 would be glad to do so. Your Lordship will be glad that in my case, of which I am assured, the
 the conditions of execution to be given by the ways, making it dependent not only on the presence in the country of the Mithauri and Gaddams, but of a restoration of order, and assurance of its maintenance. I think that the immediate withdrawal of the British troops from Byzantine Indian territory on the next arrival of the Mithauri in the adjacent night have been demonstrated locally in a manner favorable to British interests.

I have seen the Mithauri again. He presented another to several his previous ones which he had about for about 20 years. I believe he would go if he were a good soldier, and will receive some of service during his absence. For the present let it here by the prospect of a despatch of troops to the north

March 15th 1921

To His Highness Haile Selassie,
 Heir Apparent to the Throne of Ethiopia.
 From Mr. Claud Russell,
 His Majesty's Minister.

Greetings.

Your Highness:-

I have to inform you that the wells of Gaddaduma have been occupied by British troops from Kenya. This was necessary in order to protect the inhabitants of British territory from murder and pillage by bands of robbers and mutinous Abyssinian soldiers who make raids from across the frontier.

His Majesty's Legation have often informed you that disorder in Boran is growing worse. As there were no Abyssinian troops in Gaddaduma the British Government have found it necessary to send their troops there, so that there may be no more attacks on British territory from that place, and so that British subjects may use the wells at Gaddaduma according to the Treaty.

If the Fitaurari Hapta Giorgis will go to Boran and establish complete order there, and the Abyssinian Government will give assurance that order will be maintained there in future, the British troops will leave Gaddaduma.

With Salutations.

Signed Claud Russell.

Sent to H.E. The Governor.

Kenya Colony.
