New Coinage

Afanda agrees that new coin will be quite satisfactory - 2 1/2 lakhs of 10 coins will be sufficient for present requirements of both Pro. He says 100 pieces required & he needs 50. pieces to be minted at present. Afanda requires 125000 to mint 9 1/2 pieces have needed here

(Minutes.)

Mr. Head

The coins wanted are 25,000,000 (25 lakhs or 25,000,000 units) of 10 pieces
900,000 (90 lakhs or 900,000 units)
of 100 pieces

As regards the legal sanction required, see Min. 30430 see the ad. I do not see why the Min. want to cancel the Currency Order of 1907 & 6. It seems that all that is necessary is to amend the 3rd schedule by a modification made by the Treasury with the approval of the Treasury & S.P.S. under the Currency Order 1907 - see ss 6 & 9 especially and 23.

There is no doubt I think is of the desirability of complying with the request made in the telegram & the only objection is that of procedure The Treasury is sending the order to the Mint

DRAFT Resolving

The Secretary to the Treasury

Sir,
I am in receipt of your letter of the 16th inst. regarding the proposed issue of £100,000 of £10 notes. It will be seen that there is now conclusive evidence that the above-mentioned currency is impermanent and must be replaced, and the Board are recommended to refer the matter to the Treasury and that specimens of new nickel-brass coins have been prepared and to send a copy of the

It is most desirable to bring the coins into use without delay, and a great encouragement of them has already been stopped for the master of the things for making them coins has had other has been dealt with in the letter from the Office of the 2nd of January.
