

For the very first time, six colleges of architecture across East Africa supported their students in an adventurous academic trip through the region's major cities whilst engaging them in architectural discourse. They shared ideas on urban design challenges with solutions emerging from ARCHITECTURE OTHERWHERE as a means to prime them for the highly anticipated UIA Durban 2014 Conference..