Shops in murder district
to be closed

ATTING under the provisions of the Government of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, has declared the administrative district of Nairobi to be a special area. A Government notice to this effect pointed out yesterday that, although it is not considered that the security position in Nairobi has deteriorated, the need for giving powers to security forces to prevent persons escaping during screening operations, and other considerations, have made it desirable to bring the Nairobi district into line with the remainder of the Central Province as a special area. In special areas any person challenged by a member of the security forces must halt, or if he fails to do so, he may be fired on to prevent his escape.

Simultaneous with this security measure, is the announcement that the Nairobi District Commissioner, Mr. C. F. Atkins, also acting under the Emergency Regulations, has ordered the immediate closure of all shops and trading premises, except those in the area of the Central Province, and the area of the Nairobi district, which was closed on Thursday morning.

The constable, in company with an African detective, was driving through the area of the Nairobi district, when he was shot four times.

'Bad district'
The District Commissioner's office, which is situated in the same building as the office of the Nairobi District Commissioner, following the recent changes, has been divided into two sections, one for the Nairobi District Commissioner and the other for the Nairobi District Commissioner.

Seven to die for Ruck murder

POLICE COMPLIMENTED ON FAIRNESS TO ACCUSED

PROSECUTING CONVICTING TEN OF THE 12 KIKUYU CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF MR. R. G. RUCK, AT HIS NORTH KINROSS PARK, ON JANUARY 24, MR. JUSTICE BURKE, SITTING IN THE SUPREME COURT AT NAIROBI, YESTERDAY, CRITICISED THE ALLEGATIONS OF BEATING AND ILL-TREATMENT MADE IN SUCH

Heavily armed European and African police and soldiers, who were outside the crowded court while the accused were being sentenced, and sentenced seven of the accused to death by hanging, acquitting two of them; they were released a few minutes after leaving court—and ordered that the other three—those who were arrested on 18 on the day of the murder—should be detained during the Governor's pleasure.

The Kikuyu sentenced to death have the right to appeal. The other three, who were arrested on 18, are being held in custody. Others who were charged with the murder, but whose names were not mentioned in the indictment, are being held in custody.

The police party numbered 20 and was led by Mr. J. W. Williams, of Nakuru. It was accompanied by a Kikuyu who had been arrested on 18.

With the aid of a Nidohua interpreter, the accused were taken to the court. The accused were taken to the court by a Kikuyu who had been arrested on 18.

WHY GO BACK TO RESERVE

African opinion on the move from settled areas

THE East African Standard has gathered from Kikuyu sources some of the principal reasons which, in the view of Kikuyu observers, are influencing the move back to the Reserve in the settled areas.

These reasons reflect the state of mind of Kikuyus as a result of the original compulsory evacuation from troubled areas and the influence of such aspects of public opinion as the decision to photograph Kikuyus in the process of identification and the action of the Government of Tanganyika in requiring Kikuyus to register.

It is also declared by Kikuyu observers that members of the Mau Mau society have been actively disturbing the labourer in the settled areas by spreading rumours about land re-division and by such means seeking to stimulate the labourer to return to the Reserve.

The reasons given are these:—

The compulsory evacuation of Kikuyus and their families from the settled areas and from areas on the Kianjojo was not met, at such an early stage, with such an adequate number of their arduous labour, their subsistence, discomfit and hardship during the move.

The reasons given are these:—

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Malaya and Singapore to cut costs

THE Governments of Malaya and Singapore have decided that expenditure must be cut heavily to offset the effects of a fall in rubber and tin prices.

The Government, facing a monthly bill exceeding £1,000,000 for the defence of the Malayan peninsula against Communist terrorism, is also trying to cut down on the home front.

Britain still Uganda's biggest supplier

IN BALANCE WITH THE WORLD BY JUNE

New Zealand economies bear fruit

THE New Zealand Prime Minister, Mr. Sidney Holland, said that the recent Commonwealth Ministers' conference in London had agreed to take the United States "virtually to guarantee sterling" so that paratent countries would be able to follow.

Mr. Holland said he had been fully advised on this matter by the various Landlord Farming Committees in New Zealand.

Not in sight

As a result of action taken by New Zealand to help the sterling balance (which possibly a majority of the European Payments Union countries had in balance with a small surplus with the dollar war).

Fluctuations, adjustments—no depression

THE Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Weeks, has told the House of Representatives that there are no grounds for the prediction of a depression or "any slump" in the world economy.

DECLINE IN SHIPYARD OUTPUT

THE decline of shipbuilding in British yards since 1950 continued in the first quarter of 1953 when another drop of 13,000 tons was recorded in the total under construction.

The Secretary of the Shipbuilders' Association said that the decline in output was due to a combination of factors, including a drop in orders and a reduction in the number of yards.

TRAINING HORSES

THE training of horses in the United Kingdom is being improved by the Government.

Road impossible

THE road between the two towns in the United Kingdom is impossible to travel.

A LITTLE GOES A LONG WAY

MUCH has been said about the new Austin Seven. But as yet we have not been able to give a practical report on its performance in East Africa. Tests have been made over some of our worst roads and the results are highly satisfactory. Opinion has it that the small car cannot "take" safaris. Opinion is wrong as far as concerns the new Seven. We've proved that the Seven is as business-like as it looks, as comfortable as many larger cars and has a perfect consumption of 40 m.p.g. plus. Steady cruising speed is 50 miles per hour. Have no fears about the A30's suspension. It is adequate to produce a riding quality equal to larger models of the Austin car range and tough enough to withstand a really bad road. Engine performance from the 30 h.p. overhead valve engine is amazingly eager. And who would expect comfort for four passengers with four doors in this roomy little foam rubber cushioned baby car? That's why we say...

SPECIAL Note concerning U.K. delivery. We can still accept orders for definite delivery of Austins in U.K. for the Corporation. All current models are available in spite of the strike.

Royal tour plans 'substantially approved'

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh have approved a substantial part of the arrangements for their tour of Africa in the next year. Mr. Berryman, Director-General of Tour Services Speaking in Sydney, Australia, on his return by air from discussion at Bulweria, Kibera, Uganda, said the Queen and her husband had examined the plans and had made with great interest and had made some valuable suggestions and changes. A few amendments and changes to the original plan were made. (Reuters)

The McCormick International HM-250 Cultivator does a good job fast!

Fits Farmall H and M Tractors with wide front end or single front wheel.
The McCormick International HM-250 Cultivator is a simply designed quick-change implement that can be easily mounted on the tractor. It works up to 5 miles an hour (about 15 acres a day), allows a clear view of the rows and work, and will deposit fertilizer while cultivating. Hydraulic Farmall "Lift-Aid" lifts and lowers on the go and saves time. Three types of tilling equipment are available, the No. 10 and No. 20. Have a look at them with the HM-250 Cultivator at your nearest dealer.

What they are saying about Kenya in Britain

Under the heading "Africa of the Future" the "Daily Telegraph" has published an article on Kenya. The following is a summary of the article, which is a very interesting and optimistic one. The article states that Kenya is a country which has been selected for its strategic position in the East African continent. It is a country which has a vast area of land which is suitable for agriculture. The article also states that Kenya is a country which has a rich natural resources. The article concludes by stating that Kenya is a country which has a bright future.

There is a lighter side

Even an Emergency has its amusing incidents, as when Aunt Isabel (always so particular that she should be fully prepared for any attack) left a note in the midst of the potato in a full kitchen in the car, and the "I know what you're up to," said the doctor, immediately bringing in the car, and said to her: "I don't say 'advice,' and presented it deferentially to her!"

Living on the top of a mountain we have recently had four distinguished guests and four good dog followers and full of zeal. Whenever we go to look at the water in the reservoir, or our very true plantation, they follow at a discreet distance.

We hardly know whether we feel like "Bossy" or like the prisoners marching in charge of a warder.

BIRD LIFE GOES TO THE HEAD

By Hazel Merrick

LONDON'S East—wet and cold—nevertheless produced its usual crop of aquatic birds.

Elizabeth and I spotted a girl peering who might have been a "babe" but turned out to be a woman on her way to the river with a basket of what I take to be a young bird in her arms. She was wearing a white dress and a hat with a veil and I took her to be a young bird in her arms. She was wearing a white dress and a hat with a veil and I took her to be a young bird in her arms.

Cash for broken hearts

By Raymond Brown

MORE than £10,000 damages were awarded recently to a woman who sued a British seaman, but because "she did not want to ruin the man she loved," she gladly gave up £8,500 of her damages.

Keep fit and fresh take ENO'S

Healthy, happy, beautiful ENO'S Fruit Salt! Pleasant, refreshing ENO'S Fruit Salt! ENO'S Fruit Salt is the gentle corrective suitable for children—and for anyone with a delicate system. ENO'S Fruit Salt is particularly suitable for those with indigestion, heartburn and flatulence. It is so effective and so gentle that it makes ENO'S Fruit Salt a most frequent cause of indigestion, heartburn and flatulence. It is so effective and so gentle that it makes ENO'S Fruit Salt a most frequent cause of indigestion, heartburn and flatulence. It is so effective and so gentle that it makes ENO'S Fruit Salt a most frequent cause of indigestion, heartburn and flatulence.

Your guards

At 7.15 went out on the river in a motor launch. The weather was fine but the river was not very high. We went to see the falls and the scenery was very beautiful. The water was very clear and the rocks were very smooth. We saw many interesting plants and animals. The birds were very tame and we saw many of them. The scenery was very beautiful and we had a very pleasant trip.

A new beverage

The first advertisement I have seen for a new beverage is for "Can," which is a soft drink. It is said to be very refreshing and is made from natural ingredients. It is a new and interesting beverage and is worth trying.

You couldn't live without salt

EVERY time you pour a salt on your food you consume a life-saving drug. Recent scientific research has revealed that salt is essential for life. It is a necessary part of the body's metabolism and is needed for the transmission of nerve impulses. Without salt, the body would be unable to function.

They go together

PERHAPS the most astonishing fact about the human body is that it is able to function with only a few essential elements. These include carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, and nitrogen. There are also a few other elements that are essential for life, such as sodium, potassium, and calcium.

Cruel old age

FOR the past few years, the world has seen a great increase in the number of people who are living longer. This is due to a variety of factors, including better medical care and improved nutrition. However, old age is still a cruel enemy for many people, and it is important to take steps to prevent its effects.

DOES OUR OUTLOOK CHANGE?

By Robina Wright

ONCE first visit to Britain after some years overseas, it is often difficult to see things in a new light. The things that were once familiar and ordinary are now seen in a different perspective. This is especially true of the outlook on life, which has changed significantly since we left our home country.

Man is the loser

EQUALITY before the law is a noble idea, but it is often difficult to put into practice. In many cases, men are the losers in a system of equality because they have been used to a system where they were the dominant group. This is especially true in a society where men have traditionally been the breadwinners and the leaders.

Outworn niches

SO far, the things which we have called "outworn niches" are those which have become obsolete or out of date. These include many of the old customs, traditions, and ways of thinking that have been passed down from generation to generation. It is time to re-evaluate these things and to see if they are still relevant in our modern world.

MORE

ENO'S Fruit Salt is a most valuable addition to the diet. It is a natural and healthy beverage that is suitable for all ages. It is especially beneficial for those with indigestion, heartburn, and flatulence. It is so effective and so gentle that it makes ENO'S Fruit Salt a most frequent cause of indigestion, heartburn, and flatulence.

THE Coronation Chair and the Regalia of England to be consecrated in the Cathedral of Queen Elizabeth II on June 2, have a long and intriguing history. The fact and legend are inextricably mingled.

The Coronation Chair has been in Westminster Abbey for 600 years. It has been used in every Coronation since that of Edward I in 1274.

Some from the Scots in 1296 intended to smash it, but he changed his mind, and continued to fashion a chair of oak or pine, or which completed in 1297 at a cost of one hundred shillings.

The Gothic Coronation Chair has a high, plain back, moulded in the centre of the back and a gold which bears a gold fleur-de-lis. In the past the chair was heavily treaded; "has been broken and had apparently cracked and it was used as a workbench and it is all but wrecked and it is made of the fine material of the fine material wrought by Walter of Durham who called himself painter.

The Chair of State, as it appeared in the time of Charles II. It was made in the 13th century by Edward the Confessor.

Stone of Scone

THE Stone of Scone is known all over the world. It is a small, roughly cubical block of pink granite, about 25 lbs. in weight, which is used as a gavel in the trial of a murderer.

The stone is said to be the same as the stone which was used by King David to slay Goliath.

The stone was brought to Scotland by King Malcolm III in 1040.

It was used as a gavel in the trial of King James I in 1437.

Two sceptres

TWO sceptres, the Sceptre of State and the Sceptre of the Queen, were used in the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

The Sceptre of State is a gold sceptre with a silver knob and a silver band.

The Sceptre of the Queen is a gold sceptre with a silver knob and a silver band.

Five swords

FIVE swords were used in the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

The swords are the sword of St. Edward, the sword of St. Edmund, the sword of St. Ethelbert, the sword of St. Eadgar, and the sword of St. Eadwig.
