General Department.

There has been some little delay in obtaining a complete copy of the Circular of June 24th with its enclosures.

The reply to this telegram would seem to be that the C.A.G. should collect and send what information can as soon as possible, and supplement it later as measure permits.

But in the first instance we need only send a copy to the Department of Overseas Trade with reference to general correspondence, and ask them their views, pointing out that the suggestion that Mr. Adams should be appointed Trade Commissioner in E.A. formed the subject of C.O. letter of 3rd September (42061) and previous correspondence.
