

prof oguge is keynote speaker at the 2013 tropical biology association african alumni group (taag) first african students' conference between 2-4 july 2013.

Date and time:
Sat, 06/29/2013 - 15:30

Location / Venue:

National Museums of Kenya, Louis Leakey Auditorium, Nairobi

Nairobi 2013

The Tropical Biology Association African Alumni Group (TAAG) First African Students' Conference

Theme: Biodiversity in Africa-Present state, challenges and prospects for its conservation

Date: 2nd- 4th July 2013
Venue: National Museums of Kenya, Louis Leakey Auditorium

Keynote Speakers

 Dr. Leon Bennun, Director of Science, Policy and Information, Birdlife International, UK Subtheme Title: Challenges and opportunities for effective linkage of biodiversity conservation research with policy and practice in Africa	 Prof. Nick Oguge, University of Nairobi, Kenya Subtheme Title: Social aspects for biodiversity conservation	 Dr. Mohammed Bakarr, Senior Environmental Specialist, Natural Resources Division, Global Environment Facility, US Subtheme Title: Climate change and other threats to biodiversity conservation
--	---	---

Prof Oguge will be a keynote speaker at this conference, making a presentation on "Social Aspects of Biodiversity Conservation."