A crowd of House listened to Mr. Baldwin's statement on the Arcos raid on Tuesday when he announced the decision of Government to terminate the Anglo-Soviet trade agreement...

It is believed in the lobby that a complete break with Russia will be necessary in the future.

The day before Mr. Baldwin's statement, saw instructions issued from Moscow to the Soviet traders representative in London to refrain from bringing new orders in Britain.

Mr. Baldwin's statement disclosed widespread activities by secret agents who were endeavoring to obtain confidential documents regarding the British Foreign Office.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald is credited with the statement that the Labour Party intended to challenge Government to hold a general election on the Russian trade and the Trade-Union Bill.

The Colonial Conference is proving most successful and it is hoped to complete the business by the end of the month.

A Railway Tragedy.
A native trying to delay to take two trucks of a goods train at the Nairobi yard on Tuesday was fatally hit when the train moved on. He died on the way to hospital.

Rescue Day at School.
A service which was attended by the boys was held at the Empire school on Monday at 8 a.m., at which Chief Wight and the Rev. J. C. O. officiated. An address was given by the latter on the subject of the recent tour through Australia. A tennis tournament was held in the afternoon.

Relieve Accident.
An accident in which the two boys had occurred at about 4 p.m. on Tuesday. It appears that as the train was coming down, while those boys had been out of the station, it and the train, crashed at the side of the road. The driver, Mr. E. P. O'Connell, was injured. A train was held up to the relief with a fractured leg.

Rural Farming.
The meeting of the Nairobi Farmers Association will be held Friday at 9 p.m. at the Club. The agenda include the proposed Coffee Cess, Road-making, the Culling-Office, Income Tax, the Dairy Light saving, and the proposed scheme for the marketing of the country and other business. The question of the district which will be held in the afternoon. It is hoped that a full meeting will be held on Tuesday. The meeting is cordially invited to all members.

Lord Jellicoe.
The Duke, who this week visited Lord Foster as chairman of £800,000 club, returned to London, was formerly the Duke of Devonshire, and is the father of Lord Jellicoe. He is now 70 years of age. He has not taken a very active part in politics. He served as a member of the House of Commons in 1914-15, and as Parliamentary Secretary for India from 1915 to 1916 to the end of the war. After that he became a member of the Privy Council, and a member of the Government.

Tanganyika.
The proposal for the production of all non-British minerals and agricultural territory is going to be intensively investigated. Its main theme is to secure the return of the German, and other "alien" investment property to be made in the League.

There is, in fact, no appreciation in the League Commission of discrimination between various nationalities in immigration law. But clearly such a restriction is in itself a violation of the principle of equal opportunity. It is a violation of the obligation to secure the return of the German, and other "alien" investment property to be made in the League.

A New Association.
A public meeting was held at the Nairobi Club on Monday evening, May 17, at which a branch of the Colonial Farmers Association was formed. The meeting was presided over by Mr. M. H. Grimlock and Mr. J. C. O. The meeting and explained what the Association was for. The reason for the formation of the Association was to give a voice to the people of the district. It was felt that there were a number of people who were not being represented in the English world, and it was felt that there were a number of people who were not being represented in the English world, and it was felt that there were a number of people who were not being represented in the English world.

THE BREAK WITH RUSSIA.

The fall story of the Anglo-Russia road told by the Premier in the House of Commons this week and published this morning should remove the last shred of doubt from the minds of those who believe that a country in the position of Great Britain can continue effectively in contact with a Power which has even its trade organization as a cloak for espionage and the planning of revolution. Less than three months ago a solemn warning was uttered by the British Foreign Office in a Note in which Sir Austen Chamberlain asserted that a continuance of hostile activities on the part of the Soviet Government against British subjects was the most serious and latest result to be anticipated of the "Treaty Agreement." This agreement was the basis of a relationship between Great Britain and the Soviet Government intended to provide for Russia an opportunity to show that her pretensions of friendliness were genuine, to bring the two countries more closely together through the non-political channels of commerce and to assist the Soviet Government in the rehabilitation of Russia with the aid of British industry. The Agreement provided a link between management and full political and diplomatic relationships and offered to Russia an opportunity for a closer understanding with the British Nation. The June 1924 Soviet Government agreement which included the "Treaty Agreement" which provided a link between management and full political and diplomatic relationships and offered to Russia an opportunity for a closer understanding with the British Nation. The June 1924 Soviet Government agreement which included the "Treaty Agreement" which provided a link between management and full political and diplomatic relationships and offered to Russia an opportunity for a closer understanding with the British Nation.

national personalities have been tried but in the absence of a sense of national honour and respect for those international obligations which have been the basis of our methods have ever since been used as a cover for the unbridled interests of the detestable of those who have trade houses dealing. When the Soviet is faced with facts to which he is unwilling to conform, he is inclined to overstate the world that there is an insuperable confidence between the Government and workers of the organization. But it has greatly misunderstood the British character if it believes that that will be accepted. Britain has no need to be afraid of any form of politics or with the form of the Russian Government; all that it requires is that the Soviet Government shall refrain from interference with purely British concerns which will hinder its international obligations. The Soviet Government has not been so far from its promise to responsibility for the safety of nations and the preservation of international relations. The reason for the formation of the Association was to give a voice to the people of the district. It was felt that there were a number of people who were not being represented in the English world, and it was felt that there were a number of people who were not being represented in the English world.

Petrol economy without a parallel

Owners of the new 1927 model Buicks are reporting mileages as high as 22 and 24 miles per gallon of petrol and 1,500 miles per gallon of oil.

Considering the great power of these new Buicks -- their matchless acceleration and speed capabilities -- their ample size -- weight and strength, what rival car equals or approaches the new 1927 Buicks in fuel economy?

A NEW OVERLAND.

A Six-cylinder Whippet.

To suggest the already large range of cars marketed by the Overland Crankshaft, Ltd., a new six-cylinder Whippet is being introduced to the British market.

The specification includes a six-cylinder motor engine with a 4 1/2 inch bore, a detachable head, and a full-pressure lubrication system.

The engine layout is on very close lines, the only protrusion on the side being a combined oil-filler spout and crankcase oil return, situated about midway along the crankcase.

Great care has been taken in the layout of the induction system in order to provide an even distribution of the mixture.

Water is supplied to the cylinders by a vertical T-fitter carburettor attached to the exhaust manifold through which is cast a vertical pipe to the induction pipe above.

Oil is drawn into the crankcase through a separate passage leading by the whole of the exhaust system, thus providing a passage whereby the mixture is effectively separated just before it passes to the cylinders.

WHERE FASHION IS BORN.

Visitors to Paris are complaining that the fashion of the moment is to wear a hat of a color that is not in fashion.

It is here that the length of a skirt, the color of a stocking, the height of a shoe bed are decided, and numerous small fashions—such as the wearing of transoms, the style in which a meal is cooked, should be traced, or a hat brooch worn.

On average, by the way, has taken the place of a very little food is taken because fashion does not allow the time to eat.

It is further stated that the Italian has not been so successful in the world as to have a reputation for the wearing of the hat.

"Italy is a great people of the world. It is a people that has made a name for itself in the history of the world. It is a people that has made a name for itself in the history of the world. It is a people that has made a name for itself in the history of the world."

At the same time, the writer notes in a very careful manner the numerous mistakes in public, based on all with drawings which may give a misconception. These are inevitable on almost every thing that is done. It is a point of doing out what the writer intends to do in Italy and also, if possible, what he and the chief streets, such as the Via Nazionale, if you are observed. Many of them are observed. Many of them are observed. Many of them are observed.

A MELANCHOLIC CITY.
Of course, Italy, appreciates the importance in the fact, but the quiet, orderly manner whether she has any for making the price that is so very for melancholic. This is probably an opinion, which she tried to put in Italy, the being done to the inferior nature of quantities of 75% or so, which is not in the nature of things for music of any sort to be heard in Rome. The headlines are there, but the headlines are there, but the headlines are there.

"THE GARDEN"

Junior Competition Prize Essay.

A FIVE ACRE LAY OUT

The following is the prize essay, in the competition organized by the Horticultural Society of Kenya for the best essay written by a junior on "A Garden," this prize being presented by the E. A. Standard. The essay is written by R. E. Nnamo of the Government School.

I sometimes wonder why the people who can block roads and select the site for their gardens, having no regard to the soil and drainage. In fact, I can hardly find a garden in the back of a few acre plot being North, with a path leading towards a permanent stream. But soil is being cut out, and for the growing of European fruit trees, so I have decided to spend a guinea or two in getting it analysed and I believe it will be worth my spent.

A small drive leads from the North East corner of the plot up to the small building in the North West corner—the drive is lined by Jacaranda Trees on the left and Golden Wattle on the right side. The whole of the land on the left is the Ukari's pasture. There the Fruit Trees and Vegetables will get the morning sun, and there is no reason why they should not thrive if the ground is kept free from weeds. The Vegetables should be planted and the ripened, and there should be any fruit bushes such as Lemon, Orange, Pine Apples, and Cape Gooseberry. The Ukari's pasture have put in a small patch and will cut from the orange trees, or pond to the sun all day.

Immediately behind the house I have a Kitchen Garden, with good strong layers of soil put in and so on. On the fence I grow my "Claw Claw" and Indian Kiching vegetables, and I make it a habit, apart for the kitchen, to make a patch, and many which are grown in the small patch where neither cows or dogs can enter. The grapes at one end is covered with my favourite Trigonovitis and all the other with Grenadilla. My own longer the climbing roses on all sides and "Dusky Perfum" on the pillars of the front verandah. The garden is a beautiful garden of plants—on one side I have a vegetable garden, has light crops on two sides of the front, including the wine setting. The oranges are in the border of woods all the year round.

The large bed round which the trees grow is made of brick and is edged with Cobble. There and filled with water. I have given a great deal of thought to the garden, and I am sure that I can make a very good garden, and I am sure that I can make a very good garden, and I am sure that I can make a very good garden.

The small gate leading to the back garden is a brick wall and is a great delight to the children, so much so that I have given a great deal of thought to the garden, and I am sure that I can make a very good garden, and I am sure that I can make a very good garden.

From this point right down to the stream is the Ornamental Section of the garden in which I can get to go, my aim being to have plenty of bloom all the year round.

The winding path, under the flower beds, and past the clump of flowering Clematis on the West side, brings us to the rockery which is made of rough stones, pebbles and lime and also a few plants. I shall try to have a great many pretty indigenous flowering plants there; by the rocky is a seat surrounded by flowering bushes, such as—candy tree, yucca, lilac, bromeliads, etc. etc. and the stream, the edge of which is filled with ferns, trees, forget-me-nots, lilac, and flowering bushes. I have a small artificial pool there full of water lilies.

It requires a great deal of work to keep my five acre plot in order, so I am looking forward to it being a source of delight and joy to me, and I shall do my best to improve it every season.

ECONOMY

The most important factor is ECONOMY OF OPERATION. Current design in the "Caterpillar" tractors is the most advanced in the world. They are built to give the maximum output of power. "Caterpillar" tractors have rightly earned their reputation for being the most reliable for any other type of tractor power. Where even heavy work is done, a good setting or on pull only a "Caterpillar" will do the job, and it will do it with less wear and tear to the power line.
