Mr. Ghersi explained to the Board that the wheat growing was held at 7000 in January and the total quantity of wheat grown was 100,000 tons.

The wheat growers would naturally be disappointed that they had not obtained this price but Mr. Ghersi pointed out that there was a duty of 10/- on wheat and that if the price of local flour was raised to 10/- the wheat growers would probably allow or reduce the produce to 10/-.

The price of local flour will be raised to 10/- and will correspond with the increase in price of wheat.

It is not proposed that there should be any agricultural, cotton or other industrial conference during the coming year but by arrangement of the Government of the Union of South Africa and the Government of the Union of South Africa.

The Spare Wheel.

SHOULD BE CONTINUALLY CHANGED.

Indescribable things do most useful things to you on a car's spare wheel. A spare wheel is not a spare wheel unless it is changed.

The danger to which the tyre of the spare wheel should be subjected is to be kept in a state of readiness.

Some motorists leave their spare tyre unused or exposed for many months at a time with the result that the useful life is considerably shortened.

MOTORING TOPICS

The Spare Wheel.

USE OF SPARE WHEEL. Some motorists have a habit, which may be strongly recommended, of keeping the spare wheel in a state of readiness.

The last two items will be the means of saving money in motor-cars and perhaps very valuable means of saving time.

Some motorists leave their spare tyre unused or exposed for many months at a time with the result that the useful life is considerably shortened.

Learning by Experience.

THE MOTORIST'S BEST INSTRUCTOR.

The motorist in his lifetime, like a soldier in his campaign, has much to learn, says a writer in the Copie type.

It is not until the first act of the drama is over that the average motorist knows his lesson.

Impulsive road signals, such as the "slow down" or "I am stopping," are frequently agreed upon by the motorist.

Dual Sparking Plugs.

FORECAST FOR FUTURE CARS.

The use of dual sparking plugs in high efficiency motor-cars is a forecast for the future.

The added complication of an extra magnet might be a point against the method.

The high speeds now obtainable in the small car engines, which are becoming the popular type,

The Fan Belt.

OVERHEATING CAUSED BY SLIPPING.

A common cause of overheating in hot weather is the lack of sufficient tension of the fan belt.

This is especially important when the belt is driven by a motor which is not of the correct type.

Overheating is less trouble than deflating, but in any case the preliminary should be checked with the gauge.

It is therefore, a very good plan to make a practice of removing all the waste from time to time and thoroughly greasing the inside parts.

IMPORTANT PASTEUR DISCOVERY.

Vaccine Shields Babes from Tuberculosis.

NEW EXPERIMENTS.

A sensational discovery which will eradicate tuberculosis from the past generation is claimed by Professor A. Calmette, the famous bacteriologist and head of the Pasteur Institute, in an interview reported in the Lyons newspaper 'Republique'.

A new form of vaccine known as "B.C.G." is administered to an infant within two days of its birth, when it is claimed, under the name of the disease, and this even when a child is born of a mother infected with the same organism. This experiment has shown conclusively that the use of "B.C.G." renders the child immune.

The initials "B.C.G." are those of the three doctors who made the discovery of the vaccine—Brière, Lacombe, and Calmette. "Our vaccine," she says, Professor Calmette, "is not a remedy for tuberculosis, it is a preventive applicable only to the new born."

LIVINO BACILLI

"Pasture experiments," said Professor Calmette, "carried on for the last twenty years have been satisfactory on account of the necessity of using dead bacilli. We had been led to think that the only possible inoculation would be the use of hereditary transmission by the means of a sterile cow, but we were by Pasteur. We have now discovered a means of extracting the tubercle bacillus from the milk of a cow infected with the disease at an original extremely virulent period of killing young bull within four or five weeks."

"We have made this discovery after 200 successive failures over a period of thirteen years, but the vaccine has no effect when administered to persons already subject to bacillary infection."

"In the old world 90 per cent of the adult population gave a positive reaction to tuberculin tests. We have therefore had to confine our experiments to young calves, in to young mothers, and finally to infants. The most successful results were achieved in our latest experiments when from July 1, 1924, to June 1, 1925, we inoculated or vaccinated 2,700 children with the vaccine.

"Four hundred and twenty-three of these, kept under actual observation, though not exposed to further infection in their family or in the streets, have been free of tubercular infection, did not contract the disease. Thirty of them died, however, but from other causes. This mortality was in no case, only 1 per cent, a mortality below the usual infantile death-rate. Earlier statistics proved that the average child living in Paris with tubercular parents had not one chance in three of surviving its infancy to the age of five years."

Professor Calmette stated that in a case of these vaccines the excessive use of vaccine was immediately detectable. It can be obtained by qualified medical practitioners from the Institute in single doses. No ill effects are to be expected after inoculation, nor is there any digestive trouble in consumption. The vaccine must not be kept for longer than six days, and the doses are prepared only on receipt of a telegram from the doctor, naming the birth of the child to be vaccinated.

Professor Calmette is pleased that this was the only method of obtaining the treatment, and that the Pasteur Institute has now succeeded in giving the vaccine. No particular medication from the doctor, nor the use of tuberculin, is available.

Harem Poisoned.

ANTI-POLYUMAY LAW

Abraham Bay, a wealthy trader, according to a confidential dispatch, was never able to reconcile himself to anti-polyumay law recently passed by the Assembly.

He was ordered to break up his harem, but that of his wife, he arranged a sumptuous dinner, appointed a band to play, and a dinner party, and had all his thirty-six wives assembled in their most beautiful robes, which were headed with jewels.

Abraham Bay took charge of the men, and had each drink including his own, sprinkled with perfume. The whole night was spent in a wild orgy, during which the music of the string playing women alternated with the melodies of an Eastern string quartet. At dawn, Abraham Bay and his thirty-six wives were dead.

THE NATIVE WAR MEMORIAL

The erection was completed in Nairobi yesterday of what will be one of the most important of the war memorials in East Africa in future years—the Imperial War Graves Commission's permanent tribute to the African soldiers who gave their lives in the common cause of the Empire in the struggle against the ex-Genoese Colossus. There are no statistics East Africa which would indicate the extent of the losses of this group of warriors. It has been known for some time that the Graves Commission is presenting the Memorial to Eastern Africa although the original purpose was to build a home for it at Mombasa. Now that the decision to erect it at Nairobi was reached in the annual meeting of the special committee together with other features of the special resolution from the Imperial War Graves Commission to set the Memorial on the greater part of a month there were those from the British South Africa have been straggled in the Memorial during the war, we are able to publish a photograph of the Memorial during its erection, a privilege which we should like to see in a number where those things are more carefully read than this is apparently the case in Kenya. Now, we learn, the Memorial of which will include the names of those who fell in the East African theatre of the war, will be unveiled in the middle of the present year. The names covering most aspects of the various hotbeds and the ex-Genoese soldiers of the Imperial War Graves Commission during the course of its erection are being collected by the Imperial War Graves Commission in the most extensive way that has ever been known. The Memorial is now being built on a site which at the moment has nothing at all to do with the war. It is set back and back in the middle of the city, and the site is being cleared and the foundations are being laid. The Memorial is now being built on a site which at the moment has nothing at all to do with the war. It is set back and back in the middle of the city, and the site is being cleared and the foundations are being laid.

JOHN BOYES

KING OF THE WA-KIKUYU.

(1924. EDITION.)

"No more interesting book has been published for many years than this authentic record of an Englishman's adventures as a trader in East Africa. It tells how he gained an almost miraculous ascendancy over the Kikuyu tribes, how he became their king, how he was captured and tried for his life by his own country, and finally, how he was acquitted."

Annual Meeting and President's Report.

WAGES, LABOUR, EDUCATION

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Annual General Meeting of the Rurio Farmers Association was held on Saturday February 2, in the hall of the Rurio Sports Club. A large number of members were present, and the meeting was presided over by the President for the year 1935 in the person of Mr. Amner.

FOR SALE

It is a matter for congratulation that Mr. Henry Cockburn's place has been listed by the Department for the Rurio Group. The place has been listed as a "small holding" and is situated on the bank of the Rurio River. It is a very fertile piece of land and is well watered. It is a very desirable place for a small holder and is well suited for the growing of such crops as wheat, maize, and other cereals. It is also well suited for the growing of such crops as potatoes, beans, and other vegetables.
