East Africa raw cotton output up

Raw cotton production in the British East Africa and Sudan has increased 100,000 bales, it is disclosed in the annual report of the British Cotton Growers' Association.

The crop will be the second biggest in the history of the industry, reaching 750,000 bales, below the 760,000 bales of 1927.

A drop of 21,000 bales to the 729,000 bales, from East Africa and Southern Rhodesia, the Association said.

The farmers in East Africa, encouraged by the Association, increased their acreage and obtained 100,000 more bales, while the Sudan, owing to a better marketing system, increased its production by 100,000 bales.

The increase in East Africa cotton production is recent years compared to the 1927 crop, which was the last year of the war.

There was a decline in the Sudan's cotton production in 1927, owing to a shortage of labour and a fall in the price of cotton.

The Sudan's cotton production was 500,000 bales in 1927, compared with 600,000 bales in 1928.

The Government of Kenya has issued a formal warning statement on the subject of the use of brutal methods by certain individuals...

It is now for the Government and all departments and officers concerned to ensure that their actions are fully carried out and that no member of the force is left in any doubt...

It will happen to him and to those responsible for his actions if the instructions are ignored...

It is worth while to say that the reports and the allegations regarding the use of brutal methods and the rough handling of the public are widespread...

It would be equally well for the Government to ensure officers of the departments to seek to contend that because not all these officers are guilty, no substantiated there is no basis for them...

It is a reasonable desire that the gathering of evidence methods have been used, which are not confined to or tolerated in a British Colony...

It was employed because there was a belief in the minds of those who did so that so long as the evidence was obtained the method used would not be too severely scrutinized...

The Government statement implies that what is described by the extra-judicial phrase 'brutal methods' is not committed by junior officers and the rank and file but the responsibility is to be accepted by those who discipline is maintained and that there is no foundation...

It is not a frequent occurrence of such a nature cannot escape their share of the blame for the situation. If the application of disciplinary measures and the active and resolute disposal of such a nature cannot escape their share of the blame...

The crisis of Kenya's independence and the hope of a new dawn in the present regard to London...

The fact that the Government will be weakened the essential factor must be obtained. One cannot feel as sorry...

It would perhaps be more than just a rough deal which has been laid down for the Government...

SOCCER'S FOCAL POINT IS AT WEMBLEY

Will England beat home 'hoodoo'?

By Dennis Hart

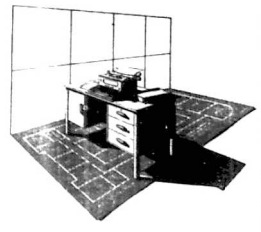

FOR the second successive Saturday, Wembley will be the focal point for football fans, and today about 100,000 of them will jostle along the wide Olympic Way that leads to the magnificent Empire Stadium. But it will not be an all-English crowd this afternoon, a Scottish contingent, possibly bearing certain favours, will form a high percentage of the cheering throng on the terraces.

Mr Butler gives incentive to invest in the Colonies

EFFECT OF CONCESSIONS

The price of cheaper tea may go up

One of the main reasons for the increase in the price of tea is the increase in the cost of production in the Colonies. This is due to the fact that the Colonies are now producing more tea than they were in the past. This has led to an increase in the supply of tea, which has caused the price to fall. However, the increase in production has also led to an increase in the cost of production, which has caused the price to rise again. This is because the cost of production is now higher than it was in the past. This is due to the fact that the Colonies are now using more expensive machinery and labor. This has led to an increase in the cost of production, which has caused the price to rise again. This is because the cost of production is now higher than it was in the past.

CITY-GREETED-BUDGET WITH APPROVAL

Prizes surged on Wednesday. The Chancellor's Budget was greeted with approval in the Colonies. This is because the budget provides for an increase in the price of tea, which is a major export of the Colonies. This is good for the Colonies because it means that they will receive more money for their tea. This is also good for the Colonies because it means that they will be able to pay for their tea. This is because the price of tea is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the cost of production is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the Colonies are now using more expensive machinery and labor.

Americans will invest more abroad

MR. ERIC JOHNSTON, Secretary for International Development, has announced that he expects a fourfold increase in private American investment in foreign countries. This is because the Americans are now investing more money in foreign countries than they were in the past. This is good for the Colonies because it means that they will receive more money from the Americans. This is also good for the Colonies because it means that they will be able to pay for their goods. This is because the price of goods is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the cost of production is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the Americans are now using more expensive machinery and labor.

Disappointment

There will be disappointment in the Colonies because the budget does not provide for an increase in the price of tea. This is because the price of tea is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the cost of production is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the Colonies are now using more expensive machinery and labor. ## GREECE SETS OUT TO ATTRACT CAPITAL

The sudden and psychological devaluation of the Greek drachma to half its nominal exchange rate has been the first step in a policy which is rapidly transforming Greece into an isolated economy. This is because the price of goods is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the cost of production is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the Greeks are now using more expensive machinery and labor. This is because the Americans are now investing more money in foreign countries than they were in the past. This is good for the Colonies because it means that they will receive more money from the Americans. This is also good for the Colonies because it means that they will be able to pay for their goods. This is because the price of goods is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the cost of production is now higher than it was in the past. This is because the Americans are now using more expensive machinery and labor.

Tight credit

The Government has announced that it will be tightening credit. This is because the price of goods is now higher than it was in the past. # YORKSHIRE HOPE TO DO BETTER

Search for new bowling talent

By Dennis Hart

It is impossible to discuss county cricket prospects without the name Yorkshire creeping to early and often for they are the Arsenal of cricket. After the institution of their first county championship in 1871, Yorkshire have won 19 of the 22 titles. In the 60 years since 1883, however, they have won only one. In the 1950s, they have been successful on four separate occasions for three years in succession.

None overlooked

They have been an England side not content with the status of four "Tynes". Yorkshire's success has been gained through their approach to the game. Available in 1950.

Batting rota

Throughout the season, one team has been batting in the first five positions. This progress is checked, if the position is taken, he is invited along for a trial.

This season, Yorkshire's strong and exciting batting line-up has been put to the test. The county have been entered in the championship for the past two seasons, and Yorkshire's batting line-up will be all out to give a better than average performance.

Handicapped

It was not entirely the county's fault. They were handicapped by the complete absence through injury of Bob Addison, England's greatest batsman. Discoveries since Alton Dodder.

There was no score at all. This may seem strange to a county that has always entertained the prospects for a batsman. It will be all out to give a better than average performance.

Belgium's easy win over Holland

Playing faster football and showing fewer weak points than they expected, Belgium scored an easy 3-0 win over Holland in an international, seen by 40,000 spectators, at the Olympic Stadium at Amsterdam on Sunday.

Holland adopted defensive tactics but this failed to prevent Belgium's centre-forward, Colin Camp, from putting the Dutch into the second half. Belgium's victory was a surprise to many who expected a draw.

DATES OF EAST AFRICAN FINANCIAL YEAR TO BE CHANGED

The dates of the financial year in East Africa are to be changed. The question of a change has been the subject of correspondence between the Governments of Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda and the East Africa High Commission for a long time.

Although it was contemplated that the present financial year from January 1 to December 31 would be the last, agreement between the three Territories and the East Africa High Commission was reached in the latter part of the year 1952. It has now been decided that the financial year should be from July 1 to June 30. This change should be in effect from July 1, 1953.

BETTER ESTIMATES

There were three chief reasons leading to the decision. One was a desire to bring the East African financial year into closer work with the financial year of the main part of the sterling area.

Another was the need for representation from the East Africa Governments to attend financial and economic conferences in London.

Big cotton crop - but not wanted

The experts are forecasting an enormous American cotton crop this year - probably between 15,000,000 and 16,000,000 bales. This is rather and more, than the world can absorb.

THE RAILWAYS' TWO BIG HEADACHES

Getting money and equipment

The main difficulty of the Railway Administration is to raise, and still to obtain, access to badly required capital funds with which to finance a transport industry which has many obvious advantages and the possibility of raising capital of the necessary magnitude in the sterling market for additional capital.

F A TOUR FOOTBALLERS ARE VERSATILE

Omission of Matthews a mistake

By Peter Ditton

THE least one can say for the England footballers to tour South America next month is that they are versatile. And they will have to be, too, for there is not one regular outside forward among the 18 named by the P. A. Jack Frost, selected as No. 1 outside-left, was until Saturday's international against Scotland, an English regular.

It is true that Matthews, who is the only player named who has not played in the past few years, is a versatile player. He has played in the positions of outside-left, inside-left, inside-right, and centre-forward. He has also played in the positions of full-back, half-back, and half-forward.

1500 MPH IS TARGET

CANADA has perfected the design of an almost true "flying saucer" aircraft, according to a Toronto newspaper report. A wood, metal and plastic mock-up is said to be already in existence at the Avco Canada works near Toronto. # THE AUSTRALIAN 'NEW BRIGADE'

Touring team's two-fold threat

'Standard' Correspondent

WITHOUT a ball being bowled the Australian touring cricketers have moved a step nearer toward retaining the mythical Ashes in the current series with England. The move—a behind-the-scenes one—is not a Lindwall super-bumper or anything of that sort. It is the rivalry, friendly but intense, between the Ashes "old" and "new" touring teams.

The "new" team, which is made up of players who have not yet played for Australia, is the Victoria XI, captained by the Victoria XI captain, Bill Lawry. The "old" team is the touring team, captained by the touring captain, Don Bradman. The rivalry between the two teams is expected to be a hot one, and it is expected that the "new" team will be a strong one.

They do not have any sense of determination to win, as when it is clear that the "old" team is going to win, they are likely to show that they are ready to play in the "new" team's place.

Two-fold threat

This determination brings a two-fold threat to England. The first is their own confidence; the second is that they will keep the established first team more full of interest.

And Lindwall, Miller, Hassell and company are dangerous enough to add any interest to the "new" team, but it is the "old" team that is the "new" team's threat.

Handicap snooker

The results of the second round of the "New Brigades" snooker tournament, played on Tuesday, April 2, at the Victoria Club, Melbourne, were as follows:

Challengers

Challenging for places in the "new" team are Alan Davidson, Jack Hill, Bernard and Alan Davidson, and Alan Davidson.

EMERGENCY LOSSES OVER 1,000 LIVES

Official figures for the past six months

COMMUNIST YAKS have just over six months ago, 1,000 people have been killed, Masu terrorists and gangsters. More than half were Masu. In their area, 460 people, security forces have accounted for 595 terrorists. In other areas, 460 men, women and children of total 625 were killed by the Masu Mau. Of this total 23 were Kikuyu, Ten Europeans, four Asians and 23 Africans of tribes other than Kikuyu who lost their lives.

The highest Mau Mau blow came last month with the death of 97, missing 29 and 46 wounded—a total of 172. This is said to be one of the most extremely conservative estimates of the number of loyal Kikuyu and their families killed during the night of the massacre. Some officials think the actual death toll might be 200 or more.

—Reveler reports that when Mr. Mwangi, a former Mau Mau leader, gave figures of Masu Mau operations in the area of the Mau Mau, he suggested in the Common House that the Government should be taking steps to prevent further outbreaks of police brutality.

—Mr. Lyttleton denied this "in very particular circumstances" the majority of the terrorists were being held in detention camps.

It is by no means certain that the Coronation will enrich the London Theatre financially.

Whether or no Sir Laurence Olivier is acting his film "The Beggar's Opera" will be one of the chief attractions of the near future.

Whether or no the British stage is feeling the effects of the Somers' Management absence of new playwrights.

THEY LIVE IN A DIFFERENT WORLD

By Robino Wright
WHY, it's JANE! Is it "Jane's" just fancy? And how long have you been home? Really—and when do you go back? But you're a lot thinner, aren't you? Monocle. Mary, she's thinner now, isn't she? "That dreadful climate! I dare say it doesn't suit you there. Very hot, but you enjoy it, don't you?" "Ah, well, you always like to be different."

Musical cake
NOVEL methods are still employed in preparing some wedding cakes. One English lady had a little musical box, covered with decorations, in the top tier of her cake. And when the knife entered the cake, it was a pleasant and original surprise when the strains of "The Wedding March" tinkled round the hall.

You Colomials
AN OLD story of your little girl when she was six, says that she was warm weather will soon give her more colour. You'd be surprised to see the little friends commiserating with the knife touched the hidden mechanism.

Darker and denser eyebrows
IF your eyebrows are light or sparse, you may be able to give them the look of the brows, and the dark to make that which is lacking in the hair. Having applied the pencil, put some powder over your eyebrows to set the pencil mark, wait a moment, then brush the powder away.

Stand on your own feet

FAIR to many employees who worry the life out of their superiors. Very possibly, the boss does not know your work, but he pays you to do it so that he is free for other things which may be more profitable to him than yours. You are not qualified to do it.

There are few chiefs who do not wish to be helped in showing a newcomer the ropes. Every business owner, however, as a particular way of doing things. But there comes a point when the "new girl" or "new boy" must be just as independent as the boss. It is not his business to do it for him. It is his business to do it for himself. It is his business to do it for himself. It is his business to do it for himself.

Too young
WHEN I was head of a small department, my work was constantly interrupted by the boss coming to my office. He would ask me to do this and that, and I would have to stop what I was doing to do it. This was very inconvenient, and I would have to stop what I was doing to do it. This was very inconvenient, and I would have to stop what I was doing to do it.

It's all the same
AND what do you think of your parents after all this time? I saw your mother a few months ago and she was really changed. I saw your mother a few months ago and she was really changed. I saw your mother a few months ago and she was really changed.

Full and fair
WITH a sigh of relief, many a woman who watched the first of her offspring enter the world of matrimony, takes it as her first hand-kiss of satisfaction.

APPRECIATE all the times you have avoided working unnecessarily. I would work for a man once, whose idea of accounting was to make a book of letters around the desk to be done every night. He would ask me to do it for him. It is his business to do it for himself. It is his business to do it for himself.

KENYA MURALS FOR BULAWAYO

By Jane Irving

If anyone were to ask the American artist, Bill Purdy, why he and his wife decided to arrest their journey by leaping through Africa three years ago and adopt Kenya as a permanent home, he would find himself being led to a large wooden building in the environs of Nairobi West Airport.

The artist's explanation is portrayed there in a mural portraying the artist's arrival in Kenya. On a striking canvas, he has embodied all that fascinates the traveller in Kenya.

The 11 panels of which it is composed will be taken down shortly by Bulawayo where they will be erected to form a "miniature" to Contemporary Exhibition.

The mural, which is photographed above, comprises the painting destined to Bulawayo from Kenya, giving visitors a glimpse of the life and customs of the people who are the Kenya of today. Mr. Purdy is a founder of the Kenya Club, and is also a member of the Kenya Club, and is also a member of the Kenya Club, and is also a member of the Kenya Club.

Really flora and fauna of Kenya. Stung out to depict the Lodge near Mrs. Boyd Moore, a Nairobi freelance artist known as a frequent exhibitor for the Arts and Crafts Society. She had never seen her subject and worked entirely by photographs and in consultation with Major H. B. Shange who had not the model garden. He gave her a verbal description of the colours and varieties of flowers surrounding the single-roofed building. The mural—also photographed above—will cover one side of the Colonel's Stand, 11 ft. 3 in. wide by the uniform 7 ft. deep and took five weeks of continuous painting to complete. Mrs. Moore had never tackled such a large canvas before.

Before telling us about his share in what was also the most arduous project in his life, Mr. Purdy said he wanted to say thank you to Colonel Coombe for allowing him access to his photographs and to the numerous trees and flowers. By painting the mural he had to do his own personal observation and photographs taken on his own. He had supplied material for this. The stipulation made by the organising committee for the Exhibition was that Major Coombe should be the focal point. But all the thought and preparation was done long before the actual canvas was erected. It is contained in the artist's scale model which is half an inch to the foot. Mr. Purdy finished this while in hospital and then went straight to the album and enlarged the minute and intricate details. He designed a man which had to be depicted, because it was the work of the great master Leonardo da Vinci. He is Mauro Pellicani, known as Italian art circles as the "Wizard of Milan" because of his skill in restoring fading old Master's.

Said Major Pellicani: "I have had here, almost all of this work of Leonardo which has survived the passage of time."

"To reach the genuine Leonardo had to scrape off a layer of paint of at least a quarter of an inch thick. This had been done on by at least ten restorers since it was completed in 1485."

He considers about 70 per cent of the mural authentic.

UNDER TEN COATS

A GRAY-HAIRED 67-year-old Milan picture restorer claims to have uncovered large parts of a mural of the Last Supper, mainly by revealing that it was the work of the great master Leonardo da Vinci.

He is Mauro Pellicani, known as Italian art circles as the "Wizard of Milan" because of his skill in restoring fading old Master's.

Said Major Pellicani: "I have had here, almost all of this work of Leonardo which has survived the passage of time."

"To reach the genuine Leonardo had to scrape off a layer of paint of at least a quarter of an inch thick. This had been done on by at least ten restorers since it was completed in 1485."

He considers about 70 per cent of the mural authentic.

The picture includes the panel, Christ and the Disciples. The very layers of paint were "under ten coats" were revealed. He revealed that the mural was painted during the last war by the protective coating of previous restorers.

Now, after a year of cleaning and scraping, Major Pellicani claims that the great master's activity is revealed by his wonderful colours and exquisite detail. "The ground of his fresco-work is soft, in unimpaired."

To restore the mural, Major Pellicani used alcohol and sulphuric acid. "The ground of his fresco-work is soft, in unimpaired."

The scholar—detailed—was used to fix Leonardo's work more securely to the wall which is damaged.

Major Pellicani receives no money for his services. "The joy of his service," he says, "is the joy of uncovering Leonardo's work in simple recompense," he says.

THE FRIDAY MISCELLANY

Victor Silvester and Mariel Watts demonstrate the Queen Elizabeth Waltz, tipped as the hour-long success of Coronation Year.

NAIROBI'S first dance club—Dance's Club—was recently launched in a building high up overlooking the city. Its founder is Miss Katherine Bass, long-time teacher of dancing.

Miss Bass has always had a passion for dancing, and wild life and many numbers of records for the night of it. Trained by the famous teacher of children dancing, Victor Silvester, she had her own school of dance in London for 14 years. Then, after the war, closed of dancing and the mid-twentieth century, she decided to take her place and set up everything and come to Kenya. She sailed via the Cape and saw much of Africa before arriving in Nairobi to which she took an instant liking.

That was a year ago last month. Within two weeks of her arrival she was teaching ballroom dancing in a small room, with a waiting list of prospective pupils. They came the Kenyan way and quickly to stay at home so the great idea of a dance club was born and she started looking for bigger premises. After a long search she found a house in the heart of the city. Miss Bass managed to rent the whole of the top floor of her present quarters. It is a pleasant place, with plenty of atmosphere, with plenty of mirrors round the walls so that dancers can see and correct their posture, a parquet floor, easy chairs and divans, perfect illumination and—important to such a venture—an attractive bar at the far end of the room. After their lessons people stay in and dance in the evenings, or listen up close. Some are hurried up close down the street by very smiling and obligingly quiet. A client considered this was the ideal place for an Asian teacher when he has been training for some time. They may find doctors and some of former members should suit this type of work.

KITALÉ will miss for a while the happy days of Mr. Hans Meis who flew off to London in the early stages of the morning one day last week. Mrs. Meis was hoping to take no time in catching a train or a plane—across to Switzerland where she will visit her parents in Berne, trip to Paris and to London, to see the programme of her three months holiday.

UNRESERVED SALE

By Muriel Pardoe

HOWEVER original you strive for personal presentation, there is nothing for it but to fall back on the always faithful and tried device of a sale when you require to get your goods off your hands when it is unreserved.

Nothing could be more stark and serious than an Official Gazette, you would think, yet this organ of one of our sister-branches almost always rates a sale under that its own is unreserved. Leaders of the movement are not unacquainted with the fact that the Metropolitan Department and the Divisional Council are both unreserved in their attitude towards a sale.

After a preliminary announcement and a notice in the Official Gazette, it is attached, as the result of a weather-forecast, to the streets of London. Merchants profit themselves.

BUT it is the other way that is so desirable. The population is so much so that the most of the goods are sold in the morning. The goods are sold in the morning, the goods are sold in the morning, the goods are sold in the morning.

A little bird told him...

Queen Victoria taking the Sacrament at her Coronation in Westminster Abbey on June 28, 1838. Although she has been crowned, the King remains her coronator as a gesture of humility before the altar.

A QUEEN DESCRIBES HER CORONATION

ORDINARY human beings may sometimes wonder what it is like to be the central figure at a great moment of history such as a Coronation. Queen Victoria is the only British monarch to have left a detailed record of her coronation. On the day Thursday, June 28, 1838 she wrote in her journal: I was awake at four o'clock by the gun in the Park and could not get much sleep afterwards... I dressed, having taken a little breakfast before I dressed and a little after. At half past nine I went into the next room dressed exactly on my horse of Lord Melbourne's suit.

"At ten I got into the State Coach with the Duchess of Sutherland and Lord Albemarle and we began our progress. It was a fine day and the view of people exceeded what I have ever seen. Their good humour and exuberant joy was beyond anything and I really cannot say how great I feel to be the Queen of such a Nation. I was alarmed at times, for I say that the robe would be crushed and depended on account of the tremendous rush and pressure. I reached the Abbey amid cheering cheers at a little after half past eleven.
