

ARAPHRASE.

426

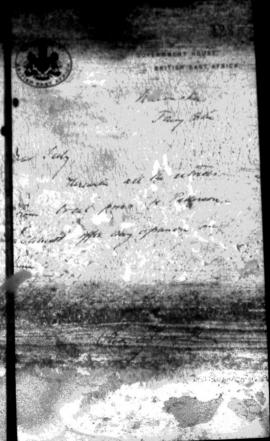

Tiring The november of the man Africa Protectorate to the Secretary of State for the Colories.

(Secretary of State for the Colories.

Tich reference to your telegram of November of the proceedings in the Marietre's Court of the research of Literal of the research of Literal of the research o

SIROUMUE

fair Thing 2 370 16 Joseph C 39/03/09 the same - 1

ON THE LEADER OF OCTOBER 10th 1908.

The Case of Colonel Patterson.

diff of the official temperament in this Protest if their ground was so precarious that a wire restricted to pretect them from the knocks and jan ordinary civilian criticism. In view of the not vary complimentary references made to the settlers in the mate Book desiatohes to the Secretary of State, such that the country himself homines of the covernment, it is pertinent to ask the question why this Draconic treatment is meted to the offending settler and why an official who has notoriously sinned should seest-free and be permitted to leave this territory with homours where honour is not deserved.

We refer to the late Game Ranger. We have it on very good information that Colonel Patterson, one of the Heads of Departments and Chief Ranger of this Protectorate, was before his departure responsible for certain acts and deliquencies for which he has never been brought to book or impeached. Taking advantage of his official position he committed acts which in the private.

control to the second s

with his friends in the case reserve (5) of breaking the dame Laws with regard to configurated property and other sets which if not bosing directly under the service sules do not redound to his personal dead;

We all advice the saprit de corps which unites a clame. Igainst this virtue the official of this territory is not lumume. But the virtue, if unduly laboured, is apt to degenerate into a virus. The unfortunate division which seems to have developed in Settich Rest africa between official and civilian (whoever be to me, or unther organizational are shaft; responsible) of the exposure of one of the afficials, should the occasion arise, only tends to yield the impression of victim push sminity in governing, and ralls ato its own system.

On the East African Standard of Pebruary 5th 1909.

Title "fimes" reporting the death of the late Hon. J. Blyth

Patterson, D. S. C

WHERE IS THE

HAN IS GOING TO BE BEE

Fabricary II, we sent the following etter to He Hi the Lieut-Governor

We wie by the Official Gesetts

If this gentleumn estension of leave.

If so, feir how long. the Protestainte

In any to the chore we have received the autoroped official, reply

"I am desired to inform your in reply to, your letter of to day a date that no information has been received in this Office as to the date of Colonel Patterna a, resorn to the Protestorate".

It will be nesteed that no answer is given to questions (a) and (b); and me can quite understand the reluctance of the Administration to admit that one of their officers has taken what is componly known as "French leave." Hence the discreet allence, for we imagine that if any extension of leave had been granted to the Gallant Colonel, the Administ tion would be only too glad to bave it generaly known whole Col. Patterson åť The seems to be wrapped in wholly unsecessary mystery. On the 10 of Oct last attention was drawn in these boliance to some aspects of the case in the ford pope that something in would influes the shape of pub in the matter. official should

It is not in the least surprising that Col. Patterion should show a rejustance to return to this bountry; what as surprising is that the Government should allow matters to remain in this very unsetisfactory state. It surely cannot be from any lack of knowthat the Government remains of the state of the control of the con es of information easily accurable. Rivies the Magistrate at Mambasa. many things, Mr. Motoson ah in Bast Africa pretty bad name in England it is and when all the facts of the Patter son case become know to the English public, to When he will resome his duties in and the Government may rest assured that the will at no very distant date) the service will have a worse name still. In this, as in other cases, the action of the Government in trying to hush up official scandals proves the point so bluntly raised by Mr. Routledge in his last letter to the Times viz that the service of the Crown has fallen far below the standard that England sets up.

In common justice to member of the service who are beyond reproach the Government should order a public investigation of the actions of him be proved, it is strongly to be hoped that be will be dismissed the service.

Game.

Lord Hiedlip has an article in the London torning Leader on this subject and

A perceal of the Blue book

u u v Alpa Joon u v Alpa Joon u by ii Serebe Silos sarry fo the new regulations as the costless stolers from and reased by the Logislation Council is a matter for consensus.

the activet of considerable discussion, authors been measurable of the metter, the derived riew from that of the metter, the derived riew from that of the metter, the derived riem of the country, the good relations between the official and medical community, and the interests of the game itself. The major part of the correspondence relating to British East Airdea is graffying to one who is, if pensible, as Lectaly interested in the adequate protections of same as in the development of the resources and possibilities of the colony, as well as in the advancement of the Interests of the colonists and of the Empire

The first proposal which pleases me is the suggestion in dispusely. No. 3, for previding a proper said of rangest. Hitheret, the same the was a budy paid individual, with my proper making, of earters out his duries in a proper making. An even now it seems to unswitch which is beautiful and the control of the last and t

- 10

Or the Loader of March 27th 1000.

The Legislative Council

MOTION RE MR. SILBEBEAD AND COL. PATTERSON.

The next Legislative Council sign and Bill Frontains for precenting fits agreed of the Coconia Beetie, Tyamend the Kative Vesa Ordinance 1907. To make provision for the punishment of persons practising witcheraft: The fill of Sales Act: The Police Bill. The Collective Punishment Ordinance: Bill relating to the Taxation of Natives.

Other business befers the Council includes Bill for regulating the saie of Wines and Spirits, and one for the establishment of Savings Banks in connection with the Post

COLONEL PATTERSON.

It will be seen from our Reuters Cables that fore Grave has exonorated Colonel Patterson on the charges, vis., of entering the Northern Game Reserve and of behaving with inhumanity to ice. Blyth. It is quite pessible that Colonel Patterson had the best of reasons for shooting in the Northern Game heaving, and we are delighted to hear the Northern Game heaving, and we are delighted to hear the Northern Game heaving and we are delighted to hear the Northern Game heaving and we are delighted to hear

It is always delightful to be cheared of a charge which has never existed.

No one has ever suggested that Colonel Patterson behaved with "inhumanity" to Mr. Blyth. We such charge has ever been made. But we have a remote suspicion that the gallant Colonel suffered not so much from inhumanity as from an excess of humanity.

Sir James Hayes Sadler in conversing officially on the subject let fall a significant remark which our readers by this time doubtless know well enough, as it has circulated in sporting circles during the last week. His Excellency said "you know, Mr. So and So Colonel Patterson has refunded."

reconstruction of the second

Colonel Patterson's health has broken down, as we were looking looking forward to have the pleasure of seeing him once again in our midst.

But it seems that he considers that the climate of East Africa would not be good for his health. We are serry.

ON THE LEADER OF APRIL 10th 1909.

CABLES BY REUTER

COLOREL PATTERSON'S CASE.

Team'r.

London April 3.- In the House of Lords, tand draws, replying to Saron Zouche, said that careful examination proved that the reports compacting Colonial Patterson with the control of the to East Africa, but his health had broken down.

Lord Crewe stated further with reference to the reports of Colonel Fatterson's inhumanity towards Blyth he treated him throughout with nothing but kindness and humanity. Regarding the charge of shooting in the game reserve he accepted Colonel Patterson's explanation and directed his trophiss to be sent to him in England.

on the Advertiser of the 50th April 1900

Wettmedt Gamen

tire wing to ill health, from his past last summer, rumourof a similar character provarieties said Lard Crewe, had gone to the northern game preserves with a view to deligiting a boundary Mr. Blvth, who was his companion, digit in the course of the expedition from a revol ver shot, umlountedly inflicted by himself either by accident or as the enusequence of the delirium of fever. The rumour made Colonel Patter son responsible for Blyth's death. Upon his own careful inquiry. Lord Crewe was able to assure the House of Lordthat the reports were wholly antomated. There was not be able to exidence against Ocbury of exidence against Ocfolial Antoesia, wither as again and oMr. Blyth as alwain or nuce della

Dining the second

Col. Patterson

REPLY BY LORD CREWE.

In the House of Lords Lord Zouche of Hary ogworth called attention to the case of sent of tonel Patterson, II. 8 J., ave Game Warsen for Richan East Africa and transfer to the erreums sances under the case that ceased to hold that position in the colony. The Parl of Crewe, in reply, and that the

The Earl of Crew, in reply, and that the measure of the conduct of a public servants could give be a light one, and the particular ties was so singular that it had caused that is the Golonial Office a considerable degree of anxiety. Colonel Patterson had a distinguished record of service in South Affice and elsewhere. He was mentioned in despatches more than ones, and had obtained the D.S.O. He was also well known to many of their considerable for the account of the constant of the constan sinister character had been prevalent regard ing line got merely in East Africa, but also. he bed been told, they had reached England. The rumours to which he had alluded arose, to a certain extent, out of the unfortunate death of a son of a member of their lordships House, Lord Blyth. Colonel Patterson was going on duty to the Northern Game Preser ves, and he was accompanied by Mr. Byth In the course of that expedition Mr. Bloth died by a revolver shot, undoubtedly self inflicted either by accident or in a fit of deli rium consequent upon a severe attack of fever from which he suffered throughout the murney The rumours concerning Colonel Patterson in some cases actually took the form that he had been responsible for Mr Blyth's death. At any rate he was accused of having shown distinct inhumanity at the time He (Lord Crewe had examined the documents relating to the case, and he could assure their lordships that there was no foundation whatever for these rumours - (Cheers) There was not a scrap of evidence to connect Col. Patterson in any way with having caused Mr. Blyth's death, and there was no ground for the reports that Colonel Patterson had treated Mr. Blyth with any thing but kind and humanity throughout the journey was also stated that Colonel the journey nmerrer Colonet Parter et ...

Goes attered let is one Africa anoual be use to think a see a postion generally, the best acod he (Lerd Crewe) count give is the House does he alide not consider Colone Patterect mworthy of continuing in His Mnjesty, service was that he had sanctioned his return to East Africa. But Colonel Patterson's health had, he was afraid broken down to's very great extent, and that had prevented his return to East Africa, and consequently he had cessed to hold the appointment of game warden there.