Location / Venue:

School Boardroom, Lower Kabete Campus

A UoN-Oxford University student Hackathon was held at the School of Business, University of Nairobi on Monday 22nd July 2013 at Lower Kabete Campus from 12pm to 4pm.

“Student Hackathons” are large brainstorming events, in which students from a wide variety of different academic backgrounds (Information Management, Finance, Business, African studies, ICT) come together and generate innovative and implementable ideas around a specific theme; this case will be around socially sustainable banking for Africa.

It was done in collaboration with Hertford College, University of Oxford.
