Women's Tuesday Corner Fashion Fabrics For 1935

THE phrase which most aptly describes most of the new fashions shown in the 1935 spring and summer collections is "elegantly understated."

There are no more elaborate designs, often straight to the day clothes, or narrow as pump water, and many dresses are made of light-weight fabric.

But what the right ladies prefer is the new fashion which is being and the woman buying for a month or two.

Explorations in new areas

The Central African Republic line had come to be regarded by American investors as among the first two most suitable fields of investment in the world. Mr. George W. T. Kibben said after his arrival in Salisbury to make a survey of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland for the United States Department of Commerce.

Mr. Kibben said that the American Government is taking a keen interest in new new exploration in this area. The fact that the Department has arranged for a study survey in proof of this is one of several that are to be undertaken in this area.

REASONS FOR ARRESTS OF UNION LEADERS

REPLIES to the allegations by a Canadian trade unionist, Mr. James Bray, that African trade union officials were ill-treated and that half of the union leaders were under detention orders of the Government yesterday.

Mr. Bray, who had never been a special arrests of trade officials and none of the officials detailed in his report had any connection with the trade union movement. They were arrested with members of the Mau Mau movement, including Mr. Kikuyu, Embu and Meru tribes.

The Mau Mau movement was a nationalist movement of the African people, and the fact that only about 17 were classified as Mau Mau members and released, indicated that the remainder had been treated as Mau Mau members and not as trade unionists.

Australian Labour movement split

FRESH THREAT TO PARTY UNITY

MEMBERS of Australia's Federal Parliament remain busy with work until Tuesday. But the Opposition Labour Party is less busy as Canberra in full force for what is currently regarded as one of the most vital caucus meetings in the history of the Australian Labour Party.

Members of the party are expected to discuss the outcome of the meeting which will be held in the early hours of the day. It is expected that the party will be able to agree on a programme of work for the next few months to come.

The split among Parliamentary members reflects a general feeling of dissatisfaction with the party's performance since the change in the leadership. Dr. Braxatorry, who was elected leader in 1953, has been criticised for his handling of the party's affairs. It is expected that the caucus will discuss the possibility of electing a new leader.

Leader challenged

£170,000,000 TARGET SET BY TRADE PACT

Anglo-Argentine committee to review business

EXCHANGE RAINS QUIET

Committee (EAM APPROX)

The London stock market has been generally quiet since the two countries agree to use their best endeavours to reach a trade target totalling about £170,000,000.

The Argentine Government undertakes to facilitate the export of all types of meat to Britain. It is estimated that this will enable Argentina to place orders for £20,000,000 worth of British capital goods.

The Argentine Government intends to make £20,000,000 of loans to Britain.

What is SERVICE?

FINANCE AND COPPERBELT TO HALT IMPORTS OF COAL

MINES on the Copperbelt are to cease importing coal from the United States. The export of coal from America is better than ever and with large stocks being built up on stocks here is being progressively reduced.

A Northern Rhodesia Chamber of Mines spokesman said in Salisbury that because of the strike on the Copperbelt, a total of more than 100,000 tons had been built up.

Excess stockpile

The Rhodesia Railways delivered 14,000 tons in January and 14,000 tons in February, he said. In March the figure was nearly 50,000 tons.

"The mines are not just producing coal for the market, they are producing it for the market," he said. "The mines are producing it for the market, they are producing it for the market."

He said that the mines are producing it for the market, they are producing it for the market.

TWO RAILWAY RECORDS

Two traffic records were broken by the Rhodesia Railways in March, the railway department in Bulawayo announced.

The records were broken during the month of March when 319,000 tons of coal were transported, a new previous record of 310,000 tons.

The quantity of coal transported in March was 319,000 tons, a new record.

New ship for Union line

The newest ship of the South African flag will be the "Union Line" built by the shipyard at Harpers Hill, South Africa.

The vessel, which has been built for the Rhodesia Steamship Line of Johannesburg, is a 10,000-ton ship.

The ship will be used for the service between Cape Town and Salisbury.

£13,300,000 tax from mines

Replying to a question in the Federal Parliament, the Minister of Finance, Mr. Donald Fraser, said that the estimated revenue from the Federal tax from the copper mines in Northern Rhodesia during the assessment year ended March 31, 1954, was £13,300,000.

50 ships in dock strike

There was not any work on the Mombasa waterfront for the last 24 hours on Saturday, 12th April.

The stoppage is the result of a general strike by the dockworkers against the employers' demand for a 50% increase in wages.

In Salisbury, dockers who struck last week over a wage rate were resumed work after the dockworkers' union was disrupted by a general strike.

Appointed directors

The chairman of the Mombasa Chamber of Commerce, Mr. G. C. Boshoff, said that the directors appointed to the Mombasa Chamber of Commerce are:

Mr. W. J. Wainwright, Mr. G. C. Boshoff, Mr. J. H. Wainwright, Mr. J. H. Wainwright, Mr. J. H. Wainwright.

New kiln to treble cement output in N. Rhodesia

CHILKATA CEMENT LTD. has announced that a new kiln is to be installed to treble the company's output.

The company was originally started jointly by the Rhodesia Government and the Rhodesia Chamber of Commerce.

A statement issued by the company says: "In addition to the new kiln, the Rhodesia Chamber of Commerce has agreed to invest in the Rhodesia Chamber of Commerce."

BRITISH BUDGET HOPE FOR INCENTIVE

Production key to prosperity

THE Government's annual Economic Survey has been eagerly awaited for clues to the Chancellor's Budget intentions. Lacking the informed comment of the national press, the public has passed lightly over the less pleasant aspects of the current situation and fastened its hopes on the message dealing optimistically with the prospects for long-term economic expansion.

Undoubtedly there is much to place on the credit side. Production is still rising and, though not so important as it once was, the money market remains strong. The fact that the Chancellor has been able to slash expenditure and increase internal consumption and investment in new industries is a sign of progress.

Savings maintained
As the same time, savings have been maintained at a record level for every period of three years. This was possible only because of the fact that while small prices went up by only 1 per cent.

All this, together with the fact that the 1953 Budget year has just ended with an extraordinary surplus of £2,500,000,000, has led the Chancellor to say that the Budget on Tuesday last is a landmark. It is the first Budget since the war which has had no inflationary effect on the price level.

Drop in surplus
Despite the close of last year, Britain's trade deficit has not been completely eliminated. The surplus of £172,000,000 in the starting year ended in a deficit of £172,000,000. The surplus of £172,000,000 in the second year ended in a deficit of £172,000,000. The surplus of £172,000,000 in the third year ended in a deficit of £172,000,000.

Drop in surplus

U.S. DEVELOPS AN ANTI-POLIO VACCINE

Nations to go ahead on plans for inoculations

Successful tests on 2,000,000 children

SIMILAR CLAIMS FROM FRANCE AND GERMANY

A SUCCESSFUL anti-poliovirus vaccine has been developed by Dr. Jonas Salk, of the University of Pittsburgh. It has been proved safe, effective and potent after tests on 2,000,000 children and three days to coincide with the tenth anniversary of the death of President Franklin Roosevelt, who was a polio victim.

The U.S. has hailed the success of the long-heralded vaccine as a great stride forward in medical science and church bells were rung across an American city as the news was received over the radio and television. The announcement had been delayed to coincide with the anniversary of the death of President Franklin Roosevelt, who was a polio victim.

The Director of the U.S. Poliovirus Vaccine Evaluation Centre, Dr. Thomas Francis, who studied the results of the Salk vaccine, told a gathering of leading scientists and medical men at Michigan University in Ann Arbor that the vaccine was potentially almost 100 per cent effective and could bring complete triumph over polio and its variants of ferret and tracheitis.

Conceding with the U.S. announcement, claims from France and Germany that they had developed a successful vaccine—both developed on the same principle as that used by Dr. Salk.

The Behring Werke at Marburg, one of Germany's oldest and biggest pharmaceutical firms, said it had "encouraging" results in large-scale tests. More than 30,000 people had been inoculated with the serum, which had nearly as long a track record as the Salk vaccine.

The French claim came from the Virus Department of the Pasteur Institute in Paris. Prof. Lucette said the vaccine had been tested on 100,000 children and had proved 100 per cent effective.

Final evaluation of the French vaccine could not be made until after the "polio season" had ended and Prof. Lucette said that the vaccine was being used in a clinic in Germany in the September-October period.

A spokesman for the Virus Department of the Pasteur Institute said he was "not sure" that the vaccine was as effective as the Salk vaccine, but he said that it was "at least" as effective.

Dr. Salk will receive a share of the profits from the vaccine, which will be sold to the public at a price of 10 cents per dose.

MPDALS FOR DR. SALK

The Governor of Pennsylvania, Mr. Duffalo, has announced that he will award Dr. Salk a Medal of Honor for his services to the State in the fight against polio.

The Governor of New York, Mr. Rockefeller, has also announced that he will award Dr. Salk a Medal of Honor for his services to the State in the fight against polio.

The Governor of Illinois, Mr. Bales, has also announced that he will award Dr. Salk a Medal of Honor for his services to the State in the fight against polio.

Parents support new discovery

Parents of more than 200,000 children have expressed their support for the new polio vaccine. A survey conducted by the U.S. Public Health Service found that 95 per cent of the parents of children under the age of 10 years supported the new vaccine.

AIRLINER MISHAP 'MURDER'

CHINA has accused United States agents of causing the crash of an Air India airliner in the South China Sea on Monday, and said it held British authorities in Hong Kong responsible. Eight Chinese Communist officials were aboard the plane en route to the Afro-African conference in Bandung, Indonesia. The plane crashed on its way from Hong Kong to Jakarta. The New China News Agency, a Chinese Foreign Ministry statement, described the crash as a "murder" committed by the United States.

It said the flight of the plane was "deliberately sabotaged" by the United States. The Chinese delegation headed by Chou En-lai and the Afro-African conference.

PILGRIMS DIE AS LIGHTNING HITS TOWER

75 pilgrims were slain and 75 injured when a tower struck by lightning killed them at the famous sanctuary at Haridwar, Uttar Pradesh, India, on Monday. The pilgrims were gathered for the annual Kumbh Mela festival and were standing outside the sanctuary building as a violent storm hit down from the nearby mountain. Lightning struck the tower and the sanctuary, and the pilgrims were killed.

MOVES TO END STRIKE

New Government in London has announced that it will end the strike of the British air traffic controllers. The Government has offered the controllers a 10 per cent increase in pay and a 10 per cent increase in the number of controllers.

BRITAIN CAUTIOUS ON AMERICAN CLAIM

BRITISH officials greeted the announcement of the U.S. discovery of a polio vaccine with caution. A spokesman for the Ministry of Health said that the British Government was not yet ready to accept the U.S. claim that the vaccine was 100 per cent effective.

£23,000,000 PLAN OUTLINED

'Best development pattern' that Kenya can afford

THE Kenya Government's development plan for the period 1964-72, which is being reviewed by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, will be outlined in the Legislative Council yesterday. The plan, which is valued at £23,000,000, is the Government's expression of what it believes to be the best pattern of development within its financial resources.

The plan is based on the assumption that the Government will be able to raise the necessary funds by borrowing from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. ## Amendments to Bill on child neglect

LOCAL AUTHORITIES RESPONSIBILITY

AMENDMENTS involving the responsibilities of local authorities are expected to be introduced in the Bill on child neglect, tabled at Kenya Legislative Council this night, by the Select Committee appointed to consider the provisions of Chapter 142 and 143 of Children Bill.

The amendments under the heading of the Minister for Local Government, Mr. W. H. Barkess, has provided that a local authority which is liable to be removed from the Bill may be returned to the local authority's area, or if facilities for its care are provided outside the area.

Place of service
In the definition of "place of service" provision has been made to exclude service in the armed forces, and to include service in the police and in the services of the Government.

It is further provided that a child shall be deemed to be in a "place of service" if he is employed in any of the services of the Government.

In considering the draft Bill, the Select Committee reported that the East African Women's League had drawn attention to the fact that the Bill would not cover the case of a child who is being neglected by his parents.

INCREASED NUMBER OF TESTS FOR ALCOHOL

TESTS FOR ALCOHOL

The substantial increase in the work performed by the Kenya Government Chemist's Department has been reflected in the fact that in 1954, 104,367 analyses were made, as against 102,000 in 1953. A large extent of more advanced methods being introduced by the chemist.

Making this statement in the House of Representatives, the Minister for Local Government, Mr. Barkess, pointed out that the department had been able to perform all its work in 1954, and that the department had been able to perform all its work in 1954, and that the department had been able to perform all its work in 1954.

'DEFINITE PURPOSE' OF GIFT

THE Egerton Agricultural College at Nyoro will not be affiliated to the Royal Technical College for Agriculture, J. W. Cavendish-Bentinck, said in the House of Representatives.

Mr. Cavendish-Bentinck, who claimed it had been the intention of the Government for some time past to transfer the college to the Agricultural Area, which included the higher technical institutions to students of all races.

The Minister said the land on which the college stands was being given by Lord Kenilworth to the Government, and that it will continue to be used for this purpose. We need not say anything further.

Fund approved

The Council approved the creation of a fund of £10,000 to be used for the purpose of providing facilities for the study of agriculture in Kenya.

CHILDREN CAN BE SUCCESSFULLY VACCINATED AGAINST POLIOMYELITIS

PUBLICATION of the report on the "Salk vaccine" developed by Dr. Jonas Salk, of the University of Pittsburgh, was issued on the tenth anniversary of the death of President Roosevelt, who was stricken by poliomyelitis and died within a few months of the time that a million-dollar American grant for the vaccine was announced.

In his official report, Dr. Theodor W. Francis, Director of the Poliomyelitis Vaccine Evaluation Board, said that the vaccine "is a product of an international effort involving many children with the poliomyelitis virus, and the danger of their contracting the disease is now reduced to a minimum."

The vaccine was found to be "incredibly safe" with only a few minor side effects, such as sore throat, fever, and mild allergic reactions. It was also found to be "highly effective" in protecting children against the disease.

Paralysis occurred in 31 children out of 1,281,000 who were vaccinated in a series of tests conducted by the National Institute of Health in Washington, D.C., and the University of Pittsburgh. The vaccine was also tested in a series of tests conducted by the National Institute of Health in Washington, D.C., and the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Francis said that the vaccine was "highly effective" in protecting children against the disease. He said that the vaccine was "highly effective" in protecting children against the disease.

Uganda could treble its output of tea

BETTER USE OF LAND URGED BY BOARD

MEMBERS of Uganda Tea Board consider that Uganda's tea production, which last year totalled nearly 10,000 tons in exports, could be more than trebled. Fewer than 100,000 acres are now used for tea growing, although 23,000 acres were licensed. The board considers that it is possible to use a further 100,000 acres of tea area, which would be an important step in the development of the tea industry. It is estimated that 50,000 tons of tea could be produced on the area now under tea, and that 50,000 tons more could be produced on the 100,000 acres of new land. The board also considers that the tea industry could be developed on a much larger scale if the Government were to encourage the planting of tea on a much larger scale than at present.

A LONG JOURNEY BECOMES A PLEASANT COMFORT ON ONE OF THE NEW EAST AFRICAN COACHES

Passengers on East African Railways can now enjoy a standard of day and night travel comfort previously unknown in the territories. The new 1st class coaches, coming into public service on November 12th, take advantage of the latest advances in design and the most modern materials to give every practical aid to comfort. They make a long journey a pleasant relaxation instead of an arduous necessity.

These coaches are none of the three thousand new vehicles bringing new standards of rail travel and goods transit to East Africa. Some 266 new passenger coaches and 2,893 goods vehicles will have modernized the system's rolling stock; and provided another example of the way East African Railways are meeting the needs of the present and providing for the needs of the future.

KENYA TODAY 'BEWILDERED' BY PAST FOLLIES

Policy of surplus balances criticised by Mr. S. V. Cooke

KENYA'S position today had been bewildered and bewitched by the folly of S. V. Cooke, Member for the Council on Wednesday, when he criticized the "inflation" policy under which surplus balances had been built up year after year. Instead of their money having been spent on productive works, Mr. Cooke was speaking immediately after the Minister for Finance Mr. Viner, who had outlined the Government's 1951-52 development plan for the period 1951-52.

Mr. Cooke said that the Government's 1951-52 development plan for the period 1951-52 was a continuation of the policy of surplus balances, which had been built up year after year. He said that the Government had spent more than 1,000 millions of pounds since 1945 on the development of the country.

'Hoarding' of surplus

Mr. Cooke said that the Government had spent more than 1,000 millions of pounds since 1945 on the development of the country. He said that the Government had spent more than 1,000 millions of pounds since 1945 on the development of the country.

'Best reconstruction'

After the Kikuyu had been thoroughly impressed and lulled by the reconstruction work, Mr. Cooke said that the Government had spent more than 1,000 millions of pounds since 1945 on the development of the country.

Finishing the war

Mr. Cooke said that he would finish the war by killing every terrorist in the forest and in the bush. He said that the Government had spent more than 1,000 millions of pounds since 1945 on the development of the country.

History of East Africa

The history of East Africa began with the building of the railways and harbours, and the country developed as a railroad spread. Today, despite difficulties and uncertainties, the Railways and Harbours are undertaking many new and important projects. They are building for the future because they are confident that greatness and prosperity lie ahead for East Africa.

Strikers condemned by court of inquiry

20,000 NEWSPAPER MEN MAY LOSE JOBS TODAY

THE British Government was making an 11th-hour attempt yesterday to secure a settlement of London's 20,000 newspaper strike before 20,000 workers outside the docks left their jobs.

Mr. Walter Monckton, the Minister of Labour, called representatives of the Newspaper Proprietors Association and the two unions concerned in talks with conciliatory officers. At this meeting the Minister's officers were to settle their dispute on the basis of a report published by the Ministry.

The report criticized the methods and tactics of the strikers and their wage claims.

'Return' call

The court recommended that the strikers should return to work on a central basis. It called for a return to work on a central basis. It called for a return to work on a central basis.

'No bias'

The general feeling at the court appeared to be that the strikers were to be dealt with impartially.

Power failure caused by lightning

ENGINEERS worked throughout the night of Wednesday night to rectify a power failure which affected the Karam and Langata. The fault was caused by lightning striking a transmission tower at Karam just before 7 o'clock.

Power was restored at 8.30 p.m. but power failed once more at 10.15 p.m. later through another fault.

The power was again restored at 11.15 p.m. after the fault was traced to the transmission tower at Karam.

Danger of spreading

The district court said that when the epidemic broke out in the district it was the danger of spreading that was the main concern.

Army veterans die

Private C. M. Kelly, of the 1st Battalion, The Buffs, died of a heart attack at his home in London on April 10.

Criticism of Mr. Ali's marriage

THE Business and Professional Women's Club of Karachi has criticized Mr. Muhammad Ali, the Pakistani Prime Minister, for taking a second wife during the lifetime of his first.

The club's criticism was based on a report that Mr. Ali had married a woman named Mrs. Begum in London in 1947, while his first wife, Mrs. Fatima, was still alive.

CAMPAIN IN MACHAKOS AGAINST WITCHCRAFT

500 destroy paraphernalia

RECALLING a ceremony in which 500 witches burned their paraphernalia at a mass meeting the District Commissioner, Machakos, Mr. D. J. Penwill writes in his annual report for 1951 that witchcraft, which has long been the work of women's clubs, letting new thoughts and ideas into the "old world" and to aid the work of the mission.

Partly because the Government had been prepared and partly because of strong Kanaka and Machakos District, not alone in the north of the district, where 500 Kanaka informants revealed the complete details of the mission.

'PROTECTION' OF ARREST TO END

Mr. Mas'at's arrest has been deliberately getting those who are in the line of fire to feel that they can't be sure in intention and that there has been no legal provision for protection of arrest for photographers.

Sudan Premier leaves for talks

The Sudan Premier, Mr. Ibrahim Abboud, left Addis Ababa for Addis Ababa on April 10 for a delegation to the Ethiopian Government.

LEGAL DISPUTE OVER HITLER'S FORTUNE

A West Berlin de-Nazification court may have to decide whether Adolf Hitler's fortune should be divided between his widow and his children.

The court is dealing with the estate of Hitler, which was estimated to be worth 100 million Reichsmarks.

THE UNUSUAL AND THE RARE ON A RANCH AT ELEMENTEITA

By Lesley Clay

In seeking the unusual and the rare, I found it after a long and dusty drive, at the house of Lord and Lady Claud Hamilton at Elementeita. The land on which the house now stands was bought by Lady Claud's father in 1877 and she herself, with the aid of local labour, planned and chosen this particular site for their lovely home.

Inside, it is replete with the history of their ancestors and imbued with the atmosphere of the many unusual things collected on numerous journeys round the world.

Great hair rugs from Kurdistan are scattered in many of the rooms, the door posts leading from the small entrance hall into the sitting-room are of black oak hewn from timber of old ships to the order of Lady Claud's great-uncle, Admiral Lord Gambier, of Iverk, Bucks.

In the sitting-room no one can pass without a second glance the striking picture in petit point, the work of disabled soldiers after World War I. It is of Meloni's ship, the Victory, from a painting by the artist, W. L. Wyllie. A French sergentin-fronted chest of drawers, a Korean chest many distant lands. The set of grates round the walls was of horses, and riders in costumes through the ages.

An English harcel organ, no longer now, also capable of being played, is still treasured by Lady Claud from her childhood days, although her bordered with geraniums, is a cabinet displaying Dresden and Sevres china; on it stands a drinking horn which belonged to the Abyssinian Emperor, Theodore. Lady Claud's grandfather, Admiral Sir Leopold Heath, led the naval contingent in the Abyssinian campaign.

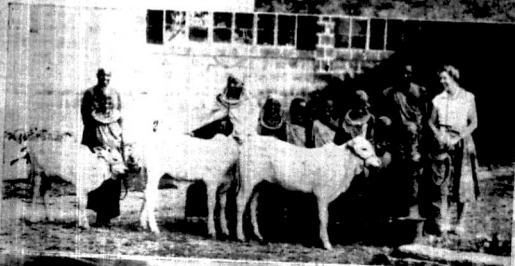

Painting the farm office on the left, in which Lord Claud was at work, I looked into Lady Claud's small sitting-room with its Louis Seize sofa and armchairs. Here was a walnut tallboy with sunburst at foot; pictures of their Surrey home, painted by her father, were on the walls, and in the main bedroom, with its corner fireplace, were dah with its own modern polished-lacquered bathroom.

From Ball had come the piece of Batik hanging on one wall; on another was part of a Mandarin's coat from Manchuria. Saved from the time of the great fire at the Paris exhibition of 1889, is a mirror-backed walnut table still bearing scorch marks.

Two Louis XIII slope-back chairs, straight-back chairs made in France, and a beech wood table are part of the furnishings of the small dining salon, in which is as varied an assortment of portraits and pictures as I have ever seen—family likenesses and paintings on both sides of the family, a series of miniatures—almost a museum of family life hangs on those walls. A handsome 18th-century Spanish leather screen, with pictures of cavaliers and ladies, and a William and Mary sideboard lend further character.

Until quite recently there was in the house a harp which had belonged to Emma, Lady Hamilton—who, by the way, is no connection of Lord Claud Hamilton. When it began to fall apart it was a gift to the Nelson collection in Monmouthshire so that it could be preserved for the nation.

But Lord Claud and his wife do not live in the past in spite of their many historical and beautiful possessions; they have much to do on their large cattle ranch. The suburbs of the White of the Ganges there is a gift to the Nelson collection in Monmouthshire so that it could be preserved for the nation. When it began to fall apart it was a gift to the Nelson collection in Monmouthshire so that it could be preserved for the nation.

THE LOYALTY OF DOGS

WHEN, in 1947, Mr. and Mrs. Gayer, of Gibraltar, decided to leave England and make Kenya their home, they took with them four of the best dogs in their kennels with them. The four, all pedigree, were the four-year-old Bluebell, a golden retriever, a black and white pointer, a black and white terrier, and a black and white spaniel. The dogs, which were taken to Kenya by air, were housed in the house of Mrs. Gayer, who was then in the process of building a new house in the hills. The dogs were housed in the house of Mrs. Gayer, who was then in the process of building a new house in the hills. The dogs were housed in the house of Mrs. Gayer, who was then in the process of building a new house in the hills.

Three weeks ago we invited readers to submit interesting stories of the loyalty, courage or sagacity of dogs. Here are four of the best of the many tales submitted.

and being fully appreciative of all that had been done, said they would take a chance and try to get the dog back. As they drove along, Mr. Gayer was very nervous to keep on talking to the creature which kept sniffing his heels and sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, in an attitude of listening. Suddenly, the dog put its paws on the back of the driver's seat and looked at Gayer's feet. The dog was looking at the car with stopped and what her master said to her was not for other ears. With treatment and being kept in a kennel, the dog was brought home. During that two and a half of my chance to inquire about him from the paper-owner. He said me that the faithful animal lived just behind Seton's and that he would only take the paper from him—never from his companion. "Ah," he added, "see them look bright?" He always waits for them to turn green before crossing the road."

—Edna J. Brindley of Nairobi.

All dressed up and smart, when he goes to the shops for his weekly shopping, is the dog of Mrs. P. A. Puff, of Ripstone, Surrey.

The dog refused to leave the house in which I was staying recently in London, close to Bond Street, in Grosvenor Gardens. I brought home some new shoes and I noticed, when I was going to the shops, that my dog was with me. # RADIO PERSONALITIES

IN KENYA By Lesley Clay

Ever since the Children's Hour was invented for radio, for some in the days of broadcasting at Kings Hill, London, there has been a "mother" and a "father" in charge of the programmes for the children, and the youngsters have come to regard those mothers and fathers as their own.

Mother's own particular radio hour "Mamma" exactly four years ago when Mrs. Little was asked by a former school class (Pup (Pup)) to try her hand at story-writing and broadcasting. Since then she has written and produced 18 series, and about 60 short stories - not including those she has written before 1951.

Mrs. Little trained as a journalist, but preferred socialistic work and started writing children's non-fiction stories for her own publication while working in Kenya. This was long before she married her draughtsman husband, Charles, whose home was in the Lebanon. The Littles have one son, aged 15, who will shortly go to Britain for training. Mrs. Little spent 12 years in the Middle East. She was with the C.I.O. in Palestine during the war, from which she transferred to the military attaché's office in the Lebanon. Charles and she were married in the Lebanon. Mrs. Little is now in the Lebanon. Mrs. Little is now in the Lebanon. Mrs. Little is now in the Lebanon.

After the War the Littles retired to their home in the Mountains of Lebanon and when they brought their son to Kenya for his secondary education, in 1948, Mrs. Little joined the British Council for a time. She is now secretary to the British Council in East Africa of the General Electric Company. Her husband is an enthusiastic member of the Arts and Crafts Society.

Janice Ruth and Uncle Pat have earned themselves a warm place in the affections of all young people who listen on Tuesdays and Thursdays to Cable and Wireless programmes for the children.

Patch And Koko Go For A Bus Ride

Patch was in the yard. The small, small man. The small led him to the where he found Koko who was striding up and down the work bench. He liked playing with screws and nails.

"Hello," he barked Patch, "don't muddle any of those things will you?"

"Of course not," answered Koko. Indulgently "I wonder what's this bit?" He tipped it over but it wasn't what he was after.

"All right," Patch said, "this stuff is sticking to my leg." He climbed down to the ground and tried to scratch himself clean. Patch began to tick him.

"It sticks to my trousers," he grumbled. "Let's go in to Lisa." They went to the kitchen. Lisa was waiting patiently. She looked at the sticky marks Koko's feet were making on the floor.

"I'll have you get out of your feet, Koko," she said. "Clean all sticky" he mumbled rather dejectedly. "Koko" Patch said to the boy. "Let's go home," barked Patch, shaking himself. "The cover is on the floor." He wondered if I give the right answer. Koko was with a wick.

"Ticket, have a ticket!" he screamed. Everyone was much surprised. Patch was increasing towards the man. It had a wire door. Patch rubbed his nose against the wire.

"Burr!" he barked, wagging his tail in a friendly way.

"Cheer!" he barked. "You're the only one who's not a dog!" he barked. "You're the only one who's not a dog!" he barked. "You're the only one who's not a dog!" he barked.

"Well, well!" he exclaimed. "Let's go out," screamed Koko, "let's go out to the floor." "Well!" barked Patch, "Thank you for the ride." The driver was surprised.

"Let's go home," barked Patch, shaking himself. "The cover is on the floor." He wondered if I give the right answer. Koko was with a wick.

ON YOUR RADIO. Next Week

In this week's Radio Theatre play Golden Rule, R. F. Doldorfer, author of Worm's Eye View, offers us a curiously new view of country life. Rose Strawbridge has been in the Army for five years and in the Ministry for three. Now he has a living at the village of "Worm's Eye View" and a pretty wife named Cathy. And the village is a great, unrecognizable world in a lovely, unrecognizable world. The village is a great, unrecognizable world in a lovely, unrecognizable world.
