Fowarding by the Director.

This site is a collaborative effort the University of Nairobi (UoN), the University of Washington (UW) and several Kenyan and American institutions. The director of UNITID is pleased to be part of the yearly review meeting of the site's activities. It is humbling to observe the outputs and impacts to the involved populations and the research community at large the contributions of the site.

Let me say thank you and continue the good work. The institute (UNITID) will play its cardinal role as stipulated in the memorandum of understanding of the collaboration.
