This is the memorial of which we had an advance copy in 11491/23. The Uganda Cto. don't get much credit for having stood out against an immediate cut in salary [it appears from 11498/23], though it would hardly appear from this memorial, that the staff know what the Uganda proposals are.]

the arcon may be informed that the matter is still under consideration.

MY Lord Duke,

With reference to Mr. Jarvis's confidential despatch of the 22nd January transmitting recommendations in connection with the salaries paid to the Non-European Staff, and to his telegram of the 23rd January communicating the terms of a protest received from the Asiatic Civil Service Association, I have the honour to transmit, at the request of this Association, the accompanying memorial addressed to Your Grace.

2. The Committee which submitted the report enclosed in Mr. Jarvis's despatch under reference see no reason, after consideration of the memorial, to alter the views previously expressed, and beyond the following minor observations the petition does not appear to call for special comment :-

Paragraph 6 of the petition. Your predecessor was not prepared to recognise the validity of this argument in the case of Europeans, and I presume that his decision must apply as regards Asiatics.

Paragraph 7. The statement that beyond the consolidation of the War Bonus the scales of pay were not materially raised is inaccurate: they were considerably increased.

Paragraph 8.

THE RIGHT HONOURABLE

THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES.

ETC.,

ETC.

Paragraph 11. The Committee report that in this respect they were wholly actuated by consideration of the true value of services performed.

HIS GRACE

THE DUCHESS OF DEVONSHIRE, K.G., P.C., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O.
SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES,

DOWNING STREET,

LONDON, S.W. 1.

May it please Your Grace.

We, the undersigned, members of the Executive Committee of the Asiatic Civil Service Association, on behalf of the Asiatic Staff in the service of the Uganda Protectorate, beg most respectfully to implore your grace on the subject of the proposed revision of the scales of salaries of the Asiatic officials.

2. We submit that it is not justifiable or equitable to reduce the scales of salaries approved in 1920, which, at that time, were, in the opinion of the staff, inadequate and which prompted them to make representations for improvements to the Right Honourable Mr. Winston Churchill (13th. May, 1921).

3. We beg leave to point out that the revised Regulations were the outcome of many representations by the Staff to the Government, spread over a number of years. They were introduced after the most careful consideration by the then Secretary of State on the recommendations of Alfred Hasselius who was sent out as a Special Commissioner to investigate the grievances of the Asiatic Staff.

4. We beg most respectfully to remind Your Grace that it was only so recently as 1920 that Your Grace's predecessor (Lord Milner) approved the new service, superseding those introduced 14 years

The revised terms of service were introduced as a measure and there was no understanding that a fresh review towards retrogression would be taken in hand in so short a period. In the absence of any such warning the present proposal to reduce the scales of salary would denote instability and lack of fixedness in the decisions of the Government in matters of grave importance to its staff.

5. Though the revised regulations of 1920 fell below the expectations of the staff and were long in coming, even so they afforded them much gratification as they were in the nature of a tacit recognition by Your Grace's predecessor that the Staff had, by their steadiness, fidelity and loyalty in the discharge of their duties and by the exercise of extreme patience under hard conditions of service, proved themselves worthy of fair and equitable treatment. The Staff, therefore, is much perturbed that a revision to the great detriment of the prospects of the existing Staff should now be under contemplation, which would, we regret to observe, reflect adversely on their future welfare and that of those depending on them, besides destroying their belief in the good will of the Government, and creating the greatest discontent amongst the Staff.

6. We respectfully venture to state that justice cannot be sought for the proposed action in the present condition of the Protectorate which, happily, has to make up. If Kenya is less fortunate in this respect we must humbly submit that this fact does not provide for the Uganda Staff to be penalized. In 1916, the scales of salary were applied to Kenya and without Uganda on the ground of latter's lesser satisfaction at the time.

7. If the reduction is intended on the ground that the 1920 revision was too generous, we submit that such was not the case. The main feature of that revision was the consolidation of the one bonus, and beyond that the scales were not materially raised.

8. But, if, as we have reason to believe, the real ground of the intended reduction is the present favourable exchange of the £ sterling in terms of the Indian rupee, then we submit that it is untenable in view of:-

- (a) The instability of and fluctuations in, the rate of exchange.
- (b) The necessity for a guarantee in any scheme of reduction that the deficiency will be made good by the Government in case the exchange falls below Rs.15/- per £.

9. Further it is unjustifiable, as the present currency was imposed, with a promise of permanency, upon us at Rs.10/- to the £ in a time when the £ was actually worth only Rs.7/30, thereby putting us to a loss of about 33%. The Government thus actually accomplished a serious reduction in our salaries. But by an act of Providence the exchange became favourable to us, and is now sought to deprive us of an advantage which it granted to us by Providence itself, perhaps temporarily, ~~an advantage which extends only to home remittances~~ which form but a small portion of the official's salary.

The position is similar to that of a man who purchased a piece of land, say at £100 when the land was actually worth only £75. Thereafter owing to circumstances over which the seller had no control the price of the land rose to say £150. The seller then wanted to cancel the sale on the ground that the land was originally sold at too cheap a price. If there is any justification in this contention of the seller, there undoubtedly there is justification for the Government in proposing a reduction of Asiatic salaries on the ground high exchange. We submit that there is not, and cannot be, any justification for such a proposal.

10. Besides, a whole public of the Protectorate (including the Government) has received and paid 2 shillings for every rupee, and we cannot understand why the Asiatic official ~~should~~ only should be treated differently and paid a rupee for a rupee. The latter charge can be applied to him in full moon only if it is applied to the general public.

11. In an interview our delegation had with the Government Committee we were informed by the Chairman that in the opinion of the Committee the salaries of the Asiatic officials were excessive and out of proportion to the salaries given by the European. The Committee would seem to be labouring under a misapprehension as a close examination of this point will disclose the fallacy of this view.

12. When comparisons are made between the salaries of the European and Asiatic officials the fact that the latter have attained their present positions and salaries only after long and improved service is generally overlooked; also that the scope for advancement of the Asiatic is a very limited one, unlike that for the European who can rise to the highest position in the Civil Service.

13. The European Staff enjoys higher privileges and their conditions of service are far better than those of the Asiatic. The war bonus approved for the European was three times as much as that approved for the Asiatic. On the introduction of the revised salaries in 1920, the former receive an increase in the same proportion, if not more, in representative ability as compared with the latter, and yet it is urged that the Asiatic received a very substantial increase than the European. We venture to observe that it is most unfortunate that such comparisons should be advanced in

We do not wish to trespass further on Your Grace's valuable time, but, before concluding, pray that on a generous consideration of the circumstances herein set forth Your Grace will be pleased to rescind the instructions to the Local Government to frame scales of salaries for the Asiatic Staff inferior to those already in force, and thereby restore peace of mind to the Staff; and this act of justice will ever be gratefully remembered by the Asiatic officials in the service of the Protectorate.
