James Lemons MD and Sarah C. Sheperd PhD both of Indiana University and Prof. Deborah Tucci of Duke University visited the department from 15th to 16th June 2015. Their visit was arranged through the unit of ENT. The purpose of the visit was to plan a one year study in the Nairobi region on newborn and infant hearing screening at the Kenyatta National Hospital and its environs.

The team was invited to the department by Ms Sarah Ndegwa. Also at the meeting were the proposed research team who were being orientated on the study methods to be adopted.

Local co-investigators in this study will be from the department and will form part of the research team.
