Britain's dollar reserves rise by millions

by millions

BIGGEST FUND DEAL

BRITAIN has concluded the biggest transaction in the International Monetary Fund's history and augmented her dollar reserves by $120,000,000. The Treasury announced yesterday that it had arranged to purchase with sterling up to the full amount of the British quota in the fund.

The Treasury said in a statement that the $120 million will meet that and also pay the fund for its two parts. The fund has two parts: the International Monetary Fund and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Further sums The $120,000,000 will be drawn down from the gold and dollar part of the fund. The second part of the fund is the "special drawing rights" which are available to member countries.

Stop speculation In the money market, the money is not so tight as it was at the end of the year. The Treasury is expected to announce its policy in the next few days.

World importance The British Government is to defend the United States Treasury at the United States Treasury. The transaction is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Newspaper change The West African Gazette, the oldest newspaper in the Gold Coast, has been purchased by the Government. The newspaper will continue to be published under its old name.

Moral authority of U.N. at stake in Hungary issue

DELEGATE CALLS FOR DECISION

IF the United Nations deferred its judgment any longer on the Hungarian question it would jeopardise its moral authority. This was stated in the U.N. General Assembly today by Mr. Vanrooy, the Belgian delegate, who introduced a resolution sponsored by the United States and 13 other nations condemning Poland for its responsibility for the blockade in Hungary.

Mr. Vanrooy said Russia had requested a guarantee of the Charter by using armed forces to invade Poland and prevent it from receiving the assistance of the United Nations. He said that the blockade in Hungary had remained while the United Nations remained silent. He said he would not vote in favour of the resolution unless the United Nations demonstrates definite independence.

Independence violated

The General Assembly was being asked to approve a motion which would condemn the Soviet Union for its failure to respect the independence of Poland and Hungary. The motion would also request the United Nations to take the most stringent steps to ensure that the independence of these countries is maintained.

The resolution was introduced by Mr. Vanrooy, who said that the United Nations should not be allowed to become a mere bystander in the face of the aggression of the Soviet Union. He said that the United Nations should take the lead in restoring the independence of Poland and Hungary.

World Hosted

The Soviet Government has invited the United Nations to host a "Hungarian agents" conference in Moscow. The Soviet Government has invited all the members of the United Nations to attend the conference. The Soviet Government has invited the United Nations to host the conference in Moscow.

Assembly patient

It asked the Assembly to condemn the Soviet violation of its Charter in occupying Hungary and to demand the immediate withdrawal of its forces from Hungary. The Assembly has asked the Soviet Government to respect the independence of Hungary.

Regular scheduled air services—do not always meet with the busy man's requirements. They can fall short as to airport location, service frequency and timings. When you charter, the aircraft is yours to go where and at what time you wish. You can have a car, a comfortable cabin, developed aircraft at your disposal for as little as 50 cents per passenger mile—and remember, your mileage, if it's road versus air, is far less.

Supplies of oxygen cost less

UGANDA FACTORY

Oxygen supplies are available in Uganda at reduced cost since the opening of a new factory at Kampala.

The Mayor of Kampala and a group of officials paid an official visit to the factory, which the East African Oxygen and Acetylene Co. Ltd. has been operating for about three months, to mark its establishment.

Supplies are 25 per cent cheaper because transport of oxygen is easier. The factory produces oxygen and acetylene for industrial and domestic use.

Eight reasons for the high cost of living

for your family's good health You Need KLIM

...the best milk!

By drinking KLIM milk every day—babies, growing children and adults get their most important nourishment. KLIM helps build strong muscles, bones and teeth for children... supplies adults with vital strength and energy.

KLIM is creamy, fresh-tasting milk with only the water removed. It comes to you as delicious and nourishing as the milk it left the dairy. All you do is add pure water to KLIM and you have pure, safe, delicious milk.

Enjoy KLIM in your coffee or tea; on cereals and in milk recipes. Buy KLIM regularly for every family use.

VITAMIN D ADDED

Take 4 spoonfuls per water (100 ml) — milk, and you have pure, safe milk.

THE following are some of the reasons why the cost of living is so high in Nairobi:

1.—Overcrowding. The character of these unknown areas, which have grown from 3750 to 4750, may be seen in the fact that there are 1000 people per acre, one fifth of the population of the United Kingdom. This is a major cause for the high cost of living.

2.—Overcrowding. For a man's house, the Government has set a maximum of 1000 sq. ft. for half that amount in the United Kingdom. This is a major cause for the high cost of living.

3.—Overcrowding. For a man's house, the Government has set a maximum of 1000 sq. ft. for half that amount in the United Kingdom. This is a major cause for the high cost of living.

Kenya's costly homes - 7
URGENT NEED FOR CENTRALISED DIRECTION

The objective presentation of what local planning authorities and surveyors, architects, builders and others of experience regard as the main reason why Kenya's costly homes in Nairobi may now be taken, there is no doubt, into the hands of a centralised authority. The argument is not a controversial one. It has been increasing steadily since the large number of separate advisory committees were set up to deal with the various aspects of the housing problem. The public opinion of the housing problem is now being expressed in a more direct manner. The Government has been asked to take steps to centralise the housing problem. Why is the cost of building a house for a European family in Nairobi so high and what can be done to reduce it? This is the question raised in an article on this page. The article points out that the cost of building a house for a European family in Nairobi is high because of the high cost of materials and labour. The article suggests that the Government should take steps to reduce the cost of building a house for a European family in Nairobi.

How we look after
COTTS HOUSE

The old advice about how to preserve a building — keep it hot on and hot dry — is as valid as ever today. That is why Ruberoid Roofing and Tanking was specified for Cotts House. Ruberoid Built-up Roofing provides a permanent waterproof surface immune from deterioration under any climatic conditions. Ruberoid Floor Covering, used also in built-up tanking for basements, lifts, etc., is a permanent guarantee against "wet feet." In fact, Ruberoid as used in Cotts House is the soundest life insurance for any type of building and pays for itself over and over again.

MINISTER WILL OPEN NEW BUILDING

From £1,900 to £2,500,000 enterprise in 30 years

THIS evening, the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Mr. A. Hope-Jones, will declare open a new Nairobi building which has been described as a landmark in the city's development as well as in the fortunes of one of East Africa's oldest and most important trading concerns.

Cotts House, which stands eight floors high, on the corner of Blane Street and Sergeant Elias Avenue, is believed to have sprung up in a shorter period than any other building of its size in the city. The importance of its construction are new to East Africa, and its architect believes it to be in the only logical answer commercial firms faced with an ever-growing land shortage.

It is a cry from the city, three-roomed block of Blane Street, Cotts group of companies began its activities in 1910. It was an overall total of about £250,000, a fitting monument to more than a half century of highly successful endeavours.

Was a car-park

The area it covers was originally a large block of wide development which was bought by the East African Commercial Corporation, Limited, Cotts Group, and the East African Finance Corporation, Limited, in 1910. The plans provided for a car-park, a building, and a garage.

At the time, the plans provided for a car-park, a building, and a garage. The car-park was to be a large open space, the building was to be a three-story structure, and the garage was to be a two-story structure. The plans were approved by the Nairobi Municipal Council in 1910.

A "LOGICAL ANSWER" TO A NAIROBI PROBLEM

THE two broad strategies in the new Cotts House are its big windows, which run vertically from the top to the bottom of the building. The windows are of a size and shape which is unusual in Nairobi. They are of a size and shape which is unusual in Nairobi. They are of a size and shape which is unusual in Nairobi.

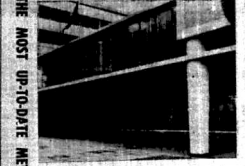

On the first floor is a gallery overlooking the street. The gallery is a wide open space, and it is a very important part of the building. It is a wide open space, and it is a very important part of the building. It is a wide open space, and it is a very important part of the building.

Governor's plea in farewell address POLICY OF PROGRESS

Standard Correspondent Kampala. In his farewell address to Uganda Legislative Council the Governor, Sir Andrew Cohen, called on non-Africans in the country to identify themselves with the aim of building a modern State and to join in the policy to prepare themselves for self-government.

But the extra duties being given to them placed a special responsibility on the people of Uganda. Political and general progress will depend on the way everyone carries out his responsibilities," he said.

Sir Andrew, who is leaving Uganda to take up a post at the United Nations, said that during the past five years it had been the first aim of his policy to help the people of the country to prepare themselves for the great tasks ahead.

Raising living standards

The Government had, at the same time, aimed to raise the standards of living and the national income by steady and vigorous development of industry and agriculture and by developing political institutions, with the Native Government and Africans substantially playing their full part, and with a larger and more representative Legislative Council and a Ministerial system.

Speaking of the inter-dependence of these aspects of policy he said: "Without economic development, resources would not be available to create services for the Government or to build up the political institutions of the country."

"Without social and educational expansion, trained and vigorous men and women would not be forthcoming to operate the institutions of the country or to play its part in its economic life. Neither social nor economic development would be effectively controlled and local political institutions fitted to the needs of a developing country."

The Governor then gave what he described as the "three pillars" of his policy: "1—Improving production and raising standards of living; 2—Developing political institutions; 3—Expanding social and educational services."

"The opening forward of thinking of a young man and woman to the Government. 2—Development of health and social services; 3—Expansion of education and training."

"Sir Andrew went on: "We have had the greatest success in raising the standards of living in the country."

CHEERS FOR PREMIER

Sir Anthony resumes seat in Commons

THE Prime Minister, Sir Anthony Eden, not a mixed reaction—some of the Conservative supporters, sitting quiet—when he made his first appearance in the House of Commons after his return from a three-week rest in Jamaica. Many Conservatives cheered warmly, but the Labour Opposition sat in silence.

At Sir Anthony's sustained and smiling entrance the Chamber in some applause built up on the Government benches with several Conservatives enthusiastically waving their Parliamentary credentials in greeting. It was said that a number of Conservatives who have opposed what they consider a "premature" withdrawal of troops from Egypt took no part in the demonstration.

Mr. Hugh Gubbins, Leader of the Opposition, said he hoped to see Sir Anthony's return to the House of Commons as a "great relief" to the country. Gubbins said he hoped to see Sir Anthony's return to the House of Commons as a "great relief" to the country.

CLEARANCE WORK ON CANAL NOT SATISFACTORY Anglo-French offer still open

BRITAIN'S Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, said arrangements for clearing the blocked Suez Canal were not going as well as he had hoped. He said it had been the House of Commons that he regretted to say that the French salvage fleet should be kept for the time being.

Mr. Lloyd said the British and French had offered the whole of the Anglo-French salvage fleet to the Government in exchange for the equipment and the crew of the Anglo-French fleet. He said that the Government had agreed to accept the offer, but that the British and French had not yet received the necessary approval from the Admiralty.
