Projected Scheme for London.

The British Post Office hopes to have in a few years time, its own underground railway for the carriage of mails and parcels to London.

This railway will be some six or seven miles in length, reaching from the Victoria District Post Office in the Whitechapel road to a point a few yards to the north west of the Victoria Station.

It is proposed to construct a tunnel, whence there will be a subway into the Victoria Station.

There will be one tunnel only, not two, as is the case with the passenger tubes, and the depth of the railway will vary just as that of the other subterranean railways vary, and at some points, it may be exceeded, it is believed will be equal to street traffic.

The two great advantages which it is believed will be derived from the railway are the reduction that will be rendered to the number of street cars, and the increased speed with which it will be possible to deal with the collection and dispatch of postal matter.

SACRED STAMPS.

The Russian Post Office has received an order to cease issuing in connection with the 100 centenary of the death of Peter the Great.

It is believed that the Holy Stamp will be given out and many varying kinds of the three series will be put into circulation.

After the end of the first year the postage will be merged into one common denomination.

It may be stated that the majority of the designs for the stamps are of a very high artistic quality.

SCHOOL BOOTS FOR SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS.

Points to remember when buying Boots. Point 1. Shape. Boots for children should be the correct shape...

Point 2. Quality. They should be of good honest leather which gives the best wear and is the most healthy covering for the foot...

Point 3. Style. A child's boot should be as smart in appearance as it is comfortable in wear...

Point 4. Price. Children have a way of "getting through" boots quicker than grown ups and Price is therefore a consideration...

A White-Man's Country? The Masai Move.

In an interview with Mr. T. W. Hadley, representative of the African Union, who has just returned from a tour of inspection in East African territory, he gathered some interesting details in respect to the Masai move from the Lake District to the Masai reserve near Nyayo. Hadley has taken considerable interest in the Masai move and was asked to furnish some of his impressions of the "great trek."

In reply to the question "what impressed you most in the course of your tour?" he stated that he was strongly impressed by the fact that the Masai, the cattle, sheep, goats, etc., even on the Masai reserve, were all well and happy and they represented. He was also amazed at the fact that the Masai were so well managed in perfect order for two hours.

Photographs were kindly produced bearing this out and showing some beautiful scenery in the Elgeyo and Elmetetta districts. In respect to the latter, a most interesting scene was witnessed and taken on the cinematograph of the Masai crossing the River Masai, some nine miles from the Masai reserve. The Masai, who were on their way to the Masai Encampment, showed great interest in their method of crossing the river, swollen as it was by recent rains.

It is a common belief that the Masai are a nomadic people and that they are constantly on the move. It is a common belief that the Masai are a nomadic people and that they are constantly on the move. Latest Cables Belgian Strike.

PERFECT ORDERLINESS OBSERVED. (Belgian's Special to 'The Standard'—London, April 17.)

The Belgian strike is proceeding with less than one case of labor and has concerned a leader's factory. The strike appears to be not only a battle between labor and capital but also, to a great extent, between the industrial and non-industrial classes and conservative of the Flemish districts.

Only a quarter of a million of the Belgian workers are engaged in the strike. The Socialist party claims an advantage. The clerical party recognizes in their description of the strike leaders that it is a complete fiasco. Every thing continues in a most orderly fashion.

Coming Bye-Elections. SIR S. SAMUEL UNANIMOUSLY RE-APPOINTED. London, April 17.

Hagenbeck Dead. THE FAMOUS MENAGERIE PROPRIETOR. London, April 15.

The death is announced of Carl Hagenbeck, the famous proprietor of the London Zoo.

In 1848 Carl Hagenbeck's father acquired the animal business with a few seals and Carl had to take over its management when not quite 15 years of age, with an capital of £120. At the age of 21 (1867-68) he was sent to the United States to buy seals. He had a splendidly equipped steamer at Stellingbar Island and he was able to buy up many thousands of animals from all parts of the world, and the Kaiser is extremely interested in the manager, which has exceedingly great educative interest. The deceased, who appears to have suffered from dropsy, and had been illing for some months, was the possessor of numerous medals and diplomas from his parent country and other countries. He leaves two sons and three daughters.

The Suffragette Bomb. EXTRA POLICE FOR BANK OF ENGLAND. London, April 15.

Haynes were found in the bomb that was found near the pillars of the Bank of England. This seems to point to the view that it was the work of Suffragettes, and those who suggested that the bomb have been stationed at the Bank.

It is now thought by the police that the bomb would have done little damage to the building if it were not for the presence of any person in the neighbourhood at the time the bomb was to explode.

A SALUTARY SENTENCE. There seems to be much sympathy expressed among certain of the leading hotelkeepers in Nairobi as to some of the abuses existing with regard to the work on highways or, in other words, on the roads. It is not only the work on the roads but also the work on the highways in general. There is a tendency to regard the work on the roads as a necessary evil, and to regard the work on the highways as a necessary evil.
