

Geospatial & Space Technology department hosts girls from different schools participating in the Scientific Camp of Excellence: Mentoring Girls In Stem For A Secure Sustainable Future.

The department of Geospatial & Space Technology on 11/11/14, held a demo on numerous types of surveying equipment to girls from different schools participating in the scientific Camp of Excellence: Mentoring Girls In Stem For A Secure Sustainable Future. The Scientific Camp is sponsored by Unesco, Ministry of Education, National Commission for Science, Technology and Innovation, and the University of Nairobi.