Nakuru - Kavirondo Railway

Submits proposal by post message to try to engage from India an additional engineer - £700 p.a. - to take charge of third survey party. Requested reply.

Mr. Balfour Sir G. F. Fildes

The relay is the same as that adopted for the other heads of parties (6459/14). Acceleration of the work is all to the good. The estimate is 7578 was 18 men, but a restriction of CA 6 per man was had previously specified a year's employment subject to possible extension, so that acceleration will not conflict in arrangements with them.

I don't know what he means by "taking advantage of present state of money market". I hope it means not "as affecting dispositions of Mr Lloyd's friends", for otherwise it means inevitable aggravation of the situation in spite of our explanations.

Your despatch of 17th March Confidential. *

In order to ensure early submission of estimate of Nakuru-Kavirondo Railway, and taking advantage of present state of money market, Taylor proposes to try to engage from India additional engineer at a salary of £700 to take charge of third survey party. Taylor's nominee first class man, but uncertain whether he will accept. Support Taylor's proposal, as owing to quicker field work, cost will not exceed estimate approved for survey. Telegraph reply please.
