

Essentials of Clinical Psychiatry for sub-Saharan Africa

Njenga, F G; Othieno, C J

Date: 2005

Abstract:

This chapter captures the origins and current status of mental health research in Africa and emphasizes the challenges, current and past, pointing out ways in which they might be overcome. It also gives brief hints to think further on the potential of mental health research in Africa. Of course, the chapter is not intended to be a comprehensive overview or a complete guide to research.
