

DoGES staff trained in grant proposal writing

Ms Jackie Walubwa of the Department of Geography and Environmental Studies joined other staff members of the University of Nairobi during one of the training workshops on grant proposal writing (16-20 February, 2015) at the Chiromo Conference Centre. The objective of these series of trainings – organized by the Office of the Deputy Vice Chancellor, Research, Production and Extension – is to equip the University of Nairobi staff with skills and knowledge that will enable them write competitive proposals that can attract research grants.
