Downing Street,
10 May, 1910.

Gentlemen, 137

I am directed by the Earl of Crew to inform you that he approves of your offering temporary employment as a Junior Staff Surveyor in the East Africa Protectorate to an Mr. C. Inghill whose address is 69 Atholway Road, Southampton, for a term of 30 months' service, with salary at the rate of £250 per annum rising by annual increments of £15 to £315 per annum and quarters free of rent (but not of rates or similar outgoings) or an allowance in lieu, the terms of the appointment otherwise to be the same as those on which Mr. J. Spalding was engaged in a similar post in May, 1907.

Mr. Inghill should be medically examined and the appointment should be offered subject to his being passed as physically fit for service.

I am,
Gentlemen,
Your most obedient servant,

(Signed) G. V. FIDDES.

CROWN AGENTS
FOR THE COLONIES.

Director General, attached to 11390, considers him "well on par with many of the men who have passed through here at the end of their course." This is an important consideration in this case, but he is a good candidate from the practical point of view, not so good perhaps as one or two of the recent selections for the more attractive service in Ceylon. He is a seaman and should be equal to an active life.
