BRITAIN PROPOSES 'BIG-FOUR' CONFERENCE

U.S. support sought by Mr. Macmillan

FOUNDATION FOR WIDER REVIEW OF PROBLEMS

BRITAIN sought agreement at the Paris talks during the weekend at the United States Ministers of Britain, the United States and France for a "Big-Four" meeting of the Foreign States on major East-West differences.

The move was made more difficult by the announcement of Britain's aid to the Anglo-Soviet friendship treaty and the Communist League in Warsaw on Wednesday.

The British appeal, made by Mr. Harold Macmillan on his first overseas mission as Foreign Secretary, should meet little later, however, a U.S. spokesman said that his Government had not taken any element and that Mr. Macmillan had not taken any element himself had not excluded from their minds the idea of a meeting at the summit.

Mr. Dulles had emphasized that the President could not leave his country for a long period or become involved in the discussion of details. The British suggestion would overcome both these obstacles as merely a meeting, limited in a very short time—possibly less than a week and prepare a programme of work for their Foreign Ministers.

Previously, the United States has steadfastly opposed the idea of a meeting "at the summit." Its leaders declined Sir Winston Churchill's first proposal shortly after Marshal Stalin's death in 1953.

Mr. Dulles has been the suggestion that the world leaders should meet in a summit conference which would be the first step towards a new program of international cooperation.

Dr. Scheide's recommendation follows a statement to him on Friday that production of the vaccine was continuing in the Government's present vaccination program.

GATT UNPOPULAR WITH AUSTRALIANS

Farmers, manufacturers and traders urge withdrawal

AUSTRALIAN farmers, manufacturers and traders demand Australia to withdraw from the 36-nation General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. Critics blame GATT for the recent cuts which Australia has not supported, the Australian Wool Industries Manufacturers Association and the difficulties of Australia in manufacturing seeking to compete in world markets. Minister for Trade and Commerce, Mr. John McEwen, answered the critics by saying in effect: "We are unhappy about GATT, but we know that it has its faults, but it is the only agreement there is and it is better to belong to it than 'go it alone'."

The main criticism of GATT is that it is a purely imperial preference, worked in favour of the British Empire. The existing tariff structure of Australia is based on the Ottawa agreement but is to be improved under GATT. Australian preferences are working against Australia.

Review session
They would like to see a Gatt which would allow Australia to have more freedom of trade, so that they would fulfil their obligations to the world with a greatly reduced level of tariff.

Australian exporters say that the Ottawa agreement gives them an Australian market. The Ottawa agreement gives them a percentage of 100% when they export to other countries. The figure remains proportionate to the other countries several times.

These 'orphan shacks'
Mr. R. W. C. Anderson, a spokesman for manufacturers, said that the GATT is a purely imperial preference system which is not supported by the British Empire. He said that the GATT is a purely imperial preference system which is not supported by the British Empire.

LORD REITH PILOTS C.D.C. A BRIGHTER PEARL

No. 2 in the Conservative hierarchy

ACADEMIC knowledge and executive ability combine to make Mr. E. A. Butler one of Britain's best administrators of the country.

From the British taxpayer's point of view, this will be the C.D.C. in the Government.

The matter has been pigeon-holed for some time in connection with the C.D.C.

After the election, the C.D.C. will be a minority government.

Laliko votes 77-7 for Cincock plan

STRONG OPPOSITION TO ASIAN MINISTER

Laliko yesterday voted to accept the Cincock plan, which was set up to constitute a constitutional proposal.

The report, by Laliko, has agreed to the proposal, including the creation of a new ministry in Uganda and the Uganda Legislative Council. The plan also provides for the appointment of a minister of the Laliko voted against the plan.

The Ombudsman said that if the plan is accepted, it means a new era of development for the country and a new era of progress.

Three resolutions were passed by the Legislative Council. The first was to support the Cincock plan. The second was to support the appointment of a minister of the Laliko. The third was to support the appointment of a minister of the Laliko.

Rising Nairobi building costs: Inquiry not necessary

No independent inquiry is to be made into present building costs in Nairobi. This was stated in the House of Commons by the Colonial Secretary, Mr. A. L. Llewellyn, in reply to Mr. George Craddock (U.K.), who had referred to a resolution passed by the Kenya Federation of Registered Trade Unions claiming that building costs in Nairobi had risen 100 per cent in a year.

Mr. Llewellyn said the rents of Nairobi had risen 100 per cent in a year. He said that the Government had been asked to inquire into the matter, but that it was not necessary to do so.

WEST TO INVITE RUSSIA FOR TALKS 'AT SUMMIT' America won over by British pressure

POSSIBILITY OF GENEVA MEETING IN JULY

FOREIGN Ministers of the 15 Atlantic pact nations endorsed in Paris yesterday, a Big Three approach to Russia for a conference 'at the summit' on major East-West differences. President Eisenhower gave his approval to the move after days of transatlantic radio-cast conversations with his Secretary of State, Mr. Dulles. The conference, if approved by Marshal Stalin, will probably take place in July. Geneva has been mentioned as a possible meeting place.

The invitation to Moscow may be sent today. But Mr. Dulles feels that no formal Note is necessary as the Big Three Foreign Ministers will be meeting Mr. Molotov in Vienna on Sunday, when they are due to sign the Austrian State treaty.

American agreement to top-level talks follows three days of strong pressure by Mr. Marshall. The United States Government had until recently been firmly opposed to a meeting between the heads of the Big Three.

President Eisenhower said that he would be willing to make a move if the first instance the talks should be between heads of States. Marshal Stalin said that he took a "positive" attitude to the President's speech.

Mr. Eisenhower's acceptance was conditional. He has insisted that the meeting should be on equal terms.

TUGMEN VOTE TO CONTINUE STRIKE

The 800 Liverpool tugmen who have been on an unofficial strike since May 1st, voted to continue an open-air strike today. The vote was 750 to 100 in favour of continuing the strike.

Their main demands are for a 44-hour week instead of 48, and for more overtime. About 1,200 dockers are without work because of the strike.

Early this week a crowd of 100,000 gathered in the South Yorkshire coalfield to support a strike of 200,000 miners who have been on strike for a week.

There was, however, little sign of a settlement of the strike which has cost the country about £10 million a week.

U.K. concern over Afghan demand for new State

BRITAIN is greatly concerned over an increasing demand for a new State in Afghanistan. The demand is being made by the 'freedom' and 'a socialist' on the United States on the question of recognizing diplomatic sources in London.

The Afghan Ambassador, Mr. Nizamuddin Khan, has been in London for some time. He has been increasing demand for a new State in Afghanistan.

Indian threat on Goa

Mr. N. G. Goenka, a leader of the Indian Peace Keeping Force, said at Pune on Monday that he will march into Goa in the last week of the month.

Mr. Goenka said: "We are not going to march into Goa until the world that no country can be a world power without a world in bondage."

BUDGET CRITICS Hit on Open Attack Austrian treaty

Mr. Harris calls coffee export tax 'iniquitous' THE debate on Kenya's 1955-56 Budget, which was presented by the Minister for Finance Mr. E. A. Vasey, was a fortnight ago, began in Legislative Council on Monday. One of the early speakers was Mr. S. V. Cooke (C.O.), who said that the Budget had declined the weaknesses of the Government, that its Ministers did not really represent the people of the country.

The Member said he was glad if the Budget would have been quite quiet the same if it was not for the fact that it was not only a budget but a manifesto for the Government.

Mr. Vasey had to fight an election on the basis of a budget which was not only a budget but a manifesto for the Government.

LABOUR WAY TO MORE STRIFE

FIFTY people sat for 90 minutes in Torr's Hotel, Nairobi, on Monday night listening to the answers of a brains trust — three men and a woman — led by the Minister for Forest Development, Mr. L. R. M. Woodroffe. If the brains trust had its way, there would be no multi-racial cabinet. Elected Members of Legislative Council would not get a salary rise and the election lists would win the election. There would be no change of appointment and no change of appointment until women were put in the cabinet. Only Mr. Woodroffe would be on the island state cabinet — the Danby Menapans.

A BOUT £2,000,000 will be spent on winning 20,000,000 votes which will be collected and counted by half the expenditure will come from the Government...

FOUR TO REVIEW LOCUST CONTROL

Commission arriving soon

THE East Africa High Commission has appointed a commission of four to review the operations of the Desert Locust Control Organisation. The work will include the study of the level and geographical spread of expenditure on locust control work, recommendations for the future and a review of the financial arrangements, estimates and accounting methods.

The commission will be headed by Mr. Francis Maitland, Secretary of the Punjab and more recently head of the British Overseas Mission to Yugoslavia. He was chairman of a commission to report on the locusts which infested the Malayan rubber plantations in 1952.

The members will be Dr. J. G. S. Coombe, Director of the Anti-Locust Research Centre in London and Mr. G. G. Coombe, a member of the British Overseas Mission to Yugoslavia. The fourth member will be a representative of the Organisation of African States, which is the commission's sponsor.

Month's tour
They will leave London for East Africa about May 25. During their tour, which will last about a month, they will inspect locust control operations operating outside East Africa.

In March, Mr. J. C. Mombasa, Kenya Governor, and Mr. J. G. S. Coombe, Director of the Anti-Locust Research Centre, visited East Africa to inspect locust control operations.

Testimony pours in from 'PLUS 10' motorists who have been riding on COLD RUBBER and never knew it!

AMAZING RELIEVES

When the Plus 10 tyre was introduced last year slower tread wear and longer life were promised. Now we can tell you why. It is revealed by Goodyear research chemists that Cold Rubber is the reason for the amazing mileage pointers have been reporting.

MOST IMPORTANT ADVANCE

What is Cold Rubber? It bears no relation to some experimental processes. It has been developed by Goodyear in recent years. The most important feature of Cold Rubber is its low polymerisation temperature, 47°F instead of 150°F in the case of ordinary rubber. This results in a molecular structure which is so compact and in fact stronger and longer lasting.

ORDINARY TYRES NOW OBSOLETE

From the earliest weeks of its introduction, the Goodyear Plus 10 has been made of Cold Rubber—giving "more original miles, more retread miles" just as Goodyear knew it would. It has cost substantially more to produce, but it costs you not a penny more than an ordinary tyre. When you specify Goodyear Plus 10 you are saving money from the word "go".

THOUSANDS OF EXTRA MILES NOW REPORTED

Plus 10 users are reporting tremendous mileage increases. Some 20,000 miles per tyre over ordinary tyres. In fact, one user reports a 40% increase over the ordinary tyre.

FULL AGREEMENT ON TREATY FOR AUSTRIA

Russian concession won by Allies

MINISTERS GATHERING FOR SIGNING CEREMONY

AMBASSADORS of the Big-Four Powers, working in Vienna on details of the Austrian State Treaty, have reached full agreement on all the points. This was announced in a special communiqué in the Austrian capital. The treaty is due to be signed tomorrow.

When the unanimous agreement was announced, the Viennese went wild with delight, dancing in the streets and breaking bottles to liberty. Tomorrow the city will be lit with burning and illuminations.

The triumph and the ten-year struggle came when Russia, who had stubbornly refused to accept a compromise position to a treaty on former German territory, was finally persuaded to agree to the course. Differences on the withdrawal of occupation troops were settled by a compromise between the American and Russian points of view.

While the Ambassadors were yesterday holding their last meeting in the series, the Western Foreign Ministers were on their way from Paris to Vienna. There, Mr. Macmillan, Mr. Dulles and Mr. Pinay will discuss with the Soviet Foreign Minister, Mr. Molotov, the proposed terms of the Heads of State. The Russian Minister is expected to give them the reply of Marshal Zhukov.

Three-Power invitation. It will be their arrangement the time and place for the signing ceremony. The ambassadors of the United States, Great Britain and France will be invited to give them the reply of Marshal Zhukov.

The Government hopes to reach a decision on the union's recognition in the near future.

Political resolutions

The Council of Ministers has passed several political resolutions. These resolutions relate to the Government's policy on education, health, and social welfare. The Government is committed to improving the lives of its citizens and to providing the best possible services to them. These resolutions are part of the Government's long-term strategy to achieve these goals.

Members withdraw

Several members of the Council of Ministers have withdrawn from the Council. This is because they have been appointed to other positions in the Government. The Council of Ministers is currently reviewing the impact of these withdrawals and is looking for ways to ensure that the Government's work is not disrupted. African compulsory education experiment urged

MR. AWORI SEEKS STATEMENT ON MULTI-RACIAL SCHOOLS

IN the Budget debate in Kenya Legislative Council on Friday, Mr. W. W. Awori (African Unionist Member) suggested experimenting with compulsory African education in a small town like Kiambu. It was time, he said, for the Government to review the teaching profession had not been attractive to Africans because of the low wages but because of the implementation of the Ladbury Report. It is believed more Africans would take up teaching as a profession.

Dealing with education and vocational training, Mr. Awori said he would appreciate more statements from the Government, particularly on the subject of multi-racial schools. He was a member of a committee set up to examine the subject and he had reported to the Government that there were some 150 multi-racial schools in Kenya at the moment where there were about 200 of all races.

"No opportunity"
In addition, there was no opportunity for people of all races to be employed in multi-racial schools. He pointed out that Africans should be admitted but he had not mentioned that the Government should be open to multi-racial schools, particularly in view of the experience of the multi-racial schools.
