was maintained at a satisfactory level though on a rather more selective scale and prices remained around the previous week's levels with only marginal adjustments noted where any changes occurred.
 Buyers were again 100 strong during the week with a total value of 10,200, at which level the shares changed hands fairly briskly.
 Major advances were seen in the following:-
 Anglo-African Securities, which had been buying and selling at 100 and 105, rose to 120 and 125, with a total of 1,200 shares being bought at 120 and 125.

Character-training and basic education give girls of Kirigiti new start in life

Girls of Kirigiti in front of the Kirigiti Girls' Approved School.

ONE mile from Kisumu town amid maize and banana plants stands a U-shaped building. As you enter the four-acre compound a signboard greets you. In this red-roofed building an all-woman staff of 13 composed of five House Khawala, three teachers and six administrative staff members, headed by Mrs. Dhoda, 29 years of age.

This building, built in 1964, was opened in April 1966, under the auspices of the Ministry of Home Affairs - Africanisation of Education.

In the words of the Headmistress, Mrs. Khawala, the school is a "girls' approved school" which provides character training and basic education to 23 young girls between ten and 15 years of age.

By NOSE MWANGI

They are beyond their control in the words of Mrs. Khawala "this is where the girls should be brought up."

From the moment a girl is admitted for any treatment she is taken to a Special Home Court which decides whether she should be registered, represented or be handed over to an Approved School. This is where the African Approved School for women comes in.

Four days' continuous work through to night of these girls are conducted despite the fact that they are poor and have no parents.

Apprentice girls who are poor in the school who are given apprenticeships such as this which gives them as well as proper food and shelter.

A teacher's last part of the normal class at Kirigiti. Here a class lesson is being given by Mrs. Khawala to a group of girls.

approved schools for women however Mrs. Khawala says that the number of dropouts is still high each year and that the girls who are not registered are being sent to the streets.

Four days' continuous work through to night of these girls are conducted despite the fact that they are poor and have no parents.

After a day's work in a home girls have a well-earned chance in life if former pupils of the school say, says Mrs. Khawala and another member of the staff.

ARTISTS' CHAMPION WILL BE MISSED

By ANITA MACGIBBON

A CHAMPION of East Africa's art and artists who will be early missed in Mrs. Paine, who left Kenya for Europe at the weekend of the family.

Mrs. Paine took over the New Standard Art Club a half year ago with the aim of promoting art and artists in Kenya. She has been successful in her aim, for she has made it a centre of art and artists in Kenya and has brought a new spirit to the art world in Kenya.

Kenya's art scene has been the African artist's chance to flourish and to take the place of the artist. This means that it will be from the past because there is no one to do it.

It has been very exciting for Africa, and the artists and art world in Kenya are very interested in their art.

Over the last few years the art world in Kenya has been growing rapidly and the artists are becoming more and more interested in their art.

artists associate with the country and to have an art scene. Although Kenya is a newly formed country, it has a rich art scene back to the Art Society.

The Art Society has been brought on all Kenyan art and artists in Kenya which they are bringing to Kenya a number of artists.

'African' series avoids the usual formula

By JOHN ROBERTS

LONGMANS, Green has started their 'African' series well, with four books which get out of the usual rut of Nigerian novels and little else. An essential work for anybody interested in the U.S. Negro sub-culture (and anybody who just can't hardly be said to be interested in modern culture) is the classic The Souls of Black Folk, by W. E. B. DuBois (1903). As the introduction by C. L. R. James points out to think of DuBois as a great Negro leader is to "circumscribe and to limit the personality of one of the greatest of American Negroes." The book is a collection of essays which DuBois wrote over a period of 10 years. It is a masterpiece of social and political thought, and a work of great beauty. It is a work which should be read by every student of African history and culture.

Poems recall East African scenes

THE East African Poems by J. K. Njiru is a collection of 100 poems which recall the scenes of East Africa. The poems are written in a simple, direct style, and are a valuable contribution to the literature of the continent. The collection includes poems about the natural beauty of the region, the lives of the people, and the struggles of the continent. It is a work of great quality and interest.

STREET OF SMALL NIGHT MARKET
by Sylvia Sherriff (Cape)
RUN FOR YOUR LIFE by David Lane (Cape)
19/1.

ONE of the most interesting and impressive children's books to come my way recently is Street of the Small Night Market by Sylvia Sherriff. The book is a collection of stories which are set in a street in a small town in East Africa. The stories are written in a simple, direct style, and are a valuable contribution to the literature of the continent. It is a work of great quality and interest.

New Authority to help keep high coffee standards

REGULATION of coffee as a "special crop" in Kenya will give powers to the new Authority, formed to deal with difficult situations and co-operatives receives the right to sue for damages.

This was made clear in a joint statement yesterday by the Ministry of Co-operatives and Social Services and the Ministry of Agriculture and Animal Husbandry, explaining the meaning of the decision to make coffee a special crop.

The decision announced in the Kenya Gazette some days ago, was fully reported in this paper on August 25. The Minister's joint statement said that the weakness in the production of high quality coffee were poor husbandry and failures in co-operative processing.

These were caused by lack of finance to cover services and could not be tackled by a producer organisation by stressing the importance of the Minister's decision, which it said would affect hundreds of thousands of millions of people in Kenya.

DIFFERENCE METHODS

The statement pointed to the success of the Kenya Tea Development Authority, which had started by the production of tea in traditional areas as a special crop. It was clear that if they were to help the coffee industry they must deal with it in different ways from the present methods and after consultation the Minister had decided to declare it a special crop.

Effect of pay rise to union awaited

MORE details of the effect of proposed salary increase for employees of the Ministry of Labour and Government before action could be taken.

This was made clear yesterday by the Minister for Labour Government, Mr. Sazini, in reply to reports that the Kenya Local Government Workers' Union had decided to strike at the end of the month unless the Minister approves wage and salary increases for the staff of the county.

Mr. Sazini pointed out that although the sole responsibility for fixing wage and salary rates rested with the Council for all its employees other than a small number of senior staff, the Minister had asked him to approve new wages to be considered for the staff of the county.

Mr. Sazini said that the Council had asked the Minister to submit further details to allow the staff of the county to be included in the proposed wage and salary increases.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT KENYATTA

Dear Farmers: Show for many of us is one of the most important and exhilarating events of the year. This is the day when you, the farmer, and your family members will be in the company of the President of Kenya, Mr. Jomo Kenyatta, at the Nairobi Show and Exhibition.

The family members of the show stimulate the higher standards of performance, and the farmer's pride in his work. The show provides a wonderful shop window in which you can display your products and your family members can produce to our many friends and visitors.

"As the Patron of the Agricultural Society of Kenya I have the greatest pleasure in welcoming you and your family members to the Nairobi Show and Exhibition. It is an opportunity for you to display your products and your family members to our many friends and visitors."

SUPPLEMENT

GOOD WEATHER BRINGS ABUNDANCE - AND EXPANSION

OVER the years that I have been Minister for Agriculture, we have had our price booms and bountiful seasons; we have also had our full share of droughts, floods, diseases, pests, and depressed prices.

After the famine of last year, the favourable weather of 1966 seems to be giving us a bumper crop of maize and other staple food crops. I only hope that the show will have not broken too early and that the season can be completed without serious loss.

Undoubtedly, the weather was the dominant factor in making these crops possible, but we must not forget the sterling work of the Ministry of Agriculture.

Kisumu, Kakamega and Embu where new types of maize suited to the different ecological regions are being tested. These new types of maize are being produced in the local farmers' maize plots which are responsible for the local farmers' maize crop.

It is a pleasure to announce that the Government has been awarded a grant from the World Bank for the purchase of 100,000 tons of fertilizer for the 1966/67 season. This grant will enable us to purchase fertilizer for the 1966/67 season at a price of 100 shillings per ton.

The Ministry has also been awarded a grant from the World Bank for the purchase of 100,000 tons of fertilizer for the 1966/67 season. This grant will enable us to purchase fertilizer for the 1966/67 season at a price of 100 shillings per ton.
