TANGANYIKA TO RAISE LOAN £7,000,000 to complete six-year plan

THE Government of Tanganyika is to raise a loan of £7,000,000 for the completion of the six-year Development and Welfare plan, due to end in 1958. The Loan Ordinance, 1953, published in the Tanganyika Gazette yesterday and which will be submitted to Legislative Council, sets out the schedule for the loan.

The sum of £3,000,000 is to be spent on trunk roads and £2,000,000 on Government housing. Other roads (£3,000,000), aerodrome (£1,000,000), township development (£1,000,000), rural water supply (£1,000,000), and Government stores (including a building) (£100,000) will bring the balance of £3,000,000.

LARI: 26 KIKUYUS TO FACE TRIAL

Charged in Nairobi court nine days after massacre

NINE days after the Uplands massacre, 26 Kikuyu men and were committed for trial to the Supreme Court on a charge of having jointly murdered the wife of a headmaster at Mbagani, a village in the Last Location. The procedure laid down in Emergency Regulations published at the end of last year and which obviates the necessity of preliminary inquiries, the C.I.D. screening board had worked non-stop throughout the day. A woman detective and two typists from the Attorney-General's Department had assisted in the documentation and typing of all statements of evidence. All the accused were remanded in prison custody to appear before the Supreme Court at the earliest practicable date. Superintendent W. V. Aubrey, who is in charge of the Uplands area, said that the investigation and prosecution of the case would be a week today.

The names of the Supreme Court are not being disclosed but the Attorney-General Mr. J. M. G. Wilson, who is in charge of the Uplands area, said that the investigation and prosecution of the case would be a week today.

GANG OF 7 DRESSED AS POLICE

Arrested near Dol Doi

A gang of seven men, dressed as police officers, were arrested near Dol Doi, a village in the Uplands area, on Thursday night. The men were carrying rifles and other weapons. They were arrested by the Uplands area police force. One of the men, identified as Mr. J. M. G. Wilson, was charged with the possession of a revolver. The other six men were charged with carrying rifles. They were all remanded in prison custody to appear before the Supreme Court at the earliest practicable date.

Witnesses

Both the magistrate and the Crown prosecutor made it clear to the witnesses that they were to state in evidence what they saw and heard in the Uplands area, and with one exception, all the witnesses were mentioned in the Uplands area. The names of the witnesses were not disclosed. The witnesses were all remanded in prison custody to appear before the Supreme Court at the earliest practicable date.

Britain's textile export hopes are COMMODITY PRICES better now

THE British Government's Economic Survey for 1951 reviews the course of the textile depression and sees moderately bright prospects for exports. Following a decline in demand from the Survey's textile and clothing were the most severely affected by the slump in demand during 1950. The recession in demand for textiles has begun all over the world in the spring of 1951 and is expected to continue. The textile in production during 1950 was accompanied by a widespread unemployment which reached a peak of over 160,000 in May.

WORLD ECONOMIC REPORT
United Nations takes 'long view'
By Susan Strange
A World frantically intent on reconstructing a world in danger of producing too many bicycles and too little bread, a world divided year by year by two great political one between Communist States and the rest of the economic one between rich countries and poorer; a world managing to avoid a war pitifully unattractive of economic depression, a world painfully unable to fit together the wealth of the United States with the investment opportunities in the under-developed countries.

Fallen sharply
Wool business and clothing were affected first and the rest of the textile industry followed. The wool business has fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951. The clothing industry has also fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951.

TEXTILES
The textile industry is expected to continue to decline in 1951. The wool business has fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951. The clothing industry has also fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951.

MARKETS SUFFER FROM 'PEACE JITTERS'

Possible effects on arms output

Special cable to the 'East African Standard'
THE Stock Market suffered an acute attack of 'peace jitters' last week. Signs of a general decline in demand for shares were interpreted by the Stock Exchange in terms of their possible effect on Western rearmament programmes. But the prospect of an outbreak of peace was not the only influence at work in the markets.

Run down

At the last quarter of 1950 the state of production and distribution had been further run down. The wool business has fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951. The clothing industry has also fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951.

Full speed ahead on work at new Aden refinery

RACING to complete its new refinery at Aden. The other-though less welcome feature of the refinery is the surplus of £201,000 in its balance of payments last year. The 1950-51 Budget year ended with an 'overall' deficit of £49,000,000.

Prospects

There are signs of a modest recovery in the textile and clothing industry. The wool business has fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951. The clothing industry has also fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951.

Production

The report notes that in 1950 production which in 1949 had reached a world-wide low, has now reached a level which is 25 per cent higher than in 1949. The production of food is still less than in 1949. The production of clothing is still less than in 1949. The production of textiles is still less than in 1949.

Contract

These figures (quoted with the caveat that they are to be regarded as preliminary) show a striking contrast with the figures for 1949. The production of food is still less than in 1949. The production of clothing is still less than in 1949. The production of textiles is still less than in 1949.

IMPORT RELAXATIONS COULD BE USEFUL TO BRITAIN

IF Britain's internal economy is adequately dis-inflated, the larger imports from Europe, admitted by the relaxations sought at the end of March, will be useful in clearing supplies and in putting up desirable competition for the internal economy still has suppressed inflation. The large imports from Europe could be beneficial.

Balance

But the balance of evidence is rather mixed. The production of food is still less than in 1949. The production of clothing is still less than in 1949. The production of textiles is still less than in 1949.

ANTWERP

THE Antwerp market has been affected by the decline in demand for shares. The production of food is still less than in 1949. The production of clothing is still less than in 1949. The production of textiles is still less than in 1949.

Margin of error

THE margin of error in the textile and clothing industry is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951. The wool business has fallen sharply in the second half of 1950 and is expected to continue to fall in the first half of 1951. 'Reconstruction Member needed'

ELECTORS' UNION OPINION

Member Reconstruction
The appointment of a Member for Reconstruction with a seat in Executive Council was announced in a half-hour interview granted by the Governor to Evelyn Baring, an Elected Member, during a busy morning. The delegation, which consisted of the chairman of the Executive Committee, the Earl of Strathmore, and was accompanied by the Chairman of the Elected Members' Organisation, Mr. B. Harvey, also present was the welcome of the Governor in pressing the Elected Member to be appointed.

He emphasized the importance of accelerating the growth of an African middle-class.

BRITAIN TO PRODUCE MORE

THIS is the second of a series of extracts from the British Economic Yearbook for 1952. It shows that the steel industry will be diversified. The survey says: "Steel production at works and mills remained at the same level as in the second quarter of the previous year. Scrap stocks at steelworks and at the mills increased to the extent of 1,00,000 tons from 1,20,000 tons." It also states that the steel industry will be diversified and that the survey says: "Steel production at works and mills remained at the same level as in the second quarter of the previous year."

Record level

Reviewing 1952, the Survey says that the improvement in production was based on a 30% increase in the output of pig iron. Six new blast furnaces came on production during the year and output reached a record level. The shortage of raw materials which had limited production in the last months of the year was no longer a problem. The import of pig iron from abroad was only half of what it was in the first quarter of 1952.  The Kenya public will receive with interest the report of the Kenya Commission of Enquiry into Government Finance made after the general election. The Commission will presumably be reviewed after the normal course has been followed to give the public access to the report. What is important is the fact that the Commission has been set up in the course of the year. It is a sign that the Government has taken its responsibility seriously in regard to the public accounts. It is also a sign that the Government is prepared to face the public with a full and frank account of its financial position.

IPSWICH WINS STEWARDS' CUP

Training treble for G. Alexander

A N even bigger crowd than on Saturday again enjoyed the perfect weather and more pleasant racing on the second day of the Nakuru Race Club's Easter meeting on Thursday yesterday. The big race of the afternoon, the 13 miles Stewards' Cup, was won by Mrs. P. W. Lewis's Alexander-trained, aged gelding, Ipswich (Crisis-Royal Roman) ridden by Mr. P. S. Miller. The first five in the race were: Ipswich (Mrs. P. W. Lewis), 13.5; Mr. Thomson's E.T.B. bidon, 14.2; Mr. Thomson's E.T.B. bidon, 14.5; Mr. Thomson's E.T.B. bidon, 14.8; and Mr. Thomson's E.T.B. bidon, 15.1.

In a fast race 200-2100 had been made from the start and the favorite was expected to win easily. However, the race was a close-run thing and the favorite was only just ahead of the runner-up when the race was won by Ipswich, who was ridden by Mr. Thomson's E.T.B. bidon.

There were minor changes on the first half-mile of the leading half-distance race. The race was won by Ipswich, who was ridden by Mr. Thomson's E.T.B. bidon.

The results of yesterday's meeting were: 1000 Yards Heat Race, won by Ipswich; 1000 Yards Heat Race, won by Ipswich; 1000 Yards Heat Race, won by Ipswich; 1000 Yards Heat Race, won by Ipswich; 1000 Yards Heat Race, won by Ipswich.

Wimbledon's '52 finalists both guaranteed

LAST year's Wimbledon singles champion and runner-up were both beaten in tournament finals at the weekend, Seidman, now a professional, and Ken Young, now a professional, were both beaten in tournament finals at the weekend.

RHODESIAN MINERALS: £79,000,000

THE total value of Rhodesian mineral output in 1952 was according to the current statistics £79,000,000 more than the 1951 figure. Just more than 200,000 tons of bled copper was produced the previous year, but this year the output of the metal was valued at £43,771,488. Electrolytic copper production rose from 127,042,000 lb to 111,535,200 lb, while the value of the metal rose from £1,740,500 against the previous year's 1,370,500. The value of the metal rose from £1,740,500 against the previous year's 1,370,500. The value of the metal rose from £1,740,500 against the previous year's 1,370,500.

BRITISH FARMING EXPECTS A GOOD YEAR

Technical standards rise
According to the British Government's Economic Survey for 1953 the agricultural industry last year which suffered from any general lack of demand for its products but it was called upon in the spring of that year for renewed effort, and a production objective set at a level of at least 50 per cent above re-war to be reached by 1954.

The British Overseas Engineering Corp. (E. A.) Limited

collaboring in 1953-54; but that the number of calves on farms in Britain in December, 1952, was 128,000 greater than a year previously gave hope of better beef supplies in the future. The production and utilization of grass have continued to improve. By the end of the year 1952 more than 200,000 head of sheep were under three years of age, and has autumn's savings of wheat-give hope of a larger increase for the 1953 harvest.

EVEN THIS PLASTIC AGE NEEDS TIMBER

In this plastic and synthetic age, when one almost takes it for granted that everything is made out of something else, it is somewhat surprising to find that timber still plays a big part in Europe's economic life and the woodworker's success among the farming population. The post-war thought is inspired on reading a United Nations report issued today on European timber trends and prospects.

Flooding

With the help of good weather there was already some 100,000 tons of grain which was not yet harvested. It is estimated that the total grain harvest will be 100,000 tons more than last year.

Newprint

In spite of the wide development of substitute materials, wood is still extensively used in housing and non-residential construction, in farming, mining, transport, packaging, printing, textiles and woodworking, and plays a considerable part both in inter-European and international trade. In 1950, Europe produced 155,840,000 cubic metres of industrial wood, and exported 6,920,000 cubic metres.

Must co-operate

Despite modern developments of machinery, the farmer must co-operate with the State to improve his production. The dynamic forest policy would involve co-operation available in various areas of the forest, particularly in the area of forest as a source of raw materials and in the area of forest as a source of raw materials and in the area of forest as a source of raw materials.

To continue

The industry has shown steady technical improvement yielding increasingly significant results since 1939, both through better management of stock and crops, including grass, and through improvements in the use of fertilisers.

WOLVES RETAIN LEAD IN CHAMPIONSHIP

Charlton and Chelsea lose ground

WOLVERHAMPTON WANDERERS, with two wins and a draw from their matches, have retained the Division I leadership by a one point margin, after being briefly displaced by Preston North End. But Wolves despite minor setbacks in their matches, have again by hand and with two matches in hand, Arsenal are third as a result of gaining five holiday weekend points.

Charlton Athletic, who began the holiday with such high hopes, have disappointed in their earlier, they lost their last three home matches, their season ticket and draw wins, with only one game in hand they trail four points behind the leaders.

With Bristol Rovers losing at home, the Division 1 record now remains intact, but the points are still the same.

Chelsea, like Charlton, have a bye on Monday, a by-product of a tight divisional situation. In the Division I Championship, the Arsenal in Monday, the Pen-ford and the Wolves. The three teams are again last but one in the Division.

Monday's defeat has the more disastrous in Chelsea's composition in distasteful all the way. The Wolves were drawn to two wins and a draw over the last three matches. The Wolves have been strong, but their derby game is again last but one in the Division.

Derby County now has 27 points, Chelsea 26, Stoke 21 and Middleborough and Bradford City are tied on 19.

Derby County are marked for certain relegation and Southampton are still five points behind Hull City and they just above them. The Saints are now in a desperate state.

NEW MOVES BY KREMLIN MAY LEAD TO PEACE ERA

Signs of changed attitude to West

By SEBASTIAN HAFNER

THOMAS MANN, the German writer, after attending some spiritualist sessions in the twenties, remarked that as a result he had become a little sceptical about esotericism. That is perhaps the best description of the state of mind produced in Britain by the latest moves in the Communist "peace offensive"—especially the Chinese peace offer. The United Nations last autumn, it will be recalled, was invited to consider the peace formula which had been worked out by the Russian and Chinese delegations. The resolution was passed by the United Nations, and the peace talks in Moscow were resumed. The latest move was in the form of a memorandum which took the form of a letter from the Russian to the United Nations, in which it was stated that the Russian was prepared to enter into negotiations with the United States on the basis of the "Four Big Powers" principle. This was a change of attitude which was welcomed in the United States and in the United Nations. The Russian memorandum was received in London with interest. It was noted that the Russian was prepared to enter into negotiations with the United States on the basis of the "Four Big Powers" principle. This was a change of attitude which was welcomed in the United States and in the United Nations. The Russian memorandum was received in London with interest. It was noted that the Russian was prepared to enter into negotiations with the United States on the basis of the "Four Big Powers" principle. This was a change of attitude which was welcomed in the United States and in the United Nations.

Principle given up

If the most genuine Russia would again become intractable that would mean that the principle of the "Four Big Powers" would be abandoned. This would be a disaster for the United States and for the United Nations. The Russian memorandum was received in London with interest. It was noted that the Russian was prepared to enter into negotiations with the United States on the basis of the "Four Big Powers" principle. This was a change of attitude which was welcomed in the United States and in the United Nations.

Cannot win

For there is nothing else for it. The Russian is not prepared to give up the principle of the "Four Big Powers". This is a disaster for the United States and for the United Nations. The Russian memorandum was received in London with interest. It was noted that the Russian was prepared to enter into negotiations with the United States on the basis of the "Four Big Powers" principle. This was a change of attitude which was welcomed in the United States and in the United Nations.

rest has no general feeling of changing its intention of continuing old war. Russia cannot have improved the final fighting in Korea.

Moscow outlook

As long as the cold war continues the fighting in Korea seems to be the only one which is likely to continue. The Russian is not prepared to give up the principle of the "Four Big Powers". This is a disaster for the United States and for the United Nations. The Russian memorandum was received in London with interest. It was noted that the Russian was prepared to enter into negotiations with the United States on the basis of the "Four Big Powers" principle. This was a change of attitude which was welcomed in the United States and in the United Nations.

Small signs

That of course, would be a fundamental change in Russian foreign policy, from the one of the Second World War to the one of the present. The Russian memorandum was received in London with interest. It was noted that the Russian was prepared to enter into negotiations with the United States on the basis of the "Four Big Powers" principle. This was a change of attitude which was welcomed in the United States and in the United Nations.

Often misdirected

While the Asian affairs are often misdirected, the United States and the United Nations are often misdirected. The Russian memorandum was received in London with interest. It was noted that the Russian was prepared to enter into negotiations with the United States on the basis of the "Four Big Powers" principle. This was a change of attitude which was welcomed in the United States and in the United Nations.

The East Africa Office in London has succeeded in securing a shop-front immediately below the office, standing on the corner of the Strand and Northumberland Avenue. At this most strategic point a special display reflecting all three East African territories is being arranged for the Coronation, the East African Commissioner in London, Mr V G Matthews, revealed at a meeting held under the auspices of the Uganda Development and Commerce in Kampala Town Hall recently.

Mr Matthews said: "At last we have managed to secure a shop-front for the Coronation, the East Africa's message to the world. We have been exceedingly fortunate in securing the shop-front immediately below the Found in bush

Another dramatic discovery of a lost diary was made by Sgt and Subaltern Gordon Moore, of the 10th Hussars, in London, when he was out on a patrol in the "Moose" district in the East African Territories. The diary was found in a bush near a stream in the hills near a village in the East African Territories. The diary was found in a bush near a stream in the hills near a village in the East African Territories.

The shop window will be used to display "messages" to the world, to encourage it to favour our products and to encourage its investment in these territories.

The Commissioner went on to speak of the plans of the East Africa Office for a special display during the Coronation. He said that a very special display will be made in the shop window immediately below the office. The display will be made in the shop window immediately below the office.

OFFER TO MEET WEST HALF-WAY

Disarmament proposals by Mr. Vyshinsky

DECLARING that Russia wanted to "dig a tunnel half-way" between the West and disarmament, Mr. Vyshinsky offered in the United Nations General Assembly to drop the Soviet resolution demanding a one-third arms reduction and an unconditional ban on the atom bomb, and to accept a Western resolution at the price of two Soviet amendments.

Mr. Vyshinsky then voted against the Western motion that the Commission should continue its studies on a broad plan of work outlined by the West. Voting was 52 to 47, with three abstentions.

EUROPEAN EDUCATION TAX CONSIDERED
Parents' Association meeting

THE first attended annual meeting of the Parents' Association ever held recently in Nairobi heard the chairman, Dr. J. F. Jerven, describe secondary education tax for Kenya as the "biggest single grudge being considered."

The Association, which has been in existence since 1947, could not get the meeting off to a flying start because of the fact that the majority of the members will be absent from the city because of the school holidays. The meeting was held at the Club Hotel, Nairobi, on Wednesday evening, April 16, and was attended by about 100 parents and school officials.

In 1954 the tax is estimated to cost about 100 million shillings, and it is expected that the Government will have to raise the tax to meet the cost of the new secondary schools which will be built in the next few years.

The meeting was held in the presence of the Education Officer, Mr. J. F. Jerven, who explained the reasons for the proposed tax. He said that the Government had to raise the tax because of the increase in the cost of education and the need to build more schools.

Maybe, but that's when CORROSION is at its worst

Short-runners making even less your engine get truly warmed up. Acids and moisture—formed during combustion—condense on the cylinder walls and corrode them while the car is running, cool or standing idle. Research has proved that Corrosion is the major cause of engine wear.

Specially blended additives in Shell X-100 Motor Oil neutralize these corrosive acids, and cause the oil to spread and cling better. This protective film is there all the while; always shielding your engine against corrosion.

You must PROTECT the engine—CHANGE TO SHELL X-100 MOTOR OIL

1 2 3 Andrews

There's a taste in the morning — especially if I feel "off-colour" — The simple plan is that you sip one of Andrews' drinks!

Two beautiful drops tipped into a glass of cold water — a drink like — and my sparkling. After my morning Andrews is ready to drink.

Three million of my Andrew's drinks in my mouth. In fact, I often drink Andrews during the day — just for refreshment.

ANDREWS for me

Sparkling, effervescent Andrews benefits the entire system. First it loosens the clogs within the stomach and keeps up the liver. Finally, Andrews gently cleans the system. Drink a morning glass of sparkling Andrews Lemon Salt.

Dhow captains sit down to tea and cakes

A COLLECTIVE tea party attended by the dhow captains of the 138 dhows in port at the time of the Easter Festival of the Sharmat Buildings recently held at the hotel in the city.

The dhow captains, who were accompanied by their wives and children, were seated at a long table in the hotel.

The tea party was organized by the dhow captains and there were a number of other guests present.

The tea party was a very successful one and the dhow captains were very pleased with the results.

THE PORTSMOUTH FAMILY PICTURES AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Story by: Lesley Clay
Photographs: E. Robson

A FAMILY whose ancestors were responsible for making history long before the eastport was created in 1745, is that of the Portsmouths. The ninth Earl, the present Lord Portsmouth, is well known in Kenya as a farmer at Kitale and director of the Portsmouth Estates.

The family name of Wallop was known internationally long before the 18th century, however for Sir John Wallop, a soldier and diplomatist belonging to this old family whose roots are in Hampshire, adopted the profession of arms and commanded ships which took part in the war between England and France in 1815. He it was who was responsible for introducing the word "wallop" into the English language when the French landings combined operations. In revenge for the French landings on the English coast, he sacked St. Pierre and Miquelon in three months. His father, Sir Oliver Wallop, pictured here, was knighted by Henry VIII at the Battle of Blenheim.

A tragic figure was the handsome George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham, favourite of James I and chief advisor of the present Earl of Portsmouth, on the female side. He led the military expedition to La Rochelle and was implicated in the Spanish marriage plan, meeting his death at the hands of the assassin, John, at Portsmouth Road.

Showing an abundance of the red hair for which the family is famed, Ursula, Countess of Portsmouth is shown here in her Coronation gown. Known as a tyrant of her time, she was displaced in anything she built or bought. A set of 14 Harlequinade needlework chairs and two stools, worked in the Countess and her family, are still in use in the Portsmouth household.

WHEN the country comes to town, there is at least one occasion that is not for the faint of heart. At Nairobi, and such was the case on Saturday and Monday when many well-known figures and faces from Malindi, Mombasa and other centres where horse-racing is talked, assembled for a hot and a chat.

In the Governor's box on Saturday were The Lady Mrs. Hester, Mrs. P. S. Sillitoe, and Colonel Convent. Capt. Derby's appearance of someone made it well worth his while to attend. YOU ARE INVITED TO START A BOUTIQUE

By Hazel Meyrick

It is just a year since the first boutique opened in London. There were, we were told, the answer to everybody's prayers. You could buy matching accessories for next to nothing, crazy hats, odd pieces of jewelry, and a wonderful variety.

Despite the pessimistic predictions of the big stores, boutiques have not only survived but are spreading rapidly. Elizabeth and I have not only recovered the lost art of shopping, but we have also discovered that the boutiques are not only a place to buy clothes, but a place to visit.

Sad truth dawns

THIS phase had developed into a thorough-going craze for the continent. It started through the traditional dress-makers, and continental designers, but it has now spread to the very heart of the "boutique" movement.

The last boutique we visited was perhaps the most interesting. It was a small, quiet place, but it had a certain charm. The owner was a woman of about 40, and she had a very pleasant manner. She had a few dresses hanging on the walls, and she had a few hats on the shelves. She had a few pieces of jewelry on the counter, and she had a few books on the table.

Tongue-in-cheek

We have thought up one new copy. But first you must admit that if you are going to start a boutique, you must have a sense of humour.

You'll see what we mean if you look at the copy I have written for you. It is a tongue-in-cheek piece, but it is a good one. It is a good one because it is a good one. It is a good one because it is a good one.

CHEMICAL SUITS ON SALE IN 1954

BY next year men and women in Britain will be wearing "chemical suits" sold at drastically reduced prices.

A trickle of suits that has just started to come from British textile mills heralds a big change in clothing. It is already the revolution has made a strong advance on the traditional forms of clothing in England. Indeed the British American Wool Textile Company has announced that in 1954 it will be producing 400,000 suits a week.

The first trials are planned by Crest Ltd. the textile magnate.

No wool

THIS new fabric these suits will produce, in both men and women, is a synthetic material which is completely synthetic with the exception of the wool in the collar and cuffs.

KERICHO EUROPEAN PRIMARY SCHOOL

By Barbara I. Mackintosh

WHEN the European Primary School at Kericho opened its doors in January, 1951, to some 60 pupils the current wish of many parents had at last become a fact. Today 118 school houses 124 boarders and some 20 day scholars are accommodated for this number.

The Kericho School is situated on a Lantana road about a mile from the township on a piece of virgin land that was recently cleared. Many of the tall, dried out forest trees have been left growing around the school and on the green square to the centre, so much so that the attractive school will acquire an appearance of a small village as well as the school with its buildings in England.

Playing fields

THE playing fields are shown on the hill behind the building block and here at 8.30 a.m. the school day begins with a series of afternoon games—cricket, hockey, football, tennis, badminton, etc. These games are given by some of the school's voluntary instructors. The end-of-the-day departure from the normal hours of work and play has not, as was feared at first, made any difference at all to the children's concentration in their lessons later in the morning and in the afternoon in the classroom with King French and Miss M. M. M. The staff has great artistic ability and there is much emphasis on singing, drawing and dancing.

Play-acting

VISITING late one afternoon I found the little girls having a period of unimpeded recreation in their own play-acting. They were acting out scenes from some of the world's and action music.

Does this feed contain COD LIVER OIL

That's what I want to know—before placing my order. Some mixed feeds do not contain as much Cod Liver Oil as all. And that's not enough for me. Cod Liver Oil provides a highly nutritious, energy-producing fat, as well as Vitamins A, D, E and K. You save cost the oil you lose that food when you get the same results I have by increasing quantity—and pay for it too. Besides that, the best cod there is the biggest risk of a costly, wasteful feed.
