Mr. A. J. Thomas

is quite a good candidate for the post of Veterinary Officer. He has had about four years experience since graduation, and has a very good (I think) knowledge of the practical work of the post graduate class. He is fully qualified for the post. Mr. J. M. Pidgeon says he did the work of the post graduate class in a very satisfactory manner and acquired a knowledge of the tropical diseases of animals. We have not seen him, but as several questions are of minor importance in a Vet. Officer's work, Mr. Pidgeon evidently regards him as a capable candidate. It is therefore unnecessary to try him to test for the post. (LHD 28 Oct 1917)
