"Nobody can say I wasted my money"

Peter DePaolo—1925 Indianapolis Race Winner
This statement from the young race driver, who purchased a Buick a week after he wheeled his car to victory at Indianapolis and broke the record of that famous Speedway, sums up the nation-wide opinion of Buick.
For, just as DePaolo recognizes the superiority of valve-in-head engines for the race track and personal use, so too have more than a million every-day motorists recognized the dependability and performance of Buick and the Valve-in-Head type of engine upon which Buick has concentrated 21 years.
DePaolo bought a new Buick with part of the $30,000 prize money that he won on the Indianapolis Speedway and drove it to Alhambra where he won the 250 mile race. He bought it with dependability and for genuine value. And his purchase, made solely because he has tried Buick and tested its performance for himself, is further evidence of the regard in which Buick is so universally held.

A SHOCK AT WEHLEBY.

The Attempted Theft.

GOLD, DIAMONDS AND DEBT.

An attempt was made to steal a case containing diamonds valued at £100,000 from the Exhibition at Wehleby.

The gold was in a safe in the Gold Coast Pavilion, and the diamonds were in a case which was not yet been identified.

The case was found open and the diamonds were missing. The thief was caught and the case was closed.

Wehleby is a town in the Gold Coast. The case was found in a room which was used for the storage of the diamonds.

The diamonds were valued at £100,000. The case was found open and the diamonds were missing.

The thief was caught and the case was closed. The diamonds were valued at £100,000.

NATIVE EDUCATION.

Educational Objectives. PHILIPS-ROGERS COMMISSION

(By James Thomson)

Following is the second of a series of three articles in which a correspondent analyses the report of the Commission on Native Education. The methods by which various steps are to be taken to improve a native education system are discussed.

THE OBJECTIVE

The Commission's main objective is to improve the native education system. It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one.

THE METHOD

The Commission's method is to improve the native education system. It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one.

THE RESULT

The Commission's result is to improve the native education system. It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one.

DETERMINING OBJECTIVES

This is the first of three articles in which a correspondent analyses the report of the Commission on Native Education.

As possible. The teacher employed by Government can only work in a narrow range of conditions.

There may be some who do not see the value of the native education system. It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one.

It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one. It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one.

HEALTH

With regard to health it is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one. It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one.

It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one. It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one.

It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one. It is to be a practical one, and it is to be a practical one.

When Better Automobiles Are Built, Buick Will Build Them

"Nobody can say I wasted my money!"

Peter DePalo—1925 Indianapolis Race Winner

This statement from the young race driver, who purchased a Buick a week after he wheeled his car to victory at Indianapolis and broke the record of that famous Speedway, sums up the nation-wide opinion of Buick.

For, just as DePalo recognizes the superiority of valve-in-head engines for the race track and personal use, so too have more than a million everyday motorists recognized the dependability and performance of Buick and the Valve-in-Head type of engine upon which Buick has concentrated for 21 years.

DePalo bought a new Buick with part of the $39,000 prize money that he won on the Indianapolis Speedway and drove to Arizona where he won the 250 mile race. He bought it with the motor car expert's discriminating eye for performance, for dependability and genuine value. And his purchase, made solely because he has tried Buick and tested its performance for himself, is further evidence of the regard in which Buick is so universally held.

Two lessons at Hurlingham Club.

If you wish to improve the flow of articles on Lawn Tennis here would like I intend to do my utmost to help you both learn and play. If you play, perfect your game. If you do not play, get a teacher by stating that you have tennis in a game that gives 100 per cent pleasure for the 100 per cent of the time that you take in taking seriously to your play. If it is not a game that you can be taken up just halfheartedly, at least it is a game which can take many hours of pleasure. As you progress, you will get more from chess and you will find the greater enjoyment the higher you climb to perfection. For you are glad that if you are a poor player you cannot hope to get any enjoyment to play with an inferior player who is in a position to deride you.

One of the first things that you should perfect is your forehand stroke. This is the most simple and most useful stroke in the game. It is the stroke which men find the easiest and the ball, and although it is one of the most simple strokes in the game, it is one that is liable to be just not used fairly.

The very fact that you play frequently means that you are liable to have got into a bad habit of hitting your racket which will make it very hard for you to change when you have learnt.

Put some of the same back into the racket, then the forehand swing and backswing will be a continuous motion. The arms and racket will be in one straight line with the feet and the racket will be in a position to strike the ball as a single movement between your knee and wrist.

Bring back your racket until it is in a straight line with the feet. This is the correct way to hold the racket. Keep your weight on the front foot at the moment the arm of the racket, and use that arm as your fulcrum. How it is well to make that the racket is in a position to strike the ball as a single movement.

YOKE KNIVES

Do not lose your time unless you have to get down to a low ball and in that case your knife will be of great help to you.

To perfect this stroke it is best to get a teacher to see that you are doing it in the correct way and at the correct time.

COOLING SYSTEMS.

Faults Will be Eliminated as Time Goes on.

STEAM METHOD.

On many new the cooling systems employed are very good indeed, particularly in the case of high-power machines. On low-power machines the cooling system is often far from satisfactory, and may be one or more of the following defects: (a) It does not keep the engine at the required temperature when the water level has decreased; (b) It does not keep the water level constant; (c) It does not keep the water level constant; (d) It does not keep the water level constant.

It is not necessary for the steam engine to have sufficiently large water reservoirs. In some cases the water level has decreased to such an extent that the engine is unable to operate. In such cases the water level should be maintained at a constant level. This can be done by means of a float valve. The float valve is a valve which opens when the water level has decreased and closes when it has increased. This keeps the water level constant.

Another common defect is that the engine does not keep the water level constant. This can be done by means of a float valve. The float valve is a valve which opens when the water level has decreased and closes when it has increased. This keeps the water level constant.

The following are some of the most common defects in the cooling system of a steam engine: (a) The water level is not kept constant; (b) The water level is not kept constant; (c) The water level is not kept constant; (d) The water level is not kept constant.

ADVANTAGES.

The most advantage of the steam engine is that it can be used in a wide range of circumstances. It is also very reliable and can be used in a wide range of circumstances. It is also very reliable and can be used in a wide range of circumstances.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS.

Some special features have been noted in a more detailed paper. It is also very reliable and can be used in a wide range of circumstances. It is also very reliable and can be used in a wide range of circumstances.

Have you driven it?

If you take the wheel of the 1926 Oldsmobile Six and Drive—as we invite you—to you will instantly recognize the superior performance of this economical, long-lived Six which is little short of amazing.

It seems so smoothly over roughly rutted roads—“give-way” in hard-taming acceleration is rapid and vibrationless—there is a thrill thru in its power and speed on hills and the open road.

In all these things—the car will assure you highest enthusiasm—you will admire the beauty of line and richness of finish.

Such quality could not be built into a car so moderately priced—except for the combined purchasing and manufacturing resources of the great General Motors Corporation and Oldsmobile.

The New Fordor Sedan

NOBODY appreciates the Ford sedan as much as the motorists who have the responsibility for their own safety and the safety of others. Such wisdom led to the Ford Motor Company's new model, which is the most perfect of motor vehicles. It is a masterpiece of engineering and design, and it is the Ford Sedan that is appropriate to expansion and success as assurance of property which means much to the motorist who expects it.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

But this trade is rapidly falling in consequence of the great progress in general shipbuilding for the East in Europe.

As a result of the generally increasing demand for steamships, the British and American navies have been compelled to equip their fleets with steamships of a larger tonnage than ever before.

Have you driven it?

If you will take the wheel of the 1933 Oldsmobile Six and drive—as we invite you to—you will instantly recognize the superior new performance in this compact, long-lived Six which is little short of amazing.

It claims so smoothly over roughly rutted roads—the gearbox is brain-dead—the acceleration is rapid and vibrationless—there is a new thrill in its power and speed on hills and the open road.

In all these things the car will arouse your highest enthusiasm—you will admire the beauty of line and richness of finish.

Such quality could not be built into a car so moderately priced—except for the combined purchasing and manufacturing resources of the great General Motors Corporation and Oldsmobile.
