

Congratulations to the SONU 2015 office

On behalf of the University of Nairobi Management Board and Senate, I wish to congratulate all the duly elected candidates in their respective positions, following the just concluded SONU Elections.

Special thanks goes to all the candidates, for conducting themselves with dignity, respect and honor, throughout the electioneering period. ðYou have demonstrated yet again that it is possible to have a free and fair election devoid of violence, manipulation and hate.ö

To those who lost the contest, you were worthy competitors without whom the struggle for leadership would have been dull. You are leaders in your own right and live to fight another day.

As we march forward in moving this August Institution to world class standards, I urge the newly elected SONU Office to settle down and provide the much needed leadership amongst the student community, guided by University's motto: Unitate et labore.

Once again, congratulations to the SONU 2015 office. May God bless you as you continue to advance the student agenda. Remember that we are all expected to propel this University to greater heights of achievement.

Peter M.F. Mbithi, PhD,EBS
Vice-Chancellor
and
Professor of Veterinary Surgery