HUPMOBILE SIX

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF VALUE-GIVING

The new Hupmobile Six has been designed to prove that the six-cylinder motor car can be placed on the highest peak of excellence at a moderate price. Hupmobile derives its name from a superior design of riding comfort at a minimum degree of expense—and those who insist on the perfection and value that only seventeen years of experience can give, may have their wish.

The Hupmobile powerful six-cylinder engine provides unequalled smoothness. Four-wheel brakes mean safety, but not jerking control. Skilled engineering renders a chassis of perfect balance and rugged strength. Solid appointments, upholstery, hardware, and "Dress" finish make the complete Hupmobile a motor car of unique beauty.

Hupmobile gives all this. Take an actual road-test in this New Six—either Sedan or Touring Car—and decide for yourself that it represents new and unusual value.

OUR WOMEN'S PAGE

A Letter from Paris
(From Young Women)

Apparel and 'ladies' plates are being worn and used in the most extravagant and wasteful manner. The most beautiful and expensive materials are being used in the most wasteful manner.

Made in Australia.

Some of the children's clothes which are being worn are so cheaply made that they are almost worthless. They are made of such poor quality material that they are almost worthless.

Attractive Right Wear.

The style which is being worn is not only with looks for July wear. Their very clinging and soft and little nightgowns that have all kinds of patterns painted on them.

A charming, shaded chiffon creation, graduating from pale rose to green. Diamonds form the girdle and bodice.

Parisian Jewellery Modes.

The style which is being worn is not only with looks for July wear. Their very clinging and soft and little nightgowns that have all kinds of patterns painted on them.

The evening gown is likely to follow for many months because of their softening effect upon the face and hair.

What to Do and Avoid in an Emergency

OVERHEATING ENGINES

Which is the best to do in case of an emergency? The answer is, of course, to stop the engine at once. It is always essential to stop the engine at once if it is overheating, and to do so as soon as possible. The engine should be stopped as soon as it is found to be overheating, and the cause of the overheating should be ascertained as soon as possible. The engine should be cooled down as soon as possible, and the water should be changed if necessary. The engine should be started again only after it has cooled down and the cause of the overheating has been ascertained.

COASTING IN NEUTRAL

The question has been just referred to in a way which is a most dangerous practice to adopt in neutral, particularly when the engine is running at a high speed. TO-DAY is one of motorized living and working of swollen movement of increased accomplishment. The problem squarely up to motorists designers, engineers and manufacturers, has been the construction of a type of engine and motorcar to meet the vital and urgent needs of this new day.

Such a motorcar is now here. Certainly no motor; development in motor car design so completely answers the needs and requirements of the new-day driving as the new Buick.

Decide now to see and drive this epochal motorcar at the very earliest opportunity.

Nothing will so surely emphasize the vast difference between ordinary motorcars and the new Buick Six as the new delight you yourself feel the first time you drive a Buick.

The new Buick Six is a motorcar which not only gives you the very best of everything in the motorcar world, but also gives you the very best of everything in the motorcar world. It is a motorcar which not only gives you the very best of everything in the motorcar world, but also gives you the very best of everything in the motorcar world.

For every one who drives on hills, rough roads, canyon roads, and in all other conditions, the new Buick Six is a motorcar which not only gives you the very best of everything in the motorcar world, but also gives you the very best of everything in the motorcar world.

Other cars in the world offers all these important advantages.

- Four wheel Brakes.
- Oil Filter.
- Air Filter.
- Pedal Filter.
- Completely Sealed Chassis.
- Cast-iron Springing.
- Dipping Head Lights.
- 77 Horse Power.
- Five-leaf Steering.
- Light Pressure Clutch.
- Valve-in-Head Engine.
- Removable Fuel Economy.

There are more Buicks registered throughout the world than any other cars except Chevrolets and Fords.

Buick predominance in registrations means extra miles turned in by old cars that would not be running at all if they were not Buicks—built as only Buick builds. The oldest cars in regular operation in East Africa are Buicks. Buick engineering has accomplished this by thinking always of the driver's comfort and placing it in every Buick part, and then, by placing around that stamina such protection as the famous "Sealed Chassis" and the "Triple Sealed Engine." All Buick operating parts are hardened from dirt and wear to insure longer life with less upkeep.

How to See the Historical Remains.

THE KING'S PALACE.

(By "A. Court Hamilton.")

Every visitor to London will wish to see something of the King's Palace where the monarch lives when he is in the Metropolis or when he is in the past here hold their courts. In this article we tell the story of Buckingham Palace, Kensington, Whitehall, Hampton Court, and Windsor Castle, with hints as to the best ways to reach them and days for visiting.

Buckingham Palace, generally known as Buckingham House and built by the first Duke of Buckingham and Normandy, was adapted as a Palace, after various additions by Queen Victoria in the early part of her reign.

A BEAUTIFUL SETTING.

Although not so imposing as most of the Continental Royal residences, Buckingham Palace is a noble building. It is situated directly West end of the Mall and may easily be reached on foot from Charing Cross.

During the Queen's coronation a number of Jesses are held in the Palace by the King at which naval and military officers, statesmen, members of Parliament, and members of the diplomatic corps and their wives are present. It is the Majesty The Honourable Corps of Gentlemen at Arms and the Yeomen of the Guard are on duty, and the coming and going of high persons in courtly uniform tend to obscure the beauty of the palace as it appears when it is in the streets. The public is only allowed to see the appearance of the palace on these occasions.

When His Majesty is in residence the Royal Standard is flown from the flag staff which surmounts the great quadrangle. The flag staff, which now forms the front of the palace, was added by George III. The outer wall of this front was lined with stone and decorated in 1818 from the designs of Sir James Wyatt, in order to provide a fitting background for the Victoria Memorial. The palace contains a range of finely appointed state apartments and is suitable for the collection of paintings and other works of art. It is not open to the public, but visits that are interesting to see some outside.

KENSINGTON PALACE.

Kensington Palace, the birthplace of Queen Mary and the former home residence of the ruling sovereigns was acquired by William III in 1689 and designated as Windsor Palace.

In the reign of George III, the second the grounds which are now known as Kensington Gardens were enclosed and separated from the Palace.

The Palace was the residence of the Queen until the death of George IV. The present building, which was begun by the first Duke of Devonshire in 1759, was completed in 1793. The Palace was the residence of the Queen until the death of George IV. The present building, which was begun by the first Duke of Devonshire in 1759, was completed in 1793.

There are several apartments, the children and members of the household and members of the household and members of the household.

Hampton Court Palace, the largest of the royal palaces, is situated in the town of Hampton, about 15 miles from London. It was built by Cardinal Wolsey in 1515, and was later used by Henry VIII and Charles II.

fect brick palace built by Cardinal Wolsey four centuries ago and occupied by Royal until the time of George II, is now to be seen almost as it was early in the century. The delightful garden now shows the site of the great palace, and the variety which cannot be seen from the edge of the river. There is a fine view of the palace and the surrounding country from the garden.

From Charing Cross a short distance is provided. To assemble the journey is usually made by Bakerloo Tube to Waterloo and then to Hampton Court Station on the Southern railway. A short motor service is available from Waterloo and in less than an hour the visitor will reach the gates of the famous royal residence where you will see to whatever of the palace and tranquility of a bygone age.

Hampton Court Palace itself has the best of the Great Hall with its tapestries, State Rooms and the Queen's Gallery. The latter is a fine collection of the latter works, in a superb collection of the latter works.

The gardens of the Palace are beautiful. The State Apartments are open to the public, and the Queen's Gallery is open to the public.

WINDSOR CASTLE.

Windsor Castle, the largest of the royal palaces, is situated in the town of Windsor, about 20 miles from London. It was built by Henry I in 1066, and was later used by Henry VIII and Charles II.

Windsor Castle is a fine example of the Gothic style, and is one of the most beautiful of the royal palaces. It is situated in the town of Windsor, about 20 miles from London.
