

Dr. Mwai Bio

Dr. Mwai is a capable professional in the field of health economics, with great expertise in health financing, costing, planning and budgeting and using efficiency and effectiveness tools to improve planning and budgeting analysis with demonstrated progressive levels of responsibility in my career. My work has contributed to improvement in health care outcomes and expanded high quality pro-poor health services across all levels of the health system. I have facilitated formulation and adoption of evidence based health policies for the last eight years. My extensive cross country experience in Kenya, Western, Eastern and Southern Africa has equipped me with knowledge to strengthen the capacity of national and county government as well as non-governmental organizations on a diverse range of organizational and technical functions.
