Prof Winnie Mitullah has been appointed the new director of the Institute for Development Studies. Prof Mitullah takes over from Prof Mohamud Jama, who has been at the helm of the Institute for the last six years.

In an announcement made by Vice Chancellor Prof George Magoha, Prof Karuti Kanyinga was also appointed Associate Director. This is a new position at the institute in view of its rapid expansion.

IDS staff welcomed the new appointments and hailed Prof Jama for steering the Institute to greater heights during his tenure.
