

HINDU students donate to the needy

Prof. Shem Wandiga handed over food stuff and medicine worth KShs.45,000/- to the Provide International Centre a charitable organization which cares for destitute children from the sprawling Korogocho slums. The money had been raised by the Hindu Students Association of the University of Nairobi.

Speaking during the handing over ceremony, Prof. Wandiga singled out the selfless dedication of the Hindu Students and their commitment to serving the lowly placed in society. He urged other students associations from the University to come up with such worth gestures towards society.

Mr. Jonah Kitheka, the Director, Provide International thanked the students

Prof. S. Wandiga handing over foodstuffs and medicine worth Kshs 45,000 to the Provide International Centre on behalf of the University Students Hindu Association. Looking on is association Chairman Mr. Hiten Maru and other officials for the good gesture which came in time to the centre. He said that the medicine and food stuff would cater for over 300 children aged below 9 for one month. Minesh M. Shah the acting Chairman of the Hindu Students Association said that the Hindu students carried out various charitable project and were happy to be associated with the centre because in so doing, they were simply following the hindu philosophy, "To serve mankind is to serve God."

1st Prize

The University of Nairobi won, for the second year running the KFC Perpetual Challenge Cup in the category of Best Institution of higher learning/educational stands.

The Vice-Chancellor Prof. F.J. Gichaga received the trophy from President Daniel arap Moi during the official opening of the show.

The Vice-Chancellor commended the show committee's hardwork under the able stewardship of Prof. J.T. Kaimenyi.

Other prizes which the University won were in the areas of Livestock, where carcass animals won the first

Cont. Page 11