On December 7th, the CIUON held the Chinese Corner and this time, the topic was Paper Cut.

The teacher Zhang Mengfei started the Chinese Corner with a dance video paper cutting girls, the colorful stage won everyone's attention and the paper cut activity began with the high expectation. The paper cut for new marriage, for the Eight Immortals combined the Chinese culture and the art of paper cut together naturally. She told the stories from daily festivals to the mascot for the Olympics and Word Expo, which made every student more interested about the paper cut. The image of the paper cut won everyone's praise. After the teacher told the students about the phonetic side and the meaning side of the two character '剪纸', every student was ready to do some paper cut and they could not wait to go to the next part. From simple cuts to difficult ones, before cutting they had to fold the papers first and then cut, the movement of the cut made everyone lose track of time. With the classic Chinese music on the background. Looking at the scraps of paper, the concentrating face and the happy smile when they take the pictures with their own works, we can know that they enjoyed it very much.

Through this Chinese Corner activity about Chinese paper cut, students got to know about the history, the development and the form of the paper cut for the first time, they also deepen their knowledge about Chinese culture in this happy atmosphere. The Chinese corner is going on with its own style in the CIUON.
