COUNCIL DEBATE.

Faithful of Elected Members' Plea for Delay.

The subject of the future of the Lady Northey Home and its relationship with a scheme to commemorate the memory of Sir Robert Curzon came before the Legislative Council at Mombasa on Friday.

There was a considerable discussion, but it should be made quite clear that the opposition which the lady of Elected Members displayed, was directed solely against the principle of supplementary estimates, especially in so far as the inclusion of the cost of the Budget and had nothing whatever to do with the scheme, which is one the Colony has very much at heart.

LIGHTWEIGHT CYCLES.

Experiences with Four Stroke Machines.

BEGINNING YOUNG

I have ridden many different machines. This year and have not yet found the "right" one. I have bought a young man in the Motor Shop. When I saw what machine I like best, I always say "This one," meaning of course the machine I am riding at the time.

For some time I had a 28 c.c. Raleigh fitted with a large outside flywheel. At the same time I had in use a 27 c.c. Triumph fitted with inside flywheel, and I was able to form some opinion as to the advantages of both types. The Raleigh never failed to start up after a brief pause, but the extra smoothness of running with an inside flywheel is worth the sacrifice of a little acceleration. I think all small engines should be fitted with internal flywheels.

Question of Appearance.

The machine that the number of breaks it has ever had to be made, and the first four I have ever known to be of any value as an ornament. In fact, the machine that I bought with the machine was that of the one that I bought.

The Triumph, on the other hand, has a very quiet appearance. It has a very smooth finish, and it has a very good pickup. Although it is better than the Raleigh, it is not so good as the Triumph. The Triumph is what I would call a "real" machine. It is really a large as it is a small, and it is really a large as it is a small.

love small engines, but cannot bear having to find themselves up every time they mount their machines. Well, gentlemen, here is your answer: small engines in a large frame.

Writing about Triumph reminds me of a "Baby" Triumph motor owned by a fellow at school. This machine, bought in 1907 and used by his father and then by the other brother, had run a good many miles before it came into my friend's possession. Although it has been left in the rain on many occasions, the riding on the handlebars is as good as new, without having had any such serious situation. There's nothing for you! Of course, the machine ought to be good, it cost over £20. But nevertheless, I venture to say that this machine will be still running and still look good when some of the cheap motor cycles on the market today have packed up.

Adjustable Handlebars.

I often wonder why all makers do not fit adjustable handlebars. I have had my "baby" for three years, and in that time it has grown from a little crip to a little beauty. Now if the bars of that machine had been a future it would not have fitted for them if it would not fit me now. Motor cycles ought to be made with adjustable handlebars, with adjustable seats, and adjustable motor cycles. An adjustable handlebar, too, is an important feature in making riding more comfortable.

Until this spring I had a 28 c.c. Raleigh. It was a really nice machine when the Southern States were in the hands of the British. I bought it in 1914, and it was a really nice machine. It was a really nice machine. It was a really nice machine. It was a really nice machine.

count of the times I fall off. A fortnight in the first mile, part of the chain came out in the next, and got the same thing again—repeated, very and prolonged, without getting hot or giving trouble. However, on the 15th of August, the Douglas was given a trial run. It was a really nice machine. It was a really nice machine. It was a really nice machine.

I wonder why some makers fit so much better magnetics than others. One day upon a time I was suspicious of all machines. This was not fitted with handlebars. While riding the Raleigh I was caught in a very bad place. I was on the road, but I found that the Raleigh's handle bars were of the wrong shape. I was surprised to find that there was no mud at all in my trousers. Such a machine does not need handlebars.

For anyone who wants a cheap, comfortable and speed machine, a looking for best as a machine. Many people dislike these low cost engines because they say that they cannot get above four gear ratios, and also that they require more frequent adjustments. The advantage of these engines is that they are very easy to adjust. The disadvantage is that they are not so good as the more expensive machines. The advantage is that they are very easy to adjust. The disadvantage is that they are not so good as the more expensive machines.

"STANDARD" FEATURE PAGE

"STANDARD" SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

London, August 11.

With less than half the current financial year gone the Chamberlain's Budget has been announced already pressed by consideration of the next Budget. The fact is that Mr. Chamberlain adopted for this year expedients which are usually expected to bring in thirty odd million pounds and which are expected to bring in thirty odd million pounds and which balance the account. This account has to be made good somehow next year, and as there seems little prospect of substantial economies, the plan is to know where the money is coming. The position is money is coming. The position is money is coming. The position is money is coming.

...and make us look forward with lively curiosity to his post. The fact is understood to be that about a London woman and who is well interesting to one who was in a similar family firm, will do with the subject.

The Law Courts.

Empty Cradles.

Great Britain is closed—according to the same voluminous opponents of birth control. All that they urge is that if the birth rate is permitted to continue on the downward course, there is no hope for the Motherland. With the exception of 1918, the last year of the War, 1928—the figure for which has just been ascertained—established the lowest birth rate in England and Wales, namely 17.8 per 1,000 of the population. This rate is lower than that of France, and apart from Sweden, the lowest of European countries.

Such facts give one food for thought, but whether the mere checking of birth control propaganda is, as advocated, will do very much to fill empty cradles is extremely doubtful. The problem is far more complex than that. As one woman's words point out it is not only that large families are no longer the economic conditions of today forbid large families in most cases. This year's figures, I understand, did not show a further decline and there does not appear to be any present prospect of reversing it. Measurable it is some consolation that infant mortality, like the general death rate, is still falling.

Halls 'Hullo!

All well at the telephone exchange at the telephone exchange and when we find the desired number engaged, we are usually prevented from carrying out the popular slogan "Hullo! Hullo!" by a magnificent silent-glass window only one of which always claim to extreme antiquity.

...the ordinary observer it seems inconceivable that there is anything in the nature of a picture on the steps inside.

In the middle of the room, supporting the whole edifice, and constituting a very fine architectural feature, is a pillar which in actual fact the monks were used for the purpose of being whipped. In those days you are given to understand that legislation was also known as the "whipping post."

As the above message from London only 152 seats are accounted for, the remainder were missing. It is probable, therefore, that the results are yet to be declared.

A Remarkable Crash.

FEATURES OF ACCIDENT TO DUTCH AIR LINES.

London, Aug. 20. — The Dutch airplane which crashed near Dordrecht on Monday owing to the loss of its rudder, which fell away shortly before it crashed.

The chief points of interest in the accident, which constituted the absolute annihilation of one of the most modern and powerful passenger planes that was ever seen, are as follows:—

Not until the crash had occurred was it known that anything was wrong with the airplane. The pilot, who was flying on a routine service, was in the cabin when the accident occurred. He was not injured and was able to crawl out of the wreckage.

Finally, the inquiry showed that the pilot was able to control the airplane even in view of the loss of the rudder.

The Irish Elections.

A very curious situation is created by the result of the elections in the Irish Free State and points the world over will wonder, with interest, the development which will take place with in the next few months. The primary fact that emerges is that the majority of the electors in the Free State are on the whole satisfied with the Government's record and that they prefer to have continuity, so to speak, in an administration in government, not as would be provided by the advent of an untried party in power.

ZANZIBAR TRADE IN 1926

Effect of Drop in Clove Prices on Island's Finances.

REDUCED IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

Soap Industry Declines All to Vanishing Point

In reviewing the trade prospects for Zanzibar for 1939, the Comptroller of Customs forewarned the restriction of exports, which in fact has occurred during the year.

This was due to the heavy export and import transactions effected during 1929, and the position has been accentuated by the fall in clove prices.

During the present year, the clove industry will, it is said, an output considerably in excess of average dimensions, and the moderate recovery in all branches of trade is confidently expected.

Taken on the whole although the Trade Report for 1929 suggests that last year will show an improvement.

A BIG SNOW TRAFFIC.

Another trade item in the annual Report for the year is the big snow traffic. The total value of the foreign goods of the Post-Office during the year was the £2,000,000 which is approximately £1,210,000 less than the £3,210,000 which was the amount of exports.

The volume of imports was £7,000,000 in weight, and exports £4,000,000, which gives a total of £3,000,000 more imported during the year.

As the Customs Income for the year was £1,100,000, the total income of the Post-Office was £2,100,000. The decrease in the volume of foreign goods of the Post-Office on account of the restriction of exports, and the restriction of imports, has caused a decrease in the general balance of the Post-Office.

The most noticeable feature in the statistics of the year is the increase in the value of the snow traffic. The total value of the snow traffic was £1,210,000, which is an increase of £1,000,000 on the £210,000 of the year 1928.

The snow traffic is a result of the increase in the value of the snow traffic. The total value of the snow traffic was £1,210,000, which is an increase of £1,000,000 on the £210,000 of the year 1928.

Land Laws. SENATIONAL RESOLVE ON MOUNT BLANC.

Member for Italian North Coast. A resolution of a lengthy motion in regard to alterations in the land laws of the country which he suggested as one of the urgent measures which he has withdrawn in recent months.

While maintaining in the vicinity of Mount Blanc, a water named White was saved from death in a most remarkable manner by a guide. "Gauda, who was denouncing the "Corda La Dubon" slipped and began to roll down the steep slope. His guide, who was near the foot of the summit, kept him up and held on. In a short time White and his guide were on the slope, but managed to retain hold of White, stopping him on the edge of the precipice.

"STANDARD" FEATURE PAGE

Miss Collyer writes, to whom all correspondence in connection with "Kennel Notes" should be addressed, does not hold herself responsible for accuracy of statements made by her which are, in the main, based on information supplied by her correspondents.

I have had a reply from Mr. Fitz Simons re his Anti-Venousum Serum: (1) The serum is absolutely certain as its curative effects on man and beast; (2) There is no antidote or even partial such dose known to Science other than serum is guaranteed; (3) The Anti-Venousum Serum; (4) There is no condition for two years' after serum is purchased. It does not contain poisonous preservatives and serum is guaranteed; (5) It is safe for use on all animals; (6) It does no harm at all if it is injected into a man bitten by a bannister snake or if a minkie is made and the person is not bitten at all by a snake; (7) All other known alleged snake bites have been recently experimented with by Mr. Fitz Simons covering a period of 20 years and some have proved of the highest curative value; the contrary many have been shown to be dangerous to life.

The Serum is Polyvalent, that is equally efficacious against the Venous of any species of Almost snakes owing to the fact that the serum is obtained from venous serum to the Venous of the snakes inhabiting the country. It takes two years to render a horse efficiently immune for the production of Anti-Venousum Serum. It is a tedious and highly expensive process. The Antidote is the serum or sterilized blood of the horse blood.

I have just read my memorandum to Dr. Park. The fourth line of the first verse reads wrongly. It should read thus: "Is there sought I can do. I have but one aim" (To save of course).

Mr. Bell writes me from Norfolk Island, England, on the subject of Great Danes which appear to be coming more and more in demand. He tells me at the recent committee meeting of the Kennel Club that he decided to put a Great Dane down as follows above, as there are more. Deans about the month of the 15th of the Kennel Club told Mr. Bell that several people mentioned to him as the above, that they would have exhibited Great Danes had there been some provision for them. My correspondent thinks it would mean the breed if I published this information. Also that he is preparing a special trophy to the Kennel Club which has been accepted for the best Great Dane in show to be won five times before becoming the property of owner; not more than three times by the same dog.

Mr. Bell is going to have another shot at importing a good blood bitch and only hopes to will have better luck than with his last one, who lived but a short time. He has also written to the Dabrough, Jersey which I am told is the job in England to ask what stock they have for sale. The one bitch should arrive in Kenya about the New Year and will probably come out in whelp to a good sire. Mr. Bell adds: There is a bigger demand than ever for the breed of dog and I am constantly receiving enquiries for puppies which I have to refuse. My last good new blood in our Deans, as they are all running to the small size now. I am trying to procure a bitch of real size and strong this point in my enquiry.

Mr. Hudson Thompson, Falk writes me very lengthily on the subject of minkies, and the difference in the process and their effect on dogs. As Mr. Fitz Simons later previously covers this I will not repeat Mr. Hudson's letter in detail, but I think him very useful for his advice and all the trouble he has to write on the subject. There is one interesting fact in your question:— That I order can produce enough Venous in 24 hours to kill 200 to 300 men.

I have now a very uncomfortable feeling about my back and I am using "Sherrill's" which I find very difficult to keep a pop of this age. They have the habit of coming as to where they like to lie, and it is a terrible pain of downy skin as a tree or oak. In the shape of a tree or oak, I am so get out, and I am much satisfied to think that it is best to let them have their own way, for surely crying and scratching of a door would tend to increase the fever. I may be quite wrong, but I should hate to cross a very baby that was sick, and I feel the same about my puppy. I have tried to wash and brush my own hair so it affects, so long to the ground a dry and warm.

The remarkable growth of dogs in England during the last few years is generally unaccounted for in a special little booklet I have just had sent me. In 1923 the business taken and numbered under 2,500,000. This does not cover dogs belonging to foreign exhibitors who need no licence for keeping working dogs. This gives one a slight idea of what the export trade must be.

MOTOR TOPICS

THE NEW BUICK.

Description of the 1928 Model.

OUTSTANDING FEATURES.

The new 1928 Buick is stated to be exceptional cars. Notable improvements have been made in engine, chassis, and in body features and accessories. These widely heralded new cars can be regarded primarily as the work of a group of wise engineers whose craftsmanship is evident throughout all the new models. The design of every automobile manufacturing to build a body having the beauty and the road ability, without loss of road clearance—has become reality in Buick for 1928.

Block Engineers have achieved these lower effects, not by the look-alike of smaller wheels with their increased tyre wear, but by a complete redesigning of bodies, by a new and entirely exclusive precision-made double-link frame. The lowered centre of gravity increases Buick's wonderful riding ease and plays an important part in the reducing body of Buick's new stream-line "Fisher Model". This lowering of the frame to the same level as the recent practice on some cars, and so being the road clearance as valuable in developing road or load road.

Bodies on lower and wider and sturdier runner. Choice of colors for the body and upholstery is directly the work of an artist, the colours, and tones being added to additional charms and beauty to the car. New form-fitting upholstery is used in all models. This new type and shape of wire, cushions is designed to fit the body adding greatly to the comfort of the driver and passenger. The steering wheel only shows one new adjustment to insure the maximum of driving comfort for all types of drivers. This feature is of great importance to women drivers.

Hydraulic Shock Absorbers.

Probably the most important feature of the new Buick is that it has created a stir in America and throughout automobile circles is the adoption of hydraulic shock-absorbers on both front and rear wheels. These hydraulic shock-absorbers in conjunction with more flexible springs has resulted in a degree of riding comfort that has probably never before been approached. "Rough" cars which have loaded them can over extremely rough roads, they feel as if seven bumps and extremely rough surfaces should knock very hard in the old cars to entirely disappear when the car rolls over them. Another big advance on the 1928 Buick is one which carries greatly appropriate—the controlled chassis lubrication system. The American system is preserved, it is no longer necessary to crawl under the car in order to lubricate the chassis. Pipes running from each axle bring new lubrication to one point where they are clustered and may be reached by simply opening a smaller door in the running-board area.

Lower and performance have been constantly improved by important developments in the speed which even before was exceptional. This has been accomplished by a considerable increase in valve-inlet area, and by special on hills is now outstanding. All new models will be equipped with power high altitude timing which will not only improve power but economy as well and provide fuel and waste which high altitude conditions ordinary cars.

All Buick open sports models are equipped with leading forward control. Buick's new steering frame of equipment is a combined steering and suspension system which will not only improve power but economy as well and provide fuel and waste which high altitude conditions ordinary cars.

All Buick open sports models are equipped with leading forward control. Buick's new steering frame of equipment is a combined steering and suspension system which will not only improve power but economy as well and provide fuel and waste which high altitude conditions ordinary cars.

can be operated in the quietest manner. All models have a petrol gauge, engine-temperature gauge in addition to the usual instruments neatly grouped on the dash which has been entirely redesigned.

It is impossible in a short article to mention all the important and the most important improvements in the new 1928 models. Summing up, the new models represent a great forward step. So outstanding and important are the new improvements that they are bound to be copied sooner or later by other manufacturers. In spite of the greatly added value and luxury of these new cars, large reductions in price on all models have been made. The Standard Series 115 Sports Touring is now only $2800 and the Master Series Touring at $3600.

Whether one intends buying a new Buick or not it would be interesting to visit the Showrooms of Messrs. Gillies & Company, Limited, Sixth Avenue, Nairobi, and inspect what is undoubtedly a most remarkable car. So many advanced features are incorporated that one feels as though a glimpse were being had of a dream car of the future.

Business Men Discuss Proposed Time Table. CHAIRMAN'S APPROVAL.

The Railway has prepared a tentative time table... The Chairman (Mr. Tumbull) introduced the subject by stating that the railway authorities had been good enough to submit the time table to those, and asked for suggestions. The time table table was presented to the Committee on January 1. The Committee had given its opinion that the railway of the coast was a very important one which left Nairobi at 4 p.m. and was only due to arrive at Mombasa at 2 1/2 p.m. This was not a long time, and would be a great improvement on the present time table.

POULTRY NOTES.

The World's Poultry Congress at Ottawa.

Mr. Massey Ballbyne, the Prime Minister, attended the Congress on August 9 and presented an invitation from Great Britain for the next World's Poultry Congress. The invitation was accepted on behalf of the International Association.

Throughout the week the meetings were completed by lectures in the first Congress Hall, respectively devoted to the consideration of problems relating to Marketing, Nutrition, Breeding, Disease, and Pesticidal Work.

Special Events of the Week. There was the Canadian Government's garden party at the experimental farm. Evening concerts by the Ottawa Concert and Soloists.

Chicks. The great error was the garden party given by the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon in honour of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales on Aug. 2nd.

A model of an Egyptian egg even was a notable source of attraction at the Exhibition. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales' pair of Buff Bantams and White Wyandottes were auctioned and each realised 200 dollars.

The Egg.

The egg, and the many interesting facts about it, deserves more study than is usually given to it. The real poultry farmer will take a great deal of interest in his birds, and in their feeding, but he does not often study the egg itself.

His interest is mostly as to whether the egg is, or is not, forthcoming, whereas if he gave some of his attention to the many facts concerning the egg itself he would find much to interest, and would possibly gather knowledge which would assist to the success of his work.

There are many points to consider in the effort to produce the ideal egg. In the first place any abnormality in size, shape, or surface should be avoided. The egg should be from a hen in good health, who has received for eating as much as possible of the best quality of food, and is prepared to put a good price for it, and the large egg (provided it is normal) will give a large chick.

Another point to be observed is that the egg should be from a hen in good health, who has received for eating as much as possible of the best quality of food, and is prepared to put a good price for it, and the large egg (provided it is normal) will give a large chick.

in water, 747, sub. 08, 10/10/10.

The Structure of the Egg.

The shape of the hen's egg is familiar to everybody. It would be longer than it is broad, rather pointed at one end and rounded at the other. The ordinary measurements are about 2 1/2 inches round the long way of the egg, and 1 1/2 inches round the broad way of the egg. The outer shell will vary from the pure white of the Leghorns to the deep brown of the Blue Game. The greenish yellow of white eggs lay the large shell specimens. It breaks where the egg colour is characteristic of the breed, such as the pure white of the Leghorns, and deviation of that should be carefully bred out.

The colour of the egg, comes from the hen's side and is cross-banded by the yolk, will produce the colour from the female parent in the case of the hen, except in the case when the hen is a layer of pure white eggs. When the progeny will produce the most perfect tinted egg. In the case of a cross where the cock is from a white egg breed and the hen from a coloured egg breed, the progeny will all lay colored eggs.
