COFFEE INDUSTRY

Planters Warned to be Prepared.

WARNING OF ATTACK

Immediate Steps Necessary in Order to Safeguard Crops.

The coffee industry in the present threatened by a serious menace in the form of weevils of which it is feared new attacks some of the oldest planting districts, particularly those close to Nairobi.

The occurrence of a severe attack cannot be overestimated since if it occurs unattended a coffee estate the loss might be ten times as great as the loss of a few hundred bushels.

The Department of Agriculture has therefore issued a warning, signed by the Senior Officer Ory, regarding methods which may be taken now to order the planters may be prepared to fight an attack. It is suggested that farmers will be well advised to make preparations immediately.

Highly effective means of control are available and the outbreak is said to be very common.

AN OFFICIAL CIRCULAR

The Deputy Director of Agriculture, Mr. C. H. Bannan, who is in charge of the local campaign, has issued the following recommendations: "Do not press any large quantities of coffee, particularly those which are intended for export, to be pressed in one place."

The Director of Agriculture has issued a circular regarding the use of coffee in the country, and has advised that coffee should be made to suit the local market, and that the use of coffee should be restricted to the local market.

Importation of Pedigree Livestock.
Details of the Assisted Scheme.

The following scheme for assisting the importation of pedigree livestock into Kenya, from the United Kingdom, has been approved by Government and reported by the Kenyan Marketing Board, which body has constituted a committee to administer the scheme.

1. Only those old farmers in Kenya Colony and Protectorate will be eligible.

2. The Owner's Right as quoted in the Customs Law from the United Kingdom to Kikindi will be paid by Government and the Kenyan Marketing Board.

3. Applications will be dealt with in the order of the date of their receipt by the Director of Agriculture. The maximum sum available for this year 1922 is £5,000, and allocations up to this amount only will be made.

4. Approved applicants will be given a certificate from the Department of Agriculture, with a copy to the Trade and Information Office of the Eastern African Protectorate in Cookspur Street, London.

5. The Classes of Animals for which assisted freight will be provided are as follows—
(a) Cattle—Any pedigree bull, heifer or male, fully registered in an accepted herd book in the United Kingdom, providing that it is of a value greater than £50, if over 12 months old, and £20 if under 8 months old at the time of shipment.

(b) Horses—Any pedigree mare or colt of an approved blood bred in the United Kingdom provided it is over six months old, and of a value of £10 or over.

(c) Pigs—Any pedigree boar sow or gilt, fully registered in an approved herd book in the United Kingdom and of value £5 or over and at least five months old.

Provided always that any such animals so certified from Kenya and in the case of cattle, have been tested and are cert that they are free from the disease of sheep and in the case of sheep, that they are free from the disease of sheep.

6. The actual cost of insured freight to the place of destination in Kenya, and for an amount equal to the landed cost of the animal. This policy must be taken out in the name of the importer and the Kenyan Marketing Board, with the papers heretofore mentioned in paragraph 11, with the Trade and Information Office of the Eastern African Protectorate.

7. A notice calling for an amount equal to the landed cost of the animal to cover a period of one year from the date of the arrival at destination in the Colony, and for a special liability of fire insurance, and in the month of the importer and the Department of this Colony, and Protectorate of Kenya, must be taken out and deposited with the Director of Agriculture in Kenya.

8. Should a claim for sold be made the former must (1) explain the reasons for the claim to the United Kingdom, or (2) refund freight to Government.

9. Any animal imported under this scheme may be required by the Chief Veterinary Officer to pass through the quarantine station in Kenya for purposes of examination or testing for disease before proceeding to the farm.

10. No animal imported under this scheme may be disposed of by the owner within one year after the arrival in the Colony, except under a permit first obtained from the Director of Agriculture.

11. It shall be a condition that any applicant for free freight for a horse must first undertake to fulfil and pay a deposit book on his farm if one is not already provided, unless he shall have entered into an agreement enabling him to use a dipping tank on an adjoining farm. He will also register the animal in the East African Stud Book.

12. The papers in connection with the animal including—
(a) Health Certificate.
(b) Certificate of value.
(c) Registered Number in the Herd Book.
(d) Transport Insurance policy.
(e) Evidence of arrangement of freight and expenses in order to comply with the above cases of the last stage of paragraph 2.

will be introduced to the Trade and Information Office of the Eastern African Protectorate, Cookspur Street, London, which will retain Transport Insurance Office and report immediately to the Department of Agriculture if all conditions mentioned prior to shipment have been complied with.

11. Maintenance of the freight paid will be made by the Department of Agriculture in Kenya on that Department's policy which the animal has been fully landed in the Colony, and the receipt of a satisfactory report from the Trade and Information Office and report immediately to the Department of Agriculture if all conditions mentioned prior to shipment have been complied with.

Applications for allotments under the 1922 Scheme should be forwarded to the Director of Agriculture, and those the total value of funds is only half that of last year, early application should be made to ensure success.

MISSING FRAGMENTS FOUND AFTER 25 YEARS.

During excavations 25 years ago on the site of the Boston camp at Humberston, near Bishop Auckland, Durham, portions of a lost battle of Bosworth were discovered.

These were put together and the pieces were reconstructed at the British Museum.

Recently Mr. James McIlroy, a member of the Newcastle Society of Antiquaries, was working at the camp when he discovered fragments of pottery which have been found to be the missing portions of the bowl now in the possession of the British Museum.

One fragment bears the name of the potter, "John of Lonsdale," an indication that it was made in the north early in the second century A.D.

ESSEX Super 6

The outstanding fact in the Essex Super-Six is not performance alone, nor appearance and finish, but rather the unequalled combination of quality and value offered. It is built-in quality and advanced engineering design that has made Essex the outstanding "Six" in its field. To the famous Super-Six motor and rugged Essex chassis has been added a beautiful new line of bodies.

Ask any Goodyear Dealer to show you this demonstration.

What Happens IN YOUR COVER?

You are driving along, making good time; suddenly a tyre thuds into a road hole.

What happens inside your cover?

Nothing is likely to happen—if your tyre is a Goodyear Tyre, made with Supertwist.

The extra elasticity of this special Goodyear cord fabric allows it to stretch under impact and recover, like a rubber band.

It enables Goodyear Tyres to withstand the constant flexing of thousands of miles of driving without internal fatigue.

Under the heat and strain of normal usage, ordinary cord fabric grows weary and "tired" and loses its strength.

The shock of road holes and sharp bumps may even rupture the casing and cause a blowout.

So, you safeguard yourself against trouble and enjoy an added factor of safety when you use tyres made with Supertwist.

Supertwist cord is Goodyear-developed, Goodyear-perfected, Goodyear-patented.

It is one of the good reasons why "more people ride on Goodyear Tyres than on any other make."

POLO IN KENYA.

To the Editor of the Standard—
I have just read in the Standard of the 14th inst. an account of the proposed polo club in Kenya, and I am glad to see that the Standard is so interested in the sport. I have played polo since I was a boy, and I am sure that it is a most interesting and healthy game. I have played polo in India, and I have seen many of the best players in the world. I am sure that if a polo club were formed in Kenya, it would be a great benefit to the colony. I am sure that the Standard will be glad to see that the Standard is so interested in the sport.

SAVING TIME WITH SILVER WARE

To preserve the luster of silver that is only used occasionally, you will be surprised to find how little staining is necessary to keep it a good color.

The markings of old material look some pretty day and some-thing else. But in time and the use of a full tin, they are perfectly removed. In making a powerful "stain" and use one year planed into the floor—the shapelier corners of a simple little dish is a quantity of water, providing the hole is repeated on the spot.

Washing one's hair

Whitening one's hair is not so simple as it seems. Many people use soap, but this is not the correct method. The correct method is to use a special hair wash. This wash is made of natural ingredients and is very gentle on the hair. It will whiten the hair without causing any damage.

GRAVE NEWS OF REVOLT IN SPAIN.

Insurrection by the Garrison at Valencia.

KING AND DICTATOR CONFER.

Government's Determination to Suppress the Trouble Privately.

Reports from Spain indicate that the revolt is more serious than was at first apparent and that the Government regards the situation as grave.

Civil and military authorities at Valencia where part of the garrison has rebelled have been replaced and Government has announced its intention of pillaging suppressing the insurrection.

There are rumours of disaffection in the Navy.

NAVAL DISAFFECTION.

Naval reports from Spain indicate that the revolt is more serious than was at first apparent and that the Government regards the situation as grave.

Government Meeting.

Paris, Feb. 5. It is learned from Madrid during last night that the news from Valencia was so grave that the Government had met hurriedly to discuss the situation.

Moved from Bed.

The only official information at the King's disposal is unchanged. His Majesty had a good day. He is now in bed.

At a Conference between His Majesty the King and General Primo de Rivera.

At a conference between His Majesty the King and General Primo de Rivera at the Palace, lasting one hour and fifty minutes yesterday morning, His Majesty signed several new decrees, including a special Order to establish an anti-riot force between police and military.

INCREASED STRENGTH.

The following information was issued from Buckingham Palace last night: "There is a tendency among certain sections of the public and in some organs of the Press to assume that the King's condition is so grave that he will be unable to rise from his bed."

STUNG UP IN HIS ROOM.

His Majesty's programme was happily reaching a stage when it would be advantageous to remove him to the sea with a view to his recuperation in the most favourable conditions. Although His Majesty's condition continues to improve the course of recovery after an event as these must necessarily be slow.

STUNG UP IN HIS ROOM.

The statement indicates that His Majesty's condition is such that he will not be able to rise from his bed.

Rearing the Chickens Artificially.

Various Methods in Use.

Foultry farmers, who are using incubators for hatching, do not always have handy help available for rearing the hatched chicks, so the question of rearing them is of an important one. During the dry, warm weather in East Africa it is not a very difficult problem.

If by any means it is very simple. I have only one incubator in use at the present time, so as a rule three hours do not more than forty or so chicks to hatch, even if the incubator has been run at full capacity. The chicks are kept in a box in the kitchen for the first four or five days, after that they are put into the day and back into their bar brooder in the kitchen at night. The brooder has an enclosed compartment and a grass run.

I find the chicks keep quite warm and fit in this. After they are a fortnight old, I show them, they reach all day in the garden, and they are left in the brooder and they are well bedded-down and appear to be perfectly warm and comfortable without artificial heat at all.

Of course this method would not be satisfactory if the chicks had to go into the brooder as soon as hatched. In a case like this I must use the same foster mother but the nesting department is done just with strips of blanket to afford the necessary warmth to the chicks. The design of this chick brooder is illustrated in my notes on poultry farming published by the "East African Standard" office. This idea will prevail that artificial heat and artificial bedding are not healthy as long as hatched ones. I have even been told that chicks hatched in incubators will not breed! The idea that incubator chicks are delicate probably arose from the fact that numbers of people have had chicken "colds" or "flu" or "cough" or put in any sort of egg, or are not fed at all, and the result is, of course, that by the state of the egg when hatched, the chick is too weak or too little to stand. This sort of person, should not attempts to run an incubator, but trust the eggs to the broody who will always have handy help available. While stating that there is no good reason why incubator chicks should not grow into perfectly healthy birds, I must always advise the hatcher of valuable eggs under the best. The temperature in this country will vary so enormously during the twenty four hours that it needs a lot of attention and a very well run incubator to ensure no variation in the temperature of the machine; also chicks reared by Mrs. D. do not run so many risks of being taken by hawks, etc., as those which are running about on their own. Another thing in favour of hen hatching is that eggs which are rather stale, or may possibly have delicate germs, will stand more chance under a good broody than in a machine.

In speaking of my type of brooder, I forgot to state that the run attached to it is covered so that the chicks are protected from any risk of rain.

Keays Foultry Club.

In reporting the sale of Miss Cranwick's imported Rhode Island Reds, I mentioned that she had written about a number of the birds. Miss Cranwick writes to tell me that I have given the impression to readers that she had placed out all her stock. If this is so I trust readers will note that it was an unintentional misstatement.

Scottish Home Rule.

HOPE OF REPEALING THE ACT OF UNION.

(WARRANTED) GUARANTEED.

Small baggages sometimes have unexpected results, and it is therefore unwise to ignore the National movement in Scotland. Quite recently a Scottish candidate obtained quite a respectable number of votes, and now Mr. Lewis, second, has been adopted as the candidate of the National Party of Scotland at the forthcoming by-election in North Midlothian, Scotland, at 11. Mr. Spence said that in the following he had very extensive experience in the matter, and he is in a particular degree, waged the political campaign. He was a member of his party, was an active government for Scotland, with an independent national status with in the British group of nations. When they considered the winning majority of Scottish seats at Westminster they hoped to introduce a one-stage Bill regarding the the 4th of 1907.

There are those all over Scotland who demand for Home Rule, and it was discussed the week at the Conference of the Union of University Librarians at Glasgow. Mr. H. O'Farrell, Glasgow, moved a resolution requesting self-government for Scotland, and the proposal that independent time was devoted to Scottish affairs at the University. He said that it appeared that the Empire, the center did it became a very sensible mistake that the whole conduct of Scotland should be vested in a Parliament where too much time was devoted to the interests of London, and its immediate surroundings.

Mr. L. J. Taylor, Liverpool, said that the importance of maintaining latest Scottish national traditions, such as her fame for the strength of her whisky and the way in which she had nurtured her ships. The resolution was carried by a large majority.

Of course Scotland may not eventually think it will make a good financial deal by pushing Home Rule, and in that case we shall hear little more about it. But, the movement is gathering the sentimental support of numbers of the younger generation.

Mr. Spence was at the hotel, on the night of the North Midlothian by-election which was won this week by the Labour candidate.

"Banker Control" — a Myth.

Does the banker want to dip his fingers into the business of a trading enterprise...? What is his attitude towards it?

Comments frequently heard... When a banker fails it is not unusual for some one to whisper that the banker "ruined" it and started it in death... The head of a banking firm are likely to think their hand gloomily and say...

On the one hand, the power is in the hands of the banker... When they get through with him there may be a rumour left... Like a good many popular pessimists, these ideas about banks will not bear careful analysis...

Perhaps the most drastic source of criticism of banks is the objection arising from their measures to prevent... One of these measures is a restriction of the amount that banks accept as business to death...

In other words, even if a rubber policy of immediate liquidation might save the bank's interests here, it naturally does not wish to jeopardize the interests of many other small banks...

Some years ago a large manufacturing company in a Middle Western city went to the wall... This company's name had been a household word...

The economic function of a bank is to lubricate with the oil of credit the commercial activities of the community... It is established that by accepting other people's money on deposit and by...

money at stake. They wanted to save the sick institution... What was the first step in the process... The banker knew that accepting such a deposit would require the ability. A new management was selected and given the task of reorganizing the concern...

The financing banker is not interested in selling management how to operate his business... He has no worry of his own or want the additional responsibility of telling the manager of a million mill or of an iron foundry how to run his establishment...

A few years ago an established producer in the automotive field found the path growing difficult... The banker had much at stake. It was important that something be done to halt a young company...

It is when the deposits of Bill Gates and John Smith that have been loaned out are jeopardized that the banker has cause for concern... Some business men have often been just regarding the banker's relationship to them. Not long ago...

particularly oriented between himself and the bank... He had to be an expert in every branch of the business... He made a 40 per cent profit in the first year... He was expected to divide these profits with the bank...

When bankers from their close contact with business affairs are given a good management... It is little wonder that the quality and character of management is always a burning question... But frequently problems arise which seriously hinder the progress of a company...

CONDITIONS OF INDIAN TRADE IN EAST AFRICA.

Proposed Formation of Separate Commercial Organisation.

ELIMINATION OF HARMFUL COMPETITION.

Denial of Overtrading; Co-operation with the European Traders in Controlled Credit.

Defects in the present Indian trading conditions in East Africa with proposals for their removal formed the main points in a recent review by the President of the Bombay Indian Chamber. He urged co-operation with the European traders in the control of credit-conditions and criticised the harmful results of over-trading, of misdirected competition and of bad credit.

The need for establishment of organization to forward Indian trade interests and believe co-operation will solve many of the difficulties.

Opinions of the neglect of the East African market by Indian cotton piece goods manufacturers was also voiced and the establishment of branches in East Africa suggested.

INDIAN COTTON PIECE GOODS TRADE.

The third annual general meeting of the Indian Merchants' Chamber was held recently and Mr. J. P. Pandey presided over an attendance of nearly 150 members. The Chamber reviewed the work of the past year in a long speech. Dealing with the possibilities of trade on public bodies, Mr. Pandey referred to the absence of Indian representation on the East African Trade Advisory Board.

On the part of the Indian Chamber, it is necessary for them to recognize that they will have to take the initiative in the control of the distribution in this part of the world. Mr. Pandey said that it is necessary for the Indian Chamber to take the initiative in the control of the distribution in this part of the world. CONDITIONS OF INDIAN TRADE IN EAST AFRICA.

There are seven Indian owned newspapers out of which three are in East Africa. They have a very large circulation. It is important to understand that the majority of the Indian population in East Africa is in the urban areas. TO THE EDITOR: "H.A. Standard."—I am writing you regarding the programme of National Organisation, which has been outlined in today's leading article. I raise issues against the mis-interpretation put up on the words "National Organisation."

It is known fact that native sons of various kinds of race upon their bodies and that what I intended above is understood.

It is to be regretted that the notice of your article has given a totally wrong impression to a very large section of our people as I was concerned.

Yours etc. M. M. KIKKI. Nairobi, 11 January, 1920.

The leading article yesterday contained a programme including native desks on programme of National Organisation. I would like to raise something of the programme of the Colony and its people. The meaning of the expression "National Organisation" is not clear in that connection. Our country is a free country and we have previously promised that the system shall be open to all races and shall continue to do so until the Government demonstrate such conditions of National Organisation. We have previously received suggestions of National Organisation and the report from Africans who object to the people being excluded in the form of a side show advertisement.

THE CLOSEST HOME REPORT. To the Editor: "H.A. Standard."—First of all I beg to express my appreciation and thanks for the excellent summary of the Report of the Clearing Committee on Native Organisation which you have given day by day.

The Commission's report is full, although one can form a more correct idea of the recommendations of the Commission by reading the original report. The Commission has done a good job and the Commission has done a good job and the Commission has done a good job.

to English lands" of course, is significant if he could do the work of all these people in the country, the conditions would be good for the natives. At any rate, the conditions would be good for the natives.

What has most greatly impressed of all the natives was the visit of the Hon. Mr. B. S. P. M. to the short time that he spent in the country. The natives were very much pleased to see him and the help of Indians and other races.
