Ulster Trouble.

Churchill's Programme.

MAYORESS'S APPEAL

(Reuter's Special to "E. A. Standard") London, Feb. 7. Mr. Churchill will arrive in Belfast at 9.30 in the morning of February 8 and will stay at an hotel. He will drive to the meeting at 12.30 p.m. and will leave for Glasgow at 6.30 p.m. The Mayor of Elbank will not accompany him owing to the pressure of parliamentary business. The troops which arrived yesterday include dragoons, engineers and six battalions of infantry with a maximum of 1000 men. The Mayoress of Belfast appeals to Protestant women to help in keeping the peace.

Churchill's Arrival.

ANGRY CROWDS.

London, Feb. 7. It is reported from Belfast that Churchill on his arrival had a mixed reception some people cheering. Several bands outside of the station made a rush to surround his motor car, but were frustrated by the police. His chauffeur had some difficulty in driving through the congestion of people to the hotel. Mr. Churchill breakfasted with Lord Purdie. He rained heavily throughout the hectic reception. Large placards with "Ulster will fight" were posted and crowds sang the National Anthem, Hail Britannia and gave cheers for Hon. Law and Carson.

The Belfast shippers were working but fire-bombing men did not resume after breakfast. They paraded the streets with Union Jacks and went in a drag to the hotel where they sang the National Anthem but the police speedily dispersed them. Lord Londonderry, Carson, Craig and other leaders gathered in the Ulster Club. Dragoons were posted in the danger zones and troops marched to the football ground accompanied by noisy crowds under conditions of the utmost discomfort as it is likely to rain all day long.

Mr. Churchill arrived on the ground safely in a motor car which was for sometime blocked by large angry crowds but the police extricated him. Infantry, cavalry and police surrounded the meeting ground while soldiers were in the adjoining streets and fields with arms piled. Churchill had a rousing reception from six thousand in the marketplace through which rain was pouring to the ground making it a black bog.

Nationalists in the vicinity were displaying effigies on swinging ropes, labelled Londonderry, Carson and turcocks, while in the orange quarter the youth had sticks and banners with "No Home Rule" and an effigy of Churchill.

National Testing Station

FOR BRITISH CATTLE EXPORTS.

London, Feb. 7. On the recommendation of the Development Commission the Board of Agriculture is about to establish a national testing station where British cattle can be tested before exportation. The idea was first suggested to Government by General Boshie and subsequently the South American Republics made representations on the subject.

Cabinet Council.

STILL DRAFTING HOME RULE.

London, Feb. 7. The Cabinet sat for three and a half hours yesterday. Some of the papers declare they are still drafting the Home Rule Bill.

Socialist Leader.

ARRESTED FOR CONSPIRACY.

Tokio, Feb. 7. The Japanese Socialist leader, Katayama, has been arrested on the charge of conspiracy in connection with the recent tramway strike.

Sport in India.

In the United States, as in England, the winter sports are more popular than in any other country. The sports which are popular here are ice skating, curling, and hockey. Sport in India.

COL. G. H. TREVOR, C.S.I.

It is a limited sport as we do not have the same facilities as in England. The only game that we play is polo. It is a very interesting game and we play it very much.

CAMP LIFE.

While on our expedition to the interior of India, we had a very interesting camp life. We were very much interested in the life of the natives and in the life of the animals.

A Nation Exalted.

It is with a reverence such as is accorded to the flight of the soul of a saint, that we recall the life and death of the late Sir John Lubbock, 1st Baron of Avebury, who died on the 11th of March, 1912, at the age of 70 years. He was a man of high intellect and high character, and his death is a great loss to the nation. He was a man of high intellect and high character, and his death is a great loss to the nation.

The Colonial Service.
A CHANCE TO RISE.

London, Feb. 29.—The House of Lords has passed the Bill for the Colonial Service, which will enable the Government to raise the salary of the Colonial Service. The Bill provides for the appointment of a Colonial Service Commission to select the best candidates for the service. The Commission will be composed of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Secretary of State for the Admiralty, and the Secretary of State for the War. The Commission will have the power to recommend the names of candidates for the service to the Secretary of State for the Colonies. The Bill also provides for the appointment of a Colonial Service Board to oversee the service. The Board will be composed of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Secretary of State for the Admiralty, and the Secretary of State for the War. The Board will have the power to recommend the names of candidates for the service to the Secretary of State for the Colonies. The Bill also provides for the appointment of a Colonial Service Council to advise the Secretary of State for the Colonies. The Council will be composed of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Secretary of State for the Admiralty, and the Secretary of State for the War. A VISIT TO THE BAUCON FACTORY.

To the Editor of the "E. A. Standard." Dear Sir, Having received a complaint from the manager that my page was not printed down neatly, I have been engaged to visit the factory to see what was the matter. I found that the machine was not working properly and that the paper was not being fed in correctly. I have now returned and the complaint has been corrected.

NOTES FOR WOMEN.

By the Special London Correspondent

A new device for accentuating one's figure is the invention of a "High Collar" which is worn with long white hose which are attached to the collar by means of buttons, making eyes, or instead of ears, which are fastened by buttons to the collar. The collar is made of silk or satin, and is worn with a high, white, lace-trimmed collar. The collar is made of silk or satin, and is worn with a high, white, lace-trimmed collar.

A new and very odd style of hairdressing is coming to the fore. The hair is parted at the side, or in front, and dressed quite loose and cool. The hair which is still straight to the fore is to be accentuated by this style.

A good many articles of dress are now being made of tissue. They are very much liked and for a wrap are still very much worn. They are not difficult to wear, and every color they are now made about the same, with a few exceptions. The tissue is made of a fine, light fabric, and is worn with a high, white, lace-trimmed collar.

The giraffe house coming from the Cape is a very odd sight. It is a house of the shape of a giraffe, and is made of wood. It is a house of the shape of a giraffe, and is made of wood.

High-heeled shoes have been introduced in London. They are made of leather, and are worn with a high, white, lace-trimmed collar. They are made of leather, and are worn with a high, white, lace-trimmed collar.

Some very beautiful dresses are being shown at Liberty's agents for evening wear. They are made of silk, and are worn with a high, white, lace-trimmed collar. They are made of silk, and are worn with a high, white, lace-trimmed collar.

A mannequin and white made as a kimono shape, but all in one dress was very lovely. The dress was very plain, but the color was emphasized in the admirable trimming. This style was admired. The dress was very plain, but the color was emphasized in the admirable trimming.

The Lords gave a banquet at the Grand Theatre in honor of Mr. Asquith and his passing the Parliament Bill. The Premier had a speech in which he said that his speech in the House of Lords was a triumph.

Mr. Asquith said he would have been glad if the resolutions had not fallen under the shadow of a week's great national anxiety when the Government had temporarily failed when the Government had temporarily failed when their shoulders ached with additional time. He said that he had never been so glad to hear enough to sustain a Government. He said that he had never been so glad to hear enough to sustain a Government.
