Have You tried the touch of this latest CORONA?

CORONA has always been famous for its convenience and durability, but this new model has an added advantage—a wonderfully light touch. You would scarcely have believed it possible to build such a smooth, easy key action in a portable typewriter.

Notice the six machine features throughout—the wide carriage, the full length, two-roller self-reversing ribbon, the variable line spacer, the stamperless device, the standard four-row keyboard—and the many little refinements which you would not expect to find in a portable typewriter.

UNUSUAL WORK DONE BY WOMEN.

Astronomers, Dockers and Customs Officials.

A CURIOUS LIST.

The recent death of Mrs. Cooper, of Pretoria, who for more than fifty years represented the girls department of a firm of fireworks makers and knew all there was to know about the trade, has drawn attention to the fact that throughout the world women are engaged in queer, unusual occupations.

Today women are free to select almost any profession or trade, they apply to them—and a number have made a strange choice. There were actually three women among the five hundred applicants for the post of official astronomer in Hungary.

Recently the Home Office appointed Miss Mary Biss as deputy-governor of Malvern House, where also is doing valuable work. She is the only woman in England to hold such a position.

Strategic Club.

One of the strangest clubs in existence is run by a woman, that is, Miss Margaret Evans Thomas, who, with an ex-husband friend, has started the "Slim Stripes Club," which meets at All Hallows' Church, Marston, and in the copy of the Illustrated Pictorial. Membership is exclusively confined to those who have been in prison, but who are determined never to be put in again.

There is a flourishing Society of Women Engineers. One of the best-known members is Miss Ed. Partridge, who is a director of the electrical companies and had vast experience as a contractor for the lighting of country houses and churches. She is now working on a scheme to provide electricity to small towns and villages out of the range of any central supply.

France claims the first woman to enter the profession of airplane constructional engineering, has England's the pioneer country of...

women artists, although only two hold occasional licenses for their films. Girls bear the call of the sea more liberally than of the land. A few are working as medical assistants in hospitals and some have qualified as nurses. A number are employed as typists, some as stenographers, some as clerks, and some as inspectors in the Ordnance Department. One lady, for instance, is an expert singer, for she has won a first prize in singing at the age of 17, and has regularly won the band.

Women in Lightboxes.

A number of women have passed their Board of Trade tests as commercial photographers, some are jacking stationers, while others are used as operators of large looms. The last census returns showed five women employed as typists, one as a stenographer, and two as inspectors of registers of lightboxes or of the tubes of machinery.

A search of the directory will reveal a handful of women who wear master workcoats, and a larger number are engaged in the ship-building, some of them being employed as draughtsmen. Few women are accountants, but there are an astronomical number of Miss Edgars (Charles) in London. Five astronomical classified 70,000 stars, and was able to judge their distance along in a galaxy of stars which generally consist of nebulae. Professor Mrs. Walter Hamilton, of the British Astronomical Association, has been on expeditions to Lapland, Labrador, Mauritius, and India.

One London woman makes dark eyes and another is a professional tea-leaver. She is understood to be very clever, and it is believed that she is doing a large amount of work for the tea-trade. She attended the board of directors, and gave their own resolutions to the public. Another London woman makes dark eyes and another is a professional tea-leaver. She is understood to be very clever, and it is believed that she is doing a large amount of work for the tea-trade. She attended the board of directors, and gave their own resolutions to the public.

Tour of Bangers.

Every one who travels to the Continent knows the woman official in the Customs House at Calcutta. She took her husband's place during the war, and after the death was permitted to retain it. It has in the name of a woman, a smaller successor. Her hands are still so good that she can now do the work of a man. She will allow you to carry a few cigarettes in your case, but be sure...

Poorly Paid Natives.

AN EMPLOYMENT BY THE KINGDOM OF PRETORIA.

An important reference to the native problem in South Africa is made by the Hon. Mr. D. F. Talbot, in his monthly letter to the Hon. Mr. W. D. Howard, written that he thinks it is fair to say that a desire which has widely prevailed in European South Africa has been to make more of the labor of the native, while allowing him the best reward for his services.

It points out that both reports of the Economic and Wage Commission (1918) were full of the fact that South African society has been up on the whole, securing a maximum wage for the white race and a minimum for the black. Minimums for their labor were set at a level which would allow them to live decently and improve the conditions and increase a poor white.

Statements by some natives in cases showed that town natives generally did not get sufficient wages to meet their bare necessities. Generally speaking it was true that the development of South Africa had left and kept the native poor. The problem in South Africa is not only how to uplift the native, but also how to maintain and protect the standard of white civilization.

Let us try to spread the conviction that the wealth and prosperity of European society is founded up with the wealth and prosperity of native society.

At the same time, it is a pity that the natives lack of discipline, and their smoking at all.

A recent advertisement in a Scottish newspaper asked for women to learn machine sewing. But the strongest request of all, of course, comes from London. An advertiser sought for a girl down, who must "look funny, stand funny, walk funny, and act funny." Whether this odd person was ever discovered is not known.

Preparing for the National Championships.

BOOBY PERFORMANCE.

STAFFORD COUNTRY CLUB.
London, February 16.—An important factor in the preparation of the cross-country runner for the National Championships last month has been revealed with the departure of the champion who took his final training camp here at England and Scotland. The principal cause of the "South West" is the North of the Thames championship at Maidenhead. It is reported that a member of the club, who was in the latter week of his training, was in the middle of his training, but was taken ill and had to leave his camp for his club. He was in the middle of his training, but was taken ill and had to leave his camp for his club.

friendship of Middlemore was due to the absence of the National individual champion, James Harper, who was ill with influenza, and the international champion L. Payne who has taken down. Sheffield United-Hunter beat Blackburn with two points, and W. Beavers (Club Harrier) was the individual champion, was beaten in third place by F. W. Payne and J. Holt, both of the winning team. Other British winners included the North-Eastern championship at Reading; H. Finchley first in the 10 miles "Senior" race; Horton first in the 10 miles "Junior" race; the Senior cross-country, but to the Junior and Youth races also, while F. Payne (Harrier) won the latter individual title for third successive year. Three races also were decided at Windsor in the East London meeting, the Senior cross-country being won by H. Edwards, whose club team honors in A. C. secured high honors in the first cross-country championship, J. P. Cooke (C.C.) being first.

The Universities.

Both University teams were engaged in cross-country matches, but whereas Cambridge University has to the Army at Cambridge, Oxford University entertained and defeated Sheffield Harrier, though both an old Duke Blue, as the first team team.

Another great event in the West country was the Inter-Varsity Athletic Road race from Bristol to D. J. P. Richards, who was also the Midlands champion in 1927, was finished first in 42 miles, 58 sec. for a seven mile course, and "captured" the title of "White" in the first four championships, were better in three places by a single point.

Ladies Championship.

With Miss Williams, who won the first women's championship at Luton last year, not defending her title, the way was clear at Chipswall Road for Miss L. D. Dixon, the champion of the holder, who was champion in 1927. Miss Styles

DOMINIONS' POSITION
 Could They Avoid Being Involved?
 General Smith Speaks of a Great Danger.

In the House of Assembly on Monday, Mr. Hertzberg raised the question of the position of the Dominion of Great Britain and the Dominion of Newfoundland in the event of a war between the United Kingdom and the Dominion of Newfoundland.

General Hertzberg, examining the position of the Dominion of Newfoundland in the event of a war between the United Kingdom and the Dominion of Newfoundland, stated that the Dominion of Newfoundland is not a member of the British Commonwealth.

 HAVE TO SAY.
 THE SOUTH AFRICAN INSTITUTE FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH conducted a series of experiments in which they used a quantity of KOMO in a room in which there were a number of flies and mosquitoes. The result was that all the flies and mosquitoes died within a few hours.
 It was found that less than half ounce of KOMO is the quantity required by the manufacturer to cover a room of 1000 cubic feet with clean white walls.
 ALTHOUGH SO LESS THAN THIRTY-TWO LIQUID SPRAYS WERE USED IN THESE EXPERIMENTS, KOMO GAVE BY FAR THE MOST RAPID AND COMPLETE RESULTS.

Agricultural Research.

The message details of the important recommendations of the Imperial Agricultural Research Conference published yesterday will stimulate interest in the department which is available to East-ern Africa. The Conference has gained—and it is no new acquisition but it is now given the weight which it is available to East-ern Africa. The Conference has gained—and it is no new acquisition but it is now given the weight which it is available to East-ern Africa. The Conference has gained—and it is no new acquisition but it is now given the weight which it is available to East-ern Africa.

of an Imperial body represents the views of the Dominions, Colonies and the British Government. The discussion and valuation of a new policy will be undertaken in a practical clearing house. This has been the proposal of the greatest interest. Much has been heard within recent years that Kenya, in some ways with other East African States, should get the best terms it can afford. Undoubtedly the principle is sound in any direction. The same considerations research these considerations are not applicable. East African agricultural research whether into indigenous cultivation or European introduced agriculture is a definite relationship with the problems of agricultural progress and extension in other parts of the Tropical Empire. It is quite noticeable that by the employment of the best experts East Africa could afford, many valuable discoveries would be made and much knowledge placed at the disposal of the agriculturist. It is equally likely that a great deal of the work which would be done has already been performed in other fields, that considerable work has been done therefrom and that the work is being advanced beyond the stage which would be reached in East Africa within the next few years. Neither is it unlikely that in the work of research other fields than those in East Africa might be selected for work upon problems now being faced in these territories but for the study of which more progress conditions exist elsewhere and in the Empire. We may mention the recent work of an Imperial "Special Highways Commission" in Uganda not limited in its scope to the Protectorate but in its scope to the whole of the world where the clearest case in Kenya too, there have been studies made recently of the national difficulties in pasture and in soils which while of direct value to the stock raising areas of the Colony are no less likely to provide a key to the solution of difficulties elsewhere in Africa. The essential factor in the success of research work is that there should be a co-ordinating centre that the field should be regarded as a whole and that the work in every portion of the field should be related to a complete study of a single problem; preventing overlapping, providing the proper starting point for research by placing at the disposal of the field experts the accumulated facts relating to their work and distributing the collected and analyzed results over the largest area. The essential unity of the work of research and the status of local areas as field experts only should be realized from the beginning if the true import of the vast movement is to be appreciated.
