UGANDA ADJOUR
MONDAY, AUGUST 29, 1922.
Empire Development.
Those whose primary attitude to the British Empire is one of passivism will experience a new hope and a great pride if they read the annual report issued last month by the Empire Marketing Board.
The report, from which we reproduce extracts to-day, provides a picture of Imperial economic progress, worthy courage and faith fascinating and inspiring in the most hearty sense of the word. In a survey of the position during the last thirty years we find that every one of the great Dominions and most of the Colonies have advanced from relatively modest positions into that of great and important contributors to and purchasers in the markets of the world. Hence the beginning of the present century there has been phenomenal success in the exports of raw and manufactured products. In the words of the Report, "the tide of Empire trade is flowing strongly." Britain has moved away from the stage in which "inferiority" was a constant and a very serious obstacle to the development of the other attention to Empire development and there is a growing sense of public opinion which favours the withdrawal of British from her international entanglements in order that every corner of the nation's strength may be concentrated on the development of the Empire as a unit with itself.
The Labour Party has made a noteworthy beginning in the provision of funds to enable otherwise backward development to be checked with the assistance of the Imperial Government and the definite assistance of Government in an enlightened and revivified policy of economic progress. The Empire Marketing Board, directed by men who are enthusiastic in regard to their work, has spent its grants wisely and courageously in stimulating every movement which will further that cause. Finance has been provided for commercial investigation and for publicity on the simple basis of increasing the wealth of the Empire by encouraging the consumption of Empire products. Where does East Africa stand today in relation to that strongly flowing tide? Contributions have been made for the development of training centres for the study of tropical agricultural processes in such institutions as Amudi Colonial Agricultural Service
