GRAHAM BROTHERS TRUCKS AND BUSES

LOW COSTS

Low costs are a feature of Graham Brothers Trucks, Commercial Cars and Buses throughout their long, profitable lives.

Initial cost is extremely low for such high quality, because Graham Brothers build more trucks than any other exclusive truck manufacturer in the world.

Operating costs are low because of the low fuel consumption of the famous Dodge Brothers engine.

Maintenance costs are low because Graham Brothers Trucks generally built of fine materials, seldom need repair, and because genuine, fairly priced repair parts are always available when they are needed.

CRANKSHAFT BEARINGS AND BALANCE.

Trend of Modern Engine Design.

A correspondent has written a number of the questions of crank shaft bearings and balance are of sufficient importance to the writer of a technical article on the subject, writing in The Cape Times. The points on which emphasis is desired include the question of the number of bearings used for the shaft. Whether two, three or five bearings should be used for four-cylinder engines and three for six-cylinder engines. The number of bearings for six-cylinder prime movers. The question of the bearing the shaft, and the number of bearings for the shaft. Other points which ought to be covered include the question of the use of balance weights, the use of radial bearings and the use of the crank web and the use of the crank pin.

step-by-step job. There may be two, three or five bearings in a four-cylinder engine. The most popular type of design is the one which incorporates three bearings. Most high-class cars and heavy power plants have five bearing shafts, however, and only a few small light cars, in which the cutting down of cost, space and weight is of importance, use two bearing shafts. There is one main exception to this and that is in the case of heavy trucks, in which using two bearings is a compromise between the extra weight of carrying a ball bearing shaft and the extra weight of carrying a plain shaft. At the two bearing shaft design, the shaft is supported at both ends and the crank pin is supported at the two ends. This arrangement is simple and efficient, and is used in many cases. The main reason for the use of two bearings is the fact that it is a simple and efficient design, and is used in many cases. The main reason for the use of two bearings is the fact that it is a simple and efficient design, and is used in many cases.

Engine Balance. The problem of engine balance is a difficult one. It is difficult to find a balance which is actually better than what is actually happening in any one cylinder, but it is what should be happening there theoretically. Distributions of mixture from the carburetor to an cylinder may be fairly uneven, it may have fairly uneven compression, there may be a fairly regular firing of other modifying influence on the explosion. Such differences affect the calculations of the designer and the engineer of balance. Again owing to the fact that the reciprocating motion of the piston has to be converted into a rotating motion at the crankshaft by means of a connecting rod, it is not possible to make a balance which is absolutely perfect. When the weight of the crank pin is not the same as the weight of the connecting rod, it is desirable to make the connecting rod as light as possible, and to make the crank pin as heavy as possible. This is done by making the connecting rod as light as possible, and by making the crank pin as heavy as possible. This is done by making the connecting rod as light as possible, and by making the crank pin as heavy as possible.

RAILWAY FINANCE AND RATE REDUCTIONS.

Mr. Wood could not recommend explanation for any reduction but said the matter should be put under the lid for consideration. He explained that the Nairobi rates were 60 miles of roads but they would only cost with 50 per cent. Mr. Hanger suggested what general concession would be made of a small reduction was granted. It was pointed that the proposal was to be forwarded to the Committee. Mr. Wood then proposed and was not seconded.

This Chamber's view of opinion from the figures before it, it is impossible to present to members of this House a railway freight rates, but for that, an even revision of railway rates, to be ready for the moment when substantial relief can be granted on the present.

THE 1928 BUDGET.

Actual Surplus of Revenue Over Ordinary Expenditure, £247,000.

PROPOSALS TO EXPEND £225,000 OF THIS EXCESS ON PUBLIC WORKS.

Expenditure Increases Since 1922.

Although the 1928 Budget shows a surplus of only £247,000 there is in fact an excess of expected revenue over the ordinary expenditure of the Government of a quarter of a million pounds.

It is proposed to spend practically the whole of this excess on a diversified programme of public works. If the total shows a further surplus, Government suggests extending this expenditure policy.

A comparison of revenue and expenditure from 1922 to 1927 shows that the cost of the Colony has come up in that period by 1,000,000.

COUNTRYWIDE IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMME.

The Kenya Budget for 1928, which is the first to be made by a Minister of Finance, is a landmark in the history of the Colony. It is the first to show a surplus of revenue over ordinary expenditure, and it is the first to propose a programme of public works which will cost £225,000. This is a record for any Colony in the world.

GRAHAM BROTHERS TRUCKS AND BUSES LOW COSTS

Low costs are a feature of Graham Brothers Trucks, Commercial Cars and buses throughout their long, profitable lives.

Initial cost is extremely low for such high quality, because Graham Brothers build more trucks than any other exclusive truck manufacturer in the world.

Operating costs are low because of the low fuel consumption of the famous Dodge Brothers engine.

Maintenance costs are low because Graham Brothers Trucks are built of fine materials, seldom need repair—and because genuine factory priced parts are always available when they are needed.

SECOND-HAND CARS.

Dangers of the Bargain Sale.

FITFALLS TO BE AVOIDED.

Most men have the idea of buying a car, and perhaps an older one, at the bargain sale, simply because it is so much cheaper. In fact, the likelihood of the additional horse power and other features designed to overcome the usual deficiencies of an older car is a small percentage. When, however, some years ago, the lower speed would repair signs of age, it is now done away with by the application of the high speed engine, and the high speed engine, being the high speed engine, is rapidly approaching the limit of its life.

It is now hardly to be expected that a car that has been used for some years, and which has been driven for some years, will be found to be in the condition of a new car. The motorist who buys a car at a bargain sale, and who does not know the car, is likely to be disappointed.

Wash your eyes over and fitting a couple of pieces of felt washers, which will prevent the dust, so far as the eye is concerned, until the car has found a new owner.

Water spraying in a test run.

Hidden Defects.

When buying a car at a bargain sale, the motorist should be on his guard against hidden defects. The motorist who buys a car at a bargain sale, and who does not know the car, is likely to be disappointed.
