A Letter From Paris.
(By Colleen Bost.)

The season now the afternoon frock requiring special attention. Fashion is to become sportive clothes have been in evidence for so long that women seem to be a little more liberal in dress for the "day" being.

All afternoon frocks are long. Occasionally they almost reach to the ankle, and the length, combined with the return of the natural waistline, gives an old-world atmosphere that ninety-nine women out of a hundred find most becoming.

The Simplest Material.

Black is the simplest colour for the afternoon frock. Dark black more often is first favourite, with satin, velvet and fine fabrics chosen following.

This blackness sounds rather, but it is only used as a background for every ornamental scheme, in rich colours and lively trimmings, so it is not really dull.

The Russian peasant frock is often taken as a pattern for a dress of heavy black material, with a short tunic, a long full skirt, and a round neck simply dressed up with a string of gaily coloured plaid silk. The deep lace, the sleeves—which often hang loose on the left elbow or are gathered at the wrist with strings like those at the neck—and a small gathered yoke, are all of brilliantly coloured embroidery, in which vivid greens, reds and deep blues, plaid and with gold threads, are worked on a white satin ground.

White crepe-de-chine, worked with an intricate pattern in red and blue cross stitch, was used for another of these peasant style frocks. Still another, in black marocain had big halcyon leaves above of the new silk tulle, exquisitely embroidered in shades of grey, from palest pink to deep sapphire on the frock itself. This appeared on the models, and they were both charming and useful—and they do not date!

Satin and Net for Day Wear.

The new gayer sets would appear to have been intended for evening wear only, but so durable, so easy to use, so strong is it that some designers are making frocks of it.

One would have first one of black crepe-satin and black net. The bodice and half sleeves were of the satin, the full skirt was of net with a hem of the satin greatly put on in the back panels, and the full cuffs were also of net or white, the upper and lower were yards of the satin with the hem of a fine tulle of black crepe de chine forming the foundation with a half of the black satin with a small bowknot was the only trimming.

Introducing More Colours.

One well-known house here has made a series of frocks of black lacings. The frock long and the lace, like a straight-looking inverted pleated skirt were of the same as the knee. This very and the bodice, which was of black and white and trimmed with a crepe de chine or perhaps black tulle, and a wonderful colours used. No matter what the combination the brilliant effect on the black frock is most striking, especially if a pair of court shoes of crepe de chamois picked up the most important shade are worn with black silk stockings.

THE CHRISTMAS CAKE AND THE MIDWINTER.

When the Christmas puddings have been made, it is time to think about the cake and mince. The former can be stored for a week or two, but the latter is best eaten fresh. Christmas cake is made of butter, sugar, and flour with raisins of paper washed in brandy, and the whole finely sifted down.

For good mince-cake one pound of each of the following: sweet, shelled apples, lemons, oranges, stoned raisins, nutmegs, and finely chopped candied peel—add half an ounce of mixed spices, the strained juice of a lemon, and about half a pint of brandy. Mix apples, put in the lid, and steam each part of seven hours. The mince and just in an extra half-pint of brandy and rum. Those who are very fond of the favour of lemon might stir in the grated rind of two lemons as well as the juice of one, and the addition of a few chopped almonds, as salt a matter of taste.

The pudding and crisp apples, if not already shredded, the steamed mince, and the candied peel can be put through the mincing-machine, but it is best to mince them separately.

'Ye Monks'

Of course "Ye Monks" is a Scotch Whisky, but it is not like any other; it has a bouquet all its own. When you have tried it, it is the same as smoking your favourite cigarette or cigar, one develops an affection for it, and somehow—any other brand is not just quite the name.

Reviews expressed with "Ye Monks" as "de-o."

A choice of afternoon frocks is offered in this sketch. Many crepe de chine are printed in wide and narrow stripes, simple designs with a round skirt and button-trimmed corset. The same may be used for other frock, which has collar and cuffs of some other colour.

The Indian Congress.

The East African India National Congress has added new weight to the task of those who are seeking a new solution of the great problems at issue in the Territories. Having its resolutions upon this significant issue of the continent which is conveyed by the very phrase "inferiority complex", the Congress has determined to set itself in a more important position than before. With a complete disregard of the trend of events in Eastern Africa it has not only reiterated its demands for a Commonwealth but at the same time has set its face in principle against any form of federation or close union.

The Congress has particularly reminded the proposal that Tanganyika should come within any scheme of union, although it is obvious to a child in East Africa that the inclusion of Tanganyika there can be of no useful extension of the principle of co-ordination which have been successfully applied to certain economic services operating in Kenya and which have been successfully extended to the benefit of the delegates. The Congress has very largely wasted the time of the delegates. The resolutions which read as follows: "The resolution on paper will have little if any effect on the position. The demands for 'equality' (whatever that may mean in practical politics) cannot be accorded without proof of ability and evidence of responsibility. The Indian community—rather its leadership—have retained for themselves no logical or cogent. Year after year they sit themselves well away from the political end of their own memorandum. Long ago they seized the opportunity afforded them for constructive and helpful work they would have not their feet upon the highway and in the Legislative Council.

and local government bodies of Kenya proved the measure of their worth. They have consistently rejected the chance and now, in all the heated, false statements of a Congress once more excluded the community from any participation in the work of the country. They exclude the aid of the millions of India to help them establish themselves in Africa, forgetting that apart from certain local Imperial considerations, the case of India and the case of Africa have nothing in common to which any joint approach can be made. It is time the Indian community in East Africa realised the necessity for dependence upon themselves. If their claims are to be based seriously they must be based upon appeals to India and reliance upon the Indian Government in this country. Their communications in this country are not negotiating with the Government of India and have no intention of doing so. Nothing can be done in Kenya which has not received the approval and agreement of people here whose interests upon economic and political development is a definite factor and there is therefore no advantage in raising resolutions which require the imposition of the Common Roll of the Indian community upon the local economy. The Indian Congress has once more missed its opportunity in Kenya. It has wasted the week end of considering the advantages and disadvantages of non-participation in the work of this country and once more it has chosen the foolishly wrong way of indicating its inability to express no sympathy in its attitude to the responsibilities which are to be borne by the Kenya at the time of its independence and non-participation. The Indian leadership has retained for themselves no logical or cogent. Year after year they sit themselves well away from the political end of their own memorandum. Long ago they seized the opportunity afforded them for constructive and helpful work they would have not their feet upon the highway and in the Legislative Council.

THE INDIAN CONGRESS DEMANDS COMMON ROLL

Mrs. Naidu's Impassioned Opening Speech.

ANY FEDERATION OPPOSED.

Non-participation to Continue in All Kenya Bodies.

The East African Indian National Congress has been in session during the week-end.

It was opened by Mrs. Naidu who delivered an impassioned address urging the Indian community to stand united for a policy of equal franchise and equal representation. She declared that the millions of India and the Government of India were solidly behind the Indians in Kenya.

The Congress declared its support of the principle of Common Roll and Common Franchise and asked that it be introduced without delay for the consent of the European community.

It proposed that Indian leaders should refer to pay taxes as demanded.

The policy of non-participation was again confirmed both in regard to the Legislative Council and the Municipal Council.

Opposition to the increase of the European vote in the Legislative Council of Kenya was recorded, and a demand for equal tax facilities everywhere in the Colony stated and maintained a demand of other control in the interests of the Native.

Education, Medical facilities and quarantine restrictions were the subject of further resolutions.

The Congress demands Federation in any form and in the form of Class Union being pressed asks for effective representation of Indians in all bodies. The inclusion of Tanganyika is definitely opposed.

Equal representation is demanded in the Legislature of Kenya and Tanganyika.

SOCIAL SERVICES NEGLECTED.

The East African Indian National Congress, which opened its session in Nairobi during the week-end, has been discussing the social services neglected in the Colony.

Kenya Dairy Association

Head of Report.

heavy stocks of wheat were carried over from the preceding year, and had to be worked down, as usual, but the crop was unusually heavy.

In order to encourage the sale of wheat made among the native population, quantities had been granted and were being offered at the low price of the 15/- per 100 lbs. The Chief Native Commissioner, regarding the benefit to the natives of which wheat made would result in a matter to be considered in a future issue, had issued a notice to all native owners of wheat, asking them to send a sample to the Agricultural Department for analysis. This was a great boon, but it was a great pity that the Government was not in a position to give a fair price to be awarded to the farmers. The Government should pay 25 per cent. of the cost, as in the case of other crops, but it was not possible to do this at the present time.

A reference was made to the services performed by the Director, who had a tremendous amount of work for him, and had saved the Association a lot of trouble by selecting a large number of local making arrangements to put the wheat through the mill. The staff who had done this satisfactorily and here again permanent arrangements should be made.

In conclusion, the speaker said that the year's work had proved the advantages of the operation, and he appealed to them all to support the Association up to the limit of their ability, and he hoped that they would be the ones who would make their country a better one.

The Chairman did nothing for the Association this year.

The speaker then moved the adoption of the report of the report and the financial statement.

Mr. H. J. Gurnell in support of the report of the Director and the financial statement, and said the work of the Association had been of considerable advantage. The speaker then moved the adoption of the report of the report and the financial statement.

The report and statement of the Director were adopted. The speaker then moved the adoption of the report of the report and the financial statement.

"Jack And Oop"

Great concern was expressed at the tendency of members to not make outside the Association. The speaker expressed the view that people who are outside the Association should be looked out "jack and oop".

LESSONS OF THE NAIROBI EXHIBITION

Need for a Special Grain Show.

JUDGES' CRITICISMS.

Wellness in all the Produce Sections.

[STANDARD & SPECIAL COOPERATION].

In many ways the competition at the Nairobi show was far more formidable than have been those which were exhibited at previous fairs in East Africa. For one of the very greatest reasons which can occur from an Agricultural Show is the fact that the exhibitors are well informed as to the state of the market.

That one only to do with the wheat industry of the world. The fact that the exhibitors are well informed as to the state of the market is a very important consideration. In many ways the competition at the Nairobi show was far more formidable than have been those which were exhibited at previous fairs in East Africa. For one of the very greatest reasons which can occur from an Agricultural Show is the fact that the exhibitors are well informed as to the state of the market.

The standard of the exhibit, although high, showed the number of exhibitors. Competing in the exhibition of the exhibitors in the country. In view of this it should be noted that the total number of exhibitors actually exhibited was only 100, whereas the number of exhibitors actually exhibited was only 100.

There was a large entry for the wheat in the exhibition class and the judges found great difficulty in arriving at a decision. The fact that the exhibitors are well informed as to the state of the market is a very important consideration. In many ways the competition at the Nairobi show was far more formidable than have been those which were exhibited at previous fairs in East Africa.

The quality of the exhibited crops of a high standard, and in fact the greatest of them. The exhibitors are well informed as to the state of the market is a very important consideration.
