

"WAR UNLIKELY" DECLARES SIR THOMAS INSKIP

Government Has Very Good Reasons For Saying So

FOREIGN SECRETARY NOT SO HOPEFUL

At least one British cabinet minister thinks war is unlikely.

He is Sir Thomas Inskip, who added emphatically: "And the Government has very good reasons for saying so."

Among the leading newspapers, the Daily Express recently revealed its view—maintained even during the capture of Bapaume last—that there will be no war.

In the Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax, is much less sanguine of the future.

London, August 4. Sir Thomas Inskip, who is a member of the cabinet, has been quoted as saying that the Government has very good reasons for saying so.

May Be Even Greater Problems in Europe

TOKYO AND AXIS POWERS

There have been debates on the far east situation in both houses of parliament.

The Prime Minister uttered a warning on the danger of Britain's undertaking the same commitments in China as in Europe, where there may be even greater problems in the near future.

Meanwhile it is stated in London that there is an official information that a communiqué issued after a meeting of the Japanese Ambassadors to Rome and Berlin—referring to a clear adherence of Japan and the Axis Powers—represents the views of the Government in Tokyo.

SWEETS FOR THE EPICURE

SWEETHEARTS

I LIKED "SWEETHEARTS" as much because of its rhythm, as for its melody. It is a touching and beautiful musical romance, with one of the year's clever and witty scripts by Dorothy Parker, that clever and succinctly amusing American comedienne.

reads her eyes with the attention of the U. S. Army and Navy. She has a beautiful figure and a sweet smile and a "good nature" that makes her a "sweetheart" to all who know her. She is a "sweetheart" to all who know her. She is a "sweetheart" to all who know her.

ish film of the present time. This Mrs. Laporte commencing in "The Queen" on French film and the fact that there are 7 theaters showing French films in London as the greatest one who rather hesitantly if it were could not have a cinema in London, merely showing British films. She is sure that such a cinema would have a good time.

It is also supposed that another critic that we should have a style for film. We in this country have not evolved an style of our own in film. The French have their own style, the Russians have theirs; but they have it there in, with the disappearance of German films from the British market, no amount of directors and script writers to train cinema in the French are of the most interesting French film although occasionally, someone brings out a good translation.

It is pointed out that the English are less recognizable in the visual than in the acts of treatment. They are, however, not kind and produced dramatic and intelligent, and satisfying. The production and distribution of British films, who are gradually alive in the traditional realm of the visual, will not have to do so, as the visual is the most of a deserted dry street with the lamp shining on the wall, and the scene of the road, on the wall is high, a fountain with water and shade, occupies first in a ball of the road. The scene is rarely intruded into our pictures, which present to our eyes the most beautiful features of that the scene. Perhaps in this anything may be said.

SWEETHEARTS is done in such a fashion that we expect there are implied in it, and rather complex, especially in the first act which is twice as long as the rest of the picture. The music is well written and the lyrics are well written. The music is well written and the lyrics are well written.

INTERVIEW WITH KAISER IN 1938
His Views On Position In The Far East

[LONDON, 4th August.]—London, August 4.—An interview, suppressed at the time, which the special correspondent of the "New York Times" obtained with the Kaiser in 1938, has been published by that paper—after a lapse of 23 years. Reuters states from New York.

"The statements were the result of a dialogue by the German Foreign Office and of the editorial of the Press and the Kaiser, but some of the contents had not been cleared and it was a matter of some concern to the Kaiser to be sure that the Kaiser's opinions would not be distorted in any way."
"The Kaiser's remarks are not provided for the British. He is not a British subject, but he is a subject of the Kaiser's own Government. His views are given as an interesting comment on the present international situation in the Far East."

MOST SUCCESSFUL KENYA CHAMPIONSHIPS END

Duncan's Hat-trick In Singles A Record For The Event

The 1959 Kenya Lawn Tennis Championships, the highlights of which have been reported in these columns, are being considered as being among the most successful ever held in Kenya. The fact that a visiting overseas team took the last of the five consolation prizes in interest was a further indication that the standard of play higher than ever.

It is inevitable in fact, that the absence of overseas opposition of a nature too good for any but the very best players in Kenya, added further to the distinction from the outset, so far as the competition has gone, and it is not surprising that the Kenyan players, who won the consolation prizes, were not only better than the local players who were beaten, but also better than the local players who were beaten.

The results of the championships in various articles in this column have already been given in this column. It is, therefore, unnecessary to repeat the results of the championship, but it is interesting to note that the results of the championship are as follows:

Men's Singles: Duncan (Kenya) beat [Name] in 2 sets.

Men's Doubles: [Name] and [Name] beat [Name] and [Name] in 2 sets.

Women's Singles: [Name] beat [Name] in 2 sets.

NEW LIGHT ON EAST COAST FEVER May Be Thrown By Discovery At Thomson's Falls

INFECTED - BUFFALO

A discovery regarded as of the greatest importance to the Stock industry throughout Africa is reported from Thomson's Falls.

It is the story that East Coast Fever broke out on a farm which until occupied recently had been vacant for a long time—long enough for all infected ticks to die.

A young buffalo shot on the farm (which was regularly used for these animals for grazing) had in his spleen some of the well-known organisms accepted as proof of East Coast Fever. This discovery challenges the view held until now but often questioned that game did not spread this disease.

The facts which I am able to disclose are in regard to a discovery of the East Coast Fever in an animal, over which they will be of the greatest importance to pastoralists throughout the whole of East Africa.

Recently this farm has been infected by self-propagating ticks, which, with cattle, and goats and sheep, have been the cause of the disease. It is now known that the ticks which were introduced to the farm by a young buffalo which was brought to the farm from the East Coast of Africa. If you are, you will have a use for the "Macro" Patent (Adjustable) Template. The "Macro" Template is composed of a number of very fine strips of hard drawn solid brass, and is consequently rustless. The thickness of each strip is .007 in., thus great accuracy is ensured when using the "Macro" Template. The laminations are held in position by two specially constructed clamps secured by two thumb-screws and springs, by the tension of which the laminations are held firmly, and they adapt themselves to the exact shape of whatever medium the instrument is pressed against. A special feature of the "Macro" Patent Adjustable Template is that the laminations will not fall out even when the locking nuts are loosened to their full extent.

THE PLAY-ROOM-OMN... is one of the most used rooms in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Raymond (formerly Washington), the M.C.M. star who is playing this week in "Bambino". It is more liberally furnished than any other room, and usually the first where the guests gather in the evening. The head-hunter wood walls are an individual pose, as is the attractive white leather furniture with its padded upholstery, covered with heavy black-leather material, complete swivel. There is especially a set of armchairs for the guests to sit on.

RECALL SALAD DAYS

SOME TIME AGO there was an American film in which Adolphe Menjou, playing the part of a million-dollar man, had a salad, his arched and absorbed face, his intense and anxious eyes in which he measured out each ingredient, the satisfied smile that spread over his face when he had finished with an opinion of the general quality of a good number of salads, and the recipe that would be followed to arrive at a perfect result.

To most people a salad means lettuce, tomatoes, a few radishes, some cucumber sliced, and a dressing. and says there will be Peace!
Propaganda is a necessary means of achieving any political purpose that is fit for publication. But Herr Hitler is terribly handicapped by his anti-Semitism, which is a cross and not a political weapon.

1. HAS war become more imminent now that all Europe is armed to the teeth and Britain is determined to safeguard Europe's present frontiers?
No. The peace at present is maintained by the fact, anything that intensifies risk makes for peace. The police never for lack a common sense.

2. Do you think Denzig will be the spark to set the European powder train off?
Danzig by itself is not a war to Germany or any other Power except Poland. All that Powers want to settle the Danzig question without a fight. Therefore it will probably be peacefully settled - or left alone entirely. But, of course, if Germany went mad enough to want to fight, Danzig would be as good an excuse as another.

3. Is Dr. Goebbels right when claiming that the present "enrichment" of Germany provides a means to 1914?
Yes, as far as the enrichment is concerned. But there is no secret about the present situation. If that had been the determined attitude of all democracies? Nothing.

4. What would be the most sensible thing for Herr Hitler to do now that he is faced by the determined attitude of all democracies?
We are all so desperately frightened of a full-scale war that we are urging general disarmament. Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini.

5. And what about money? Do you think it is overrated in our days?
No. The great majority undervalue it, and are in consequence, in the opinion of the present, in a position to acquire an independent income, and then invest it in the most profitable manner.

6. People say you have made millions with your page.
People know nothing about it. There are no millions in work of the quality of mine. I have no time to bother about it.

7. I don't know. It all depends on the propaganda. If it is sufficiently intelligent it may do good. It is as quite possible, in self-righteous and irritable, it may make matters worse.

8. Herr Hitler speaks immensely on the weapons of propaganda is concerned. But there is no secret about the present situation. If that had been the determined attitude of all democracies? Nothing.

MOTORING AND AVIATION SECTION

Stray Thoughts about MOTORING

JUST LATELY A NUMBER of motorists and "motor" publications have come my way and I have been struck by the exceptionally high standards, both as to substance and matter, which characterize most of the home journals and advertising literature distributed by the motor and allied trade. The printing and illustrations are excellent and the layout strikingly attractive. Many of the advertisements contain sound advice to the layman, while others are packed full of scientific data, informative matter in general or special subjects.

IT WAS FROM ONE OF THESE sources that I learned of the remarkable onset and progress of the South African motor industry. A new type of boom direct construction, equipped with a 20-horsepower engine, is being built in certain areas and this is described as the "new" medium between the old-fashioned cheap car and a surface of a car. It is stated to be a comparatively clean form of construction and it is a striking example of individual style and individualism. It is said to be a "new" type of motor car, built to suit the climate and conditions of South Africa. Although the car is built to suit the climate, it is also built to suit the road conditions, which are usually unimproved, by the adoption of a "new" type of motor car, built to suit the climate and conditions of South Africa.

ANY SCHEME WHICH would mean a better and more permanent surface in Kenya at a reasonable cost will be welcomed and the Government will be glad to consider any scheme which is carried out by citizens and individuals. I, for one, do not believe that the motor industry in Kenya is ever on an "losing" or "unprofitable" or "unproductive" basis. I am sure that the motor industry in Kenya is ever on an "increasing" or "productive" basis. I am sure that the motor industry in Kenya is ever on an "increasing" or "productive" basis.

A delivery of aircraft and technical equipment to the Royal Air Force at a more rapid rate than was expected when the first delivery was received is one of the chief reasons why the first delivery was received. The Royal Air Force is now receiving a more rapid rate of delivery of aircraft and technical equipment than was expected when the first delivery was received.

THE "WAAFs"

When you serve in one of the Auxiliary Air Force units, you are not only a member of the Royal Air Force, but you are also a member of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force. The "WAAFs" are an integral part of the Royal Air Force and they are doing a great deal of work for the Royal Air Force.

ALL CLAIMS OF WORK UNDEBTABLE

BEST PILOT

by Victor Ricketts

DEFINITELY Quill scored second in a five, thermal, black-batter and slightly hesitant manner, holds down the fastest job in the world.

He is a test pilot. His living is, testing the new 270 M.P.H. Supermarine Spitfire eight-gun plane which they come out of the Southampton Airport works for delivery to the R.A.F. The Spitfire. Many thousands of pounds' worth of machinery and metal intended to form the world's fastest fighter-plane in service. And Quill, with his living in the air on his first appearance of the factory line, and, after forty minutes' test-flying, have it ready for collection by an R.A.F. pilot as in perfect condition.

Probably you do not think flying is much time in which to find, and from out, all the faults of a machine. But it is not so. The Air Ministry, crying out for a better machine, is not so. The Air Ministry, crying out for a better machine, is not so. The Air Ministry, crying out for a better machine, is not so.

1914-15 Time photo who flew in 1914-15 will surely recognize the modern Spitfire. Here is the 270 M.P.H. R.A.F. Spitfire. It is the Spitfire. When Quill takes a new flight up on his machine, flight the test is in flying right or left wing down. That procedure is followed by the test pilot. The test pilot is followed by the test pilot. The test pilot is followed by the test pilot.

THE STUDEBAKER CHAMPION

Economy, Speed and Power in Unusual Measure

A RECENT road test of the new Studebaker "Champion" was for too brief for the writer; for this attractive car provided a degree of comfort, speed, power and economy rarely combined in any car one.

The "Champion" falls into a category class which, over experience, is pointed, has not been widely developed of recent years on the American market. The Studebaker engine develops 73 h.p. at 4,000 r.p.m. and is a very good example of the best of its kind. The chassis of the design is a sturdy frame construction built for long travel and light weight. The suspension is of the coil spring type, and the steering is of the rack and pinion type. The car is a very good example of the best of its kind.

Motorists who still remember the days of their youth will particularly appreciate the new 1 and 4 gallon tins of New Shell Motor Oil. For here, on sale throughout East Africa, is Shell's contribution to the field of juvenile necromancy—the "jack-in-the-box" motor oil tin.

By pressing the cap at the top of the tin, and whispering a low "Abracadabra" a patent telescopic pourer spout can be made to spring out ready to fit into the most elusive of car sumps and guaranteed to gladden the life of the most blasé purchaser. Car owners who can never find their "oil rag" will also appreciate the non-spilling qualities of this method of filling or topping up.

The New Shell Motor Oil in these tins is proving a roaring success. It is now known as "stays on the job New Shell Motor Oil" because it doesn't drain away from the vital parts of a car engine.

PREMIER AND COMMITMENTS IN FAR EAST May Be Even Greater Problems In Europe

TOKYO AND AXIS POWERS

THERE HAVE BEEN DEBATES ON THE FAR EAST WHICH ARE IN BOTH HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT.

The Prime Minister uttered a warning on the danger of Britain's undertaking the same commitments in China as it did in Europe, when there may be even greater problems in the near future.

Meanwhile it is stated in London that there is no official information that a communication issued after a meeting of the Japanese Ambassador to London and Berlin—referring to a closer adherence of Japan and the Axis Powers—represents the views of the Government in Tokyo.

Interviewing in the Far East, the Prime Minister has made an important statement, in which points of view were made.

At present we have not got a Far East situation which is more serious than the situation in the Far East.

British policy towards China will be discussed.

The Japanese negotiator in London has not been as responsible as the Japanese in the Far East.

Japanese envoys at the meetings were being recalled, and it is understood that the Japanese are not to be allowed to attend the meetings.

It is reported from Tokyo that the Prime Minister has called off the dogs of the Far East.

The Prime Minister is now to see the Prime Minister in Tokyo.

A GIRL IN A MILLION

That Certain Age
CAPITUL.—

JUST smack in the time for the summer holidays, a new Deanna Durbin picture, That Certain Age, comes to Nairobi. And of all the films turned out annually in England or America, none are likely to please more people, young and old, than Deanna's.

Deanna, with her fresh, sixteen-year-old charm and that mature soprano voice, has reached a point in her career when it is inevitable that they should be a little less so in their interest in her picture. In That Certain Age (with an excellent cast) they do it very delicately, as you might suppose your own daughter to her first glass of champagne at Christmas, or some girl to her first ball in a frock that strictly accords with her age.

Deanna appears as a young girl, but the picture, with a beautiful cast, contains an elderly wisp of a woman, played by Lady Evelyn, who has inspired (I hope) a few of our readers with the idea of becoming a "society" girl. Her admirers, Mr. Jones and Madame Jones, who are the latter's two wealthy suitors, for her good-looking, confident and beautiful young things of her own age. Her suitors, however, are the young man who is a world of an elderly woman's idea of a "society" girl, and the girl who is a world of an elderly woman's idea of a "society" girl. Her suitors, however, are the young man who is a world of an elderly woman's idea of a "society" girl, and the girl who is a world of an elderly woman's idea of a "society" girl.

After a great deal of technical detail the dentist has tried to remove the cavity. EX-M.P. WHO LOST A MILLION

STARRAD'S COMMENTARY

By all his sins Mr. E. A. Storr, former Member of the House of Commons, had given away more than a million. One of the big things he had overlooked was "getting his money back." In an election address—said his constituents, he would be elected if he left only £100.

The poor man's constituents were not so easily fooled. He was elected in 1924. He was re-elected in 1928. He was re-elected in 1932. He was re-elected in 1936. He was re-elected in 1936.
